BROKEN ARM EPIDEMIC STRIKES ROCK COUNTY

Luverne—An epidemic of fractured arms struck Rock county children last week. The first victim was five-year-old Darlene Sanderson of Steen, who fractured her right wrist when she fell while roller skating. The two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Homme of Denver township was the next unfortunate victim. The baby fractured both bones in his left forearm in a fall down the basement stairway. Irma Brooks, 12 daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Brooks, who live four miles north of Magnolia, broke her right arm between the elbow and shoulder. The girl slipped and fell as she came out of the barn at her home and caught her arm in the double barn door.

LOCAL SHOOTERS WIN FROM ROSEAU IN MATCH TUESDAY

Newly Formed Local Women's Group Participates in Roseau Event

Members of the newly formed Thief River Falls ladies' rifle club, together with the local men's club, defeated the Roseau rifle club on the Roseau indoor range Tuesday evening.

The following people made the trip to Roseau: Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wennberg, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jung, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Erickson, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Whitchurch, Mr. and Mrs. Alf Berry and Johnny, John Jacobson, Carl Hovie, C. H. Jung, Len Hanson, Albert Swanson, Joan Neset, Norma Yestesund, Harriet Jung, Clarice Jaranson.

The scores of the five highest from each club in the ladies' match follow.

Thief River Falls:

Harriet Jung	147
Mrs. Wennberg	135
Mrs. Bishop	132
Norma Yestesund	131
Clarice Jaranson	130
Total	675

Roseau:

Carroll Hagen	136
Miss Anderson	129
Mrs. Johnston	126
Irene Peterson	120
Mrs. Haartson	119
Total	630

The men's five highest scores are as follows:

C. H. Jung	125
Carl Wennberg	125
C. V. Whitchurch	117
Len Hanson	112
Geo. Erickson	109
Total	588
Roseau:
Jim Helgeson	128
Obert Lillo	116
Ed Johnston	112
E. O. Anderson	111
Dr. Harris	110

This was a unique match as it is the first one in which both the ladies and men shot. The ladies shot in prone and sitting positions, while the men shot kneeling and off-hand.

FLOWER SHOP GETS TEMPORARY QUARTERS

Martin Bothun announced today that, pending completion of his new building on Main av. N., scheduled for about May 20, the Flower Shop will have temporary quarters in the Danielson Bros. Electric company building on East Third st.

Direct Current Poles Are Now Being Removed

The appearance of the business district is now being greatly improved as the result of the removal of the old poles bearing direct current lines, use of which is being discontinued in this city. The work was begun Wednesday under the supervision of tile Legvold, superintendent of the water and light department, who stated that within a short time all of the poles will have been removed.

Motion Pictures Taken of Civic Group Members at Meeting on Thursday

The routine of the usual Civic and Commerce association meeting was varied last Thursday when, following the noon luncheon, motion pictures were taken of the group by a representative of the Fargo Sound Film company. The pictures will be shown at the Avalon theatre in May in connection with pictures of other local groups and business places. With the season for another invasion of tree worms again approaching, a committee appointed to deal with the matter was instructed to confer again with the city council in an effort to work out a method of combating the pests.

Double Rites Held for Former Local Residents

Double funeral services for Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Brevik of Modesto, Calif., former residents of this vicinity, were held Monday afternoon at the Grace English Lutheran church of Modesto with Rev. W. O. Grunow officiating. Interment was in the Modesto cemetery.

Mr. Brevik, 87, died at the family home Wednesday and his wife, 88, two days later.

The couple, natives of Norway, came to the United States in 1887, making their home south of Hazel and later at St. Hilaire. Ten years ago they left this vicinity to make their home in California.

They leave eight children, Mrs. Margaret Titus of Modesto, Mrs. Mary Tyre of Iowa, Adolph Brevik of South Dakota, A. O. Brevik of Colorado, B. J. Brevik of California, Mrs. Helen Landes of Oakdale, Mrs. Cornelia Hansen of Modesto, and C. A. Brevik of California.

Chief A. B. Stenberg Attends Police School

Chief of Police A. B. Stenberg will return Saturday from Minneapolis, where he has spent the week in attendance at the annual police school on the University of Minnesota campus. The program for the school includes lectures, discussions and demonstrations by nationally known authorities in their respective fields.

Dr. Billings' Poultry Meetings Are Canceled

As a result of the belated heavy fall of snow over the week-end which left most county roads in impassable condition, County Agent R. M. Douglass canceled the meetings scheduled for Tuesday at St. Hilaire and River Valley at which Dr. W. A. Billings, University Farm poultry specialist, was to speak. It was announced that the meetings will be held later in the spring or early summer.

V. C. Noper Auctions Off Bin of Oats With Unusually High Value

While buyers generally realize that oats are a valuable commodity this year, it remained for J. W. Anderson, farming eight miles southeast on the angle road, to realize just how valuable a bin of oats may be. At an auction sale conducted on Mr. Anderson's farm Tuesday of last week by V. C. Noper, local auctioneer, a bin of oats was sold, some of which had been carried over for many years. The buyer started to empty the bin and had got down to the bottom when he dug up a purse which, when opened, was found to contain $52. The money was turned over to Mr. Anderson, who identified the purse as one he had hidden in the granary for safekeeping some years ago. Auctioneer Noper said that that particular batch of oats set a new high mark in respect to its value to the seller.

Northern Chevrolet Co. to Install Modern Used Car Lot at Main and 2d

The Northern Chevrolet company this week is making preliminary arrangements to establish an up-to-date used car lot on the vacant lots on Main av. north of the Auditorium. Cinders are being spread on the ground, and the site 100 by 110 feet in dimensions, will be enclosed with a fence four and one-half feet high. Accommodations will be provided for the display of up to 75 cars and the grounds will be lighted at night, Roy Brown, manager of the used car department, said.

Senator Tungseth Home after Legislature Ends

Senator E. L. Tungseth returned Sunday from St. Paul following the adjournment of the regular session of the legislature after a long-drawn out final session. He is scheduled to go back to the capitol for a special session which has been called by Governor Elmer A. Benson to convene May 24.

Baehr Brothers Plan New Brainerd Theatre

Construction of a proposed new theater in Brainerd by Baehr Bros., Northwest theater operators who own the Avalon theater here, was given a clear path last week when the Brainerd city council by a vote of nine to one removed a restrictive clause governing their number from the Brainerd theater ordinance. The ordinance provision which was removed restricted the number of theaters in that city to not more than two until the city reached a population of 15,000. Baehr Bros. plan to construct a new theater and sought removal of the restriction in order to proceed.

FIFTEEN MASONS GO TO RED LAKE FALLS MONDAY

A group of more than fifteen members of the local Masonic lodge journeyed to Red Lake Falls Monday evening to attend a lodge session in that city at which first degree work was exemplified. Lunch was served at the close of the meeting.

Find 50-Pound Turtle in River Here Friday

When Amos Lindquist and Kenneth Olson called at the Times office Friday with a proposed entry in the "Can You Beat It?" department, their offer was regretfully declined on the ground that proper facilities for its care were lacking, for the specimen was nothing less than a turtle weighing fifty pounds and measuring approximately two and one-half feet in length. The men reported having found the huge creature in shallow water along the shore of Red Lake river near the Dr. Edward Bratrud home.

WCTU to Sponsor Film 'Beneficent Reprobate' in City Tuesday Night

An entertaining and instructive talking motion picture, "The Beneficent Reprobate", will be presented Tuesday evening, May 4, at the Community church under the auspices of the local Women's Christian Temperance Union. The film, which has been shown in 125 communities in Minnesota, was made at the Northwestern university medical school, and depicts the new understanding of the menace of beverage alcohol resulting from scientific research and experiment. The pictures run for 45 minutes, and will also be shown Tuesday afternoon in the Lincoln high school assembly.

Rotarians View Federal Reserve Bank Pictures

At the Rotary club luncheon Tuesday noon at the Evelyn hotel, E. O. Peterson sponsored the presentation of a motion picture depicting the activities that go on within the Federal Reserve bank building in Minneapolis. H. E. Nelson reported on the Rotary district conference scheduled to be held Monday and Tuesday in the high school auditorium at Grand Forks. With many local Rotarians planning to attend the session, next Tuesday's luncheon was canceled.

Local Man Gets Prison Sentence for Larceny

John A Dahl, 608 Arnold av. N., who recently was taken into custody on a charge of complicity in the theft of a quantity of beer from the Minneapolis Brewing company warehouse in this city, pleaded guilty to second degree grand larceny before Judge M. A. Brattland in district court Tuesday and was given an indeterminate prison sentence of not to exceed three years. Dahl had been convicted on a similar charge about three years ago, at which time he was given a suspended sentence.

County Board Acts on Two Old-Age Aid Pleas

Only two new applications for old-age assistance were submitted Tuesday at a meeting of the county board. This is the smallest number to be filed in any month since the plan went into effect, according to Chairman Paul Roy of the board.

Gray Duck Lays an Egg Dyed Pale Green Color

A novelty in the form of a pale green duck egg that was laid with that tint by a gray duck is on display in the window of the Times office, having been brought in by Mrs. Ed Timm, residing two miles west of the city. The duck evidently was making a belated observance of the Easter season.

Crawford, Montgomery, Powell Coming Sunday to the Avalon Theatre

For the fourth time in their careers Joan Crawford and Robert Montgomery play opposite each other in the movie version of Frederic Lonsdale's stage hit, "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney" which comes to the Avalon theatre Sunday and Monday, with a midnight preview Saturday evening at 11:15. Mrs. Crawford appears as the adventuress Fay Cheyney and Montgomery is her persistent titled wooer, while William Powell plays the role of a distinguished butler. Others in the cast are Frank Morgan, Nigel Bruce, Benita Hume, Ralph Forbes and Sara Haden.

Drunken Driver Gets $100 Fine or 90 Days

After his car collided Thursday with a parked automobile on Horace av. N., Arthur Gutterud, farmer in this community, was brought Friday before Judge Lincoln Arnold in municipal court to answer to hit-run and drunken driving charges, as well as a charge of operating an automobile without having a driver's license. Sentenced to pay a fine of $100 or serve a jail sentence of 90 days, he indicated that he would pay the fine. Taken into custody again Saturday night on a drunkenness charge, Gutterud was given a straight ten-day jail sentence in addition to the penalty previously imposed.

G. H. Mayer-Oakes Gets Word of Mother's Death

G. H. Mayer-Oakes of the Lincoln high school faculty Monday received a cablegram informing him of the death April 18 of his mother, Mrs. J. T. Oakes of Macclesfield, Staffordshire, England. She was 81 years old, and is survived by her husband, five sons and four daughters. Funeral rites were conducted Friday.

New Boy Scout Troop to be Sponsored by Junior Chamber of Commerce

An active Boy Scout troop will be sponsored this year by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, following action taken at the last meeting of the organization. Selection of a scoutmaster and setting the date of the first meeting was left in the hands of a committee including George E. Lee, Marvin Benson and Clarence Sande. In the meantime interested boys between the ages of 12 and 18 are asked to get in touch with Mr. Sande at the Land O' Lakes plant.

Mother of Mrs. J. Ward Dies Sunday at Stephen

Mrs. August Magnuson, pioneer resident of the Stephen community and mother of Mrs. John Ward of this city, died at her home Sunday evening after a short illness. She was 70 years old and is survived by nine children. Mrs. Ward, accompanied by Mr. Ward, left Tuesday for Stephen to remain for funeral rites scheduled to be held this afternoon.

Past Masters to Preside at Masonic Lodge Tonight

Former heads of the local Masonic lodge will fill the various offices this evening when the annual past masters' night ceremonies will be conducted, and will exemplify work in the third degree. All lodges in this district have been invited to be represented for the occasion, as well as lodges at Crookston, East Grand Forks and Fosston.

Local Barber Serving Ninety-Day Jail Term

C. B. Bradley, local barber, last Thursday commenced serving a 90-day jail sentence after being adjudged guilty in municipal court of violating the terms of a recent suspended sentence which provided that he was to discontinue practicing his profession until such time as he had secured a state license.

VALLEY POTATO GROWERS JOINING NEW ASSOCIATION

Group Hopes to Obtain 250 Members in Pennington County

Quotas designed to secure a membership of 4,000 growers and dealers in the Red River Valley Potato Improvement Association have been assigned to the 12 counties included in the organization by F. L. Behling, president, and Donald A. Peet, secretary.

In letters sent out this week to county agents and directors in each county, Behling said, the membership campaign was placed on a competitive basis in an effort to speed the signing up of new members and create more interest in the association. It is planned to complete the campaign by June 1 if possible.

The county agents and directors will direct the membership drive in each county and weekly reports are to be made to the secretary. Annual dues are $1 for growers, $5 for grower-dealers and $10 for dealers.

Quotas assigned are as follows: Kittson, East Polk and Norman counties, 400 each; Marshall, Mahnomen, Red Lake, Pennington and Roseau, 250 each; West Polk, 500; Clay 600; Becker 300 and Wilkin 200.

The association also plans to employ an experienced man who would work with the growers in securing pure seed, assist in staging the annual potato show and to make contacts in southern markets. It is planned to establish seed plots in southern states to demonstrate what northern grown seed will do.

First Retriever Trials in State Set for May 15

The first spring retriever trials ever held in Minnesota will be conducted at Woodend Estate, near Mound, May 15 and 16, officials of the Minnesota Field Trials association announced Thursday. Special legislation was required to permit spring trials, since birds cannot otherwise be taken by dogs out of season. The current session of the legislature recently passed a bill allowing privately-owned game birds to be used in field trials, stipulating that the meet must be properly supervised and conducted according to rules approved by the state game and fish department.

SUMMER SCHOOL SESSIONS AT "U" TO OPEN JUNE 14

Enrollment of 5,000 Students Is Expected at First Term

Completion of plans for a program of more than 700 courses to be presented by a staff of 450 faculty members during the two terms of the 1937 University of Minnesota summer session were announced today by Director T. A. H. Teeter. The first term will run from June 14 to July 24, inclusive and the second session from July 24 to August 28.

An enrollment of 5,000 students is expected to attend the first term with upwards of 1,200 persons expected for the second session, Professor Teeter said. The registration for the combined session may reach 6,500, he stated, which would be the largest enrollment in the history of the University summer term. Previously, in 1927, 5,600 students attended for the record mark.

During both sessions special emphasis will be placed on elementary and adult education work for teachers and supervisors. Courses in the principles of elementary education, parental education in child care and training, elementary problems in home economics, public health and rural social work will be stressed. Among other courses offered will be two of particular significance at this time—one in American constitutional development and another in modern world politics.

Because many persons in recent years have been taking advantage of the second term program when the weather is usually cooler and classes smaller and more intimate several departments including the School of Business Administration, College of Education and departments of physics, sociology and speech, have increased their offerings for this term.

FREAK LIGHTNING BOLT KILLS 9 COWS IN BARN

Morgan—A bolt of lightning with freakish tendencies recently killed nine head of Christ Kieldgaard's herd of high grade Holstein milk cows, which were fastened with steel stanchions in the barn. Four other cows fastened in a like manner were unharmed. The bolt of lightning struck the windmill on the Kieldgaard farm, passed through a cooler and knocked a stave from a tank, ruined the pump, and then followed a water pipe, six feet under ground to the barn. In the barn the lightning followed the supply pipe to the water tank in the loft and then followed the service pipe, which carries water to the cattle. The waterpipe is within less than an inch from the top of the stanchions and the electricity jumped to each one. Passing out of the barn, the lightning continued along the water pipe, underground to the hog house more than a hundred feet away, tearing up the earthen floor and ripping off a door.

PLUMMER

In spite of the bad weather a fair crowd turned out to see the Senior Class Play last Friday night. The audience enjoyed the play from start to finish and felt well repaid for the effort necessary in coming. Every part was taken perfectly but the most outstanding were the leads taken by Roy Hayden of Kid Colby and June Norby as Eilleen McPherson. Other outstanding performances were given by Clarence Hall as Billy, Eileen's brother; Marion Gerardy of Marie DeLang a chorus girl and Gylther Gunderson as Jerry the Gyp, Kid Colby's manager. Between the first two acts Marie Enderle and Carol Hovland did a novelty number entitled "Girl in Red". Between the second and third acts the pupils of LaVerne Morrissette's tap dancing class presented two routines. SMILEY

The Smiley Community Club will hold their regular meeting Friday evening, April 30. A good program is being arranged by the Freeman Allen family for that evening being that the Anton Hess family have moved from this vicinity leaving the Allen family alone on the committee. The Norden 4-H young folks have been secured to present the program and several other excellent numbers will be presented. Refreshments will be served by the Syvert Brekke and Floyd Lane families. Everyone welcome.

O. N. Olson and son Orton motored to Warren Tuesday where they attended to business matters.

Mrs. Oscar Gilbertson was the hostess to the Trinity Lutheran Ladies aid Circle 12 at her home Thursday afternoon to a nice crowd. In connection with the aid a parcel shower was tendered Mrs. John Burtness who received many beautiful gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Olson and their guest Mrs. P. Hendrickson of Fargo, N. D., who has been visiting at the Olson home several weeks, were Wednesday callers at the O. N. home. Mrs. Hendrickson and the Olson's were old time neighbors twenty-five years ago.

Hiawatha School Notes

The teacher, Miss Antal and pupils returned to school work on Monday morning after a week's vacation. Perfect attendances for the past month were awarded to Laverne Lunn, Theresa Stanley Stene, Ella Chester, John Grundhaus and Esther Hanson. Only three weeks remain until school closes for the term and the upper classes are busily preparing for the examinations. Doris Paulson of Viking was a visitor at our school Wednesday.

Sincere sympathies are extended to the Walter Lendobeja and Svengaard families upon the loss of their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Karen Svengaard whose sudden death occurred last week. Mrs. Svengaard was quite well known in this community.

Due to bad weather the Goodridge Community Club has postponed their club meeting scheduled for last Friday evening when the Smiley Club was to have presented the program.

LOCAL SHOOTERS WIN FROM ROSEAU IN MATCH TUESDAY

Newly Formed Local Women's Group Participates in Roseau Event

Members of the newly formed Thief River Falls ladies' rifle club, together with the local men's club, defeated the Roseau rifle club on the Roseau indoor range Tuesday evening.

The following people made the trip to Roseau: Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wennberg, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jam, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Erickson, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Whitchurch, Mr. and Mrs. Alf Berry and Johnny, John Jacobson, Carl Hovle, C. H. Jung, Len Hanson, Albert Swanson, Joan Neset, Norma Yestesund, Harriet Jung, Clarice Jaranson.

The scores of the five highest from each club in the ladies' match follow.

Thief River Falls:
Harriet Jung	147
Mrs. Wennberg	135
Mrs. Bishop	132
Norma Yestesund	131
Clarice Jaranson	130
Total	675
Roseau:
Carroll Hagen	136
Miss Anderson	129
Mrs. Johnston	126
Irene Peterson	120
Mrs. Haarkon	119
Total	630

The men's five highest scores are as follows:

C. H. Jung	125
Carl Wennberg	125
C. V. Whitchurch	117
Len Hanson	112
Geo. Erickson	109
Total	588
Roseau:
Jon Helgeson	128
Obert Lillo	116
Ed Johnston	112
E. O. Anderson	111

This was a unique match as it is the first one in which both the ladies and men shot. The ladies shot in prone and sitting positions, while the men shot kneeling and off-hand.

FLOWER SHOP GETS TEMPORARY QUARTERS

Martin Bothun announced today that, pending completion of his new building on Main av. N., scheduled for about May 20, the Flower Shop will have temporary quarters in the Danielson Bros. Electric company building on East Third st.

Direct Current Poles Are Now Being Removed

The appearance of the business district is now being greatly improved as the result of the removal of the old poles bearing direct current lines, use of which is being discontinued in this city. The work was begun Wednesday under the supervision of Ole Legvold, superintendent of the water and light department, who stated that within a short time all of the poles will have been removed.

Motion Pictures Taken of Civic Group Members at Meeting on Thursday

The routine of the usual Civic and Commerce association meeting was varied last Thursday when, following the noon luncheon, motion pictures were taken of the group by a representative of the Fargo Sound Film company. The pictures will be shown at the Avalon theatre in May in connection with pictures of other local groups and business places. With the season for another invasion of tree worms again approaching, a committee appointed to deal with the matter was instructed to confer again with the city council in an effort to work out a method of combating the pests.

Double Rites Held for Former Local Residents

Double funeral services for Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Brevik of Modesto, Calif., former residents of this vicinity, were held Monday afternoon at the Grace English Lutheran church of Modesto with Rev. W. O. Grunow officiating. Interment was in the Modesto cemetery.

Mr. Brevik, 87, died at the family home Wednesday and his wife, 80, two days later.

The couple, natives of Norway, came to the United States in 1887, making their home south of Hazel and later at St. Hilaire. Ten years ago they left this vicinity to make their home in California.

They leave eight children, Mrs. Margaret Titus of Modesto, Mrs. Mary Tigg of Iowa, Adolph Brevik of South Dakota, A. O. Brevik of Colorado, H. J. Brevik of California, Mrs. Helen Lander of Oakdale, Mrs. Carmelia Hansen of Modesto, and C. A. Brevik of California.

Chief A. B. Stenberg Attends Police School

Chief of Police A. B. Stenberg will return Saturday from Minneapolis, where he has spent the week in attendance at the annual police school on the University of Minnesota campus. The program for the school includes lectures, discussions and demonstrations by nationally known authorities in their respective fields.

Dr. Billings' Poultry Meetings Are Canceled

As a result of the belated heavy fall of snow over the week-end which left most county roads in impassable condition, County Agent R. M. Douglass canceled the meetings scheduled for Tuesday at St. Hilaire and River Valley at which Dr. W. A. Billings, University Farm poultry specialist, was to speak. It was announced that the meetings will be held later in the spring or early summer.

V. C. Noper Auctions Off Bin of Oats With Unusually High Value

While buyers generally realize that oats are a valuable commodity this year, it remained for J. W. Anderson, farming eight miles southeast on the angle road, to realize just how valuable a bin of oats may be. At an auction sale conducted on Mr. Anderson's farm Tuesday of last week by V. C. Noper, local auctioneer, a bin of oats was sold, some of which had been carried over for many years. The buyer started to empty the bin and had got down to the bottom when he dug up a purse which, when opened, was found to contain $52. The money was turned over to Mr. Anderson, who identified the purse as one he had hidden in the granary for safekeeping some years ago. Auctioneer Noper said that that particular batch of oats set a new high mark in respect to its value to the seller.

Northern Chevrolet Co. to Install Modern Used Car Lot at Main and 2d

The Northern Chevrolet company this week is making preliminary arrangements to establish an up-to-date used car lot on the vacant lots on Main av. north of the Auditorium. Cinders are being spread on the ground, and the site 300 by 140 feet in dimensions, will be enclosed with a fence four and one-half feet high. Accommodations will be provided for the display of up to 75 cars and the grounds will be lighted at night, Roy Brown, manager of the used car department, said.

Senator Tungseth Home after Legislature Ends

Senator E. L. Tungseth returned Sunday from St. Paul following the adjournment of the regular session of the legislature after a long drawn out final session. He is scheduled to go back to the capitol for a special session which has been called by Governor Elmer A. Benson to convene May 24.

Baehr Brothers Plan New Brainerd Theatre

Construction of a proposed new theater in Brainerd by Baehr Bros., Northwest theater operators who own the Avalon theater here, was given a clear path last week when the Brainerd city council by a vote of nine to one removed a restrictive clause governing their number from the Brainerd theater ordinance. The ordinance provision which was removed restricted the number of theaters in that city to not more than two until the city reached a population of 15,000. Baehr Bros. plan to construct a new theater and sought removal of the restriction in order to proceed.

FIFTEEN MASONS GO TO RED LAKE FALLS MONDAY

A group of more than fifteen members of the local Masonic lodge journeyed to Red Lake Falls Monday evening to attend a lodge session in that city at which first degree work was exemplified. Lunch was served at the close of the meeting.

Find 50-Pound Turtle in River Here Friday

When Amos Lindquist and Kenneth Olson called at the Times office Friday with a proposed entry to the "Can You Beat It?" department, their offer was regretfully declined on the ground that proper facilities for its care were lacking, for the specimen was nothing less than a turtle weighing fifty pounds and measuring approximately two and one-half feet in length. The men reported having found the huge creature on shallow water along the shore of Red Lake river near the Dr. Edward Bratrud home.

WCTU to Sponsor Film 'Beneficent Reprobate' in City Tuesday Night

An entertaining and instructive talking motion picture, "The Beneficent Reprobate", will be presented Tuesday evening, May 4, at the Community church under the auspices of the local Women's Christian Temperance Union. The film, which has been shown in 125 communities in Minnesota, was made at the Northwestern university medical school, and depicts the new understanding of the menace of beverage alcohol resulting from scientific research and experiment. The pictures run for 45 minutes, and will also be shown Tuesday afternoon in the Lincoln high school assembly.

Rotarians View Federal Reserve Bank Pictures

At the Rotary club luncheon Tuesday noon at the Evelyn hotel, E. O. Peterson sponsored the presentation of a motion picture depicting the activities that go on within the Federal Reserve bank building in Minneapolis. H. E. Nelson reported on the Rotary district conference scheduled to be held Monday and Tuesday in the high school auditorium at Grand Forks. With many local Rotarians planning to attend the session, next Tuesday's luncheon was canceled.

Local Man Gets Prison Sentence for Larceny

John A Dahl, 608 Arnold av. N., who recently was taken into custody on a charge of complicity in the theft of a quantity of beer from the Minneapolis Brewing company warehouse in this city, pleaded guilty to second degree grand larceny before Judge M. A. Brattland in district court Tuesday and was given an indeterminate prison sentence of not to exceed three years. Dahl had been convicted on a similar charge about three years ago, at which time he was given a suspended sentence.

County Board Acts on Two Old-Age Aid Pleas

Only two new applications for old-age assistance were submitted Tuesday at a meeting of the county board. This is the smallest number to be filed in any month since the plan went into effect, according to Chairman Paul Roy of the board.

Gray Duck Lays an Egg Dyed Pale Green Color

A novelty in the form of a pale green duck egg that was laid with that tint by a gray duck is on display in the window of the Times office, having been brought in by Mrs. Ed Timm, residing two miles west of the city. The duck evidently was making a belated observance of the Easter season.

Crawford, Montgomery, Powell Coming Sunday to the Avalon Theatre

For the fourth time in their careers Joan Crawford and Robert Montgomery play opposite each other in the movie version of Frederic Lonsdale's stage hit, "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney" which comes to the Avalon theatre Sunday and Monday, with a midnight preview Saturday evening at 11:15. Miss Crawford appears as the adventuress Fay Cheyney and Montgomery is her persistent titled wooer, while William Powell plays the role of a distinguished butler. Others in the cast are Frank Morgan, Nigel Bruce, Benita Hume, Ralph Forbes and Sara Haden.

Drunken Driver Gets $100 Fine or 90 Days

After his car collided Thursday with a parked automobile on Horace av. N., Arthur Gutterud, farmer in this community, was brought Friday before Judge Lincoln Arnold in municipal court to answer to hit-run and drunken driving charges, as well as a charge of operating an automobile without having a driver's license. Sentenced to pay a fine of $100 or serve a jail sentence of 90 days, he indicated that he would pay the fine. Taken into custody again Saturday night on a drunkenness charge, Gutterud was given a straight ten-day jail sentence in addition to the penalty previously imposed.

G. H. Mayer-Oakes Gets Word of Mother's Death

G. H. Mayer-Oakes of the Lincoln high school faculty Monday received a cablegram informing him of the death April 18 of his mother, Mrs. J. T. Oakes of Macklesfield, Staffordshire, England. She was 81 years old, and is survived by her husband, five sons and four daughters. Funeral rites were conducted Friday.

New Boy Scout Troop to be Sponsored by Junior Chamber of Commerce

An active Boy Scout troop will be sponsored this year by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, following action taken at the last meeting of the organization. Selection of a scoutmaster and setting the date of the first meeting was left in the hands of a committee including George E. Lee, Marvin Benson and Clarence Sande. In the meantime interested boys between the ages of 12 and 18 are asked to get in touch with Mr. Sande at the Land O' Lakes plant.

Mother of Mrs. J. Ward Dies Sunday at Stephen

Mrs. August Magnuson, pioneer resident of the Stephen community and mother of Mrs. John Ward of this city, died at her home Sunday evening after a short illness. She was 70 years old and is survived by nine children. Mrs. Ward, accompanied by Mr. Ward, left Tuesday for Stephen to remain for funeral rites scheduled to be held this afternoon.

Past Masters to Preside at Masonic Lodge Tonight

Former heads of the local Masonic lodge will fill the various offices this evening when the annual past masters' night ceremonies will be conducted, and will exemplify work in the third degree. All lodges in this district have been invited to be represented for the occasion, as well as lodges at Crookston, East Grand Forks and Fosston.

Local Barber Serving Ninety-Day Jail Term

C. B. Bradley, local barber, last Thursday commenced serving a 90-day jail sentence after being adjudged guilty in municipal court of violating the terms of a recent suspended sentence which provided that he was to discontinue practicing his profession until such time as he had secured a state license.

JUDGE BRATTLAND WILL HOLD MARSHALL CO COURT

District Judge M. A. Brattland will journey to Roseau Friday to hear several court cases. Next Monday he will go to Warren to open a term of Marshall county district court, the petit jury having been summoned to convene Monday, May 10.

VALLEY POTATO GROWERS JOINING NEW ASSOCIATION

Group Hopes to Obtain 250 Members in Pennington County

Quotas designed to secure a membership of 4,000 growers and dealers in the Red River Valley Potato Improvement Association have been assigned to the 12 counties included in the organization by F. L. Hebling, president, and Donald A. Peet, secretary.

In letters sent out this week to county agents and directors in each county, Hebling said, the membership campaign was placed on a competitive basis in an effort to speed the signing up of new members and create more interest in the association. It is planned to complete the campaign by June 1 if possible.

The county agents and directors will direct the membership drive in each county and weekly reports are to be made to the secretary. Annual dues are $1 for growers, $5 for grower-dealers and $10 for dealers.

Quotas assigned are as follows: Kittson, East Polk and Norman counties, 400 each; Marshall, Mahnomen, Red Lake, Pennington and Roseau, 250 each; West Polk, 500; Clay 600; Becker 300 and Wilkin 200.

The association also plans to employ an experienced man who would work with the growers in securing pure seed, assist in staging the annual potato show and to make contacts in southern markets. It is planned to establish seed plots in southern states to demonstrate what northern grown seed will do.

First Retriever Trials in State Set for May 15

The first spring retriever trials ever held in Minnesota will be conducted at Woodend Estate, near Mound, May 15 and 16, officials of the Minnesota Field Trials association announced Thursday. Special legislation was required to permit spring trials, since birds cannot otherwise be taken by dogs out of season. The current session of the legislature recently passed a bill allowing privately-owned game birds to be used in field trials, stipulating that the meet must be properly supervised and conducted according to rules approved by the state game and fish department.

SUMMER SCHOOL SESSIONS AT "U" TO OPEN JUNE 14

Enrollment of 5,000 Students Is Expected at First Term

Completion of plans for a program of more than 700 courses to be presented by a staff of 350 faculty members during the two terms of the 1937 University of Minnesota summer session were announced today by Director T. A. H. Teeter. The first term will run from June 14 to July 24, inclusive and the second session from July 24 to August 28.

An enrollment of 5,000 students is expected to attend the first term with upwards of 1,200 persons expected for the second session, Professor Teeter said. The registration for the combined session may reach 6,500, he stated, which would be the largest enrollment in the history of the University summer term. Previously, in 1927, 5,600 students attended for the record mark.

During both sessions special emphasis will be placed on elementary and adult education work for teachers and supervisors. Courses in the principles of elementary education, parental education in child care and training, elementary problems in home economics, public health and rural social work will be stressed. Among other courses offered will be two of particular significance at this time—one in American constitutional development and another in modern world politics.

Because many persons in recent years have been taking advantage of the second term program when the weather is usually cooler and classes smaller and more intimate several departments including the School of Business Administration, College of Education and departments of physics, sociology and speech, have increased their offerings for this term.

FREAK LIGHTNING BOLT KILLS 9 COWS IN BARN

Morgan—A bolt of lightning with freakish tendencies recently killed nine head of Christ Kieldgaard's herd of high grade Holstein milk cows, which were fastened with steel stanchions in the barn. Four other cows fastened in a like manner were unharmed. The bolt of lightning struck the windmill on the Kieldgaard farm, passed through a cooler and knocked a stave from a tank, ruined the pump, and then followed a water pipe, six feet under ground to the barn. In the barn the lightning followed the supply pipe to the water tank in the loft and then followed the service pipe, which carries water to the cattle. The waterpipe is within less than an inch from the top of the stanchions and the electricity jumped to each one. Passing out of the barn, the lightning continued along the water pipe, underground to the hog house more than a hundred feet away, tearing up the earthen floor and ripping off a door.

IT TOOK 20 YEARS TO BUILD THIS.. Maytag FARM WASHER

● Yes, more than twenty years ago, the first Maytag Washer with gasoline Multi-Motor power was produced. Even then it was a good washer and a good engine. But, the Maytag of today represents twenty years of improvement and progress, both in the washer and the engine. The Maytag with square, cast-aluminum tub, has held world leadership for more than a decade. The gasoline Multi-Motor Maytag is used on more farms than any other washer.

A Maytag at today's prices is an investment in low-cost washings for many years to come.

3. Thief River Falls

Contestants are listed according to order of appearance. Mrs. Carl Miles Humpstone and Professor John Howard of the University of North Dakota were judges. This year a new policy was inaugurated. The results were not publicly announced and a cup given to the school with the most total points as heretofore, but each director was given his own ratings and did not know the ratings given other schools. The Lincoln High School band, clarinet ensemble, brass quartet, and boys glee club received A ratings. The girls glee club, mixed quartet, and boys double quartet received B rating and the chorus received C rating.

"The cantata, directed by Professor Howard and Mrs. Humpstone, Janice Merle Schroeder and Mr. Stanley Chaper as soloists and the massed band concert directed by Professor Howard, was not given because of the weather.

Seniors Actively Engaged in Second Act of Play

The cast of the senior class play to be presented on May 21, have begun work on the second act under the direction of Miss Olson. They are all working hard to make the play a success.

We sometimes wonder if our parents presented the same problems to their parents as the children of the present day do to theirs. Naturally parents feel that they have something to say in directing the destinies of their offspring. But just as naturally said offspring inevitably have their own ideas as to said destinies and more often than not the old and young ideas clash.

Thus the dominating and successful Herbert Kalness finds himself tossed in the domestic blanket, for his lovely children don't seem to agree with him about anything, and to crown his sorrow his devoted wife takes the young ones' side of the argument. To us it looks as if Herbert hasn't a chance, but he seems to think he has until his wife and children put one over on him that leaves him speechless in his defeat.

PROWLERETTE'S CORNER

"Boo hoo" that song is so popular that the heavens are following suit. Did you ever see such a rain? I'd just resolved to play a better game of tennis, but I'll have to get a raincoat instead, I guess. If all the girls who have signed up for tennis, track and kittenball really mean it, all records are broken for spring sign-up—and is Miss Helquist pleased!

Oh yes, oh yes, the posture candidate for the second semester are thusly: Monday and Thursday classes, first period, Helen Erickson, second period, Wanda Hanson, and third Yvonne Anderson; Tuesday and Friday classes, first period, Delores Fraseth. Two freshman, three sophomores and one junior in these candidates seems as if the freshman and sophomores haven't acquired the "debutante slouch" as yet. Bravo, guess I'll go home and look into a full-length mirror. Some of the girls, by the way, have been candidate before, and others, oh me, have fallen by the wayside. Such is life! The faculty is judging the girls this time, did you know?

Well—? Unless the weather is a "40 days and 40 nights business, will see you at kittenball on Monday and Wednesdays and track on Tuesday and Thursday.

In the meantime, makeup the Max-Factor way and play tennis for eye make up in gym. Have it signed by your partner, and keep your record clean. Makeups must be done by Friday, April 30!

Bye, bye, and wear your rubbers!

Mrs. Korstad's algebra classes are now working on factoring while her higher algebra class will begin their review.

SPRING FOOTBALL PRACTICE GOES ON

Warren Game to Climax Spring Practice

Spring football practice continues this week despite the recent snowfall which has forced the athletes indoors. Daily practices are being held in the Thief River Falls field house, otherwise known as the winter sports arena. The gridders have been confined to light work, consisting mainly in "chalk talks" and the running of plays.

Numerous devices have been used in perfecting the boys' work in the finer arts of football, such as blocking and foot work. Sawdust bags have been used as blocking dummies and the football candidates' work in annihilating these bags has revealed faults which are fast becoming remedied. Rubber tires have been used to speed up footwork and increase accuracy in timing. The demand for more speed in football has caused Coach George Lee to stage frequent dashes for his gridders in addition to the daily jogs around the field before each practice session.

The infrequent appearance at practice of some of the gridders has been detrimental in obtaining a definite line on the makeup of the first and second squads. The present "pick-up" regular lineup is the same the first week of practice. It has Lorentson and Mickelson at ends, Bredeson and Sunberg at tackles, Johnson and Eide at guards and Captain Hanson at center. Tunberg, Caldis, Haughom, Nesse, J. Stadum and Booren have alternated in the formation of two backfields on a virtual par in performance. Stadum has the edge on the other performers in open field running. Haughom, Nesse, and Booren are triple-threat stars in the making. Caldis has the ability to do an excellent job at center and displays plenty of power at fullback. Tunberg is a fine field general with the necessary requisites of speed and blocking in his favor. Warren Hill has seen service at a backfield position and at guard. With additional experience, he would easily qualify as a regular. With all these prospects, a backfield comparing quite favorably with the last year's quartet may even be assembled.

Track and baseball activities have been halted temporarily but will return on a larger scale with the return of favorable weather conditions.

"A better annual than ever before". That is the battle cry of the Senior class and the salesmen of the 1937 edition of the Prowler. The publication of the year book is one of the few real traditions that upholds Lincoln High School. Every year improvements over the old issues are attempted. Some times they succeed, sometimes they are not as fortunate. This year however, prospects are excellent for the presentation of a fine Prowler. A large book will be presented with a more colorful and complete make up than in the past. The staff under Vernon Wedul has nearly all of the book ready for printing. All they need now is a bigger subscription list. Buy your Prowler now!

Just a week ago today the young people of our country, including college and high school students and many others, joined together to celebrate National Peace day although our school did not take an active part, this measure concerns us greatly.

This celebration came as the result of efforts on the part of the youth of our nation and was to show their attitude towards war. We believe this would be the best way of preventing future wars. If wars are to be fought it will be the young people of our country who will have to fight them. Why should our young people suffer and die ahead of time to satisfy some dictator's vain dreams of colossal power? Some countries force their youth to take part in militaristic shows and compell them to take a militaristic view of all subjects. This national youth movement is the best way of insuring ourselves and all others against war. All our students should support the movement one hundred per cent.

Helquist Heads Years Basketball Scoring List

The final note of the basketball season has long since been struck, but now the records of the players are published. These figures show that one player scored over twenty-five per cent of the total points. Only two players, Helquist and Lee, played in every game. The Prowlers scored 642 points to 552 counters for the opponents. This gives the average score of 27.9 to 23.4 in favor of our boys. The figures show that the Prowlers scored heavier in the fourth quarter of their games than in any other one. The individual scoring of the players are as follows: Helquist, 166; Lorentson, 98; Lee, 93; Nelson, 89; Stadum, 70; Mickelson, 43; Caldis, 43; Nesse, 37; Haughom, 2; Haug, 1; Quale, 0; and Nicholson, 0. The Prowlers had a free throw average of 481 to the opponents 450. Helquist also held the best free throw average closely followed by Captain Nelson. Nicholson led second scoring followed by Haughom and Haug.

Nine Lettermen Represent Lincoln Tumbling Team

For the first time in the history of the high school, letters will be presented to members of a tumbling team. The nine boys to whom letters will be awarded are well deserving, having worked nearly every night after school for approximately six months and have taken part in at least ten exhibitions. The letters to be awarded are six-inch, blue and gold chenille "L"'s.

The nine lettermen are: Clarence Freed, Bill Claffy, Dick Balleson, Jack Adkins, Pomeroy Hill, James Aalto, Leonard Furuseth, Delmer Hovey and Clifford Lauke.

The typing classes are constructing letters and letterheads.

APRIL ANTICS

Sub-head: Jack Adkins was official transporter for all the romantically and dancing inclined guys and gals.

Balance: Lot of mud, lots of party crashers, lots of food, lots of noise lots of music, troubles and lots of fun!

Stuff: Don't look now but a new gang of two is coming up. The fella who shines is "Tuney" Carlson and the gal what makes him shine is Judith Holland.

"The kid in the three cornered pants" is getting learned in something else besides basketball. What do you suppose his mother will say?

It's a funny thing but I could go on naming guys and gals by twos for ever practically. For instance, Goslwin S. and Eddy H.

You all know Ray Johnson, don't you? Well, what do you think happened to him one night last week. Well, I'll tell you. Little Raymond had the car and he got stuck and his "sticking" was due to the funniest circumstances. You guess the rest or better yet, ask Ray.

Once there was a little sophomore girl by the name of Mae W. and she had a friend by the name of Agnes E. There was also a boy named Jewel S. and he had a friend who was called "Red" E. Now, these two pairs of friends got to know each other and lo and behold if all four kids didn't go walking together. Hot dang!

Just a little suggestion: The E. G. F. kids had a little contest and elected the best looking boy and girl, the best dressed boy and girl, the best dancers, the most conceited and the most talkative. It sure sounds fun, doesn't it? Well, as I said before, it's only a suggestion!

Mr. Riggs' History classes have begun reviewing and will supplement their review by individual talks.

TEMPERANCE FILM TO BE PRESENTED TO HIGH SCHOOL

History of Liquor is Theme of W. C. T. U. Moving Pictures

On May 24th a temperance film "The Beneficient Reprobate", will be presented in the assembly under the auspices of the W. C. T. U. This is a talking film and will run for forty-five minutes. It has been presented in 125 schools of Minnesota. The actual shots were made in the Northwestern University Medical School. This is not a "story" in the ordinary sense of the word; neither is the picture merely technical, although it is educational in character, satisfying tests of the scientific and educational world after careful review by authorities in both fields.

The first scene is the musty laboratory of a medieval alchemist, who pursues the commercial search for a universal solvent, with the aid of a half-witted assistant. In his experiments with many liquids, including wine, the old man accidentally discovers the science of distillation and tries the resultant drink upon his assistant; and the poor fool at first wildly hilarious, finaly tumbles dead drunk into the corner by the furnaces. Thence the film carries on, showing the modern commercial uses of alcohol, with a gay "parade" of almost countless familiar commodities in whose manufacture alcohol plays an important role. With equal fidelity, the picture shows the new understanding of the menace of alcoholic beverages resulting from scientific research and experiment. No longer do wise folk share the old alchemists admiration of "that awful" as a friend to man. The doctor and the chemist, and the tests and experiments shown, all reach the same conclusions to the deleterious effects of any beverage which contains alcohol, even in very small amounts. There is no camouflage anywhere in the film. The tests are shown just as they were made and every effort has been put forth to make the picture absolutely authentic in the slightest detail—For those who have a flair for science, undoubtedly the scenes which were shot in the laboratory of Northwestern U. Medical School in Chicago will have more than a casual interest.

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

Miss Diebal's history classes are studying the World War.

Miss Thoreson's Home Economic classes are finishing their dresses and are practicing modeling.

The Freshman General Science classes are studying plant life.

Miss Tandberg's English classes are studying the modern short story.

Miss Olson's English I classes are studying the essay and are writing themes concerning them. Next week they will begin studying one-act plays.

"Les Miserables"

"That was a mournful picture they had on at the Picture House last night," said Gertie to her friend.

"Oh, was it?"

"Yes, but I'm going to see a brighter one next time."

"How do you know that for certain?"

"Well, look! It says "Less Miserable."—Birmingham Post.

NO BOONDOGGLING

"Can you swim?"
"When there's no man around to teach me."

Seniors Lead in Prowler Sales Campaign

The annual Prowlers which are being sold in the high school by class salesmen will have approximately sixty-four pages, an increase in size since 1932. School colors will be used for the covers and gold insert pages will be used throughout the book.

The Prowler salesmen for each class are as follows: Freshmen—James Borreson, Doris Hostvet, Rodney Brodin and Marguerite Simonson. Sophomore—Earl Burrell, Robert DuChamp, Ann Hanson, and Joyce Benes. Juniors—Lynn Booren, Bob Quale, and Jerome Salveson. Seniors—Don Olson, Herbert Schroeder, Margaret Mae Munt and Mary Margaret Cosgrove. The Seniors have the highest percentage of Prowlers sold to date, Sophomores next, then Juniors and Freshmen. The numbers of sales so far is approximately two hundred.

Group pictures have been taken of the faculty, tumbling team, chorus, band, declamation winners, both humorous and dramatic, oratory winners and inter-class champions. Pictures have been taken of the classes, the Seniors having taken separate pictures.

If you haven't bought your Prowler, be sure you buy it before the first of May, when the Prowlers go to press.

EXCHANGE

Thoughts on men:

Men are homo-sapiens clothed in trousers of various lengths. They can usually be recognized by the brevity of their haircuts. Their speech is generally pitched lower than that of their antitheals—woman. From the unbiased point of view of a looker over-er-er (girly on into the night) the masculine sex is abnormal bigoted, cantankerous, eccentric, fatieous, idiotic, juvenile, and infinitum. After this outpouring, I find myself speechless to say more. Let this suffice.

WIND-CHILL

Wasn't it terrific? The snow, rain, etc. on Saturday—the big day of the music contest? Everyone was in a "swearable" mood and we don't blame 'em.

"Little" Roy Lee has been seen places with Anna Hansen.

As the excuse for the laxness of the Seniors our teachers hold to the old maxim—"for in the Spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love"—Be that as it may!

We felt kinda sorry for those Warren "kidlets" who were unable to venture outside our fair city after the music contest Saturday evening—but they had a swell time doing the town with Thief Riverites.

Twasn't only a few girls and boys who were disappointed when the "to-do" was called off Saturday evening. No dates (much) for them.

Flash! The faculty was eagerly awaiting the close of school Monday. Reason—lunch was to be served. Result—much grief. Mr. Montague and a few other gentlemen (?) got there first.

Mr. Claffy to Alma Hansen—"Five nights a week are too many for a sophomore to run around." Retort "Mr. Claffy, I didn't run around five nights a week, I run around seven." And so young!

Earl Nicholson seems to be keeping up the good old family traditions. Three o'clock is pretty late Earl, ask your brother.

Seems as if Mr. Riggs is walking on air with our band and all instrumental groups rating an A. Sorta puts us on par with Crookston, doesn't it?

GOODRIDGE

COMMUNITY CLUB MEETING POSTPONED

The Community club meeting that was to be held last Friday evening was postponed on account of the snow storm and bad roads. If the roads and weather are favorable the meeting will no doubt be held this Friday.

The Weather

Due to the heavy snow storm and disagreeable weather and bad roads, our little village has been a very quiet place the past few days. The farmers are anxious to get in to the fields but all this moisture will delay them for several more days. The telephone service had also suffered, as there are a large number of phones out of order, and some of the rural lines are entirely dead. In some places large numbers of telephone poles have fallen down from the heavy snow on the wires and also came to the wet ground. We are hoping for sunshine soon and lots of it.

Mrs. Hazel Aarness who had charge of the local telephone office several years ago and a [illegible] assistant chief operator at Rochester for some time, but was transferred last year and has been located at several different places, is now located at Faribault as chief operator. The Aarness family still live at Rochester. Miss Aarness' friends will be glad to hear of her promotion.

Rev. T. T. Aastad of Detroit Lakes was a guest on Friday and Saturday at the Rev. Bjorgan home. Mrs. Ed Williams underwent a major operation at a hospital in Thief River Falls Saturday. She is getting along as well as can be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. McCann and daughter Kathleen arrived here last Tuesday from Marpo and will make their home on the J. H. Hay farm north of town. Mrs. McCann is a niece of Mr. Hay. The John Orrison family who have resided there the past three years left on Wednesday for Grand Rapids near where they will make their home. Friends of Joe Gangness will be sorry to learn that he has had to take a complete rest, and is at the sanatorium at Crookston. His many friends here hope for his speedy recovery.

Misses Olga Hanson of Erie and Ruby McEnelly were visitors in Thief River Falls Friday. Mrs. A. C. McLeod and daughter Jean, Mrs. John Kast and daughter Marian, and Lois Jones and Lucille Fekler were business callers in Thief River Falls Thursday.

A. H. Mandt returned home on Saturday from several days business trip to Amery and Less Creek, Wisconsin. Ed Williams was a visitor in Thief River Falls Saturday. Karl Elfinger of Thief River Falls was in town Friday on business. Mr. and Mrs. Gust Roston were business callers in Thief River Falls Friday. Otto I. Johnson of Grygla was in town Monday morning. He brought in his son Roy and several other high school students who attended school in Thief River Falls. They took the electric train from here. Ed Barstad attended to business matters in Thief River Falls on Friday. Misses Viola and Esther Sand spent the week end at their home at Espee.

Rev. O. G. Bjorgan attended the funeral on Friday of Rev. Kolstoe at Garnes. Rev. Kolstoe was eighty five years old and had been a pioneer pastor in this part of the state. He had organized congregations from Bagley to Highlanding and had organized the Erie and Oak Park congregations. Misses Jennie Distad and niece Jeanne Distad were business visitors in Thief River Falls on Saturday between trains. Mrs. Ole Peterson of Grygla was in town Saturday afternoon enroute home from Thief River Falls. Clair McEnelly returned home Monday morning from Thief River Falls where he had visited over Sunday. Mrs. William South and son and daughter were business callers in Thief River Falls on Wednesday. J. E. Maney of Grygla was in town Monday on business matters. Mr. and Mrs. Owen Olson were Thief River Falls visitors Thursday. O. S. Urdahl transacted business matters in Thief River Falls Thursday and Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Ward Vistaun and Mrs. S. Prestegaard of Erie were in town on Saturday on business.

Miss Hannah Sand and brother Axel of Espee were in town Friday enroute home from Thief River Falls. Mrs. Carl Lindstrom and son Richard and Mrs. Owen Olson and son were Thief River Falls visitors Saturday. Mrs. Laura Birk of Grygla was in town on Friday enroute to Bemidji on business matters. George Jones was a business visitor in Thief River Falls Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Olson and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. McDonald attended the show in Thief River Falls Thursday evening. Miss Lorraine Olson who is employed in Minneapolis, returned there on Monday after visiting at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Ole Olson.

School News

The Junior Senior banquet for the Goodridge high school will be given on Saturday, May 1st at the Evelyn hotel at Thief River Falls. On account of bad roads, the school bus from Grygla did not run on Monday, and the other buses that came all had trouble getting thru. Some of the pupils walked most of the way to school, as the buses were not [illegible] then.

Callers at the Weberg home on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Larson, Elmer and Bobby of Grand Forks, N. D., Henry, Ray, Stanley, Earl and Russell Rothman.

Mrs. Ray Nelson and daughters Fern and Nadine returned Sunday from Minneapolis where they visited a week with Mrs. Nelson's sister. A group of young folks enjoyed themselves at a party at Valhall Friday evening. Paul Engelstad of Crookston and Mrs. Earl Engelstad and daughter Earline of Thief River Falls called at the Peter Engelstad home Monday. Mrs. Paul Engelstad and son Peter who had spent the week end here returned to Crookston with Mr. Engelstad.

Rosehill School News—The losers in the Christmas Seal contest gave a party on Friday to the winners. They had a tin band, games were played and lunch served by the losers.

RIVER VALLEY

Despite bad roads the Forum held its regular meeting Tuesday, April 20th. Officers elected for the next meeting were: Alma Hanson, chairman; Gust Iverson, vice chairman; Mrs. Stanley Radniecki, secretary. A short talk was given by Mr. Denning about our national debt, cost of government, supreme court and ways of paying our government debt. Lorraine Lunden and Mildred Gustafson gave each a short talk about "International cooperation for World Peace."

The next meeting will be held Thursday, April 29 at 8 p. m. at the Oklee hall.

Business callers in Thief River Falls Wednesday were Olaf Stoltes, Halvor Myrom and Elvin Rammerud. Victor Rodahl made a trip to Holt Tuesday returning home on Wednesday. Anne Tweten and Victor Rodahl spent the week end in Thief River Falls.

Miss Anna Koolstrand who has been employed in Minneapolis returned to her home last Monday.

The Gunder Anderson family, former residents of this vicinity moved to the Alvin Rammerud farm last week from Cloverleaf, where they have been residents for the last eight years. Rt. Rev. I. T. Aastad of Detroit Lakes conducted services at the Oak Park church on Sunday morning. John Peterson left last week for Minneapolis to visit with his daughter Myrtle and son Milfred. Milfred who was seriously ill is reported better.

Second of Two Prize-Winning Essays in Elks Lodge Event

Following is the essay of William L. Nordling of Lancaster which won first place in the senior high school division of the contest sponsored by the Thief River Falls Elks lodge. The essay discusses the "Theory and purpose of dividing the powers of government between the legislative, executive and judicial departments.

To gain a deeper understanding of the fundamental principles and doctrines embodied in our system of government, it may be well to begin with the very origin of our constitution and consequently that of our government.

It was indeed a remarkable assembly of men that gathered in Philadelphia in May, eighteen eighty seven, to undertake the responsibility of reconstructing the American system of government. It is not merely patriotic pride that leads one to assert that never in the history of assemblies had there been a convention of men richer in political experience and practical knowledge, or endowed with a more profound insight into the details of political science. It is indeed a most extraordinary fact that at one time there could be found so many able statesmen on the very frontiers of civilization among a population of four million white people.

The instructions the delegates had received from their respective states limited their authority to only the revision of the Articles of Confederation and the proposing to Congress and state legislatures such improvements that were required and decided upon. But with a boldness so characteristic of those men who led our country through its infancy, they resolved to disregard these restrictions and to prepare a completely new constitution, which was to be considered and ratified neither by congress nor by state legislatures, but by the people themselves.

This famous assembly, which consisted of fifty-five delegates, thirty-nine of whom signed the constitution which it drafted, sat nearly five months, and expended upon its problem an amount of labor and thought proportionate to the magnitude and splendor of the result. The debates were secret and it was well they were, for criticism from the people might have endangered the work which seemed again and again on the verge of breaking down under the divergent interests and thoughts of different parts of the country and also of the smaller and larger states.

It is hard today, even for us Americans, to realize how enormous were those difficulties which the members of the convention had to surmount. They had not only to create on the slender basis of the pre-existing national institutions, a national government for a widely scattered people, but in so doing they had to respect jealousies and fears and the apparently irreconcilable interests of thirteen separate commonwealths. They had also to create for the government of these states a sphere of action large enough to satisfy the deep-rooted local sentiment, yet not so wide and extensive as to emperil national unity.

When the great document was at last complete, the draft constitution was submitted to the conventions for the states (i. e. bodies chosen by the people for that purpose) for ratification. It was to come into effect as soon as nine states had ratified, the effect of which would have been, if the remainder of states had not ratified, to leave them without a government. Fortunately all of the states did eventually ratify this new constitution.

The founders of this government set before themselves four objectives being essential to its excellence, viz.—its vigour and efficiency, the independence of each of its departments (as being essential to the permanency of its form,) its dependence on the people, and the security under it of the freedom of the individual.

They strove for the first of these objectives by creating a strong executive; the second by separating the legislative, executive, and judicial departments from one another and by the endowment of various checks and balances; the third by making all authorities elective, and elections frequent; the fourth by the said checks and balances, restricting any one power from exercising tyranny, and also by placing individual rights in the written constitution.

It must be remembered that the constitution does not provide for a complete system of government, creating organs necessary in the discharge of all the functions and duties which a civilized community undertakes. It assumes the existence of the state governments, and their wide and constant activity. It is a scheme designed to provide for the discharge of such functions as the states did not, or could not adequately possess or discharge. Therefore all the state constitutions must be read along with it in order to cover the whole field of civil government, as do the constitutions of such nations as France, Belgium, and Italy.

However learned the authors of the constitution may have been, it may well be said that their minds were influenced to some extent by recollections of the English Commonwealth of the seventeenth century, which has seen, though for only a brief period, a genuine supreme and rigid constitution, in the form of the famous Instrument of Government of 1653 A. D. Then, also, had these sages listened to the discourses of James Harrington, one of the most brilliant minds of the age, which had showed the need for such a Constitution and laid down its principles, and suggested that, to give it higher authority, it should be subscribed to the people themselves.

Second in importance to the doctrine that both state and national governments are limited by certain fundamental principles laid down in the Federal constitution is the theory that the powers conferred on the national government are distributed among three distinct departments: legislative, executive, and judicial. This is a legal principle interpreted by the courts and applied to concrete cases like any other rule of the constitution; it is a slogan reiterated in congress with great vehemence, especially in times when the president, expressing more accurately the living forces of the nation than do the senators and representatives, overshadows, or influences, the legislative branch, or sometimes, the judicial branch of the government.

According to tradition, this doctrine came into our law and practice from Montesquieu, whose treatise on the "Spirit of the Laws" was a veritable political text book for our eighteenth century statesmen and it was derived by that learned French author from his study of the English constitution. As a principle of law and government, it is part of that system of checks and balances and limitations of power by which statesmen of our country have sought to prevent that type of democracy that functions through simple legislative majorities. It is explained with deep insight by Madison and eloquently defended by Webster in many of his speeches.

This doctrine is not expressly stated in a separate article in the Federal constitution, as it is in several state constitutions, but it is thus embodied in the opening sentences of the three articles relating to the legislative, executive, and judicial power: "All legislative powers granted herein shall be vested in a congress of the United States; the judicial power shall be vested in one supreme court, and such inferior courts as congress may from time to time ordain and establish; the executive power shall be vested in a president of the United States." In such a way has the constitution effected the separation of powers.

However, a closer examination of the constitution shows that the men who framed it were unable to adhere to the principle when they came to prescribing the mode of exercising the powers of government in detail. It was indeed thoroughly believed by the authors that complete separation of powers was impossible, except in pure theory.

Numerous illustrations of the point are available. The president's appointing power is shared by the senate; likewise his treaty-making power. Owing to the amount and diversification of the executive business, the president must function through departmental offices; these are created and to some extent controlled by congress. On the other hand, the president shares in legislation through his veto power and his right to send as many messages to congress as he chooses. Even the supreme court which is created by the constitution lies at the mercy of congress, congress may prescribe the number of judges and fix their salaries. It might increase the number of judges and through the confirming power of the senate secure new judges of ideals and principles in accord with the majority party then controlling congress; thus destroying the prestige of the judiciary or make it subservient to the legislative branch of the government. This is the controversy which the present congress has selected to debate, the president having strongly recommended the plan as the only method to secure legislature for the welfare of the people.

Furthermore, political practice has shown that the influence of a department of the government depends not so much upon the legal authority which it possesses as upon the great interests which function through it in actual practice. For example, during the period of reconstruction, congress dominated the executive and through various measures spread its control over almost the entire domain of federal authority. During the entire course of American participation in the World War, the president assumed the leadership in legislation as well as administration as was also the case during the Civil War.

As a legal doctrine used in some instances by the courts, the theory of separation of powers takes on a more precise form. The judges for the district of North Carolina stated that the courts were not authorized to exercise "any power not in its nature judicial or, if judicial, not provided for upon the terms the constitution requires."

The soundness of the theory of separation of powers as a practical working scheme of government has been severely criticized by two eminent publicists, Professor Ford and Professor Goodnow. They contend that the functions of government are only twofold, the formulation and execution of public will—that is, legislative and executive—the judiciary being merely a branch of the law enforcing power. In this view, the separation of powers only creates friction in the government, and altogether works for confusion and obscurity instead of efficiency and simplicity. They praise the English system, whereas the legislative and executive powers are combined under the direction of the cabinet, and the judiciary cannot try the constitutionality of laws.

However, I am of the opinion that all countries with parliamentary government such as has England, are beginning to feel, as suffrage has become more extended, the necessity of greater executive independence. The prime feature of the American governmental system is the constitutional independent, unpolitical judicial system and the supremacy of this judiciary over the other departments in all cases where private rights are concerned. This, without doubt, represents the prevailing view of American statesmen and citizens, and is at all events the fundamental doctrine of our law.

Consequently, I, as an individual do not believe a more democratic theory of government can be found than that which I have endeavored to explain, and that is also the view of the majority of American citizens. Furthermore, until a better system can be found, I shall continue to support it to the best of my ability.

Road Patrolmen Travel Over Million Miles in First 3 Months of 1937

The Minnesota Highway patrol traveled 392,697 miles in March, all by automobile, giving it a record of 1,101,310 miles of patrol duty during the first three months of 1937, according to a report by John P. Ahoohly, chief, to N. W. Elsberg, state highway commissioner. Records show the patrol has 63,024 patrol hours to its credit for the first quarter of the year.

In the three months, the patrol stopped and weighed 1,224 trucks, tested 4,334 motor vehicles for lights and 1,117 for brakes, examined 11,768 operators for drivers licenses, checked equipment in 3,735 cases and attended 211 accidents on the highways.

Aid was given motorists 12,052 times in three months, according to the report, first aid being given in 17 cases, road information given 6,358 times, 3,708 minor adjustments or repairs made to cars on highways, 1,409 vehicles pulled from ditches, gasoline delivered to stalled motorists in 314 cases, 705 garages called for repairs beyond the help of patrolmen and 829 obstacles removed from roads.

The patrol tagged 4,947 drivers for operating with illegal equipment, 5266 for improper license plates and warned 21,378 others for various infractions of the traffic code. There were 1,019 drivers arrested for various causes and fines for the quarter totaled $16,284.

This State Gets Big Federal Allotments

Minnesota received $145,225,055.22 in federal funds allocated by the President during the period April 8, 1935 to March 31, 1937, according to a report received by Anna Dickie Olesen, State Director for the National Emergency Council.

This information is based upon the report showing the financial status of funds provided in the Emergency Relief Appropriation Acts of 1935 and 1936, as of March 31, 1937. Expenditures incurred in prosecuting the Works Program totaled $130,395,346.89, leaving unexpended balances of $14,839,708.33.

The report shows that $70,150,655.28 has been expended for personal services; $9,942,752.38 for supplies and materials; $5,190,611.65 for rent; $1,023,104.27 for construction, maintenance and repair contracts; $35,333,971.38 for grants; $1,842,384.68 for contractual services; $1,119,058.22 for equipment purchased; $1,471,190.70 for land; $4,173,075.35 for loans; $169,163.18 for employees (accident) compensation.

GRYGLA

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rush spent last Thursday at Thief River Falls on a business and pleasure trip.

Last Thursday three representatives from the Soil Conservation office at Warren were in town delivering checks to farmers who had complied with the conservation program and also to sign up a few more for the 1937 set-up. As yet, however, there are still a few more anticipating payment which will no doubt be coming shortly.

Though seemingly on the way to recovery from his seige of pneumonia O. J. Peterson was removed to the hospital at Thief River Falls for further treatment and the latest reports are that Ole is feeling fine and shortly will be able to return home after the stubborn attack.

Oscar Pearson and Ed Shanley of Warren were in the village last Wednesday. Hazel Myrold of Crookston, a niece of G. A. Sharsten, is helping at the latters home during his illness at a hospital. Reports are that George is doing as well as can be expected, tho he is considered a very sick man. Gilmer Grovum returned to his home here after spending some little time in the St. Cloud vicinity.

Last Friday and Saturday this territory was visited with as nice a snow storm as one would care to see—tho none of us here care to see a repeater. Friday night it started to rain, thunder and lightning and then snow. By morning the ground was completely covered and it continued all day. Even throughout the night and by Sunday nearly ten inches had fallen. The main roads which were bare before, now were impassable and the heavy wet snow raised havoc with the telephone lines. Many poles were broken, lines cut and linemen say that it will be a couple of weeks before service is resumed. Snow plows were out immediately the cleaning off the snow but as yet many of the roads are impassable. This will all delay the spring work, none of which has been started, the fields just getting into shape when the bad weather came. However a week of sunshine and then everybody will be busy.

Last Wednesday and Thursday representatives of the State Conservation commission were in town and held a public sale on the rental of lands on the game reserve area in Beltrami County east of here. The sale drew an enormous crowd to town, which occupied most of two days, it seems every farmer got "the piece he was after" and many favorable comments were heard of the way in which the sale was conducted.

TWENTY-THREE PLATES FOR OLD "TIN LIZZY"

Farmington—An endurance record which will be hard to duplicate is the one held by S. M. Hotzold of Farmington, who has bought 23 license plates for his 1914 Ford roadster. The machine must have travelled more than 100,000 miles in its lifetime, and as Sam says, "It's rarin' to go a lot more." On its sixth birthday the ancient Ford's speedometer went haywire after registering 50,000 miles.

BICYCLE IS STOLEN AS OWNER BUYS LOCK

Alexandria.—A new twist to the old adage about "locking the door after the horse is stolen" resulted in one of life's bitterest moments for one young Alexandrian. Seven-year-old Dale Lien was presented with a brand new bicycle last year by his father. Dale saved enough to buy a padlock for the shiny machine, and one afternoon last week, with his friend, Dickie Ekman, pedalled toward town to make the purchase. The two left their bikes leaning against the windows of the Kraker Chevrolet garage, secure in the thought that no one would molest them while in close view of Dale's father, office manager of the Kraker company. But when the two boys returned to "see how the new lock would fit"—there was no shinly cycle on hand. Dale is walking, but he is keeping the lock.

What makes rain water wet?
Why do they say it's soft?
Never saw a bird without wings yet,
If there was could it stay aloft?
Why do leaves turn red in the fall?
Why aren't they green all the time?
How come rubber makes a bouncing ball?
Why must two nickles make a dime?
Wait, Daddy, answer me this thing
And I'll try not ask another;
Where do the bumblebees get their sting?
Do they always mind their mother?
Well, what is a question boy?
I can't be cuz I'm a boy.
Can it run fast like a fox?
Or is it just a toy?

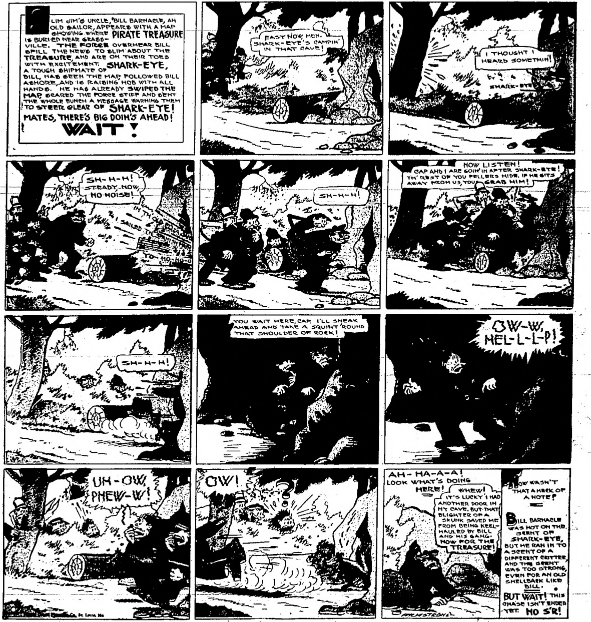
SLIM JIM AND THE FORCE



SLIM JIM'S UNCLE, BILL BARNACLE, AN OLD SAILOR, APPEARS WITH A MAP SHOWING WHERE PIRATE TREASURE IS BURIED NEAR GRASSVILLE. THE FORCE OVERHEAR BILL SPILL THE NEWS TO SLIM ABOUT THE TREASURE, AND ARE ON THEIR TOES WITH EXCITEMENT. SHARK-EYE, A TOUGH SHIPMATE OF BILL, HAS SEEN THE MAP, FOLLOWED BILL ASHORE, AND IS RAISING HOB WITH ALL HANDS. HE HAS ALREADY SWIPED THE MAP, SCARED THE FORCE STIFF AND SENT THE WHOLE BUNCH A MESSAGE WARNING THEM TO STEER CLEAR OF SHARK-EYE! MATES, THERE'S BIG DOIN'S AHEAD! WAIT!
EASY NOW, MEN. SHARK-EYE'S CAMPIN' IN THAT CAVE!
I THOUGHT I HEARD SOMETHIN'!
SHARK-EYE
SH-H-H! STEADY NOW, NO NOISE!
I SAILED TH' SPANISH MAIN YO-HO-HO
SH-H-H!
NOW LISTEN! CAP AND I ARE GOIN' IN AFTER SHARK-EYE! TH' REST OF YOU FELLERS HIDE. IF HE GITS AWAY FROM US, YOU GRAB HIM!
SH-H-H!
YOU WAIT HERE, CAP. I'LL SNEAK AHEAD AND TAKE A SQUINT 'ROUND THAT SHOULDER OF ROCK!
OW-W, HEL-L-L-P!
UH-OW, PHEW-W!
OW!
AH-HA-A-A! LOOK WHAT'S DOING HERE!
WHEW! IT'S LUCKY I HAD ANOTHER DOOR IN MY CAVE, BUT THAT BLIGHTER OF A SKUNK SAVED ME FROM BEING KEEL-HAULED BY BILL AND HIS GANG. NOW FOR THE TREASURE!
BOY WASN'T THAT A HECK OF A NOTE?
BILL BARNACLE WAS HOT ON THE SCENT OF SHARK-EYE, BUT HE RAN IN TO A SCENT OF A DIFFERENT CRITTER, AND THE SCENT WAS TOO STRONG, EVEN FOR AN OLD SHELLBACK LIKE BILL.
BUT WAIT! THIS CHASE ISN'T ENDED YET. NO S'R!

CAT RETURNS TO ITS OWNERS AT NEW HOME

Blue Earth.—J. J. Lannon, who recently moved here from Murdock, has found that there is more truth than poetry in the song, "The Cat Came Back," in which the harrassed hero of the lyric bemoaned the fact that no matter what steps he took to eliminate his feline pet, puss kept showing up, ready for more. For years Lannon owned a large cat of undetermined pedigree, but with excellent mouse-catching propensities. At his Murdock produce station the cat kept vermin of the neighborhood in a constant state of fear of sudden death, but when the Lannon family moved to Benson there was no longer room for a mouse-catcher. Puss was provided with an excellent home on the Terry Murphy farm north of Benson, where he remained for two weeks and then became lonesome for the Lannons. One morning he showed up, meowing a cheerful "good morning" at the front door. He had found his way back, not to his old home at Murdock, which might not be strange, but to the new home in Benson.

SEED SITUATION FOR POTATOES IS ACUTE THIS YEAR

Northwest School Head Issues Timely Warning to Growers

The good price for graded potatoes has tempted many growers in the Red River Valley to sell themselves short of desirable seed stock, according to T. M. McCall, superintendent of the Northwest School and Experiment Station. Mr. McCall states that immature stock in the north counties of the Valley and undersized stock in the drought counties did not grade up well and as a result there is an unusually large supply of number two potatoes in the bins and warehouses. Storage losses in many instances have further depleted seed stocks. The high price of certified seed is also a deterrent factor in the introduction of good seed.

Growers are warned to exercise great care in their choices of potato seed stocks this year. Jock lots of number two potatoes should not be planted, small and "off type" tubers are very apt to contain high percentages of "running out" diseases. Such stock under the most favorable circumstances will be a source of disappointment to the grower. Medium to small potatoes, undersized because of drought, free from diseases such as spindle tuber and mosaic, make excellent seed; however, potatoes under 1½ inch are too small to handle well and should be graded out.

With an increased acreage of potatoes in prospect and with favorable moisture conditions prevailing in most potato sections, the Red River Valley growers should plant only such stock as will produce good yields. Well selected, certified or registered seed potatoes will not only produce good yields but will give the grower the satisfaction of producing a worthwhile product.

To Plant 1,800,000 Trees on Resettlement Lands

The Resettlement Administration will plant over 1,800,000 trees on its land-use projects in the Lake States this spring under its program of restoring lands unsuited for farming to wildlife, forest, and recreation areas, it was announced today by R. I. Nowell, Regional Director of the Resettlement Administration in Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota. Most of them will be supplied by the U. S. Forest Service.

An additional 2,125,000 plants will be set out in large transplant beds near Baudette, Minnesota, Black River Falls, Wisconsin, and Allegan, Michigan for planting in the field the following year. Better final results are expected where the seedlings are planted in the field after one year in the transplant bed.

At Allegan, 1,000,000 white pine will be planted in the field while work in connection with the Beltrami Island and the Pine Island Projects will be confined to planting 1,450,000 forest seedlings in transplant beds. The beds will be located near Baudette, Minnesota.

World Passes Previous Telephone Peak With United States in Lead

A report just released by the chief statistician of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company shows a total of 35,028,682 telephones in the world as of January 1, 1936. This number is within 1% of the peak reached in the beginning of 1931; and on the basis of partial data of growth the beginning of 1936, it is estimated that there are at least two million more telephones in service throughout the world at the present time. The United States, with only 6% of the world's aggregate population of slightly over two billions, had one half of the world's telephones, or 17,423,871, on January 1, 1936. Europe, with over 575 million people, had 12,757,283 telephones, or 36.4% of the world total. Next to the United States, Germany had the largest number of telephones, 3,269,952, followed by Great Britain with 2,551,117 telephones, France with 1,441,273, Canada with 1,268,015 and Japan with 1,131,749. These five countries, together with the United States, account for 77.6% of all telephones in the world.

Reemployment Office Here Acts as Clearing House for Entire State

Jobs which open up in this locality are not the only ones for which applicants are considered, according to E. R. Stanghelle, manager of the Thief River Falls reemployment office. The "clearance" system now in effect brings to the local office notification about jobs in every county of the state, Mr. Stanghelle says, and often regarding opportunities for employment in other states. The local office is only one of a network of 26 exchanges located in key-towns throughout the state, and other offices are kept informed of the availability of qualified workers residing here. "That is why local unemployed persons, both men and women, well qualified in the various occupations, are passing up opportunities for consideration for jobs if they do not register here," said Mr. Stanghelle, who states that workers are continually being transferred from point to point in order to bring about an adjustment between the supply and demand for labor.

HIGH GRADE CATTLE POISONED BY BRAN

Aitkin: Ed Westerlund, Malmo farmer, lost seven high grade guernsey cows last week from grass poison. The cattle had broken into a shed where the poison bran was stored and eaten their fill. Three of the animals were found dead in the morning, four died during the day, and three head were seriously ill. The seven dead cows were part of a herd of eleven prize milkers that formed the basis of the Westerlund dairy farm. Their value was estimated at $80 each, making a loss of $560. The young stock was kept in a separate enclosure and did not get any of the poison.

WINNERS

OSCAR KERN - WASHINGTON COUNTY

MARGARET BISHMAN - McLEOD COUNTY

Oscar Kern, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Kern of Stillwater, Washington county, is state winner of the 1936 4-H farm account contest, T. A. Erickson, state leader, University Farm, announced today.

As state winner, Oscar's award will be the choice of $100 in merchandise or a cream separator from the International Harvester company, which provides the prizes for county, state and regional winners.

The second prize went to the alternate state winner, an 18-year-old farm girl of Hutchinson, McLeod county, Margaret Bishman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Bishman. Honorable mention was given to Keith Smith, Clearwater, Wright county and special mention to four other club members, Jerome Rypka, Owatonna, Steele county; Jean Rosalie Gerard, Richfield Station, Minneapolis, Hennepin county; Chalmer Perry, Utica, Winona county; Charles Nelson, Stanton, Dakota county.

Steam Is Invisible

Strictly speaking, steam is invisible. The term is properly applied to the transparent gas or vapor into which water is converted when heated to the boiling point. The visible cloud commonly called steam, which consists of minute droplets of water in the air, is not formed until the water vapor has cooled and condensed.

Red River Valley History

By Win V. Working

A Journey in 1867

While the writer does not know whether or not any members of the Bottineau family were identified with the immediate Thief River Falls neighborhood in pioneers days, we do know that there were and still are Bottineaus at Red Lake Falls, and in other communities not far from here. For this reason we believe a story about a trip made by the governor of Minnesota in 1867, guided Pierre Bottineau, will be of interest to Times readers. The chief executive of Minnesota at that time was Governor Marshall. Apparently the party swung well out from the Red river on a trip from St. Paul to Pembina and must have passed not far from here.

The strangest part of this story, however, is the fact that, according to the teamster who was an employee of Charles Bottineau, brother of Pierre, the Minnesota governor was enroute to Winnipeg, then known as Fort Garry, to see the mixed blood rebel leader, Louis Riel. The teamster in reminiscences left by him said Marshall sought out Riel in Winnipeg and was introduced to the rebel chief by the teamster whose name was Hyacinthe Villeneuve.

It seems that Marshall, according to Villeneuve, sought to persuade Riel to surrender to the United States government and told him he would remain as governor of Manitoba as long as the people wanted him in that office if he would do so and that the United States would annex the Canadian northwest including Manitoba.

We see no reason to doubt the teamster's word but we think he had the year wrong. We think that trip must have been made in 1869, for Riel was not at the head of his short-lived provisional government before that date, so far as we have been able to ascertain.

Anyway, Riel refused to act on the Minnesota governor's suggestion and recorded history tells us the rest of the story, how Riel fled ignominously when troops from England reached Winnipeg and remained in exile in this country until called back in 1885 to lead the mixed bloods and Indians in another revolt in the region that is now Saskatchewan and Alberta. This time Riel met death on the scaffold as a rebel against the government.

The story of the trip is interesting since the teamster tells of fording streams by driving horses, hitched to a light wagon, into the water, the wagon floating while the horses were swimming across. He also tells of Governor Marshall's pronounced democracy, citing an instance in which the chief executive became angry when the host of a humble roadside inn arranged for the teamster to eat in the kitchen while the table was set for the governor and his two traveling companions in the dining room. The governor ordered the teamster's plate brought to the dining room, according to Villeneuve's reminiscences.

The account also reveals clearly the hazards of the open road in those days, the perils that confronted the average traveler. We may assume travel was not pleasant when even the state's governor roughed it considerably. Today Governor Benson would make such a trip in a high-powered automobile it is likely, but if he were to go to Winnipeg it is probable that he would be officially received in a manner befitting his status as the chief executive of a great commonwealth. Governor Marshall appears to have slipped into Winnipeg and out very quietly but, of course, his mission was necessarily subrosa. To be sure, we have no corroboration of the teamster's statements, but we have heard and read many charges that leading Minnesota citizens, in St. Paul chiefly favored annexation of northwestern Canada and that some even favored Riel's cause, thinking it would help bring that part of Canada under the American flag.

If that had happened Thief River Falls probably would be entirely different than it is. In fact, there might have been no city here at all and the Soo and Great Northern lines might have followed different courses. Villeneuve, by the way, trapped on Thief River, probably even on the site of this city. He tells of otter, mink and beaver taken in large numbers and of muskrats being exceptionally numerous.

Unfortunately, we have nothing from the pen of Pierre Bottineau on this area but we have learned of another member of the family, near Red Lake Falls we believe, who is rated as a rich source of pioneer information and we hope to be able to interview him some time soon and probably will obtain some first-hand information concerning the settlement years in this community.

In the meantime, we hope to persuade Governor Benson to take a trip some time over the route covered by Governor Marshall just for the sake of demonstrating the great change in transportation means since 1867. The present chief executive would bowl along in a smoothly purring car over surfaced highways all the way to Winnipeg, although he might, just now, encounter a few rough spots on the stretches of tar road in Kittson county.

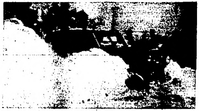
Battling The Weather

When Mark Twain opined that everybody talked about the weather and nobody did much of anything about it, he was living in an age when well-equipped weather bureaus and government experts were unheard of, and no one did anything about it. Despite modern-day developments, nobody has done anything about the weather extremes of Wisconsin and Minnesota these past months—except our photographers who were on hand to photograph what it did. Follow this interesting series of story-telling pictures of our own weather—and then you opine that "maybe we aren't so bad off after all" by looking at the pictures at the bottom of the page.

This may be a good joke

. . . to Old Man Weather, but it was just an awful pain in the neck (and a cold one, too!) to the residents of St. James, Minn., on Easter week.

Melting snows flooded the main streets of Darlington, Wis., damaging buildings and streets.



Mailmen must get through in rain or shine

. . . so this Montevideo, Minn., rural mail carrier has an Eskimobile with which he battles blizzards, whether they come near Christmas or near Easter.

And when rain floods, bridges wash out

. . . as did this cement bridge near Balaton, Minn., when a diversion dam overflowed. A one-hour flow did all this damage.

But See What Happened Here

But all the above is nothing

. . . compared to the tornado that cut a wide path of ruin and terror through Clark County, Kentucky. The picture shows what was left of a large home. World Wide

And rain is a blessing compared to this

. . . whirling black hell created by swirling, biting sand whipped into a fury of destruction by damning gales. This Kansas scene gives vivid testimony to the dust and dirt and death that are a dust storm. Acme

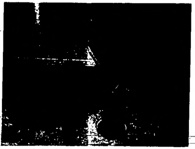
Give 'Em A Good Start

PROPER brooding is a very important part of profitable chick raising. It decreases cost by minimizing losses and permitting biggest gains for the feed consumed, increases income by producing healthier, more productive pullets and larger broilers.

Here are a few tips on chick brooding taken from a booklet by the extensive division of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture which has attracted widespread attention.

Prevent drafts with stove guards

A guard in front of the stove will prevent drafts and aid in preventing crowding by teaching chicks to sleep in a circle around the outer edge of the hover. It may be placed so that the chicks are confined to the rear half of the house the first day, then opened to give them the run of the house (as above).



Arrangement of equipment before chicks arrive

Have the brooder house and equipment ready before the chicks arrive. Clean, repair and disinfect the brooder house and move it on to clean range. Cover the floor with one to two inches of litter, clean straw, hay, leaves, chaff, shavings or ground corn cobs. Start the brooder stove two or three days in advance, to insure perfect adjustment. Place feed and water in the house before the chicks are put in and, for the first day, also place feed on newspapers or cardboard near the feeders, so that it will be easily available.

Small pen with a screen platform

Good, clean range is the best insurance against disease. After two or three days in the brooder house, turn the chicks out in a small pen either with a screen platform or on grass sod. Leave the pen up for four or five days until the chicks learn to find their way in and out of the house, then remove the pen and give them free range.

Good pasture due to regular moving of feeders

When chicks are on range it is important to move feeders from day to day pasturing the whole range. This avoids killing grass around feeders and prevents chicks from eating spilled and dirty feed. No practical means of disinfecting ranges is known.

A CAREER ...In Search of Men

Government statistics show a decrease of 10% among practicing dentists in recent years while the number of professional men in other fields has increased. This can largely be attributed to advanced standards in dental schools.

Marquette University annually receives the highest rating —A— from the Dental Educational Council of America. The diploma is recognized in all states.

The close relationship of the Dental and Medical Schools at Marquette University is an advantage to students.

Entrance requirements: Two years in a recognized College of Liberal Arts with satisfactory credits in biology, chemistry, and physics.

"Modern, Fireproof"

Those two adjectives most adequately describe the new L-shaped barn just constructed on the Washington County institution farm near West Bend, Wis. Built of steel, brick and tile, these farm structures are completely fireproof. Unusual are the silos and haykeeper of steel, and the latter is modernly ventilated to prevent spontaneous combustion of the hay stored in it.

Death Machine

Three farmers were tragically killed when the huge boiler of this threshing machine exploded near Advance, North Carolina. The terrific blast threw the heavy and unwieldy machine more than six feet and lodged it up-ended against a truck. The same machine last summer ran over and killed a small boy, while 28 years ago the father and uncle of one of the victims were killed in the same field by a similar thresher-boiler blast. Acme

Worth Crowing About!

BADGER STATE LEGHORNS are a real chick value. During the last 7 years we have been introducing into our breeding flocks 300 egg bloodlines from the finest stock in the United States and Canada. We are proud of the quality resulting from three years of careful improvement, and of the fact that BADGER STATE LEGHORNS COST NO MORE THAN ORDINARY CHICKS. Our many satisfied customers will tell you that for livability, production and down right value, BADGER STATE LEGHORNS cannot be equalled.

JUNIOR ISN'T EATING RIGHT., WHAT CAN I DO?

OF COURSE—in real life—a hen with a hundred adopted children won't miss those that die—or worry over those who fail to grow into layers or broilers.

But you will! Your money is at stake. It is your loss if improper feeding cuts into your poultry profits.

Chick Starter and Growing Mash made The HUBBARD SUNSHINE Way is sold by a reliable dealer in your town. Look him up; let him show you how it actually costs you nothing to feed your chicks properly—because of the chicks which proper feeding saves from dying and because of the quicker, better growth they enjoy.

IF HENS COULD READ—

They'd hold a sit down strike for balanced feeding The HUBBARD SUNSHINE Way. They'd learn why this balanced ration puts every ounce of feed into bone, feathers, flesh, vitality and eggs.

Since you can read—and talk, you will benefit by asking your dealer to prove what we say; that it actually costs less to feed the right way than it does to put your chicks on a hit-or-miss ration.

Tenth Spring Exposition Opens Today

Free Model Cooking School to be Offered Friday and Saturday

Two Sessions at Auditorium Friday; Last One Saturday Afternoon

MRS. OLGA HANSCOMB TO CONDUCT SCHOOL

More Than Thirty Free Prizes Will be Awarded at Each Session

An outstanding feature that is expected to attract a record-breaking attendance to the annual spring exposition in Thief River Falls this week-end is the elaborate cooking school to be staged under the joint sponsorship of the Times and the local Legion post in cooperation with numerous business places of the city.

Admission will be entirely free to each of the three sessions of the school, which will be conducted Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Friday evening at 7:45, and Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. More than thirty prizes donated by local merchants will be presented at each session to as many lucky persons in attendance, making it doubly worth while for citizens of Northwestern Minnesota to attend.

In charge of the school will be Mrs. Olga V. Hanscomb of St. Paul, noted home economist who conducts the Betty Service department of the St. Paul Daily News, with a record of more than ten years of outstanding success in conducting cooking schools in various sections of the country.

Thru her newspaper work and otherwise Mrs. Hanscomb has helped thousands of housewives thruout the Northwest with their culinary problems, and her ability to diagnose and solve these problems has made her services invaluable to homemakers. More than 100,000 women heard her on the lecture platform during the past year, and she is also a widely known radio personality thru her broadcasts over Station WTCN.

Men, too, who have the reputation of being more interested in good food than are members of the opposite sex, are cordially invited to attend one or more of the sessions and learn what the ladies are doing about the old adage, "The way to a man's heart is thru his stomach."

C. C. GROUP VIEWS MOTION PICTURES AFTER LUNCHEON

Borry Reports Council Will Cooperate in War on Tree Worms

Members of the Civic and Commerce association, following their luncheon last Thursday, enjoyed a talking motion picture program showing scenes in the Yellowstone and Glacier national parks. The films were presented by Lund & Tunberg, local Ford dealers.

Representatives of the federal government present at the meeting briefly discussed the unemployment compensation law and the old-age pension taxes payable under the social security act.

Alf Borry, who with R. M. Douglas recently appeared before the council to request action to combat the expected visitation of tree worms this season, reported that the council had agreed to try to secure two power sprayers for spraying infested trees.

A proposal that a full-time assessor be engaged for the city and county was discussed, and it was pointed out that enabling legislation would first be necessary. City Attorney Theodore Quale stated that the time allowed at present for assessing real estate in this city is entirely too short. The matter was referred to the industrial committee for consideration.

Dahlquist Appointed General Chairman for Convention of Legion

At a meeting of Elmer J. Eklund post of the American Legion Friday evening in the club rooms, W. E. Dahlquist was selected to serve as general chairman in charge of arrangements for the annual Ninth District American Legion convention to be held in Thief River Falls June 12 and 13. He shortly will announce the personnel of a number of committees including Legionnaires and business and professional men, who will cooperate in planning details of the big event.

In Charge of School

MRS. OLGA V. HANSCOMB
Who will conduct an elaborate cooking school at the Auditorium Friday afternoon and evening and Saturday afternoon under the sponsorship of the Times and the local Legion post, with the cooperation of local business places.

ANGLERS PREPARE FOR PIKE FISHING SATURDAY, MAY 15

Licenses Now Available at Office of County Auditor Senstad

With the season for angling for pike, pickerel and perch scheduled to open Saturday, May 15, a small army of fishermen is preparing to go forth from this community to Northwestern Minnesota lakes for the long-awaited start of the season. County Auditor A. M. Senstad had issued 25 licenses up to yesterday.

No more family fishing licenses will be issued, Mr. Senstad said, as a result of action taken by the legislature. Only individual licenses will be sold at fifty cents each for residents of the state, with no fee required of children under the age of 18. The nonresident license fee has been raised from $3 to $4.

The trout and bullhead seasons opened May 1, while fishing for crappies and sunfish will be permitted on and after May 29. The bass season in the northern zone will not open until June 21.

PROWLERS MEET RED LAKE FALLS ELEVEN TONIGHT

To Play Under Floodlights; Have Been Practicing Three Weeks

As a special attraction in connection with the spring exposition which opens today, a football game has been arranged for this evening between the Lincoln high school team and the Red Lake Falls high school eleven.

The game will open at 8:15, and will be played under floodlights on Lincoln athletic field. The Thief River Falls boys have been holding practice sessions the past three weeks and will be in good condition for the battle, according to Coach George E. Lee.

Since defeating Red Lake Falls 25-6 last fall, the locals have lost their entire 1936 backfield by graduation or otherwise, and the rivals are expected to compete on rather even terms. The scale of admission fees has been set at 25 cents for adults and ten cents for children.

This City to be Featured on Radio Next Thursday

Leonard Olund, manager of the local Red Owl store, announced today that next Thursday, May 13, will be Thief River Falls day on the Red Owl radio program over Station WCCO at 11:30 in the morning. Local listeners may expect to hear some interesting comments on their home town.

CLEAN-UP WEEK OBSERVED HERE MAY 10 TO 15TH

Dr. O. F. Mellby, City Health Officer, Issues Official Notice

TO MAKE SANITARY INSPECTION LATER

State Fire Marshal Asks Public to Take Fire Prevention Measures

The annual spring clean-up week in Thief River Falls has been designated by Dr. O. F. Mellby, city health officer as the week from Monday, May 10, to Saturday, May 15. While Governor Elmer A. Benson had designated the current week as a state-wide clean-up period, the local observance was deferred owing to adverse weather conditions.

Following clean-up week Dr. Mellby will make a thorough sanitary inspection of the city, and will report on his findings to the city council and the state board of health.

State Fire Marshal Frank Yetka last week issued a statement calling for the observance of a fire prevention clean-up campaign to eliminate the danger of grass and rubbish fires that may get out of control, and to aid in the removal of disease breeders which may cause pestilence.

"Houses and yards," said Mr. Yetka, "should be inspected, renovated, cleaned, painted when necessary, and the premises gardened where possible, and grass seed should be sown.

"Schools, public buildings, and institutions will be made more attractive and fire-safe by a general cleaning, both internally and externally.

"Mercantile, manufacturing and railroad properties should be cleaned up.

"Rubbish should be removed from vacant lots, which can be transformed into gardens and playgrounds.

"Rubbish should be removed from basements in business houses, and all boxes, papers and other combustible materials should be piled in an orderly manner, or so stored that they will not create a fire menace. This also applies to homes as a great deal of rubbish that has accumulated thruout the winter months should be disposed of, and "Clean-up Week" is just the time to do it."

MINEAPPOLIS MEN TO WRESTLE HERE THURSDAY, MAY 20

Abe Kashey to be Headliner in Series of Bouts at the Arena

Wrestling fans of Northwestern Minnesota will have an opportunity to witness a group of outstanding performers in a series of matches to be presented in the Thief River Falls arena Thursday evening, May 20.

Abe Kashey of Minneapolis, nationally known as one of the tionally known as one of the ablest and most colorful wrestlers in the game, will be the headliner, and he will be opposed by a mat artist to be provided by Tony Stecher, Minneapolis sports promoter, in cooperation with Bill LaFave, who has charge of local arrangements. Twin City talent also is being procured for two preliminary bouts.

General admission tickets will be sold for 40 cents, with the first seven rows of seats selling for 75 cents and reserved ring side seats priced at $1.10. Alex Campbell is in charge of ticket sales.

Dr. Pellettiere Joins Bratrud Clinic Staff

Dr. Edmund V. Pellettiere, who has spent the past two weeks in Chicago procuring additional equipment for the eye, ear, nose and throat department of the Bratrud Clinic and St. Lukes hospital, will return to this city today to take charge of that department of the local clinic.

Truckers Get Orders From Local Officials to Heed Parking Rules

Municipal Judge Lincoln Arnold and Police Chief A. B. Stenberg today joined in issuing a stern warning that the city ordinance prohibiting the parking of long trucks in the business district must be observed, since numerous accidents have been caused as a result of the trucks projecting far out into the street. Such trucks, the officials pointed out, are permitted under the ordinance to stop in the congested district only long enough to load or unload. Several violators of the rule have been fined recently in municipal court.

COMMISSIONERS DEFER SELLING OF FORFEITED LANDS

Postpone Sale Indefinitely Pending Action by Legislature

Action was taken at the May session of the county board Tuesday to postpone indefinitely the forfeited tax sale scheduled to be held June 1. New legislation affecting the tax sales, which it is expected will be enacted at the forthcoming special session of the state legislature late this month, was given as the reason for deferring the sale in Pennington county.

The board voted to accept the proposal of a Highlanding delegation that the township will finance the construction of four and one-half miles on County Aid Road 25 in Highlanding township on condition that the county maintain the road after it is built.

In addition to allowing the usual accumulation of bills at the meeting, the board disposed of several applications for tax abatements.

COUNTY FARMERS RECEIVE $98,559 IN SOIL PAYMENTS

Checks Average $113 Each; 300 More Payments Are Due Shortly

Pennington county farmers who joined in the 1936 soil conservation program have to date received benefit payments aggregating $98,559.90, it was announced today by R. M. Douglass, county agent.

Approximately 850 checks have been received to date, the average amount being $113.29. About 300 additional checks are due in the county before the 1936 program will have been completed.

Mr. Douglass stated that as soon as checks arrive in the county, a postcard notice is sent to each beneficiary, and that unless such a card is received it is useless to call at the county agent's office for a check. The remaining payments are expected to arrive in a short time.

To handle various details in connection with the Ninth District American Legion auxiliary convention to be held in Thief River Falls jointly with that of the Legion June 12 and 13, Mrs. G. L. Biddick, general chairman, this week announced a list of committee chairmen who will serve until the convention is over.

Included in the group are Mrs. M. R. Levorsen, registration and credentials; Mrs. Harry R. Lord, housing; Mrs. Tom Jepson, convention hall; Mrs. E. O. Peterson, music and entertainment; Mrs. Emmet Wright, publicity; Mrs. F. G. Pederson, decorations; Mrs. Ward Long, courtesy cars.

Mrs. Claude Everson, distinguished guests; Mrs. Leonard Hatson, parade; Mrs. A. B. Stenberg, poppy posters; Mrs. C. A. Wittrout, luncheon; and Mrs. Thora Nelson, information. The chairmen held their first meeting last Friday evening, and will meet at regular intervals from now on.

NEW THEATRE LARGEST 1937 BUILDING JOB

Clearing of Site for Three-Story Structure Now Under Way

MUCH CONSTRUCTION EXPECTED THIS YEAR

Savings and Loan Manager Forecasts 20 to 25 New Homes

Featuring the 1937 building program in Thief River Falls, which it is indicated will rival last year's total expenditure of approximately $250,000, is the construction of the new Falls theatre on LaBree av. by the Baehr-Operated Theatres, owners of the Avalon in this city.

Work started late last week on razing the former Rolland meat market building, which occupies part of the site, and construction work will get under way as quickly as the ground has been cleared, according to A. W. Baehr of Bemidji, who stated that the new building is scheduled to be completed not later than September 1.

Ben Bredeson of Bemidji has been awarded the general contract for the structure, which will be 40 by 140 feet in dimensions and three stories in height, with a seating capacity in the theatre of 900 persons. With a white Kelly stone front and Vitrolite base, the structure will provide space also for two ground floor stores, with room for four offices on the second floor and eight apartments on the third floor. The entire building will be air-conditioned, it was announced.

Other building projects now under way in the city are the large addition to the Independent Grocery & Fruit company on East Third st., representing an investment of more than $10,000; the Skarstad-Daniels Lumber company on Horace av. N., costing more than $8,000; the Martin Bothun building on Main av.; the building recently completed by William Korstad for the Danielson Bros. Electric company; the George Williamson residence on Main av. N.; and the Theodore Hornseth home now under construction on Tindolph av. S.

Discussing home building prospects for the current year, Stanton R. Dahlen, manager of the First Federal Savings and Loan association, expressed the opinion that, on the basis of inquiries received to date, from 20 to 25 new homes will be constructed in the city this year. Four loans for financing new homes have already been approved by the association, he said, and a dozen other applications are now in prospect, in addition to numerous smaller loans made for the purpose of modernizing and repairing homes already constructed.

The extent to which Thief River Falls has been built up since the advent of the depression in 1930 becomes apparent when one enumerates the construction which has taken place since that time. Included in the list are St. Lukes hospital, Osborne McMillan terminal elevator, addition to the municipal power plant, Avalon theatre, municipal Auditorium, postoffice building, arena, Oen Mercantile company building, Palm Garden cafe, Lund & Tunberg Garage, Dahl building, Lynde-Waale building, Borry's garage and fifty or more modern residences.

Beauty Entrants Being Proposed in Contest Sponsored by Avalon

Names of local young ladies are now being entered in a beauty contest sponsored by the Avalon theatre, the nominating period to continue until May 20. Any single girl between the ages of 15 and 27 is eligible to enter the contest, the rules provide. Beginning Friday, May 21, the theatre will give out voting coupons with each adult ticket and the voting will be conducted thru the theatre until the close of the contest. "Miss Thief River Falls" will be sent to the Red River valley bathing beauty contest at Crookston July 29, where she will compete with twelve other Valley girls for a free trip to Miami, Florida, to enter the national bathing beauty contest.

C. D. GUSTAFSON IS NAMED HEAD OF LOCAL PTA GROUP

Record-Size Audience Assembles for Style Show Monday Night

The largest gathering of the year was attracted to the Parent-Teacher association meeting Monday evening in the Lincoln building, special drawing cards being provided by the style parade staged by the home economics students as well as attractive displays arranged in the industrial training, agriculture and commercial departments, all of which were inspected by the visitors in the course of the evening.

The annual election of officers conducted in a brief business session resulted in the naming of C. D. Gustafson as president for the coming year, succeeding C. W. Pope. Other officers elected include Miss Lyda Hatton, first vice president; Mrs. Palmer Tommerdahl, second vice president; Miss Blanche Greenland, secretary; and Mrs. N. A. Nelson, treasurer.

Groups of choral numbers were presented by the junior high school boys glee club and by the high school girls glee club, accompanied by Eileen Rolland. Both groups were directed by Miss Erma Springen.

A varied array of excellent specimens of the sewing art were displayed in the style show under the supervision of Miss Rosine Dahlen and Miss Lois Thoreson, instructors, with musical accompaniment provided by the high school boys' orchestra. Included in the showing were cotton pajamas by the eighth grade class; slacks, shorts, pajamas and sport togs by students in Home Economics I; and attractive wool street dresses and silk afternoon frocks modeled by girls of Home Economics II.

A wide variety of practical projects being carried out by students in the industrial training department were on display following the program, and won many complimentary remarks. A model farmyard in miniature was the feature display in the agriculture department.

Exposition to Present Builders Show, Cooking School and Vaudeville

Tenth Annual Event Will be Staged in Auditorium and Arena

EVENT TO CONTINUE TO SATURDAY NIGHT

Admission Is Free to Both the Builders' Show and Cooking School

Citizens of Northwestern Minnesota will gather in large numbers in Thief River Falls this week-end for the tenth annual spring exposition sponsored by the local American Legion post.

The event opens Thursday and will continue thru Saturday, and will include a builders' show and better homes exhibit in the spacious arena; a cooking school in the Auditorium Friday afternoon and evening and Saturday afternoon; an exceptional vaudeville program Saturday evening lasting an hour and forty minutes; and dances following the programs Friday and Saturday evenings with music provided by Abbie Andrews and his orchestra.

The arena will be filled with displays of more than twenty Thief River Falls firms which will show a complete line of the latest developments in builders' supplies, appliances for the home and related items of special interest at this season of the year. Each exhibitor will occupy a space 11½ by 14 feet. No admission fee will be charged at any time.

Those who will have displays include the Oen Mercantile company, Montgomery Ward & company, Bridgeman Creameries, Larson company, Central Lumber company, Robertson Lumber company, Skarstad-Daniels Lumber company, Danielson Bros. Electric Shop, Ed Lee, Northern Woodwork company, Paint & Glass Supply company, Borry's Garage, L. W. Best Electric Service, Thief River Bearing company, Peterson-Julien company, Independent Grocery & Fruit company, Alnes Electric Service, Gustafson & Son, Kiewel Products company, Land O'Lakes Creameries, Ted Ness and Knute A. Henning, architect. Space for a 4-H club exhibit also was donated by the L. B. Hartz Stores.

The feature attraction at the Auditorium Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock, Friday evening at 7:45 and Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock will be a cooking school to be conducted by Mrs. Olga V. Hanscomb, widely known culinary authority, under the joint sponsorship of the Times and the Legion post, with the cooperation of local business places which have donated more than 30 valuable prizes to be given at each session to those in attendance. Admission will be free.

The three-day exposition will reach its climax Saturday evening when a top-notch vaudeville show featuring Twin City and eastern talent will be presented at the Auditorium. The performance, billed as the Revelation Revue, embraces a cast of more than twenty persons, including Lenora Henley, prima donna; Chief Chihlahoo, full blooded Indian baritone, who is coming from Chicago after appearing on the Orpheum circuit; Harold Olson, in the role of Professor Wort, Swedish comedian; Audrey Renne, accordionist; Elsie Ryan, acrobatic dancer; and the Midget Quartet.

Dancing will follow the programs Friday and Saturday evenings in the Auditorium, with music provided by Abbie Andrews and his orchestra. A grand prize award will take place in the course of the dance Saturday evening.

Reed-Poppenhagen Vows Pronounced Saturday

The marriage of Miss Dorothy Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Reed, Sr., of this city, and Joe Poppenhagen, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Poppenhagen also of this city, was solemnized at seven o'clock Saturday evening at the parsonage home of Rev. J. O. Jacobson, who read the service.

For her wedding the bride wore a suit of navy blue wool, complemented by white accessories. Her attendant, Miss Juliet Archambault, wore a grey suit and white accessories. The bride's brother, John Reed, Jr., was groomsman. Immediately following the ceremony, a wedding dinner was served in the Log Cabin of the Palm Garden Cafe, covers being placed for the bride and groom, their attendants and Miss Helen Reed and Pete Poppenhagen.

After June 1, Mr. and Mrs. Poppenhagen will take an apartment at 103 South Duluth Avenue, and will be at home to their friends. The groom, who is employed with the Math Barzen Co., attended school in this city and at Goodridge, and the bride also attended the local public schools.

BRIDGE-DINNER GIVEN BY WALTER SMITHS

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith entertained eleven guests at a Saturday night bridge dinner at their home last week. Dinner was served at six-thirty o'clock, covers being placed for the Messrs. and Mmes. W. G. Claffy, John Lind, Andrew Bottelson, Clarence Pope, and Clifford Olesen; Miss Erma Springen, and the hosts. Bridge was played at three tables, Mr. Claffy and Mrs. Lind receiving prizes for high scores.

H. C. GLESSNERS ARE HOSTS TO STORE EMPLOYES

H. C. Glessner, assistant manager of the local Penney store, and Mrs. Glessner entertained informally for the store employes after the close of store hours Saturday night. Sixteen guests were present.

Oscar Reiersgaard Wed Sunday to Fargo Girl

Mr. and Mrs. P. Mokler of Fargo announce the marriage of their daughter Miss Hazel to Oscar Reiersgaard of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. L. Weiss, pastor of the First Methodist church of Fargo. Attendants were Miss Mae Hanson of Fargo and A. E. Holmquist of this city. Immediately after the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Reiersgaard left for a trip to eastern cities, and upon their return they will make their home in this city at 510½ Knight Avenue North. The groom is employed with the Lund and Tunberg garage.

YOUNG MUSICIANS CLUB HONORS LOIS MELBY

The Young Musicians Club, the membership of which consists of Miss Fern Barnett's pupils of grade school age, honored a member of the club, Lois Melby, at a farewell surprise party in connection with the club's regular meeting Friday evening. Lois left this week with her parents to make her home at Glenwood. The evening's music hour included a report on Handel by Ruth Fosson and the playing of a selection by Handel, "A Star Wish", by LeRoy Thompson. Jo Ann Holmes reported on the composer Bach and played the Prelude in C Major, which he composed. As a gift of remembrance from the club Lois Melby was presented with a set of pictures pertaining to music. Games were enjoyed, following which refreshments were served by the hosts, Harry Long and LeRoy Thompson. Miss Barnett presented each member with a May basket.

CLARENCE LARSON HOME SCENE OF JOINT SHOWER

Prior to their recent departure for the West Coast, Mr. and Mrs. David Meyers and Mr. and Mrs. Art Hedlund shared honors at a farewell party given for them at the Clarence Larson home. Doing the honors were the Messrs. and Mmes. Clarence Larson, Bill Holst, Fred Voth, Bill Mohrkens, Anton Johnson, Augustine, Bennet, Harty Peterson, Sangstuen, and Ludvig Larson; Mrs. John Hoffman, Misses Gertrude Voth, Evelyn, Bernice and Eleanor Larson. The evening was enjoyed socially and lunch was served. A purse of money was presented to the guests of honor.

Former Local Young Man Is Wed in Minneapolis

On Thursday evening, April 29, the wedding of Genevieve Ledding to Stuart W. Boreen, took place at the home of William A. Boreen of Minneapolis. The Boreen family are former residents of Thief River Falls, it being the birthplace of Stuart.

The bride wore white satin, her veil having a coronet of pearls, and she carried a bouquet of calla lilies. She was attended by her sister, Juanita Ledding, who wore a blue organza dress, and carried a shower bouquet of roses, sweetpeas, and snapdragons. Little Marcia Ann Mankowski was the flower girl, wearing a long white dress, and carrying a basket of white flowers. Milden Boreen, brother of the groom attended as best man. Horton Helges, of Minneapolis, sang "Oh Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly" before the ceremony, accompanied on the violin by Miss Dorothy Silk, who also is a former resident of Thief River Falls, and was the childhood pal of Stuart when they both resided there. Marcia Ann Mankowski is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Mankowski of Minneapolis. Thief River Falls residents will remember Mrs. Mankowski as Melvina Rupprecht, who also spent her childhood days in Thief River Falls.

About fifty people witnessed the wedding. A wedding lunch was served immediately after the ceremony. The bride and groom left for a short trip in northern Wisconsin, and will be at home to friends at 3001 Polk St. . E., Minneapolis, after May 10th.

FERN BARNETT PRESENTS TWO PUPILS IN RECITAL

Miss Fern Barnett, local piano instructor, will present two accomplished young pianists, Donna May Twete and Janice Swanson, both nine years of age, in public recital at the Community church next Wednesday evening at eight o'clock. Donna May, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. R. Twete, will play "Turkish March" by Beethoven, "Curious Story" by Heller, "The Elf Man's Serenade" by Gaynor, "Petite Valse" by Gaynor, and "Country Gardens" by Grainger. TALKS WITH CHILDREN AT OPPOSITE COASTS

Morris—The first "conference" telephone call from this community was put through by M. F. Nugent when he talked simultaneously with his daughter, Miss Margaret Nugent who is supervisor of nurses at the Henry Street foundation, a public health organization in New York City, and with his son, John D. Nugent who lives at Yakima, Washington. This three way, coast to coast conversation had been planned by Mr. Nugent as an exchange of Easter greetings for the brother and sister who have not seen each other for several years.

HAS FIRST LICENSE ISSUED IN COUNTY

New Ulm.—A. C. Burmeister, Redwood Falls resident, has in his possession the first automobile license issued in Redwood county. The license, dated August 25, 1903, was issued by the inspector of steam vessels and steam boilers. No plate was required, and the owner of the car carried the license in his pocket, much the same as a driver's license is now carried. All that was necessary to secure a license was to have the machine inspected to determine, whether or not it would explode. Burmeister's car was a one cylinder Rambler.

PATROL TO REVIEW NEW TRAFFIC CODE

The Minnesota highway patrol has been called to two sessions, at Brainerd and Rochester, May 5 to 7, inclusive, and May 12 to 14, inclusive, to review new provisions of the statewide traffic code, recently enacted into law by the legislature. The sessions will be for members of the patrol only, under the direction of John P. Arnoldy, chief patrol officer. It is planned to have half of the patrol attend the Brainerd meeting and the other half attend the Rochester session.

LOOKS TOO LONG AT WELDING ARC

Benson: "Never look at a welding flame or arc without proper protective glasses," is the warning Jasper Ladd of this city will give his friends. Jasper recently constructed an electric welding outfit and the machine worked fine. Its brilliant rays, however, were injurious to his eyes. After having attended a movie in the evening he could not see, and his wife practically led him home. Jasper is recovering slowly, but said that he would hate to go through the experience again.

WE TELL YOU THE FACTS ABOUT REFRIGERATION!

Here They Are
FACT 1.
The new 1937 Kelvinator is Plus-Powered. It has as much as double the cooling capacity of many other well-known refrigerators of equal size.
FACT 2.
The new Kelvinator runs only half as many minutes per day—during the rest of the time it maintains low temperatures using no current at all.

ONLY KELVINATOR GIVES YOU ALL THESE ADVANTAGES!
BUILT-IN THERMOMETER . . . Kelvinator's Plus Power assures safe refrigeration temperature—always . . . The built-in thermometer proves this.
RUBBER GRIDS IN ALL ICE TRAYS . . . Kelvinator's Plus Power gives you an abundance of ice cubes, and rubber grids make them easy to remove.
CERTIFICATE OF LOW OPERATING COST . . . Kelvinator's Plus Power assures less running time each day . . . only Kelvinator gives you a Certificate of Low Cost of Operation.
5-YEAR PROTECTION PLAN . . . Kelvinator's Plus-Power unit runs less time at slower speed—years of dependable service—certified with a 5-Year Protection Plan.

ONLY 90¢ A WEEK WILL BUY YOU A KELVINATOR

YOU first want to know the facts shown above—because they are the most important things about any refrigerator. They mean money saved for you. They mean long years of trouble-free service. They mean that no matter how hot the day or overheated the kitchen, Kelvinator keeps foods always SAFE.
Thousands who have owned mechanical refrigerators for years are now replacing with the new Kelvinator—and find they are money ahead!
You'll be as proud to show your new Plus-Powered Kelvinator to your friends as we are to show it to you. Let us do that today! Learn about the new plan by which you can buy a Kelvinator for as little as 90¢ a week! Come in!

ONTARIO OFFERS A BONUS

In an address delivered before the Tax Conference last winter, E. W. Davis, of the University of Minnesota Mines experiment station, presented an outline of the problems and needs of Minnesota's iron mining industry that should be carefully studied by every person interested in the development of the state.

The picture he presents is interesting. Ore deposits in this state are worth more than all the gold in the world. The supply is sufficient to last more than a thousand years at the rate we are now mining it. But unless we change our methods of taxation, most of this great wealth will remain buried and the iron mining industry will continue to be an industry only a few more years.

Mr. Davis divides the visible supply of ore into three classifications. The original supplies of the first two grades were about equal. Half of the first grade ore has now been mined. At the rate it is being mined, the remainder will last only another thirty years. It is only in recent years that any of the second grade ore has been used. This second grade must be concentrated before it is marketable and the concentration processes are expensive. But the great bulk of our ore deposits are low grade. It is this third class ore that offers the greatest possibilities to the state. There is enough of this ore to last a thousand years. The costs of mining it, however, are now prohibitive and unless these costs are reduced it will not be mined.

One of the biggest obstacles to the development of this low grade ore is the tax burden. At the present time this low grade ore is taxed on the same basis as the richest deposits. And only the richest deposits will pay out under this tax burden. The result is that mining companies are not interested in the low grade ore. They are taking the cream and when the cream is gone they will get out. By our unscientific methods of taxation we have forced them to do this.

The time to save our iron mining industry is before we lose it. After we have once lost it, regaining it will be both difficult and expensive.

Up in Canada, for instance, the province of Ontario has large quantities of low grade ore. In an effort to encourage the development of this low grade ore they have made a standing offer to mining companies to pay them fifty cents a ton for a period of ten years for all the iron mined within the province. The offer of a fifty cent bonus hasn't attracted operators as yet so recently they raised the offer to one dollar a ton. They would like to have our mining companies move north.

Our attitude here in Minnesota is just the opposite. By an unintelligent and unscientific tax system we have discouraged the development of our great ore resources.

The appeal which Mr. Davis has made for a broader understanding of the problems of our mining industry should not go unheard. His appeal is not made in the interests of the mining companies. He does not urge that their tax load be lightened where rich ore deposits make mining operations profitable. His appeal is for a tax policy that will give needed encouragement to the more expensive operation of concentrating low grade ores, an operation that will greatly increase employment on the range and perpetuate for many centuries one of the state's most important industries.

A little out of season, perhaps, but the football game under the floodlights in back of the high school tonight should prove interesting nevertheless. Coach Lee has been giving his squad plenty of hard work this spring and that should count for something when the season opens next September.

Next week is official clean-up week in the village and by the end of next week every back yard and alley should be in spic and span condition. That pile of ashes may have a lot of sentimental value to you but your neighbors will be glad when you get it out of the way.

Sponsoring a Cooking School is a new adventure for the Times staff. Whether the idea is a good one or not we do not know. We do know, however, that Mrs. Hanscomb, who will conduct the school, has an unusually good record in that field. She comes highly recommended and on the strength of what our friends have told us about her work we recommend the school to the men and women of the community—yes the men too. Local merchants are co-operating nicely and more than thirty free prizes will be given away at each session.

In the course of a week we have a lot of ideas for the improvement of the community chucked at us. And some of them have merit. For instance this week one fellow suggested that in most enterprising towns the streets in the business section are washed during the early morning hours instead of during the day. A better job can be done when the curbs are not lined with cars. A much better job can be done too, he said, with the fire hose than with a tank sprinkler. And this sounded like a bang-up good idea to us.

CENSORING NEWS-REELS

(Business Week)

The Kansas Board of Review has committed one of those acts of tyranny which betray a complete contempt for the principles underlying the Constitution. Reviewing a news-reel which dealt with President Roosevelt's court-packing plan, the board ordered "the elimination of the entire Wheeler dialogue," on the ground that it is "partisan and biased." Only after vehement public protest did the board reverse its order.

Partisan? Sen. Wheeler is a Democrat, like the President. As to his remarks being biased, that is a matter of opinion. The remarks are these: "You can say that the privilege of appointing postmasters will not be accorded to me. You can say that I'll get no more projects for my state. You can say what you please, but I say to you and to Mr. Farley, to everybody else, that I will vote against this proposition because it is morally wrong; it is morally unsound; it is a dangerous proceeding."

All this was cut out; but the scene in which the President, during his fireside chat, assailed the Supreme Court was left untouched.

There were no moving pictures when the Constitution was written; but under any broad interpretation, a news-reel is entitled to the same freedom as a newspaper. The Kansas censors would not dare to suggest stopping the circulation of a newspaper that quoted Sen. Wheeler. They would not say that Sen. Wheeler should be prevented from coming into Kansas and speaking his mind. A news-reel has as much right to publish what any man says as the man has to stand up and say it himself.

PEOPLE MAY WAKE UP—

(St. Cloud Times)

The state tax commission, that should know, estimates that it will be necessary for Minnesota to increase its taxes by thirty million dollars, to meet expenses for the coming two years. That is not so pleasant when we are confronted with high taxes already—the highest in the history of the state. These high taxes are a boomerang on the state and those who do pay. In many northern counties the delinquency is very high, and the state has to take over thousands and possibly a million acres by tax payment failure. The unpaid taxes now due are 100 million dollars.

Hon. Ray Chase says he has been unable to learn from the state authorities how many acres the state has taken in tax sales. These acres when owned by the state pay no taxes, that has crippled many of the northern counties and school districts. Some of these counties have been issuing warrants in place of cash, and have strained their credit to the limit. Some may have to be aided by the state to save them from bankruptcy.

There are other conditions that have increased state expenses, relief and old age pensions, in addition to the great number who defaulted in paying taxes.

In the face of this general condition, the employes and the departments of the state have been increased, and there are a large number of salary drawers who give more time to party politics than to service to the state.

While towns and counties and school districts generally have reduced expenses, that has been practically wiped out by the increase of spending by the state administration in the past six years.

The proposal of Gov. Benson is to raise more taxes, and we hear very little about reducing expenses.

After a few more years of this mismanagement, the people may wake up to the necessity of a more businesslike management of state affairs, that will keep its promise of retrenchment and reform. The only way to reduce taxes is to spend less.

Now we know why they call 'em Baby Bonds—because every baby in the land is going to have to help pay for them some day.—Columbus Dispatch.

Looking Backward

TEN YEARS AGO

From the Times of May 5, 1927

All but one of the 21 assessors of this county met for a conference with Gunnar Bjornson of the state tax commission.—Practically no seeding has yet been done in this community, and work was further delayed by a two-inch rainfall.—O. E. Taverans arrived here from Crary, N. D., to engage in the automobile business.—Mrs. H. W. Froehlich addressed a district P. T. A. meeting at Moorhead.—Mrs. J. W. Hendry of Superior, Wisc., visited with friends here. Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Stenberg returned from Gladstone, Michigan, where they spent the winter months.—Mr. and Mrs. S. Benson will leave May 15 for a three-months visit in Norway.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

From the News-Press of May 3, 1917

Petitions are being circulated locally aimed at the formation of a home guard of men too old to enter the government armed services.—Judge Stanton of Bemidji ruled against the establishment of Judicial 29 in Pennington and Marshall counties, part of a project estimated to cost $250,000.—Ward Long returned to his home in this city after teaching a term of school at Thorhult.—Arthur Loken is expected home shortly from a winter sojourn in Honolulu.

PUBLIC OPINION

FROM THE STATE SENATE

I hope to find a little time occasionally even when the legislature is not in session to write to the constituency of the 65th legislative district, discussing important issues and legislation. I wish to express my sincere appreciation to the Press of our district for the privilege which is extended to me so freely to use its Public Opinion columns. I am confident that this means service to our people and that is what our Press desires—to be of service. I am also confident that our people appreciate the Public Opinion columns which our Press offers as a medium of exchange of ideas and for the general discussion of public problems. There is now only one paper in our District, which is so politically prejudiced, and which has such a narrow minded political creed that it does not dare open its columns to a non-partisan discussion of public problems.

The fields covered in legislation are so vast that no one senator can possibly cover every fase of legislation. The 50th session just closed 491 bills, as compared with 391 bills in 1935. No one can be fully familiar with all of them. Most of the senators have membership in from four to eight committees. We, of course, become very familiar with the bills that are passed through our respective committees, but cannot become thoroughly familiar with all the legislation which is to be passed upon in any one session.

We must, therefore, specialize to some extent. My first specialty has been Rural Credit legislation, and following this, legislation pertaining to Education, Welfare, Liquor Control, Dairy Products and Livestock and Municipal Affairs. Of this legislation, that pertaining to Rural Credit and Education is of greatest importance to the constituency of the 65th District which I serve. I am fortunate in having obtained the membership on committees which deal with legislation of special interest to our District.

There is in our section of the state, and in our legislative district, a large number of Rural Credit farms. We are, therefore, much in need of good Rural Credit legislation. I have considered it my first duty to sponsor and support legislation which deals favorably with these problems. I introduced two major Rural Credit bills, Senate File 820 and Senate File 1201. Number 820 would have created County Boards of Appraisal to immediately determine the market value of our Rural Credit farms fixing terms of sale, etc. It carefully protected the original owners who wish to repurchase their farms from unnecessary and unfair competition. In fact, I have always endeavored to give legislative protection to the original owner of these Rural Credit farms, since in most cases these owners have already made much investment of time and money in these farms and also in many cases they have the sacredness of home invested in them.

Senate File 820 failed to pass. Similar legislation in the House also failed. This failure was due quite likely to active opposition from the Conservator and other Rural Credit Department Officials, who spent much time this past winter in lobbying. If legislation on the order of Senate File 820 had passed, the Rural Credit Department could have re-adjusted all its over-sized mortgages, and sold all its agricultural land within the next two years. According to the rate of procedure in the re-sale of farms and re-adjustment of loans by the Department these past two years, it will require eighteen years to put this Department in order. Nevertheless, I am confident that the intense efforts made on behalf of such legislation will cause the Rural Credit Department to become more active in the re-adjustment of loans and the sale of farms in the future than it has been so far. It has likely seen the handwriting on the wall and knows now that our people desire to have something done.

In my next letter I will outline the Rural Credit legislation which was passed at this session. Meanwhile may I call the attention of the original owners to the fact that you still have your first privilege rights in the re-purchase of your farm. In case this is not being granted to you, I shall be glad to hear from you and be of service to you.

May 9th, Mother's Day

Lincoln has been quoted as saying: "All that I am, and all that I ever hope to be, I owe to my darling mother."

No one can ever fully realize the debt of gratitude we owe to our mother. Her love has been a constant source of light upon life's pathway. In joy or in sorrow she has never failed.

Like all other good gifts, mother is a gift from God. Though your mother be removed, she still lives in your life and blesses your pathway. Let us honor God, and mother, by attending church this Mother's Day, Sunday, May 9.

Most Beautiful Cities

There is a great diversity of opinion in making a selection of the world's beautiful cities, but a travel authority lists the following as the most beautiful in the world: Rome, Venice, Paris, Edinburgh, Stockholm, Naples, New York, Dresden, Istanbul, Nice, Florence, Vienna, The Hague, Nuremberg, Budapest, Rio de Janeiro, Prague, Brussels, Geneva and Washington.

Advance Payments on U. S. Land Bank Loans Help Reduce Interest

Payment of $100 in advance on a $1000 federal land bank loan that has run 6 years will save the borrower $266 in interest and cut down the total payment time from 34½ years to 28½ years, says J. W. Sands secretary-treasurer of national farm loan associations with group headquarters at Warren.

Mr. Sands undoubtedly knew this all the time, but the occasion for mentioning it was receipt of a little circular from the Federal Land Bank of St. Paul showing "a sure way to save money."

"Everybody knows that a land bank loan is made on the plan of paying the interest every 6 months along with a little of the principal," he said. "If a farmer has the money to spare so he can pay $100 extra on principal at the time he makes his 11th payment (that is at the end of the first 6 years) he will save the interest on that $100 for all the remaining years the loan has to run.

"One hundred dollars (or to be exact, $100.64) will pay the principal installments that would come due between the 11th and 23rd payments. That is 6 years. So if he pays the $100 he cuts 6 years off the total time he has to pay interest and saves interest on that particular $100 for 22½ years.

"The best way to realize the saving is to see what happens if he pays $100 extra after his loan has run, say, 25 years. At that time the $100 advance payment would save only $52.36 in interest. Interest is figured at 5 per cent.

"It all comes down to this—the more a borrower can pay on principal early in the life of his loan, the bigger his savings will be—the quicker he will get out of debt."

INFORMATION WANTED

A big business man was cruising along at 60 miles per hour when there was an awful roar and a little baby car came alongside. The big business man snorted and put his foot down on the accelerator. He increased his speed from 60 to 70, 75, 80 and 90—still the little fellow kept alongside. Suddenly the little fellow put his window down and shouted: "Hey, do you know anything about these cars?"

The big fellow said: "Yes, I make them!"

"Then," said the little fellow, "can you tell me how to get out of second gear?"

Just Wondering

A woman troubled with nightmares who frequently cried out in her sleep was advised by her doctor to live with a cheerful family in order that her nerves might improve.

She accordingly advertised for a room with "a family who would not object to screaming in the night."

She received several answers, and among them was one which asked: "How often would you require us to scream?"

NO USE

"Are you practicing food economy?"

"I tried it out, but it didn't work. My husband simply refused to eat the cold boiled egg that was left over from the day before."

Non-Stop

After an hour and a half of preaching, a clergyman who was given to both long-windedness and fanciful flights of oratory was just getting warmed up to his sermon on immortality.

"I looked up to the mountains," he shouted, "and I said, 'Mighty as you are, you will be destroyed; but my soul will not.' I gazed at the ocean and cried, 'Vast as you are, you will eventually dry up, but not I.'" And then he wondered why his hearers smiled.—Tit-Bits Magazine.

Atrocious

A guide was showing a party of tourists through the Corcoran Art Gallery in Washington. Pausing before a beautiful statuette, the guide said: "This is Venus at the Bath—executed in terra cotta."

One of the tourists exclaimed in horror: "What a pity! How barbarous those Asiatic countries are."—Atlanta Constitution.

Home Again

"My wife told me to take the old cat off somewhere and lose it. So I put him in a basket and tramped out into the country about eight miles."

"Well, did you lose the cat?"

"Lose it? If I hadn't followed it I'd never got back home."

A Neglected Husband

"Does your wife ever find fault with you?"

"Not now," answered Mr. Meekton. "Since Henrietta went into politics she has found any number of men with worse shortcomings to talk about than mine."

It Happened at the State Capitol

The doors of the Legislature are closed. The members of the law making body are taking a month's vacation at their respective homes, and the governor is spending a few days on a vacation in the Arrowhead country. We imagine the legislators are using their month's time for cleaning-up and painting-up, but without a doubt will return on the 24th of the month, ready again to take up their problems in an effort to unravel the difficulties which are now at hand.

The governor gave his reason for calling the special session, which was that the fiftieth legislature had failed to enact a tax program to his liking, which was higher taxes along many lines; and two main bills, the education bill amounting to $24,000,000, and the relief bill of $17,750,000.

The governor did not agree with the tax plan of the senate and therefore held a "club over their heads" by threatening a special session if "proper" action was not taken during the last long days of the regular session. He called for the law makers to return to their seats in the house and senate, which will cost the taxpayers of the state well towards $150,000.

Review of Some Bills Passed

Interesting to the rural communities are some of the agricultural bills passed, as follows: Extend mortgage moratorium two more years; require use of 66 2-3 barley malt in making beer; to broaden authority of Rural Credit conservator to sell state-owned farms on crop payment plan; reducing Rural Credit interest from 7% to 5% and 5½% to 4%; and to prohibit price discriminations to buyers of farm products and require such buyers to charge for hauling and prohibiting premiums or bonuses aimed primarily at some creameries buying milk.

Business: Prohibiting price discriminations and retail sale below cost, which is defined as retail cost plus 10%; barbers NRA on petition of 60% of all barbers, to hold hearings and promulgate a code of fair practices, setting prices, wages and hours; To codify pharmacy laws; To extend moratoriums on real estate contracts for deeds and 20 year leases for two more years; Requiring all embalmers and funeral directors to have licenses who are subject to being licensed; Requiring all banks to turn over to the state all deposits which have been inactive in their institutions for twenty years.

Highway bills: Increased the term of the commissioner from a two to a four year term and raised his salary $750.00, now $6,750; A Uniform traffic code; Gave the Highway department authority to purchase the building it occupies at $198,000; Highway Department authorized to lay half mile of stone pavement for test; An increase of one cent on state gas tax, for a period from now until July 1, 1939; permit counties to turn over half of gas tax refund to townships; Increase of license fee on common and contract truck carriers of $7.50 for each truck, that now is $5.00 for the first truck and $2.50 for each additional truck.

Body Stores Substances With Fat

When the body stores fat in the tissues it deposits there not only the excess fats with their high nutritional and caloric values, but many other substances in smaller amounts, says a writer in the New York Herald Tribune. Some of the substances which the body stores with the fats have been identified by two Hungarian investigators, Dr. L. Zechmeister and P. Torson, who analyzed a large number of fat samples mostly from persons suffering from particular diseases. They found that the color of the fat was associated with the vegetable diet and disease. The fat from persons eating large amounts of red pepper was found to be rich in capsanthine, one of the red pigments in the pepper. Carotene and xanthophyll, two yellow coloring matters from vegetables, were present in large amounts. Carotene is the substance from which the body manufactures its vitamin A.

Memory

In loving memory of our dear baby Darlene June who passed away one sad year ago April 21, 1936:

Deep in our hearts there's a picture
Of a loved one gone to rest,
In memory's frame we shall keep it,
Because she was one of the best.
Our lips cannot speak how we loved her,
Our hearts cannot tell what to say,
God only knows how we miss her,
As we journey along on life's way.

Sadly missed by Mother and Dad, Sister and Brothers, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Thone and family. 1p

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear father and husband who passed away two sad years ago.

Sincere and true in his heart and mind,
Beautiful memories he left behind,
In silence he suffered, in patience he bore,
Till God called him home to suffer no more.

GOLFERS INVITED TO ATTEND DINNER WEDNESDAY, MAY 12

Meeting at Evelyn Planned to Discuss Plans for Current Season

All golfers of this community, whether or not they are members of the local golf club, are invited to attend a dinner meeting at the Evelyn hotel next Wednesday evening, May 12, at 6:30, at which time plans will be developed for the season's activities, C. H. Jung, president of the club, announced today.

H. O. Chommie, who will preside as toastmaster, will call for reports of various club committees, and efforts are being made to arrange for the presence of a well-known golf professional affiliated with a Northwest course, who will discuss aspects of the popular sport.

Serving on the committee in charge of arrangements for the dinner are Hal Ekeren, Lloyd Bennes, Douglas Booren and Tom Mehegan. They announced that tickets for the dinner may be obtained at the Thief River Pharmacy or the J. & B. Drug Store.

Boys and Girls to Form Bicycle Club Tonight

All local boys and girls who ride bicycles and are interested in joining a bicycle club are invited to attend an organization meeting this evening at 7:30 in the Legion club rooms in the basement of the Auditorium. The purpose of the club, it was announced, will be to create interest in the sport of bicycling, and to instruct the riders on city ordinances regulating bicycle traffic.

Paul Lundgren Named on College Committee

Lee Issues Call for First Ball Practice

George E. Lee, manager of the local baseball team sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce today issued a call for players to appear for the first workout, which will be held on the fair grounds diamond Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mr. Lee expressed optimism over the prospects for developing an able aggregation of ball handlers this season. The first league game is scheduled for Sunday, May 30.

MARSHALL COUNTY DISTRICT COURT JURY DISMISSED

Action Taken When Attorneys Agree to Continuance of Cases

Petit jury services for the annual May term of district court for Marshall county were dispensed with Wednesday when Sheriff O. C. Toftner was notified to give notice to the panel of 30 men and women ordering them not to appear for service in Warren next Monday morning, A. C. Swandby, clerk of court, stated.

The official court term opened Monday morning and during the day dates of trial were set, several arguments heard before the court and settlement of several of the cases was perfected, said Mr. Swandby.

There were a few cases scheduled for jury trial, but the amounts involved were small and attorneys agreed to continue the cases over the term in order to save the taxpayers of the county the expense of calling the jury, said Mr. Swandby. These attorneys are to be highly commended on the attitude they have taken in continuing their cases as petit jury costs to the county average more than $150 per day, he said.

Nine of the Mud Lake appeal cases listed in the calendar were settled in hearings held Monday, while two cases were argued before Judge Montague in the court chambers during the day.

Junior Chamber Will Name Officers Tonight

Officers of the Junior Chamber of Commerce to serve during the ensuing year will be named in the annual election to be conducted this evening in the Civic and Commerce association rooms. Posts to be filled include those of president, vice president, secretary-treasurer and three directors.

Drive under Way to Restore Canada Duck Breeding Ground

Minnesota sportsmen soon will be called upon to personally participate in what has been characterized "the most outstanding game restoration program in years", a program which gives promise of restoring the rapidly diminishing flocks of water-fowl.

It is a plan of restoration of natural environment, launched recently by the More Game Birds in America foundation in cooperation with representative American sportsmen and Canadian game officials. "Ducks Unlimited," as the plan has been named, is a non-profit organization, incorporated in the United States and Canada. It will have a nonsalaried board of directors to administer its program when its organization is completed.

Briefly, the "Ducks Unlimited" plan calls for restoration of the marshes, sloughs and potholes of the Canadian prairies—which in the wake of civilization, drouth and the plow have lost much of their attractiveness to ducks. In the northern portion of the area, where nature is still pretty much unspoiled, and which now supplies a great percentage of wild ducks which annually wing their way southward in the fall, the foundation proposes scientific management to hold water levels and protect birds against disease and the many natural enemies.

Minnesota sportsmen will derive great benefits, once the plan is in full operation. It has been estimated that results should be increasingly evident after the second breeding season that the project has been under way. To carry out the plan, $600,000 is needed for each of the next five years. Minnesota's share of this total has been set at $25,000 per year.

State headquarters for the campaign have been set up at 1140 McKnight building. The drive for funds will get under way late in April.

Mrs. Ida Nelson Dies at Age of 36 Years

Mrs. Ida Nelson, life-time resident of Pennington county, died Friday at Oakland Park Sanatorium at the age of thirty-six years. Funeral rites were conducted Tuesday afternoon at the Zion Lutheran church in this city, Rev. E. L. Tungseth officiating, and interment was made in the Community cemetery, St. Hilaire. Mrs. Nelson was born February 5, 1901, in Norden township. She was married in this city on November 26, 1931, to Rupert Nelson, who survives her death together with one daughter Evangeline. Her parents, and two brothers preceded her in death.

Arena Scene of Second Dance Saturday, May 15

The second of a series of baseball benefit dances will be given in the arena Saturday evening, May 15, and is expected to be as big a success as the first arena dance held recently, which attracted more than 800 persons. Music will be provided by Morry's Cadets, an eight-piece band that has developed a reputation for its performances in the Fargo vicinity. The arena floor will be given a coat of wax for the occasion to insure its being in excellent condition.

Ninth District Band and Local Drum Corps Will Perform Saturday

As an added attraction in connection with the finale of the spring exposition Saturday evening, the Ninth District American Legion band and the Thief River Falls Legion auxiliary drum corps will appear in massed formation on the downtown streets that evening at 9:30, it was announced this morning. Residents of this community will enjoy the opportunity to see the two widely known musical groups in a joint performance.

Huge Log Drive Under Way in Littlefork River

Shouts of "riverhogs" mingled with the roar of crashing timber Tuesday as logs of Minnesota's final major log drive were released from a jam in the Littlefork river, 18 miles south of Littlefork in Koochiching county. Purposely jammed a week ago to prevent destruction of a half dozen bridges crossing the swollen stream, a log and cable boom, stretched across the river at the mouth of the Nett Lake river, was loosened to permit the 15,000,000 feet of logs to continue the second leg of their journey.

Local Faculty Members at Meeting in Plummer

A group of men faculty members from Lincoln high school journeyed to Plummer Wednesday evening for a meeting of the Agassiz Schoolmasters club. Dr. J. Caldwell, deputy commissioner of the state department of education, was scheduled to give the principal address.

In Oriole Family

Technically labeled the Icteridae troupials belong to the bird family of orioles or hangnests. In size they are similar to the blue jay and their gorgeous coloring is not their only distinguishing feature. They have an uncanny ability to imitate a bugle, thereby gaining the name of bugle birds and can be easily trained to whistle a tune. When singing in this manner the feathers ruffle up and the throat swells and vibrates. In disposition they vary from the average bird in that they delight in being teased.

OSE BROTHERS ARE GIVEN ROAD JOBS IN MARSHALL CO.

County Board Tuesday Allots $20,334 Grading Contracts

Grading contracts totaling $20,334.65 for approximately 25 miles of new highway construction in Marshall county were awarded Tuesday by the Marshall county board of commissioners at their regular session, according to H. T. Swanson, county highway engineer.

The successful bidders on the six projects were Ose Bros., of Thief River Falls, who secured four jobs and Oscar Schenkey, Middle River, who was low bidder on two jobs. The average price was seven cents a yard for excavation. There were 10 bidders seeking the work.

Commissioners also designated a new county aid road which will extend from the intersection of No. 1 at the west city limits of Warren and south to the Polk county line. This road has been designated as County Aid Road 49. It will be on the program for early construction.

Mrs. Myrtle Hale Is New Owner of Bishop Hotel

Mrs. Myrtle E. Hale, at present the proprietor of the Central hotel in this city, announced this week that she had purchased the Bishop hotel on LaBree av., formerly operated by the late W. A. Bishop, and that she will have personal charge of the establishment. In an announcement elsewhere in this issue Mrs. Hale offers a prize for the best suggestion of a new name for the hotel. She will take over the business June 1.

Governor Benson Calls Red River Valley Water Conservation Meeting

Governor Elmer A. Benson has called a meeting of the tri-state conference on Red River valley water conservation for May 14.

Gov. Benson is chairman of the conference, which includes governors and attorneys general of North Dakota, South Dakota and Minnesota, and other officials. There are 14 members.

A meeting of the new tri-state authority is expected to follow the conference. Governor Benson is expected to name Minnesota's three members, as authorized by the recent legislature, within the next few days.

North and South Dakota already have appointed three-men authorities, and have adopted enabling acts similar to that enacted by the 50th Minnesota legislature.

Twenty Members Join New Men's Chorus Here

Twenty members have been enrolled in the men's chorus being organized in the city, it was announced today by Dr. J. N. Nesse who last week was named president of the group, L. H. Larsen being elected secretary-treasurer and librarian. O. J. Pederson was named director and Dr. P. L. Vistaunet, assistant director.

Explains Purpose of Big Cooking School

Mrs. Hanscomb Compares It to Convention of Professional Men

"Too many housewives, and most of the men, think that cooking schools are merely another form of wasted energy, an excuse for some old maid to tell folks how to raise children, or some women with no real experience in running a household, to tell good, reliable homemakers how wrong they have been all these years."

So said Mrs. Olga V. Hanscomb in discussing the cooking school which she will conduct at the Thief River Falls Auditorium Friday afternoon and evening and Saturday afternoon of this week. She continued:

"A cooking school is really not a cooking school. It is not my purpose in appearing before the good cooks of this community to give them any lesson in cooking. Many of them are probably as good or better cooks than I am. Homemaking to me is the greatest and best profession in the world, and one of the least recognized. Good homemakers are responsible for more of the successes and failures in the lives of men and women than any other profession. Back of every successful man on Main street is the mother that heard his prayers at her knee or the wife that saved and slaved while he carved his way to success. Therefore it behooves each of us to use every available means to become better homemakers.

"Doctors, dentists, bankers and other business men have their regular conventions, where they get together, talk over their problems, listen to others with more experience, all the while seeking new ideas and methods which they can adapt to their own business. So I believe housewives, prospective and graduate, should assemble every so often with the idea of acquiring information which they might use in their own homes. During the past ten years it has been my business to acquire all possible knowledge along these lines. Daily contact with thousands of housewives, trying to keep up with hundreds of experts experimenting with foods and equipment, and listening to the culinary and household problems of these thousands of homemakers has taught me many interesting things. If, in conducting our convention in Thief River Falls I can pass on some of this worthwhile information to you, if just a few of you are enabled to overcome that particular problem which seems hard for you, I shall feel that these sessions have been very successful.

"The difference between good cookery and indifferent cookery lies not so much in the selection of foods as in the way they are prepared. The average home has good food available, but often the meal shrieks of deadly monotony.

"Good cooking does not mean elaborate fussing with something new and freakish half so much as in improving the old. With a little experience comes a skill that by adding an ingredient or two, or an unusual seasoning, the whole personality of the food may be changed. The answer, to a large extent, is unhurried cooking, plus just the right amount of flavor. Some housewives make cooking a labor of love instead of necessity, they are at home in their kitchens, which is more than can be said of many of us today.

"The first requisite for giving personality to foods—is imagination. Mistakes may happen, but you needn't repeat a mistake, and if you achieve distinction for an old dish, you have truly accomplished something. Take for instance—a cheaper cut of beef. By itself, it might be described as having a tendency to be tough, and upon first thought there doesn't seem to be very much to do about it. But just see how many different personalities it may attain."

ESCAPES DEATH IN PLANE CRASH

Ely—Jesse Swanson of Swanson Brothers, operators of the local theatre, miraculously escaped with only slight injuries when the plane he was flying hit the tree tops in an attempted landing just before dark on Burntside lake. Mr. Swanson states that it was a forced landing with a dead motor. His altitude was not sufficient to give him the necessary distance and the plane's wings were broken in coming in contact with the tree tops. The plane landed with such force as to propel Mr. Swanson against the instrument board, breaking two teeth, lacerating his face, and bruising his body. The plane is a total wreck.

PUPILS FROM N. W. SCHOOL TO CARRY ON SUMMER WORK

Home Projects Will Supplement Winter Course of Instruction

Home project work on the farm and in the home during the summer months has long been a feature of the work of the Northwest School of Agriculture at Crookston, says T. M. McCall, Superintendent. Directions for the project work, Mr. McCall points out, are given by the specialists in the subjects at conferences before the close of the school term and the later supervision is given by project supervisors who visit the students at least twice during the summer months. Every county in the Red River Valley is well represented in the summer project work. School credit is given for the satisfactory completion of a project and such credit is necessary for graduation from the regular course.

The scope and extent of home project work is shown in the 1937 list of selected projects and the percentage of the students taking the work. The girls lead with one-hundred per cent enrollment in twenty projects, and the boys follow with a ninety-five per cent sign-up of 216 boys in twenty-four projects.

The baking, canning, preserving, dressmaking, thrift, and room furnishing projects prove most popular with the girls. Katherine Molacek, Bemidji, enrolled in the baking project in 1936, baked 1500 loaves of bread and 683 dozen rolls while employed at the Northwest School boarding club. Girls also enroll in the gardening and home beautification projects.

The potato production, tractor operation, and purebred projects are most popular among the boys; however, good enrollments occur in tree planting, livestock, poultry, and building construction.

Advises Farmers to Sell Their Livestock Only to Dealers With Licenses

Advice to the farmers of Minnesota to sell their livestock to licensed, rather than unlicensed, buyers, and a warning to all buyers who are operating unlawfully, were voiced today by Charles Munn of the railroad and warehouse commission, who is himself a farmer.

"Chapter 216, Laws of 1935, commonly called the Weighing and Grading Act, was enacted for the protection and benefit of the farmers," said Commissioner Munn. "That act provides that all buyers of livestock shall be licensed by the Railroad and Warehouse Commission and bonded in the sum of $2000 before engaging in business. The bond serves as a guarantee to farmers that when they deal with a licensed buyer they will not be defrauded. The commission is gathering evidence against all unlicensed buyers, who are violating the law, preparatory to proceeding against them."

Second Legion Camp for School Police Will Open in June

Encouraged by the results of the first American Legion camp for the training of school police patrols, conducted last year near Big Lake, Beltrami county, the Legion, through its state safety committee chairman, Alex Fraser, has announced the second camp, to train youth for the safety of school children, will be opened this year in June. The exact date and place are yet to be selected, but three Civilian Conservation Corps camps, thoroughly equipped, are under consideration. More than 60 patrols were added to the state's forces last year as a result of the training camp.

The camp has the endorsement of N. W. Elsberg, state commissioner of highways; W. F. Rosenwald, chief highway maintenance engineer; John P. Arnoldy, chief of the Highway patrol and practically every one interested in the promotion of school safety in Minnesota. Members of the state Highway patrol again will act as instructors.

It is planned to take 200 boys to the camp, mostly youngsters who have not had any previous school police training. All expenses will be paid by the legion, including transportation to and from the camp. Ernest M. Hanson, superintendent of schools at New Ulm, will again be in charge. Boys between the ages of 10 and 15 years who will be back in school next fall are eligible. Special stress will be made to encourage attendance from towns which now have no school patrols, to extend the life saving activities of the patrols.

Heavy Indirect Taxes Paid by Small Earners

No matter how small your salary, national, state and local taxes get some of it, says a nationwide survey by the Northwestern National Life insurance Company. The $18-a-week clerk or laborer who owns no property pays $116 a year in invisible taxes on goods and services, it shows, and reveals that 1 cent of every five spent to own and operate a secondhand car go to taxes. Other findings of the survey show that if rent is paid, 25.7 cents of every dollar go to the tax collector and that the head of a family with $150 per month and a used car, but no real estate, pays $229 per year in taxes although exempt from income tax.

FARMINGTON RESIDENT POSSESSES OLD COINS

Farmington—British money dating as far back as 1797, paper money reminiscent of Civil war days, antique half dimes, old Canadian pennies, a $100 Confederate States bill signed by General Mead, a "greenback" signed by General Chittenden, payable at the United States treasury at New York, are included in I. G. Empey's collection of antique coins and bills. The smallest and queerest of the coins are two British pieces, a 1-16 farthing, about half the size of a pea and a half D. model, dated 1884 and brought from England 84 years ago by Empey's grandmother. Other rare old coins and paper money in the collection include the following: silver half dollars, relics of the 1893 World's fair, old silver twenty-cent pieces the size of today's quarter, half penny dated 1828, U. S. penny dated 1819, several pieces of paper money of ten, twenty, twenty-five and fifty-cent denominations.

Easterly Province

Nova Scotia is the most easterly province of Canada, consisting of a long, narrow peninsula and the island of Cape Breton. This playground, cradled by the sea, reaches 300 miles into the Atlantic, and has nearly 5,000 miles of coastline. No portion is more than fifty miles from an ocean beach.

CORONATION TO BE OBSERVED MAY 12 IN GREAT BRITAIN

Pomp and Ceremony to Mark Crowning of English King and Queen

With the coronation date now less than a week away, the city of London is all set for the biggest, costliest pageant in England's history.

Through the streets that will be riots of color and tumultuous with cheering on the morning of Wednesday, May 12, King George VI, England's thirty-ninth monarch, and his queen, Elizabeth, will go riding to Westminster abbey for their coronation in the great golden state coach drawn by red harnessed, cream colored horses.

Seated on 6,000 tons of timber and 50,000 tons of iron scaffolding which now clutters the sides of the coronation route, scores of thousands of visitors from all corners of the empire, from the United States and other countries who will have paid an estimated $15,000,000 for their places, will watch the thoroughbreds go prancing over the sanded roads.

It will be a glittering procession of kings, princes, sultans, special envoys, statesmen, famous regiments, and military bands. Craning their necks from every advantage point will be other huge crowds which will have stayed up all night to wait for the procession.

And in the quiet Westminster abbey, no longer dim, but brilliantly lighted, a privileged concourse of 8,000 people—peers of the realm, statesmen, diplomats, and other high and mighty—will be participants in the historic ceremony of the crowning of the head of the largest, richest, and most powerful empire in the modern world.

The archbishop of Canterbury, after two hours of ritual, will place the golden crown on the king's head and then anoint him with oil, following which all the peers and peeresses will arise and put on their coronets.

CACTUS PLANT BETTERS RECORD WITH 110 BUDS

Redwood Falls.—The red cactus at the Redwood Falls greenhouse which last year attained state-wide publicity has exceeded its record of 36 buds by 74. This year 110 buds will unfold to blooms about seven and one half inches across, in contrast with the 36 buds of last year. The ten-year-old plant will be in blossom from three to four weeks.

Jobs of Many Kinds Are Filled by State NRS, Says Stanghelle

Jobs in 67 different occupations were filled by the 26 National Reemployment offices in Minnesota during the last week in April, according to Elmer Stanghelle, manager of the Thief River Falls office.

The total number of individual jobs was 832. Of these, 254 were laborers and 135 farm hands, he states, but the list of positions filled includes such classifications as ticket agent, dynamite blaster, shipping clerk, core maker, electrician, refrigerator inspector, lineman, stone mason, linotype operator, plumber, poultryman, research assistant, shepherd, statistician, telephone operator, piano tuner.

Each National Reemployment office receives each week from the state administrative office in St. Paul under the direction of Dreng Bjornaraa, a report listing positions that are open in various parts of the state, and some in other states.

The greatest achievement of modern times is the peaceful existence for more than a century of the 3,000-mile unprotected frontier between the United States and Canada. — Lord Snell, British statesman.

School News

At their last meeting on Thursday evening the boy scouts planned their trip which is to be taken this summer. Tentative plans have been made to tour the Rainy River Region, the Iron Range and the ports area. Supplies and provisions needed for the trip have been estimated and budgeted.

Transportation has been arranged for the needed tenting or housing facilities are being provided for. Mr. Ohnstad, the scoutmaster, will be in charge and will have one assistant. Any boy scout who can possibly manage to go should do so, for it is a trip which will do more to acquaint him with the northern section of Minnesota than a year's reading in books. More definite information on the trip will be released later.

Work on the School Annual is progressing nicely and most of the Juniors and Seniors are getting valuable experience as reporters, editors and illustrators. "The Cardinal" will be out before school closes in June.

SOIL CONSERVING CROPS URGED BY FEDERAL AGENCY

'Rural Rehabilitation Clients Invited to Join in Program

Farmers of Pennington county who have secured loans from the Rural Rehabilitation division of the Resettlement Administration are being urged to participate in the 1937 soil conservation program of the agricultural adjustment administration according to E. D. Fernlund, rural rehabilitation supervisor.

In a letter to county supervisors, urging them to advise the borrowers of the importance of this, S. H. Rutford, the Resettlement Administration's state director of rural rehabilitation in Minnesota, has said:

"It is our desire that farmers who have received loans from the RA cooperate with the agricultural adjustment administration and the state extension service in the effort now being made to encourage the planting of soil-conserving crops this year.

"As soil conservation is a part of sound farm practice we wish to make participation in the program a basis for the farm management plans of our borrowers."

Farmers who received rural rehabilitation loans may, as all other farmers, make application for participation to either their county agricultural conservation committee or their agricultural agent whose office is located at Thief River Falls.

Applications for soil conservation agreements are now being accepted in order that cooperators may make their plans before spring seeding.

Gladstone Born in Liverpool

Liverpool's most noted citizen was William Ewart Gladstone. The birthplace of the great statesman was on Rodney street. Americans like to recall that Nathaniel Hawthorne once served as a consul in Liverpool, and that his "Mrs. Blodget" lived at 153 Duke street.

Will Hold WPA Nursery School Meeting May 13

Pennington county will be represented at a two-day regional institute for WPA nursery school personnel and parent education leaders to be held at the State Teachers' College, St. Cloud, May 13th, and 14th.

Mrs. Nan Parker Parkes, state director of WPA's nursery school program, and national authority on the training of pre-school children, is in charge of the program. More than 40 teachers are expected to attend.

The morning session May 13th will include demonstrations of the music period conducted in the various schools, a report on the care of eyes of young children and general discussion. Miss Lucille Anderson, speech specialist of the St. Cloud public schools, will open the morning session May 14 with a demonstration on "Trend of Articulation Disorders."

INDIAN MOUNDS IN PARK MAY BE DUG

Chaska — If the Minnesota Archaeological society goes through with its plan, the local city park's Indian mounds, which have often aroused curiosity and wonderment, may soon yield their secret. The city council at a recent meeting gave permission to the organization to explore one of the mounds under the condition that whatsoever is found will remain the property of the city. The mounds, prehistoric in date, are believed to have been built by the Mound Builders, who preceded the redmen. Originally there were six mounds built in a semi-circle and connected with dirt piled between them. This arrangement led to the belief that they might have been used as a defense. All but three of the mounds were destroyed in building. History books record the fact that bones were found in them and they were said to be Indian bones, indicating that the redmen used the Mound Builders' creations for burial places after corpses had been hung on scaffolds and tree branches to dry out.

The Nazi authorities have decreed compulsory courtesy in the Berlin street cars. Compulsory courtesy in diplomatic relations would also be delightful.

Red River Valley History

Reservation Opening in 1915

Because we believe there are a number of upper grade and high school students here as well as many adults who have only a somewhat confused idea of the history of the Indians' reservation land in this section and of the process by which it was made available to settlers we present an early account of two reservation openings.

The article is titled "The Civilization of an Empire" and is subheaded "The Story of the Two Reservation Openings Which Helped to Make the Thief River Falls of Today (1916). The context follows:

"Nature has indeed placed Northern Minnesota in the very front ranks of the most favored spots on earth for the home of men but until 1896, locked up by legal barriers and the heriditary rights of the Redmen—their last concession from the approaching multitudes of civilization—lay the choicest and most fertile of fields in the confines of the great Red Lake Indian reservation. These lands were held by the Chippewa Indians under the provisions of a treaty made years before when the civilized world became too small and the hardy pioneers pushed forward into the wilderness of the north land and established homes for themselves and their posterity.

"On December 28, 1895, following many discussions as to the advisability of the action, the commissioner of the general land office at Washington, D. C., filed with the secretary of the interior a schedule of the opening of the lands ceded to the government by the Indians. This schedule included 838,716 acres of the Red Lake Indian reservation in Minnesota, comprising 39 townships and lying east of Thief River Falls. Five townships were located south of the Clearwater river, 20 townships lay north of the south line of Marshall county and four townships were located at the northeast corner of the great Red lakes. The land was divided into homesteads of 160 acres each, making over 4,000 homesteads. Only the agricultural lands were to be opened to entry, the price was to be $1.25 an acre, payable in five annual payments of $40 each and the full five years of residence was necessary before final proof could be made.

"At nine o'clock on the morning of May 15, 1896, the reservation was opened to settlement. Thief River Falls, the gateway to this vast tract, was choked with anxious homesteaders who desired to gain possession of some choice quarters through the action of 'Squatters' rights'. U. S. Commissioner Roberts of Argyle opened an office in this city to accept filings from those who were unable to go to Crookston. R. J. Whipple arose early in the morning and started with a load of lumber for the claim which he had picked out. Arriving there shortly after nine o'clock he found Miss Tillie LaBree digging a well, claiming the land by right of occupation. Instances similar to this were common and many choice quarters were occupied by three and four settlers, each claiming the priority.

"At Crookston, where the land office was located, stirring scenes were being enacted. First in the long line of those waiting to file upon their land was T. D. McCall. Shortly before nine o'clock Mrs. Jennie Cunningham, a poor widow, arrived and sought an opportunity of getting into the line somewhere near the front. Mr. McCall relinquished his place in her favor but just before the door opened he thought better of his action and climbed through the transom to make his filing. He was ejected but succeeded in filing ahead of Mrs. Cunningham. Two hundred filings were recorded on that day while on Saturday the rush continued as those who had occupied the land on Friday came to the land office to file.

"The diminished Red lake reservation as it was called consisted of approximately 11 townships lying in Red lake county north of the Clearwater river. In 1902 the matter of opening these lands to entry was discussed and attempts to make a treaty with the Indians were successful. The treaty provided that the Indians were to receive a certain amount of cash for the land and were to be allotted land further east. Early in 1903 a new treaty was drawn up, the first not being entirely satisfactory to the interior department. This second treaty provided for the payment to the Indians as soon as the sale was held and the retention by the state of sections 16 and 36 of each township for school purposes.

"When this later treaty was presented to the Indians for their ratification by Major McLaughlin, sent here for the purpose, the Indians refused to sign and thus the matter stood until the winter of 1903-1904 when Congressman Steenerson in the House and Senator Clapp in the Senate introduced new bills providing for immediate payment to the Indians of $1,000,000 and including sections 16 and 36 in the lands to be sold." More in next article.

Outline Steps to Take for High Poultry Profit

Because record flocks in Minnesota show that eggs make up nearly 75 per cent of the total cash income from the flock, poultry producers will realize how important it is to get the young pullets in egg production in time for peak prices next fall, according to Cora Cooke, poultry extension specialist, University Farm.

Four important steps must be followed if the poultry raiser is to claim the reward of a full egg basket next fall—March or April chicks, clean ground, a well-balanced ration always available, and plenty of feeders.

Healthy chicks are raised on clean ground where they will have small chance of picking up worm eggs and disease germs in old grounds. A movable brooder house is advisable, but if such is not available, wire-floored sun porches can be attached to stationary houses. These will keep the chicks off the germladen soil until they can be moved at 6 or 8 weeks of age to light, cheaply constructed shelters on clean range.

Continued feeding of a good, complete ration is essential throughout the summer. Six months on full feed will mature any pullet worth having, states Miss Cooke. The poultryman who lets his chickens rustle for themselves after the first 2 months pays a big price for his seeming economy. Chicks are best started on a dry mash, all they will eat, but they should also have a scratch feed. The scratch should be increased gradually so that by the time they are 10 weeks old the chicks should be getting as much scratch as mash by weight.

Ship's Log

Formerly the ship's log was an instrument towed by the vessel, the distance sailed being ascertained by the number of its recorded revolutions. In steam vessels, the distance traveled is determined by the drive of the engine.

Garden Publications Ready for Distribution

Especially timely at this season of the year when Minnesota people are busy putting in their spring gardens is a revised publication, Special Bulletin 174, "Vegetable Gardening," written by A. E. Hutchins of the division of horticulture, University Farm, St. Paul.

Discussing all phases of vegetable growing, Mr. Hutchins presents a complete vegetable planting table, the growing of early plants, preparation of the soil, sowing and transplanting in the field, thinning, cultivation and harvesting of plants. "Attack the insects early" is the theme of a section on common insects of the vegetable garden which was prepared with the aid of A. G. Ruggles, of the division of entomology. Another part of the bulletin, written by J. G. Leach, of the plant pathology division, deals with common diseases of garden vegetables. Mr. Leach tells how to recognize common diseases and how to treat vegetables for control.

Circular 43, "Home Vegetable Storage," another publication written by Mr. Hutchins, is now available. Good storage methods are essential in keeping supplies of vegetables after they have been grown and harvested. Various conditions necessary for good storage and different types of storage equipment are discussed in the circular.

Both publications may be obtained from the county agricultural agent, the high school agriculture teacher, or by writing to the Bulletin Office, University Farm.

42,420 4-H Members in Minnesota Last Year

Minnesota boys and girls who were enrolled in 4-H club activities during 1936 numbered 42,420, according to State Club Leader T. A. Erickson, University Farm, St. Paul.

Since many 4-H members are entered in more than one project, the total project enrollment for the year was 56,278, a new all-time high for the state. It exceeds the enrollment of 1935 by 90.

The high percentage of projects completed by 4-H boys and girls during the year was a matter of gratification in club headquarters the average for the entire state being 82.6 per cent. Martin county led the parade of completions with 97 per cent. Fifteen additional counties with completions of 90 per cent or better include Ramsey, Cook, Redwood, Marshall, Aitkin, Norman, Stearns, Mahnomen, Winona, Houston, Kittson, McLeod, Scott, Pennington and Dodge.

Counties making the largest percentage of increase in enrollment as compared with 1935 were Benton, 72 per cent increase; Carver and Mahnomen, 65 each; Chisago, 55; Washington, 44; McLeod, 27; Goodhue, 33; Olmsted; Blue Earth and Carlton, 27 per cent each.

APRIL BREEZES MINGLE WITH PILLOW FEATHERS

South St. Paul Boys on the school police staff at St. Augustine's school recently had their task of guarding the pupils crossing an intersection complicated by someone's carelessness or playfulness in ripping open a feather pillow and scattering the contents over the street. The April breezes had a lot of fun with these feathers and the pupils and other pedestrians had to do some lively dodging to keep from getting their eyes filled with feathers. Automobiles which rolled across spots where the warm sun had loosened the street all look as though they had been tarred and feathered.

STANDARD SERVICE IS SAFETY SERVICE
...to guard against costly lubrication failures

. . . More than 23,000 Standard Oil Dealers are on the job a quarter of a million working hours every day to check your motor oil . . . to help prevent burned out bearings, scored cylinders and other costly engine troubles caused by lack of lubrication.

It's easy to say, "My oil's okay," but it takes less than sixty seconds to be sure . . . to let your Standard Oil Dealer show you the "oil line" on the gauge.

This check-up on your oil is only one of the many motoring aids your Standard Oil Dealer offers, to make driving not only safer, but also pleasanter and more economical for you.

$10,000 IN CASH PRIZES FOR HUGE "SERVICE SURVEY"

CHICAGO—Automobile drivers of the Middle-West are invited by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to take part in a huge survey of the services now being rendered at gasoline stations.

To take part in the survey it is necessary only to drive to a Standard Oil Dealer's station and secure an entry card.

Your Standard Oil Dealer will give you full details of the "Survey," will validate your entry card and demonstrate "Standard Service" with at least three typical examples. Upon request he will assist you in preparation of your entry.

A committee of three members composed of Prof. Lloyd D. Herrold, Northwestern University; George W. Barton, Safety Director, Chicago Motor Club, and Roger B. Stafford, Managing Editor, "Super Service Station," Chicago, will act as judges in the selection of the most valuable reports.

Motorists who submit the winning reports will receive cash awards amounting to $5,000, while Standard Oil Dealers who assist the winners will be awarded a like sum, making a grand total of $10,000 in prizes.

All reports must be mailed before midnight of June 15, to be considered for the cash awards.

Don't delay in getting your entry card now.

Minnesota PCA Loans Show Gain in 3 Months

With the passing of the notion that production credit associations are "relief agencies", there has been a marked pick-up in the amount of business being done by these associations in Minnesota for the first quarter of 1937 compared with the first quarter of 1936, according to George Susens, president of the Production Credit Corporation of St. Paul.

"The corporation is supervising 28 production credit associations in Minnesota", Susens said, "and I find there is a 16 per cent increase in the volume of credit they are supplying to members. Farmers have come to recognize that the PCA's are straight business institutions, making business-like loans for farm purposes, and that to join one of these associations and borrow through it does not brand a farmer as seeking a relief loan. He is only using a local cooperative association that is available and can give him a quick and economical service."

As a result there has been an earlier demand on the associations for seasonal loans, he said. Mr. Susens put at $1,599,000 the amount of borrowing in Minnesota so far this year compared with $1,371,000 up to the first of April last year.

State Historical Group Tour May Visit Roseau

Plans for the fifteenth annual state historical convention and summer tour conducted under the auspices of the Minnesota Historical society are now being discussed, according to Dr. Theodore C. Blegen, superintendent of the society.

Several invitations have been received by the state society from county historical organizations that desire to be hosts to the convention visitors. Among them is the Roseau County Historical society, which will celebrate this summer the fiftieth anniversary of the first white settlement of the county.

Should a trip to northwestern Minnesota be made, the tour will doubtless include a boat trip on the Lake of the Woods and a visit to the site of Fort St. Charles, which was established in 1732 by the French explorer, La Verendrye.

BILLFOLD RETURNED BY MAIL, BILLS MISSING

Frazee.—When Bernard Peichel received a package through the mail containing his recently stolen billfold, he had high hopes for a moment that the thief who took it from him in a hold-up had suffered a change of heart and was returning both the wallet and the twenty dollars it contained, but the bills were missing. The billfold stolen from Peichel on a trip to the twin cities was mysteriously mailed to him from North Minneapolis, presumably by the thief who kept the money for "his trouble". Peichel's social security card and driver's license were returned with the billfold.

FIVE-FOOT PARSNIP IS DUG FROM GARDEN

Red Wing.—A parsnip measuring, with its root, five feet in length, was exhibited here by V. T. Nelson, who dug it from his garden. The parsnip was planted last spring and "wintered" over. The depth to which the plant sank its root into the ground is probably indicative of the severe drouth of last summer and fall. It was necessary for the parsnip to go down five feet into the soil to find needed moisture.

DIFFERENCES IN TAX BILLS HELD NOT MAJOR ONES

Taxpayers Group Declares Extra Session Will Cost $100,000

Deploring the necessity of spending more than $100,000 for a special session of the legislature to obtain an agreement on the state tax problem, officials of the Minnesota Federation for Tax Reform in an analysis of the conference proceedings on the tax bill received here today showed that agreement had been reached in all the major differences over rates and the subjects to be taxed.

Constant Larson of Alexandria, president of the federation, said that complete agreement between the houses was blocked only by the efforts of "a small number, who for personal or political reasons were anxious to force the calling of a special session," and added that the three proposals upon which the conference committee finally broke up were only minor differences seized as pretexts for a break.

A special session will cost from $100,000 to $125,000, according to estimates made by state officials this week. Members of the legislature hitherto have had to serve in special sessions without pay but in the session to be called this year members of the house will receive $10 a day.

Mr. Larson said that the three points of difference left between conferees of the senate and house when they finally broke off their negotiations were relatively minor matters as compared to the big differences that had been compromised.

Tree Seedlings May be Obtained by Farmers

With soil conditions unusually favorable for the successful establishment of tree seedlings, many Minnesota farmers are planning to replant their killed-out woodlots and windbreaks within the next few weeks, states Skuli Rutford, the Resettlement Administration's Director of Rural Rehabilitation in Minnesota.

Because the drouth practically destroyed many farm woodlots in the State, the Minnesota Rural Rehabilitation Corporation has, through nurseries it operates, propagated a quantity of seedling nursery stock suitable for replanting in windbreaks and for use in farm woodlot renovation on Minnesota farms.

Varieties of tree stocks which are available include: American Elm, Chinese Elm, Green Ash, Russian Elm, and Caragana. The seedlings range in height from twelve to eighteen inches.

Over a million seedlings will be placed in the farmers' hands this spring at a reasonable cost, Mr. Rutford explained. Farmers interested in securing the trees for this spring's planting were urged to contact their County Rural Rehabilitation Supervisor or County Agricultural Agent who are aiding in placing the orders.

Cosmetic Dermatitis Cited as New Ailment by State Physicians

If you have an eruption of your scalp, eyelids, cheeks, lips, neck areas, bestow a thought upon your face powder or your scalp lotion, your creams, soaps, perfumes or toilet waters.

Physicians are taking an increasing interest in these articles these days, according to the Public Health Education Committee of the Minnesota State Medical Association, because they are finding a good many stubborn skin troubles are nothing more nor less than cosmetic dermatitis, a new trouble that has been appearing frequently in the medical news these days.

An important paper will be read about it before Northwest doctors at the Minnesota State Medical Association meeting in St. Paul, May 3, 4 and 5, and there will be an exhibit from the United States Public Health Service on the subject, also.

The Public Health Education Committee of the Medical Association calls attention to this section of the program in order to emphasize the importance of scrutinizing your cosmetics, if you have skin trouble.

It may be a preparation that you have used for years that is causing the trouble. Sometimes a newly manufactured lot of a preparation that previously gave no trouble at all will produce inflamation.

In any case the presence of an eruption that does not heal is a sign that something is wrong—and that something may easily be your favorite face cream or shaving lotion.

Poultrymen Are Urged Not to be Discouraged by High Prices of Feed

Hatcherymen are reporting a considerable drop in numbers of chicks sold this spring as compared with 1936. Dr. H. J. Sloan, professor of poultry husbandry, University Farm, said today that high feed prices undoubtedly are the explanation, but pointed out that poultrymen should look beyond spring conditions when planning how many pullets to raise. Probable egg prices and feed costs next fall and winter should be the determining factors, rather than present prices and costs, he emphasized.

Fall and winter egg prices naturally will be influenced by the supply of eggs during these seasons, Professor Sloan points out. Judging by the marked reduction in hatching this spring, there will be fewer pullets and lower egg production during the fall and winter. Present storage operations are not excessively heavy, so prices are not likely to be depressed by large storage holdings.

Another fact pointing toward stronger prices next fall is the increasing demand for poultry products as indicated by a lively out-of-storage movement of poultry.

Thus, says Professor Sloan, it looks now as though a probable shortage of pullets this fall with a resulting shortage of fall and winter eggs, coupled with moderate storage and improving economic conditions should mean good prices for egg producers this fall and winter.

Assuming that normal grain crop is harvested this summer, poultry feeding costs should be lower by fall. While it is too early to estimate this year's grain crop, conditions so far are favorable.

NEW LAWS WILL STIMULATE SALE OF STATE FARMS

Arens Outlines Provisions of Two Measures Passed by Legislature

Substantial increase in the state sale of farm lands is expected as a result of recent passage by the legislature of two laws designed to speed the liquidation of the department of rural credit, according to Theodore H. Arens, conservator.

These laws are Chapter 409, which reduces the interest rate on outstanding loans and contracts from 4½% to 4% and Chapter 465 which permits purchase and repurchase of farms on a crop payment plan.

The crop payment plan has been in effect during the 1936 crop year and was amended by the 1937 Legislature to allow purchase of a farm for a price based on reasonable contract value. Previously it was necessary to purchase at a price equal to the state's investment.

According to Mr. Arens, many rural credit borrowers in southern Minnesota and in the grain-growing sections of west central Minnesota and the Red River Valley are expected to take advantage of the crop payment plan. Under the terms of this plan, one third of the farmer's annual crop for a period of five years is applicable on payment of interest on a purchase contract, irrespective of the size of the crops. If the proceeds of the one-third share exceed the interest requirements they are applied to principal and if they fall below the interest requirements the difference is written off, so that a farmer in distress is given ample opportunity for a period of five years to regain his feet financially.

"Before borrowers may take advantage of the amended crop payment plan," Mr. Arens said, "they must exhaust all efforts to refinance on a cash basis. If it then appears that no cash settlement can be effected, the borrower has the privilege of conveying title to the State and buying back on the crop payment plan at the reasonable value of the farm. He may, however, also purchase or repurchase on a straight contract for deed at the reasonable value. It is to be pointed out that all farms will not qualify for the crop payment plan and especially if less than half of the total area of the farm is not crop land.

"Former borrowers who have lost title to their farms previous to the enactment of this law are given first opportunity to repurchase their farms on the crop payment plan if the farm qualifies, and in this respect the law provides that the former owners shall be given notice by registered letter. The former owner has thirty days upon receipt of this registered letter to avail himself of the crop pay purchase plan. Thereafter the department is given the right under the law to offer the farm for sale to any outside bona fide farmer on the crop payment plan if the prospective purchaser so elects."

The district court in the county in which the farm is located must approve the sale of all farms on the crop payment plan, under the provisions of the amended act.

In connection with Chapter 409, which reduces the interest rate to 4%, Mr. Arens urges all mortgage borrowers and contract purchasers to continue making their installment payments to avoid confusion and delay and penalty for at least a temporary period. The department will credit in the office all differences on interest accounts on a basis of 4% effective April 20, 1937, when the law took effect, said Mr. Arens.

"Because of the great amount of bookkeeping and office detail involved," Mr. Arens said it will take considerable time before written endorsements providing for the new interest rate of 4% can be made on mortgages, contracts for deed and crop payment contracts.

According to the last monthly statement of the department the state had title to 4111 farms; and had on its books 5247 loans, active and delinquent, 501 sheriff's certificates and 1291 contracts for deed.

He has been a very faithful member of the Benville Lutheran church for over twenty years, has been a very active member in all community affairs during his residence here and his parting shall be sorrowfully missed.

PREHISTORIC TOOTH FOUND IN SAND PIT

Fergus Falls—A mammoth tooth uncovered in a gravel pit in Norwegian Grove township by a highway crew has been determined by Professor A. E. Jenks of the University of Minnesota to be a mineralized elephant (mammoth) tooth. This tooth was found about six miles from the point near Prairie Lake where highway workers several years ago dug up the skull of the "Minnesota Girl", which scientists have declared to be twenty thousand years old. The tooth, about two and one half inches wide and from six to eight inches long, is that of an animal no longer living in the western hemisphere. Chances are the elephant once grazed in the far north, hundreds of thousands of years ago when northern Canada and Alaska were in a tropical zone, or that the elephant died in the far north and that the tooth was carried with a glacial drift.

Capitol News Review

By A. I. Harris

Governor Benson made it very clear last week that so long as he occupies the chair of chief executive in the state of Minnesota he is unalterably opposed to increasing taxes on real estate as a means of meeting the state's obligations.

In clarifying the position of the Administration and the liberals in both Senate and House in regard to the tax situation which resulted in an impasse last week and the failure of the Legislature to enact a tax program, the Governor stated that he considered it necessary that "the state meet the problem of current expenditures with current revenues so that we do not place a heavy debt burden on future generations; that real estate, particularly those who own their homes and farms, is now bearing a too great tax burden, and that it is imperative that the millage rate on property not only should not be increased but materially reduced."

Scoring the deliberately confusing stories circulated regarding the tax situation which required the calling of a special session set for May 24, Governor Benson reiterated that Senate conservatives were responsible for the special session because of their patent unwillingness to compel the public utilities, big business, and those of large personal incomes to pay their just share of governmental costs caused by relief and social security obligations to the state's more unfortunate citizens. He also pointed to serious shortcomings in the original Senate omnibus bill which failed to provide taxes on mining companies and would have increased the real estate tax levy by approximately 10 mills.

Representative Roy Dunn, conservative, has charged that liberal House members consulted with Governor Benson in regard to tax problems during sessions of the Legislature. It seems to us only logical and proper that this should have happened. The fate of all legislative measures lies in the hands of the Governor to sign or veto as his conscience dictates, and certainly liberals, sensitive to the people's will which swept Governor Benson into office with such an overwhelming majority, are anxious to cooperate with him to enact legislation which will be of benefit to the people.

There is criticism due, however, of the Senate conferees who during the entire time of deliberation on the tax problem, consulted with lobbyists of big corporations and the public utilities who occupied a room adjoining the conference chambers. It is also pertinent to ask why the Senate conferees demanded that secrecy enshroud all deliberations when the House conferees asked that proceedings be made public. Is it that the self-righteous Senators were ashamed of what they were doing and wanted to hide it from the public?

More than 59,000 needy aged in the state are now receiving help from Minnesota's old age assistance fund, in operation one year at the end of March, according to figures released this week by the division. Kenneth Haycraft, director, has announced that reinvestigation of all cases now receiving pensions discloses few discrepancies. All grants made to ineligible persons have had to be refunded to the state agency by the counties.

Celebration of the landing of the first Swedish settlers in America will take place next year in an impressive ceremony in which both Sweden and the United States will officiate. Delegates to the Tercentenary celebration from Minnesota chosen by the Legislature will be Carl Erickson, Spooner; Edward Chilgren, International Falls; Victor Lawson, Willmar and A. L. Almen, Balaton. The celebration will be held in Delaware.

Federal crop insurance, tenancy relief, and stricter crop control are all headed for oblivion at this session of Congress unless President Roosevelt changes his mind about economy, reports from Washington indicate. Minnesota's liberal block in Congress, however, is making a strong fight against the Roosevelt economy program, which includes cuts in W.P.A. and other items, and it appears likely that they will be at least partially successful.

The federal government has announced its policy to shift relief back on state and county governments. One advantage claimed for county or local relief is that it will be more economical because when counties have to raise the money out of their tax on real estate, it will cut relief rolls . . . But it is poor economy to cut taxes at the expense of human misery. Relief is not a local nor a state problem. Obviously, it is unfair for counties that can do nothing to cure the cause of relief to have to bear all of the costs. Relief is a problem of industry, and industry should pay its just share of the cost. That can be done only through state and national taxation. Those who are advocating local relief exclusively are blinding themselves to the cause of relief and at the same time preventing mankind from ever finding the cure.

DRAWS CELL INSTEAD OF COAST, CANYON, FORESTS

St. Cloud—Out of the thousands of cities, villages, towns, and hamlets in the United States, Henry Waldo, 61, has chosen the city of St. Cloud, to break a record. Little is known about Henry's past except that it has been very well distributed, for Henry, despite his years, is a hobo—in some sense, a soldier of fortune. For the last 30 years he has roamed about the United States with the unique record of not having stayed in one county for more than two weeks. But, alas, Henry's record was shattered when he was given 15 days, just one too many, on a vagrancy charge. He now sits in the county jail, chin cupped in his gnarled hands, despondently peering toward the railroad tracks as time creeps on its inevitable march to the dead-line. Perhaps the judge felt that a short stretch in jail might rest Wandering Waldo or fatten him up a bit, but for Henry who now cools his heels, there is no peace.

The Spanish War is now, presumably, completely surrounded by foreign warships, but even that may not prevent it from slopping over.—Indianapolis News.

Authority at 'U' Farm Warns of Turning Cows on Pastures too Early

Even though many factors this spring make farmers anxious to turn their herds on pasture as early possible, Extension Dairyman H. R. Searles, University Farm, St. Paul, points out that it will be well for them to wait until the grass has sufficient length to carry the herd.

With hay mows empty, feed prices high and the herd owners wishing to cut down on the farm chores at the time he is busy in the fields there is temptation to put the dairy herd on pasture several weeks too early. It is well to remember, says Mr. Searles, that it takes a large quantity of grass to support a cow. And once the cows have tasted the green, succulent grass, their appetites are dulled for dry feeds. Therefore it is well to wait until the grass is long enough to carry the cows through. Keeping pastures too short now will also decrease the yield of grass the remainder of the season. It is best to delay turning the cows on grass until it is 3 or 4 inches high, unless a farmer has more pasture than the cows can graze anyway. A good start now will mean more pasture throughout the season.

For dairymen who are producing market milk it is also well to remember that grass changes the flavor of the milk. A change of feeds should be made gradually if complaints from customers are to be avoided. Rye and grain pastures are a trifle more apt to noticeably flavor milk than clover or blue grass. When using rye pasture, Mr. Searles suggests that farmers turn their cows on the pasture for an hour or two immediately after milking and then continue to feed hay and grain.

QUALITY SINCE

WE'RE HARD TO FIT — but the FORD V-8 suits us!

They say you can't have everything—but this new Ford V-8 says differently.

At the lowest Ford price in years, you can have the roominess and comfort possible only with an engine that's extra short, a springbase that's extra long, drivers' seats that adjust two ways.

And—you ride where riding comfort is at its best—amidships, between the axles.

You get brakes that stop with tremendous power—at the gentlest of toe pressure.

You get a car that's easy to steer, easy to park. Yet the way it hugs the road and cradles you over rough spots reminds you of great big cars, with great big price tags.

You get modern lines and sparkling colors, and up-to-the-minute "little things," too—battery under the engine hood, starter button on the dash and parking brake below it, big luggage compartments on all sedans.

And anywhere you go, you know you'll find good service at costs so low they're famous the world around.

So no matter how hard you are to please or fit—no matter how much you expect for your money—here's the car to see FIRST. The QUALITY car in the low-price field.

C.M.T.C. CAMP AT FORT SNELLING TO START ON JULY 2D

Dr. Edward Bratrud to Have Charge of Enlistments in This County

Brigadier General Campbell B. Hodges will command the Citizens' Military Training Camp at Fort Snelling this summer during the period July 2 to July 31, and has announced that the following features will be stressed in the training program:

Personal Hygiene and Camp Sanitation: Boys will be given a course of instruction which will build them up physically, teach them correct posture, enable them to take care of themselves when away from home, and also how to care for others. Physical development will be assisted by outdoor living, with emphasis on regular habits.

Medical Examination: A careful and thorough medical examination will be given every boy attending the camp to insure that all physical defects may be learned and proper measures be instituted when and where required.

Athletics and Sports: A complete athletic program will be provided to suit all tastes. The afternoon program for basic students and for most of the advanced students will be devoted to swimming, volley ball, tennis, boxing, baseball and such other activities as are popular. Medals and prizes will be awarded to all winners in these events.

Religious Services: Protestant and Catholic services are held in camp every Sunday. These services are conducted by Army Chaplains and attendance at same is required, either at camp or in nearby churches in chapels of the Twin Cities.

For application blanks and literature giving full particulars concerning the C. M. T. camp, young men are asked to apply to the C. M. T. C. Officer, 502 Wesley Temple Building, Minneapolis or to Dr. Edward Bratrud, Thief River Falls, for Pennington county.

Otto Rehm of Hazel is Pennington county's representative on the Minnesota Committee of 87, which was perfected to support President Roosevelt's judiciary program and to promote legislation for agriculture that will establish the business of farming on a sound and efficient basis. At the same time the Mid-West group was formed, which represents the states of North and South Dakota, Iowa, Nebraska and Minnesota. Minnesota's representative on the interstate committee is Elmer Tabor of Spring Valley, Minnesota.

LITTLE PIGGY STOLEN, RETURNED SAME NIGHT

Jordan.—This is a story of a little piggy that was stolen but didn't go to market, that is not yet. With the stealing epidemic on farms, a new angle was brought to light. It seemed that stealing hogs was something novel to two thieves who came to the Fred Dvorak farm in Helena township one night recently. They loaded one of Mr. Dvorak's porkers into the back seat of their auto and drove off, presumably with the intention of taking the animal to market. However, one of the neighbors witnessed the thievery and reported it to Mr. Dvorak, who immediately notified the deputy sheriff at Jordan. During the night, while the officer was following a tip which led him to the vicinity of New Prague, the thieves evidently got "cold feet", because several hours later the hog was found back at the Dvorak place, a piece of rope still tied around one leg.

Will Observe Hospital Day in State May 12th

Hospital Day will again be observed by all hospitals in the state on May 12, in conjunction with those all over the nation. This was announced today by Dr. A. F. Branton of Willmar, president of the Minnesota Hospital association, which is offering two plaques, one for small hospitals, one for larger hospitals, preparing the best program for Hospital Day. Hospital Day is celebrated each year on May 12, which is the anniversary of the birth 117 years ago of Florence Nightingale, mother of modern nursing. On that day hospitals all over the continent open their doors in an open house, inviting every member of the community to visit them and learn something more about them.

A bill requesting that the government pay Rev. C. G. Eidnes of Gonvick $2,000 for the serious assault he suffered at the hands of two Indian youths from Red Lake has been submitted to congress by Congressman R. T. Buckler. Reverend Eidnes has been in the hospital for months as a result of the attack, and thus far has not been able to appear as witness against the two Indians on the minor charge which can be brought against them under the law.

Oldest Mechanical Arts Institution in the U. S.

The Franklin Institute was founded in 1824 at a meeting of citizens held in Congress hall, Philadelphia, and is the oldest institution in the United States devoted to the study and promotion of the mechanics, arts and applied sciences. Two young men, Samuel Vaughan Merrick and Dr. William H. Keating, son of a French baron and later one of the leading scientists of the University of Pennsylvania, were primarily responsible for the organization, according to a writer in the Detroit News.

Classes of instruction were held for 100 years and discontinued in 1924. The studies are continued in the Central high school. Exhibitions of manufacturers have been held, and scientific research is carried on extensively. It has a library of more than 80,000 volumes and 20,000 pamphlets. Its record of American invention is the most complete outside the files of the United States patent office.

Through the joint efforts of the Franklin Institute and the Benjamin Franklin Memorial, Inc., sponsored by the Poor Richard club, a site was purchased and building erected as a memorial to the great Benjamin Franklin to house a scientific and technical museum which was dedicated as the Benjamin Franklin Memorial and Franklin institute.

Canada's Giant 7 Ft. 8 In. Tall, Weighed 560 Pounds

Angus McAskill, known as the Cape Breton giant, was born in the Hebrides of Scotland in 1825 and came to Canada at an early age. He became famous as a strong man and appeared before Queen Victoria at Windsor castle. He was 7 feet 8 inches in height, weighed 560 pounds, had a chest measuring 80 inches, foot 18 inches, hand span 12 inches. He could lift a 100 pound weight with two fingers and hold it at arm's length for ten minutes, or swing a 300-pound barrel of salt pork under each arm and run down the main street. He is said to have set a 40 foot mast into a schooner single-handed, also to have carried a full grown invalid 25 miles through a snowstorm to a doctor. He could hold a pound of bulk tea in his hand. The feat that was held responsible for his death was lifting a 2,750-pound anchor in New York, a fluke of the anchor struck and injured him. He died in 1863 at the age of 38 and was buried in the cemetery of St. Ann, Nova Scotia, where his gravestone has the inscription, "Mark the perfect man and behold the upright."

Early Spring Lambs Need an Extra 'Push'

Giving the early lambs a little extra start or "push" by feeding them some grain is important if the lambs are to go on the market at the right weights and ages, says H. G. Zavoral, extension animal husbandman, University Farm, St. Paul.

Lambs will begin to eat grain at two weeks of age, and it is best to feed the grain in a creep constructed to keep the old ewes from getting at the feed. In the creep should be a trough, protected by means of wire or slats, to prevent the lambs from climbing into it.

Whole crushed or coarsely ground grain is preferred to finely ground feed, for the lambs relish whole grain most. Lambs are equipped with good, strong grinders and do not waste any of the unground grain. A mixture of one-half bran and one-half oats is a good starter. As soon as the lambs begin to eat well, the ration may consist of equal parts of shelled corn, oats, bran and pea-sized oil meal. If peas are avaible, they may be added. Good leafy, alfalfa or clover hay is another excellent addition to the lamb ration.

FLESH-PIERCING NEEDLE REMOVED BY OPERATION

Mahnomen.—Having submitted to an operation, Marlys Kindseth of Gary, a student at Mahnomen high school, now wonders how the needle removed in the operation entered her chest. Complaining of a slight pain in the left side of her chest, and being able to feel a protrusion with the fingers, the girl was taken to a Crookston clinic, where X-ray developments revealed that a sewing needle, broken into two pieces, was making its way out of the flesh. Miss Kindseth does not know how or when the needle entered her body. The doctor who performed the operation thinks that it had been lodged there for some time. At the time of removal the needle was precariously close to the heart.

HUBBARD MEN TO FLY SELF-BUILT AIRPLANE

Park Rapids—Among its progressive citizens Hubbard county has two airplane builders who have just finished an air craft that will soon take to the air. The idea of building a plane was conceived by Ivan Prentice and three years ago he started on the project. He cut selected spruce for the frame work carefully seasoned it, and fashioned the parts. Later he was joined by his brother, George Prentice, who assisted in completing the plane. The air craft has a wing spread of 30 feet, and the wing surface is five feet wide. The total length of the plane from stem to stern is 18 feet. The propeller, a regulation airplane part, is six feet, four inches from tip to tip. The wheels are regular airplane running gear. Powered by a Ford A motor, the engine will develop 40 horse-power, and will provide sufficient power to fly the plane at high speed. The Prentice brothers have had some experience in flying airplanes, although neither has a pilot's license.

FARMER CAPTURES WHISTLING SWAN

Gaylord—The capture of a wounded whistling swan which settled among a flock of tame ducks on a slough in the pasture of Herman Schultz of Transit was reported here to the deputy game warden. Mr. Schultz had an exciting time capturing the bird, but finally ran it into a woven wire fence. The swan, which could not fly because of a broken wing, is a beautiful specimen, pure white, with black bill and black feet. It measures five feet in height from beak to toe and weighs 15 pounds. It has been placed in the bird sanctuary at Hutchinson, a conservation project sponsored by the city of Hutchinson and the Gopher Camp Fire club.

NEW TRAFFIC CODE IS CLARIFIED BY HIGHWAY CHIEFS

New Restrictions Not Effective Until Highways Are Zoned and Posted

Widespread confusion and misunderstanding has occurred throughout the state in regard to the new uniform highway traffic regulation act passed during the closing days of the last Legislature. To correct these misunderstands, W. F. Rosenwald, maintenance engineer of the state highway department, and one of the authors of the bill, this week issued a statement clarifying its effect and purposes.

The new act, which became Chapter 464, Session Laws of 1937, replaces the ten year old act passed in 1927 which had been rendered obsolete in many respects by developments in driving practice and safeguards, improvement of the highway system, and rapid progress in automobile manufacturing.

The two most widespread misunderstandings have occurred with regard to provisions for zoned speed limits, and the time of their becoming effective. The old traffic act established a flat speed of 45 miles an hour regardless of the type of road, or the speed with which it could ordinarily carry vehicles in safety. Any speed above 45 miles per hour, although not a crime in itself, became prima facie evidence of the offense of reckless driving.

The new zoned speed limits are designed to make the traffic regulations, not more rigid, but even more elastic, and at the same time establish standards adapted to the physical condition of the road and its traffic, Mr. Rosenwald pointed out.

The new act, although fixing the limits within zones as "the maximum speed at which any person may drive or operate any vehicle upon such zoned street or highway," follows the elastic intent of the old law by further providing that "any speed in excess of the maximum speed posted shall be prima facie evidence that the speed is not reasonable or prudent and that it is unlawful".

In other words, Mr. Rosenwald pointed out, the old law put the burden of proof upon the law enforcement official to prove that a speed of more than 45 miles an hour constituted reckless driving. The new law puts the burden of proof on the driver to prove that speed in excess of the zones posted is not "unreasonable nor imprudent," and, therefore, unlawful. The new law, when the zones are once posted, lends to the enforcing official the assistance of expert "judgment" which holds, as posted on zoning signs, that a speed in excess of that posted is an unsafe speed.

The second general misunderstanding concerning the new traffic Control Act, Mr. Rosenwald said, and perhaps the one most vitally in need of correction, is the impression which has been created that the speed regulations of the new law go into effect immediately and that the old 45-mile prima facie evidence provision is automatically repealed in favor of the 60 mile revision. This is not true in any respect.

The new act is actually, insofar as it applies to speed restrictions, an enabling act, empowering the Commissioner of Highways to establish limited speed zones. To be done effectively and expertly, the establishment of such zones will require considerable time and expert study of each stretch of road in the 12,500 mile state trunk highway system.

Recognizing this fact, the Legislature specified in the new act that on any section of street or highway outside of a municipality, and where no special hazard exists, until the road shall have been zoned and posted, a speed of more than 30 miles an hour in any business or residence district, or of more than 45 miles an hour under other conditions shall be prima facie evidence that the speed is not reasonable or prudent and that it is unlawful."

Thus, it becomes obvious that the old 45 mile an hour regulation remains in effect under the prima facie evidence provision on any road until such time as that road shall have been zoned and posted.

Furthermore, the establishment and posting limit zones will not relieve the motorist of responsibility for decreasing his speed below the rate posted when approaching intersections, crossings or hillcrests, when rounding curves, travelling upon any narrow or winding roadway, or when conditions of traffic, highway surfaces, or visibility make further retarded speeds "reasonable and prudent" as a means to avoid accidents.

On the other hand, the new Traffic Act strikes at that other bane of the average motorist's existence, the unreasonably slow driver, and prohibits the driving of a motor vehicle at a speed so slow as to impede or block the "normal and reasonable movement of traffic."

Another disturbing factor to motor traffic is met by a provision requiring the driver of an overtaken vehicle to give way to the right immediately upon the sound of the horn, and not increase his speed until the overtaking vehicle has completely passed. This makes attempts to "race" with passing vehicles a definite and punishable offense.

The zones to be gradually established by the Highway Commissioner will carry prima facie limits of 20 miles an hour (expected to be used only in rare cases of unusual hazards), 30 miles an hour (through business and residence districts), 45 miles an hour (where road conditions make this maximum advisable), and 60 miles per hour in daylight, or 50 miles an hour after dark, on open smooth surfaced sections where visibility and other factors make such speeds normally safe.

In discussing the various provisions of the new act, Mr. Rosenwald said, "Until the zone determination has been made and the signs actually erected, the old 45 mile per hour prima facie rule will continue on roads in open country, but a 30 mile per hour limit is automatically in effect in all cities and villages."

Vitamin C Factor

Vitamin "C," which is contained in oranges, lemons, carrots, turnips, rhubarb, tomatoes, and baked potatoes in appreciable quantities, prevents scurvy. It is essential, therefore, that the food of explorers and workers in the Arctic regions should be strongly impregnated with it. A Russian scientist, while poring over an old MS. written by Jacques Cartier, was surprised to find that in 1536, while sailing up the St. Lawrence, this famous pioneer lost 25 of his crew from scurvy, but saved the remainder by an infusion of pine needles. Now Russian scientists are extracting vitamin "C" from pine needles, says Tit-Bits Magazine, and adding it to canned food which has no vitamin "C," so that their workers in the Arctic will keep fit.

Owns Ancient Card Deck

A deck of Tarot playing cards used in Europe during the Middle ages is owned by Mrs. P. T. Willard, wife of the Kansas State college historian. According to history, the cards were brought to Europe from Arabia by Crusaders. A Tarot deck contains 78 cards, divided into a major suit and four minor suits. There are 22 cards in the major suit and 14 each of the minors. The modern deck is a descendant of the four minor ones in the Tarot deck, one card in each of the minors having been discarded by the Europeans.

More Windows

Almost everywhere in the world there are more widows than widowers, usually more than twice as many. War, industry and trade make the male death rate higher than the female, while a larger proportion of widows remarry. In the United States at the last census there were 4,734,207 widows to 2,025,036 widowers. The difference is even greater in most European countries.

W. C. T. U. News Notes

A Message From the President of The World's W. C. T. U.

Mother's Day, the second Sunday in May, should be universally observed, for mothers are everywhere. The day should not be commercialized but kept to its original purpose a tribute to Motherhood.

It should be dignified by public and private observance for we all have mothers, or have had mothers, and it is a good thing on this one day to recall our debt to them through recounting their sacrifices in giving us birth, in caring for us through babyhood and early childhood, and in the loving thoughts that have followed us all the days of our lives.

But let us not only think "on these things", but by our conversation and kindly deeds make permanent this tribute. They are of all ages. There are the mothers whom we see every day. Can we do some special thing to please them? May we not find some particular way in which to show our love?

Mothers have ideals for their children. They want them to grow up to be good citizens. How many a mother's heart has been broken by her boy or girl, or boys and girls, going astray through the use of alcoholic liquors. How many through bad company and bad morals!

In these days of undue emphasis on freedom, what would give a mother more joy than to know that her sons and daughters are using their freedom to abstain from alcoholic liquors, to choose the best friends, and to cultivate good habits. Let us honor mothers not only on Mother's Day but all through the year by serving God and with His help endeavoring to keep to these ideals.

Rape, Sudan Make Good Hog and Sheep Pastures

Rape and Sudan grass should be given consideration this spring as pasture for sheep and hogs on farms where there will be a shortage of other types of pasture, recommends H. G. Zavoral, extension animal husbandman, University Farm, St. Paul.

Rape can be sowed as early as the ground can be worked, and if a good, firm seedbed is prepared, a little less seed will be required than ordinarily. From 6 to 8 pounds per acre is generally recommended. Rape will be ready to pasture in 5 or 6 weeks. It is well to have two rape pastures or to divide a single pasture so that the pastures can be rotated. If given a rest, rape will stool out and grow rapidly, thereby making it possible to graze more stock. Rape, which does best in early summer and late fall, grows well on a moist, fertile soil.

For a hot weather pasture, Sudan grass will give very good results, Mr. Zavoral states. Sudan is a warm weather crop and does best if sowed after corn planting time. It is sowed at the rate of 20 pounds per acre and will furnish pasture in about 4 or 5 weeks after seeding.

Hawley Firm Gets T. H. 1 Contract West of Warren

The contract for grading, stabilized base and bituminous surfacing of Trunk Highway 1 from Warren to Alvarado, a distance of 9.8 miles, has been awarded to John Meland and J. G. Nelson of Hawley on their bid of $123,166, it was announced this week by N. W. Elsberg, state highway commissioner.

Fergus Falls Music Director Found Dead

Carsten Sperati, music director of the Fergus Falls high school was found dead beside his automobile Thursday morning on a road near Fergus Falls. He was last seen Wednesday about 9 P. M., apparently in good health. Thursday morning a farmer saw the car alongside the road and and county officials were called to the scene. The county corner said Sperati apparently had become ill and tried to get out of his car following a heart attack. He was a son of Carlos Sperati, director of the Luther college band.

Meaning of "Spread-Eagled"

A man was said to be spread-eagled when he was lashed to the rigging with outstretched arms and legs for flogging.

JUST 3¢ ... to cook this whole delicious meal in my Pyrofax Broiler

Honestly, you'd think I was a celebrated chef, the way my friends compliment my food since I've had a Pyrofax-Magic Chef Range. I tell them it's simply country cooking—city style!

HERE'S A FAVORITE:
Place veal chops on greased broiler rack. Season and dot with butter. Arrange a row of tomatoes cut in halves on broiler pan (cut side up). Arrange a row of apricots (cut side down). Next, a row of peas or lima beans, seasoned with salt and pepper. Broil everything 20 minutes. Turn chops and broil everything 20 minutes more.

The real secret of that meal, of course, is the Pyrofax-Magic Chef separate "smokeless-greaseless" broiler. No dirt, no ashes, no wicks, no soot! Just the hot, clean flame of the Pyrofax Gas which cooks fast and economically.

If YOU live beyond the Gas Mains

Don't deny Yourself a Pyrofax-Magic Chef Range

Pyrofax equipment is furnished to you at no charge. You pay only for the appliance you select and a small installing charge of $9.75; the gas itself costs as little as 3 to 4 cents a meal.

You can get a brand new 1937 Pyrofax-Magic Chef Range with its automatic oven heat control, smokeless broiler and scientifically-designed top burners for a small down payment and easy terms. Don't deny yourself, join the tens of thousands of women who use Pyrofax Gas Service.

Amazing News—
FROM THE COOKING SCHOOL
OLGA V. HANSCOMB
Makes this startling offer from the platform—

"Any woman in my audience who doesn't agree that NASH'S TOASTED COFFEE is the richest, most fragrant coffee she has ever tasted, will be given two pounds of the coffee she names as superior ABSOLUTLEY FREE!"

Olga V. Hanscomb
"In all my experience as a domestic science lecturer, I have never encountered an offer so daring, so revolutionary, as the one which the Nash Coffee Company has authorized me to make from the platform at every session of my school, and which is printed elsewhere in this advertisement."

IT HAS TO BE GOOD!
Did you ever hear of a manufacturer offering to buy you two packages of a competitor's product if you failed to find his product superior?
In order to make this offer, the Nash Coffee Company must have—as it has—implicit confidence in the merit and quality of its product.

THE MOST CONVINCING OFFER ANY COFFEE HAS EVER DARED TO MAKE!

1. Purchase a pound of Nash's Toasted Coffee at any grocery store. Use it in your home as you would any coffee.
2. If after using the pound you do not say that Nash's Toasted Coffee is the richest, most fragrant, most satisfying coffee you ever tasted, merely write a letter to the Nash Coffee Company, Minneapolis, Minnesota, saying you were dissatisfied, enclose the inspection slip that comes inside every container of Nash's Toasted Coffee, and give us the name of the coffee you consider superior to Nash's Toasted Coffee.
3. Within a week, we will have delivered to you, without a cent of cost, two pounds of the coffee you name as superior to ours. Only one redemption under this offer will be made to a family. All claims for redemption must be made within two weeks after the final session of the cooking school.

LINCOLN HIGH SCHOOL PROGRESS

STYLE REVIEW IS FEATURED AT MONDAY'S P.T.A.

Home Economics, Shop and Agricultural Projects Shown

The Parent-Teachers Association held its monthly meeting Monday, May 3, in the Lincoln High School assembly. A musical program under the direction of Miss Erma Springer was presented. The high school girls glee club sang two selections "Youth at the Brook" by Schubert, and "Memories" by Lebor-Parks. The junior high school boys glee club rendered three selections "The Little Brown Church in the Vale" by Pitts, "River Song" by Probst, and "Down in Mobile" by Probst.

A short business meeting at which C. W. Pope presided followed. The committee for the nomination of officers was announced.

A style revue was presented by the Home Economics Departments, under the supervision of Miss Rusine Dahlen and Miss Lois Thoreson. Committees for the music stage properties lunch, servings and dishes, and hostesses were chosen from the Home Economics classes to supervise details of the Style show.

An orchestra composed of Ardythe Melby, Wesley Westfold, Leonard Helquist, Ralph Gustafson, Gene Nelson played for the groups which were as follows: eight grade cotton pajamas; Home Economics I slacks, pajamas, shorts and dresses; Home Economics II wool and silk dresses. Robert and Richard Berg twin first graders acted as pages to introduce the various groups. Exhibits from the typing classes and shop projects were shown in the various rooms. Open house was held so that the parents might see what the various vocational departments of the high school were doing.

EXCHANGE

Crookston high school will present a Senior Class play, entitled "Tiger House."—Papeter.

Eat less; breathe more
Talk less; think more
Ride less; walk more
Worry less; work more
Clothe less; bathe more
Waste less; give more
Preach less; practice more.

The C. H. S. Quaker

In one of the latest Economic Geography classes, Miss Stromquist, who teaches a history class too, said, "Name the four chief products of Napoleon." (The word was petroleum.)

Sherburn High Piper

The Frosh at Wally Hall are staying home nights reading "Live Alone and Like It." The girls have been composed and want to learn how to like it.

The Mac Weekly

Snag: Something you get stuck to and saying things unfit for printing.

Snob: Something you get stuck with and cost you plenty.

Student One: "Do you have to work long hours?"

Student Two: "No only the regulation length—sixty minutes each."

Stage Hands Chosen for Senior Class Play

The first and second acts of the Senior Class Play, "Big Hearted Herbert", have now been completed, and work on the third act will begin soon.

Several stage hands have been selected to help promote the play, among whom are: Stage Managers, Selmer Christofferson and Julien Provencher; Property and Furnishings, Marion Green, Vernon Wedul, Gordon Nesset, Ragna Folkedahl, and Oline Skaar; Prompters, Eleanor Christofferson and Margaret Aasen; Costumes and Make-up, Marion Dillon, Esther Lufkin, and Eunice Mullen.

SENIORS VOTE ON PEACE QUESTIONS

Vote Taken in Social Classes On Youth's Stand On War

Mr. Lee's Social classes conducted a peace poll last week. The occasion was the National Peace day being celebrated by the young people throughout the nation. Several questions were voted on including the question; "I will fight for my country in case of (1) invasion (2) any time (3) never (4) to preserve Democracy against fascism." Sixty nine people voted to fight in case of invasion, six would fight under any circumstances, eleven refused to fight, and fifteen for democracy against fascism.

Other questions showed most of the pupils favored the prohibition of munitions to all other countries in case of war. The largest vote on the question of how to solve war problems showed collective security receiving the most votes. On the armament question the pupils want to see our nation reduce arms only if other nations act at the same time.

These questions were a part of the material sent out by the National Youth Peace Movement. During the week designated as Peace week, much attention was called to the part the young people must play in wars, and demonstrations by high school and college students were staged throughout the nation.

WIND-CHILL

This Valhall seems to be the popular rendezvous for all these up and coming Juniors.

And the Sophomores are turning out to be the social lions. Three parties in one week, not bad!

It's funny Earl N. doesn't learn to destroy notes he gets. They afford others a lot of pleasure.

Looks like a big week end again this week. Two dances at the Auditorium.

Just for a bit of amusement, ask Mr. Harrison what he learned in college.

And who were the young ladies who left school for Bemidji Friday? We know, do you?

How do you like that band at P. T. A. Monday? Pretty fair!

Looks like the country round about is going to have a swellegant dance hall. And what orchestras! (Plummer)

Finale—"Oh, Bruce you missed. Now its my turn.

GOODRIDGE FACES T. R. F. IN FIRST DIAMOND CLASH

Prowlers to Meet Pirates Thursday on Pirate Field

America's most popular spring and summer pastime will re-appear as a varsity sport at Lincoln high school when the Prowlers cross bats with the Goodridge high school nine next Tuesday afternoon at the fair grounds. The Prowlers will again swing into action on Thursday when they engage Crookston on the Pirates diamond.

Although advance information as to the strength of the rival teams is lacking, the Prowlers will probably be installed as slight favorites in both games due to their strong mound staff. Lenny Helquist and Helmer Sahl form the classiest duo of high school chuckers in this district in your scribe's opinion. Earl Nicholson and Marvin Henrud may also "arrive" to make up a superlative quartet of twirlers.

Baseball has been the only consistent sport at Goodridge where they eat, drink, and sleep baseball in spring, summer and fall. Goodridge has had strong teams in the past years with their greatest defect being a lack of consistency in play. The boys from the east should furnish a stiff workout for the Prowlers in their initial contest. Coach George Lee has not decided on a starting lineup as yet because of infrequent drills due to bad weather and conflicting football sessions. Many of the players have been working out individually, however, and should be in fine fettle for the season's opening.

Likely first team candidates are Sahl, Helquist, Nickelson, and Henrud, pitchers; Christofferson, catcher; Rueben Mickelson, Caldis, Tonberg, Lee, and Selmer Dicken, infielders; and Oleson, Booren, Bredeson and Alvin Dicken, outfielders. Milt Nesse, Jack Adkins, Don Lorentson, and Robert Quale may also appear in the local lineup. Although the tentative lineup will probably be selected from the above, it would not be a great surprise to see several new faces in the Prowler lineup. The battle for starting positions promises to be a free-for-all as there is an abundance of excellent material with everyone being given an ample opportunity to exhibit his calibre.

Rapid progress is being made by the Prowler Staff in completing the annual of this year's graduating class. The cover and the majority of the pictures have been sent in, and the first section will be completed by the end of this week.

So far there have been 267 Prowlers sold; with the Seniors in the lead, the Sophomores next, then the Juniors, and the Freshmen have bought the least.

The Prowler salesmen from each class are canvassing the school. Be sure to purchase your yearbook now to avoid disappointment, as they are going fast.

The Seniors want to issue a good year book. They have been preaching that issue for several weeks now. Although they have the desire, they seem to think the book can be edited without cost. They have had thirty weeks now to pay their class dues, yet only sixty five people have paid in full. That leaves over forty yet to pay. Because of the great number that has not paid the time has been extended for the paying of the dues. This is the last project the Senior Class will sponsor. The annual should and does leave the record of the class for further classes. If the Prowler is not on a high standard, the class will not be judged as highly as others. Seniors, pay your class dues today!

Honor students of the graduating class of 1937 have been announced. These five girls and seven boys represent the cream of Lincoln High School's scholastic crop. Most of the honored members this year have taken part in a great many extra-curricular activities and have still found time to excell in their studies. The rating given these students should mean much to them. To be one of the twelve highest ranking members of a class of one hundred ten members is no small feat in itself. The Progress itself is very fortunate and happy to have the two highest students on its staff. So to the valedictorian, Marjorie Matheson; the salutatorian, Lois Morell and the other ten honor students, our heartiest congratulations.

WORK ON PROM NOW UNDERWAY

Various Committees are Chosen to Perform Duties

The annual Junior Senior Prom is to be held on the night of Friday, May 14. The Sons of Norway Hall has been secured for the occasion.

Preparations for the event have been underway since the week of April 25 to 30 in which time the theme of the prom was designated as being that of colonial plantation style.

The committees for arrangements of the prom under the supervision of the junior class advisors, Miss Tandberg and Miss Helquist, are: Lynn Booren, general chairman; decoration, Stanley Newland, chairman, Lorrayne Baken, Mary Chommie, and May Anderson; refreshments, Marion Oden chairman, Ruby Gunderson, Iva Thompson and Lorraine Amundson; invitation, Evelyn Tungseth, chairman, Eileen Hoffseth, Fae Belcher and Yvonne Anderson; entertainment committee, Margaret Jacobson, chairman, Margaret Jane McKechnie, Arlene Prestabak and Clifford Oleson; music committee, Jerome Salveson.

The music will be supplemented by a Mayville orchestra, Morey's Cadets, of which Jack Booren, former Lincoln High student is a member. Punch will be served and there will be various forms of entertainment throughout the evening.

The orchestra engaged for the occasion is one composed of college students of the Mayville State Teachers College of which Booren, former Lincoln high student, is a member.

On Tuesday, May 4, at 11 o'clock the moving picture "The Beneficient Reprobate" was presented in the Lincoln High School Assembly. It was under the sponsorship of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and traced the history of alcohol.

From the time when the alchemists were searching for the universal solvent up to the present time the part alcohol has played in the world's history was shown. Its discovery, use, and effects were clearly portrayed.

Present-day uses were shown and by a series of chemical experiments on a frog, it was shown the deadly effect of its habitual use. Its chemical composition was shown and how in nature it is formed by the decaying of fruits.

Then a doctor explained how it caused neuritis and other diseases, how it slowed up nervous reactions, and generally retarded the brain.

The causes of many of our worst automobile accidents were shown to be laid at the door of alcohol.

The picture showed in plain clear language the poisonous effects of alcohol, and why it should not be used for a beverage, or for any other means but medicinal and industrial uses.

LIBRARY NOTES

Miss Leavitt announced Monday that the basket ball commemoration book will be sent to the Hertzberg Company for binding. The book consists of eighty pages and shows the teams progress through the year. All the words for the book was done by Miss Leavitt, Ted Helle, Stanley Newland, Charles Orme, and Don Olson.

PROWLER GRIDMEN MEET LAFAYETTE IN SPRING GAME

Thirty Aspirants Seek Tenths on 1937 Eleven

The spring football practice season will be topped off with a nocturnal game tomorrow with the Red Lake Falls eleven. All football activities for this spring will draw to a close by the playing of this contest. The Prowlers will be out to repeat last fall's 33 to 6 triumph over Coach Monson's Lafayette high gridders. His team shares with Bemidji the distinction of being the only eleven to score on the '36 edition of the Prowlers.

The 1937 Prowlers will show several new faces in its starting lineup. Either Clark Mickelson or Robert Quale will man Nelson's vacated end post, Karl Sundberg will be in Peterson's tackle slot, and Orville Eide or Wesley Johnson will start in Adkins' guard position. An entire new backfield comprised of Lynn Booren, Melford Haughom, Lowell Nesse and Gordon Caldis will start. Jewell Stadum may be a last minute substitution in a halfback role. The tentative starting lineup for the forward wall will find Lorentson, Mickelson or Quale at ends; L. Stadum and Sunberg at tackles, Bredeson Johnson or Eide at guards, and Captain Bob Hanson at center. Karl Sundberg suffered a back injury recently which may hamper his play but he will undoubtedly start the contest. Orville Eide injured a leg in a practice contest on Monday afternoon and his status is questionable.

The varsity eleven showed a great deal of power Monday when they routed the second stringers, augmented by Milt Nesse, Selmer Dicken, Ade Lorentson and Jack Adkins by a 27 to 0 score. Booren and Hanson played an exceptional brand of ball. The squads superlative performance buoyed the odds favoring them over the Red Lake county boys.

Coach George Lee expects to send about thirty gridders into the fray. Besides those already named, Cliff Lunky, Clarence Mattson, Nels Holmberg, Jack Hess, Lester Erickson, Floyd Melby, Rueben Mickelson, Bob Schmeltzer, Harry Oen, Edgar Sorenson, Cliff Thomas, Lawrence Swanson, Austin Shanahan and two eighth graders, LaRue Anderson and Neil Mullen may see service. Several promising candidates have dropped out of football and thus will be ineligible for the engagement, but are expected to be out to win a position next fall.

MAY MORSELS

Remember those sayings that we used to read below the kids' names in the Prowler? Well, now that we've had a Who's Who for the underclassmen, let's have some Prowler Mimicry just for fun.

Dorothy Lang: The little girl with the big voice and the little boy friend whose big ring she wore on a big chain around her little neck.

Bruce Prichard: Of all the high school boys who indulge in hopskotching, Bruce is the very best player. And just for that, we think the teachers should award him a brand new rubber ball.

Anna Hanson: Both she and the music get around. Where? Oh—just around.

Billy Carlisle: "Can she bake a cherry pie, Billy boy, Billy Boy"—But she's a little freshman and fully doesn't care what she can do. Just so she stays her own sweet self.

Peggy Jacobson: Now that Peggy's a junior, it's about time that she can talk to older boys— so she thinks. Soooooo Peggy thought she would talk to Vic Jung. Andddddd Friday night they talked and——?

Roy Lee: "Love and Learn" Elaine will be your teacher. Love and Learn. She's a beautiful creature. So you'll love and learn. Someone to tease you about! (Are we getting lyrical or something)

Cliff VeVea: What do you say we all go over to Cliffs tonight? They have linoleum on the dining room floor and it's the nicest place to dance! Gee, Cliff we like you a lot.

Eva Tungseth: "You push a little bit here, the wheels go 'round and 'round, Ohooohoohooh, and you might get out of here" That's all right, Eva, "stucking" happens to the best of us.

All of us: "Moonlight and Valhall and a nice big car" And we all agree that the car should be big and it would help matters if it were at least a little bit nice. If you're looking for just anyone, please try Valhall.

We Who Stayed Home: "You've got to be a band player" Evidently the football player is slipping 'cause the band players get to travel to Bemidji in nicer weather.

Freshmen to Publish Progress for May 13

Next week a new policy will be inaugurated in the Progress staff. On Tuesday, May 4, a meeting was held in the Progress room so that all Freshmen interested could learn something about writing for a newspaper. They were instructed to write some news or feature article to be handed in Wednesday. Then articles could be checked to determine which people are most suited for various positions on the staff.

With the May 13 issue, a new staff will be in charge. The Freshmen English classes under the supervision of Miss Helen Margaret Olson and assistance of the present Progress staff will prepare the entire paper.

DISTRICT TRACK MEET HELD SOON

First Interclass Meet to Decide Prowler Team

The spring competitive schedule for the track team has been announced by Mr. Gabrielson, track mentor. On May 13 and 14 an inter-class track meeting will be held at the fair grounds and on the high school athletic field. The District 31 meet will be held at the University of North Dakota athletic field on Saturday May 22, with the Region 8 meet at Bemidji on Friday, May 28.

All high school athletes interested in track are urged to work out after school and to participate in the inter-class meet. As a reward to the high grade competitors in this meet, a place on the track team participating in the district contest will be given. The four athletes placing high in each event will be given due consideration for a berth on the regular track squad.

The track meet on May 13 will be run off at the fair grounds. Track events are the 220 and 440 yard dashes, and relays, the 220 yard low hurdles and the 880 yard run. The weight events on Thursday will include the javelin and the discuss.

The remainder of the meet will occur on Friday at the athletic field. Track events include the low hurdles and the 100 yard dash with the shot put, the high jump, the broad jump, and the pole vault as the field events.

PROWLERETTE'S CORNER

Whee! Saw the sun for a minute and a half today. Oh well, might just as well buy a swimming suit, 'cus there's a lake on the football field now.

Only right now, it can't help but dull the fervor of our bright-eyed trackstors (Mr. Riggs suggested "tracheaseas") and kittenball enthusiasts. Tennis hounds look at the skies and groan—Friday classes need no forecast for they know 'tis rain—maybe, we have a new weatherman and he pushed the wrong button.

Posture girls seem rather conscious of the limelight—the results come next week—so hold on!

Second period gym class Monday turned polar club and were snapped cavorting around in the snow. All for publicity—or something.

Announcement! All gals gym outfits have been inspected. Any gym josie who cannot keep tab of her outfit will have one make-up for each article missing. An experiment, but don't let it be at your expense! Grow up, use your own apparel and hang on to it.

All girls expecting "L's" this year had better contact Miss Helquist for certain. Count up your hard earned points with her. We want every deserving prowlerette happy and rewarded.

Which reminds me, there isn't much left of school and so much to do, I dare not think.

So, bye and take your hipboots —What? You have none? Optimism, it is !!!!!

Marion Oden: Oh kids! He's got red hair, and he's a sophomore, and oh so good-looking and a good dancer and ohhh kids—

History of Bethlehem Lutheran Church in Thorwick is Reviewed

The following historical sketch of Bethlehem Lutheran church and cemetery of Thorwick in Agder township, Marshall county, was prepared by S. D. Lincoln of Stephen, investigator for the Minnesota Historical society, in co-operation with residents of the Thorwick community; and is published in the Times thru the courtesy of Mr. Lincoln:

The Bethlehem Lutheran church of Thorwick, is located on the S. E. corner of the S. W. ¼ of Sec. 3 in Agder township (154 N. 42 W.) Marshall County, Minnesota. This congregation belongs to the denomination known as the Lutheran Free Church and was organized on June 31, 1908. It was legally incorporated on Jan. 5, 1918. At the present time the congregations of Bethlehem, Satersdal, Emmanuel, Bethania, Oiland and Badger Creek are served by the same pastor.

Charter members included the following: Hans H. Peterson, Chris Nelson, Carl Overum and Haakon Nabben. Before the church was built, meetings were held at the homes of the members and at the schoolhouse in Dist. 121. The church, a frame building with full basement, was erected in the summer of 1916. No record has been found of the dedication.

The first officers of the church included: Bernhard Knudsen, sec'y; Ludvig Larson, trustee; Gunerius Olson and Hans Peterson, deacons.

The present officers are: Albert Peterson, sec'y; Isaac Isaacson, treas; Haakon Nabben, Victor Trochman and Ole Solberg, trustees.

The following pastors have served this congregation:

Rev. J. O. Brendale, 1908-1908.
Rev. Anton Larson, 1908-1916.
Rev. George Larson 1915-1920.
Rev. Rasum, 1920-1927.
Rev. Havgenesar 1927-1930.
Substitute, pastors, 1930-34
Rev. R. G. Peterson, 1934-date.

The congregation established a cemetery on a plot of ground donated by Hans H. Peterson and on which the church was also located later, the first interment was in 1909.

The Norwegian language was used in the beginning but at present both Norwegian and English are used.

The church has a Ladies Aid and a Young People's Society. No records have been found of the dates of organization of these societies or membership at the time of organization. At the present time there are about eight active members of the Ladies' Aid and about twenty members of the Young People's Society. These organizations have been important factors in promoting the spiritual, social and financial welfare of the Bethlehem Church.

The membership of the church has never been large—forty three at the present time—but their loyalty and devotion is attested by the fact that they have been able to acquire a fine church building and to contribute their quota toward the support of a pastor and toward the regular church activities.

The above information was obtained from Albert Peterson, sec'y, Thief River Falls, Minn. R. F. D. No. 4; Rev. J. O. Brendal, Antelope, No. 4; Rev. J. O. Brendal, Antelope, Mont.; Rev. A. L. Larson, Churches Ferry, N. D.; and Rev. R. G. Peterson, Greenbush.

Bethlehem Cemetery

The Bethlehem Cemetery is located on the S. E. corner of the S. W. ¼ of the S. W. ¼ of Sec. 3 in Ader Township (154 N. 42 W.) Marshall county. It is owned by the Bethlehem Lutheran Free church. The land for both church and cemetery was donated by Hans H. Peterson.

Tall Tales

As told to: FRANK E. HAGAN and ELMO SCOTT WATSON

Blondy by a Tongue!

'WAY back in 1892—said the old turfman—I owned a beautiful racing mare whose name was Blondy because of her color.

My other possession was a farm but it had a "plaster" of $15,000.

Bad luck cut between me and the purses although Nigger Jim, my trainer, would get her cream-colored body in the pink before every race.

We taught Blondy a lot of tricks between losing races. One was to make a face. Nigger Jim or I would hold an apple or carrot so she had to stretch her neck and put out her tongue for it. And she got so she would do this whenever we told her "make a face."

We entered the mare in a claiming race at Churchill Downs the spring of '92. It was May 15, to be exact. The mortgage on the farm was due May 16. Nigger Jim had Blondy in great form for the 1¼ mile race. But the bookies were laying 20 to 1 against our nag. I scared up a thousand berries and placed the whole roll at 20 to 1. It was win the race or lose the farm.

The horses were away evenly but 100 yards from the start Blondy stumbled and lost stride. Then she winged away, regaining lost ground at every jump. Then a horse cut in front of her. It was Dixie Dude, and she had to be pulled.

Down the back stretch and around the turn they came. Blondy was moving up on the outside. When they hit the stretch she and Dixie Dude were running head and head.

It looked like a certain dead heat but at the last jump or two Nigger Jim, hanging on the rail, yelled "Make a face, Yo' Blondy! Make a face!" Thank God! Blondy heard, straightened her neck, shot out her tongue across the finish line and won the race.

BYE OUTLINES NEW LAWS FOR SCHOOL BOARD

Legislature Passes Several Measures Relating to Local District

ENGAGE RIGGS FOR SUMMER BAND WORK

Board Seeks Continuation of Two High School Departments

Laws enacted by the legislature at its recent session that affect the Thief River Falls school district were summarized by Supt. Morris Bye at the May meeting of the board of education Monday evening.

At the same time the board voted to make application to continue the teacher training and agriculture departments in Lincoln high school during the coming year; approved a proposal for rebuilding the sod on Lincoln athletic field ;and took favorable action on a plan to retain the services of Ronald G. Riggs as summer band director from June 21 to August 14.

Under the arrangement Mr. Riggs will give group instruction five days a week to beginners who have finished the fourth grade, as well as one rehearsal a week for the junior band and individual instruction for members of the high school band. Arrangements also will be made for the high school band to appear in several open-air concerts during the summer.

Among the new laws discussed by Mr. Bye were S. F. 161, which legalizes the practice of the school district in carrying liability insurance on motor vehicles used for transportation of school children.

S. F. 10 changes the former practice by which members of the board of education were instructed to serve as judges of election in the annual school district election, and provides instead that the board shall appoint three election judges for each polling place and shall pay them not to exceed fifty cents an hour for their services.

H. F. 404, known as the teachers' continuing contract law, provides that contracts with teachers shall continue in effect until terminated by a majority vote of the board or by resignation. Superintendents and principals are deemed to be teachers within the meaning of the act.

Other measures authorize cities and school districts to operate playgrounds and programs of public recreation; permit school districts to enter into contracts for snow removal on school bus routes; and appropriate money to pay the equivalent of school taxes on rural credit lands within the district.

PENNINGTON SHEEP TOUR SCHEDULED WEDNESDAY JUNE 9

W. E. Morris, Extension Specialist, Will Give Demonstration.

A county sheep tour is being planned for Wednesday, June 9, by the county livestock extension committee through the county agent's office. W. E. Morris, livestock extension specialist, and C. L. McNelly, district county agent leader, will be in the county for that day.

Four different farms will be visited and some phase of sheep production will be taken up at each farm. There will be a dipping demonstration at one farm, a drenching demonstration at another, a comparison of a good flock with a poor one specially obtained for the tour at the third farm, and at the fourth a good purebred flock will be inspected.

Anyone who is interested in sheep production is asked to set aside June 9th as a day to be spent in learning more about the essentials of good sheep management.

District Conference of Adult Education Workers in City Today

A conference of district WPA adult education and recreation leaders will be conducted in the Legion rooms in the Auditorium today and Friday, it was announced by L. O. Caldwell of Detroit Lakes, district supervisor. Speakers on the two-day program will include Judge M. A. Brattland, Rev. E. A. Cooke, Supt. Morris Bye, Supt. Smith of Bemidji, and Dr. M. W. Deputy and Dr Becker of Bemidji state teachers college.

Pre-School Clinic is Scheduled Saturday

Children Entering School in Fall to Get Free Examination

The annual free pre-school clinic sponsored by the Parent-Teacher association of this city will be conducted in Lincoln high school Saturday afternoon, May 15, from 1 to 4 o'clock, it was announced today by Mrs. Andy Williamson, who has been named to serve as chairman.

The summer roundup, as the clinic is called, is a major health project of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, and includes examination in the spring of children who will enter school for the first time in the fall, correction of all remediable defects during the summer, and a checkup in the fall to determine the condition of the children.

Those serving on the summer round-up committee of the association this year include Mrs. Williamson, chairman, assisted by the school nurse, Mrs. Clara Paulson. Others on the committee are Supt. Morris Bye, C. W. Pope, Mrs. R. O. Norby, Mrs. R. M. Douglass, Mrs. Clarence Knudsen and Mrs. Lincoln Arnold.

Minnesota won national recognition last week for its work in the summer round-up. At the national convention of the Congress of Parents and Teachers in Richmond, Va., last Thursday Minnesota was given first place and received a plaque for reporting the largest percentage of correction of physical defects among children examined in the 1936 Summer Round-Up campaign.

Among the 2116 children examined in the Minnesota spring Round-Up in 1936, 2500 defects were found. By fall approximately 1,900 of these defects had been corrected and one-third of the children had been immunized against diphtheria and vaccinated against small pox.

A total of 201 local Parent-Teacher Associations in 36 counties carried on the Round-up last year.

LUTHER LEAGUERS WILL CONVENE AT GOODRIDGE MAY 21

Professor Carl Ylvisaker of Concordia College Will Speak

The annual Luther League convention of the Thief River Falls circuit of the Norwegian Lutheran church of America will be held in the new high school gymnasium at Goodridge Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 21 to 23, it was announced this week by Rev. O. O. Bjorgan, in charge of local arrangements. The four Luther Leagues of Reverend Bjorgan's parish will be hosts to the convention.

Professor Carl Ylvisaker of Concordia college, Moorhead, will speak at each of the sessions, which will be attended by delegates from 16 pastorates. Rev. Harlan Peterson of Viking, circuit president, will be in charge of the programs.

At services Sunday morning Reverend Peterson will serve as liturgist, while Professor Ylvisaker will deliver the sermon and song will be presented by the Trinity church choir of Thief River Falls. A choral union concert has been arranged for Sunday afternoon and a picnic dinner will be held Saturday evening.

Justus Larson to Have Charge of Larson Co.'s New Branch in Bemidji

The Larson company, with headquarters in this city, will hold the formal opening of its new Bemidji branch about June 1, it was announced here this week. The company has taken over the business of the George T. Baker company, recently operated by L. A. Hermanson, and will deal in the same lines as are handled in the local store, in addition to maintaining the Bemidji Skelgas agency. Justus Larson, recently manager of the company's Red Lake Falls store, will be in charge of the new enterprise, and will be assisted by Charles Haverlandt of this city, who will attend to the radio parts and service department. Ray Young of Red Lake Falls will be manager of the store in that city.

Ninth District Legion Convention Budget Set Tentatively at $1,275

At a meeting Monday evening of the budget committee for the Ninth District American Legion convention to be held in Thief River Falls June 12 and 13, a tentative budget of $1,275 was set up to cover expenses in connection with the big undertaking. Plans for the event are to be developed further at a joint meeting this afternoon of committees from the local Legion post and auxiliary unit.

Northern Woodwork Co. Gets Grand Forks Job

The Northern Woodwork company last Thursday received notice that it had been awarded a large contract for millwork for a new Lutheran church being erected at Grand Forks. The local plant has been operating up to full capacity for many months, and officers of the company report that present prospects indicate another period of full time activity.

ISSUES CALL FOR ROOMS FOR CHURCH MEET JUNE 17-20

Rev. Fjelstad Estimates Attendance Will be Nearly 1,000

In announcing the forthcoming annual meeting of the Northern Minnesota district of the Norwegian Lutheran church of America, which will be conducted in Thief River Falls June 17 to 20, Rev. R. M. Fjelstad, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church, which will be host to the meeting, today issued a call for rooms in private homes to house the visitors.

Pointing out that the city's normal facilities will be entirely inadequate to accommodate the visitors and delegates, expected to number 1,000, Reverend Fjelstad asked that local residents having available rooms list them at the office of S. R. Dahlen. The fee suggested is 75 cents for one person and $1 for two. While the demand for rooms is expected to be heavy all four days, the peak load will fall on June 18 and 19.

The Women's Missionary federation will hold its meetings in the municipal Auditorium Friday and Saturday, June 18 and 19, while the district brotherhood meeting will be held Saturday evening, Dr. G. F. Melby being district president.

Dr. J. A. Aasgaard, president of the Norwegian Lutheran church of America, will speak at festival services Sunday, June 20, and numerous other church dignitaries will be present at the various sessions.

Railroad and Warehouse Commissioners Approve Bus Line Application

The Minnesota railroad and warehouse commission has granted a certificate authorizing the Triangle Transportation company to operate a bus line from Baudette to Detroit Lakes by way of Thief River Falls, and the necessary order will be issued this week, it was announced Saturday by Hjalmar Petersen, chairman of the commission, who with Harold R. Atwood recently conducted a hearing in this city. The company is expected to inaugurate the new service at an early date.

Harold Oen of Canada Visits Brother in City

Harold Oen, large-scale farmer of Amerly, Saskatchewan, Canada, visited in this city over the week-end with his brother, Rasmus Oen, en route to his home from Chicago, where he had disposed of a carload of cattle. Harold Oen was associated with his brother in business here from 1892 to 1897.

MANY VISITORS AT EXPOSITION LAST WEEK-END

Building and Appliance Exhibits Acclaimed as Outstanding

ARENA FILLED WITH VARIETY OF DISPLAYS

Mrs. Hanscomb Proven to be Well Qualified Cooking School Director

Presenting a varied and interesting array of attractions, the tenth annual spring exposition staged Friday and Saturday in the Auditorium and arena under the sponsorship of the Thief River Falls American Legion post came to a close Saturday evening with a well-attended dance following a vaudeville show, "The Revelation Revue", in which appeared a varied array of well qualified dancers, singers and other performers.

Owing to the belated arrival of spring weather, which kept farmers in this section busily engaged in field work last week, attendance from the rural sections was not up to that of former years, but local residents turned out in considerable numbers to inspect the home building and equipment displays in the arena and to attend the cooking school conducted by Mrs. Olga V. Hanscomb at three sessions Friday and Saturday.

All observers agreed that the display of builders' supplies and household appliances in the arena outclassed anything formerly attempted in this section along that line. Among the products displayed in attractively decorated booths were electric refrigerators in a wide variety, as well as stoves, stokers, washers, mangles, furniture, rugs, outboard motors, plumbing fixtures, electrical supplies, paints, millwork, and construction materials. Other booths featured ice cream products and soda fountain supplies, while the county 4-H clubs and the reemployment office also were represented by exhibits.

Mrs. Hanscomb bore out her reputation as a highly competent cooking school director, holding the interest of the audience with a steady flow of comments as she deftly handled pots and pans. At the session Saturday afternoon she prepared a complete meal, including orange blue plum salad, Spanish corn, French fried apples, imperial crown roast of pork, buttermilk pie and orange almond delight. A total of nearly 100 gifts were presented to those in attendance at the three sessions.

CLARENCE SANDE ELECTED HEAD OF JUNIOR CHAMBER

Succeeds Douglas Booren in Annual Election Held Last Thursday

Clarence Sande, associated with the local Land O'Lakes poultry plant, was named president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in the annual election of officers conducted last Thursday evening in the Civic and Commerce association rooms. He succeeds Douglas Booren, who filled the office since Chester Myrom last fall left the post vacant on leaving the city. Other officers elected include Otto J. Wold, vice president; Archie Henrud, secretary-treasurer and Orvis Oien, Leo Aanstad and Lloyd Bennes, directors. Those elected immediately took over their new duties.

Red Lake Falls, Oklee Legion Auxiliary Units Guests in City Tonight

Members of the Red Lake Falls and Oklee Legion auxiliary units will be guests of the Thief River Falls unit at its postponed monthly meeting scheduled for this evening in the Legion club rooms. The program will include a skit by members of the Red Lake Falls unit and a talk by Mrs. Clara Paulson, school nurse, on "Making Motherhood Safe". Committee reports on plans for the Ninth district convention June 12 and 13 also will be discussed.

Movies Taken Locally to be Avalon Feature Commencing Monday

Playing the role of an heiress driven to desperation by sensational newspaper publicity, Loretta Young swears revenge on Tyrone Power, star newshawk, and makes him a public figure in "Love Is News", the feature offering at the Avalon theatre Sunday and Monday, with a midnight prevue Saturday evening at 11:15. Manager Bush announced that the motion pictures recently taken in this city will be shown at the Avalon Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, and will include 1,200 feet of film requiring ten minutes to show.

NEW SWITCHBOARD CAME INTO USE AT 6:34 THIS MORNING

Equipment at Telephone Exchange Cost Approximately $18,000

The change-over from the old switchboard in the local exchange of the Northwestern Bell Telephone company to the new and larger board installed at a cost of approximately $18,000, was made at 6:34 o'clock this morning, advance arrangements having been so carefully worked out that only two seconds was required to make the switch, according to A. J. Rau, manager.

Dr. L. R. Twete had the distinction of receiving the first long distance call over the new board at 6:35, while the first local call was made at 6:40.

Miss Marie Thill, chief operator, attended the first call thru the new board, while Miss Bernice Berge and Miss Susie Schultz were the first two operators to work on the new equipment, which is the fifth switch-board to be installed in this city since the establishment of telephone service here.

GOLFERS CONVENE IN ENTHUSIASTIC MEET WEDNESDAY

85 Players Gather at Evelyn to Discuss Plans for Current Season

Giving promise of a highly successful season for the Thief River Falls golf course, no less than 85 members of the local club and their friends assembled Wednesday evening at a dinner meeting in the Evelyn hotel to discuss plans for the coming months. H. O. Chommie presided as toastmaster and C. H. Jung, club president, extended a welcome to the group.

Committee reports were submitted by Mrs. H. B. Borreson for the women; Douglas Booren, tournament chairman; and Dr. Borreson, of the grounds committee. Tom Reha, golf pro at the Bemidji country club, was present to make suggestions on golf play and to tell of his experiences in big tournaments. Members of a group of WPA officials also spoke briefly.

Chairman Booren of the tournament committee announced that the first event is scheduled for Sunday, May 23, the Junior Chamber of Commerce having challenged the Civic and Commerce association to fight it out on the links. He added that the club championship tourney is scheduled for August 1, and a shortstop tourney to which neighboring towns will be invited for August 8.

Community singing led by Kern Olson and a group of piano selections by Harold F. Harrison completed the program.

Pennington County Gets Quota of Five Boys for Military Training Camp

The annual Citizens' Military Training Camp at Fort Snelling will be held from July 2 to 31.

One of a series of similar institutions throughout the country, it will be attended by youths between the ages of 17 and 24 years, with an attendance of approximately 1300 anticipated.

All Minnesota trainees will be sent to the Fort Snelling camp, as well as those from several surrounding states. The Pennington county quota for candidates is five.

The announcement naming the dates for the camp pointed out that its purpose is to develop such virtues as fair play, self respect, patriotism and good citizenship, as well as inculcate habits of discipline and obedience. It added that there is no expense connected with attendance, as transportation, board, lodging, medical attention, uniforms, equipment and laundry service are furnished by the War Department.

Application blanks and information concerning the camp may be obtained from all high school principals or from Dr. Edward Bratrud of this city, Pennington county chairman.

Noted Mat Men Will Appear Here May 20

Abe Kashey Headlines Group of Six Minneapolis Wrestlers

Bringing to Thief River Falls from Minneapolis six outstanding exponents of the wrestling game, with "Abe "King Kong" Kashey 212-pound Paterson, New Jersey, grappler as the headliner, the arena management committee, acting thru Bill LaFave, local promotor, will present at the arena next Thursday evening, May 20, the most dazzling array of mat luminaries ever to appear in this section of the state.

Arrangements are being made to provide seats for 3,000 fans in the huge sports structure, and there is a brisk demand for the 700 reserved seats, according to Alex Campbell, in charge of ticket sales. The local Legion post is sharing in the sponsorship of the program, which will get under way at 8:30. Harry Johnson, former local wrestler, will officiate as referee.

Abe Kashey, who will be matched with Johnny Marrs of Cheyenne, Wyoming, 210 pounds, is known as "The Syrian Bad Man", and is one of the most colorful figures ever to climb thru the ropes for a grappling tussle. Kashey has won the vast majority of his tilts during the past three years, and has handled himself well against such opponents as Jim Londos, Bronko Nagurski and Jim Browning.

Johnny Marrs has made an outstanding record during the past six months in all the cities in which he has appeared. He has appeared in Minneapolis nine times this season, and the only loss chalked up against him was an unpopular decision in favor of Al Mercier of Canada, also with a record of no defeats. The Wyoming scrapper is acclaimed as a master both on offensive and defensive tactics.

The semi-final bout will be between Stanley Myslajek of Minneapolis, 208 pounds, and Jack Sampson of Wahpeton, N. D., 215 pounds. Myslajek, with a record of three years of professional competition, features a spectacular form of flying scissors, but is thoroly versed in the more routine holds. Sampson has built up a reputation for providing stiff competition throut the entire route.

In the quarter-final match, Calfson Johnson of Minneapolis, 190 pounds, will meet Nels Gravgaard, 187, highly touted Kennedy grappler. Johnson formerly was a football star at the University of Minnesota, where he also served as captain of the university wrestling team and won the western conference wrestling title.

Preliminary matches include bouts between Jack Adkins and Ray Bredeson, both of Thief River Falls; and Harold Johnson of Newfolden and Red Melvie of Viking.

DIRECTOR FROM 'U' FARM MEETS WITH PROJECT LEADERS

Leaders to Give Lesson to 300 County Women During Next Week

"Construction and Patterns of Rugs and Table Mats" was discussed by Miss Charlotte Kirchner of University Farm with 36 home project group leaders on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday at Thief River Falls, Goodridge and St. Hilaire.

These 36 leaders will give the lesson to about 300 women during the next ten days in 18 different groups. Part of the lesson on rugs and table mats is the actual making of a small rug or mat—as well as learning about the proper color combinations and the different materials that can be used.

The leaders from Nomedal, Norden, North, Steiner, Silverton, Smiley, Rocksbury and Thief River Falls met with Miss Kirchner in the club rooms of the Auditorium in Thief River Falls. Those from Highlanding, Goodridge Village and Township met in Goodridge. The leaders who attended the St. Hilaire meeting were those from Bray, St. Hilaire and Wyandotte.

Commander of Northern Division of Salvation Army to be Here Tuesday

Lieutenant Colonel and Mrs. R. Penfold, commanders of the Northern division of the Salvation Army comprising Minnesota, North and South Dakota, will address meetings at the Army hall in this city next Tuesday, May 18, Envoy E. W. Bailey announced today. The colonel will meet with members of the advisory board in the afternoon at 5 o'clock, while Mrs. Penfold will speak at a meeting to which all women of the community are invited. The colonel has been a Salvation Army officer in Canada and this country since 1905, and Mrs. Penfold has served the past twenty years.

Plan for Record Crowd at Baseball Dance in Arena Saturday Night

A host of dancers expected to rival the more than 800 that attended the first "barn dance" in the arena recently is looking forward to the second event of the kind to be held in the huge structure Saturday evening, May 15. The best of music will be provided for the occasion by Morey's Cadets of Mayville, N. D., an aggregation that has gained a wide reputation for its music and which includes in its personnel Jack Booren, local young man. The dance, which is sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the local Legion post, is being staged for the benefit of the Junior and senior baseball teams. The floor is receiving a wax treatment to put it in perfect condition for the occasion.

C. AND C. INVITES LEGISLATORS TO ATTEND LUNCHEON

Feeble-Minded Institution Is Slated as Topic This Noon

Following a discussion of the proposed institution for the feeble-minded being sought for Thief River Falls, members of the Civic and Commerce association at their meeting last Thursday noon voted to extend an invitation to attend the luncheon today to Representatives J. O. Melby, Oklee; W. E. Day, Bagley; and George Hagen of Crookston; and Senator E. L. Tungseth of this city.

The legislative committee was instructed to communicate with the state board of control, which the late session of the legislature authorized to investigate proposed sites for the institution and report at the special session which is scheduled to convene May 24.

H. O. Norby suggested that it would be well for the association to cooperate with other groups in making an immediate study of available locations near this city.

SONS OF NORWAY ARRANGES 17TH OF MAY PROGRAM

Rev. H. M. Holm of Warren to Give Address Next Monday Evening

In observance of the Seventeenth of May, the Norwegian national independence day, the Thief River Falls Sons of Norway lodge is sponsoring a program to be held at the lodge hall next Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

The address of the evening will be delivered by Rev. H. M. Holm of Warren, who will be introduced by Bernhard Knudsen, presiding as chairman. Brief talks also will be given by Judge M. A. Brattland and H. O. Berve. Musical features will include a vocal solo by H. M. Hitterdahl and a group of songs by the men's chorus.

The program will be followed by a social hour and the serving of lunch. Sponsors of the program announced that the public is invited to attend.

New 4-H Club Unit Will be Organized May 26th in Mayfield Township

A 4-H club organization meeting will be held May 26 at 8 o'clock at the Wedul school to organize a new 4-H club in Mayfield township, Miss Thelma Solie, county club leader said today. Any boy or girl between the ages of 10 and 20 is eligible to join. The qualification for membership is that each boy or girl shall do a piece of work that will teach the better way in agriculture and homemaking. P. H. Lang will act as adult leader and assume general responsibility for the club. Another new club will also be organized at River Valley May 27. All boys and girls of club age are invited to join and parents are urged to attend these meetings.

Kiddie Revue Presented at Auditorium May 27th

A group of approximately 100 local children will appear at the Auditorium Thursday, May 27, in "Shoe-Shine Boy", a dancing and singing kiddie revue to be sponsored by the Thief River Falls Elks lodge and presented under the direction of Miss Elaine Wenner, local dancing instructor. Matinee and evening performances will be given.

COUNCIL O. K.'S $16,000 MORE IN BUILDING JOBS

Ordinance Limiting Fireworks Sales Given Its First Reading

BUYS NEW PUMP FOR WATERWORKS DEPT.

New Regulations Cited on PWA Grant for Sewage Disposal Plant

In a lengthy session Tuesday evening the city council disposed of a variety of matters, including the approval of building permits aggregating $16,200; purchase of up to 500 sacks of cement for sidewalk construction, as well as a new centrifugal pump for the waterworks system; and made arrangement whereby local property owners may have their trees sprayed to combat tree worms by paying only for the labor, the poison chemical to be used being supplied free thru arrangements made by County Agent R. M. Douglass.

Four building permits granted provide for new residences to be erected by Carl Johnson, Crocker av. N., $2,500; L. L. Hall, Main av. N., $4,000; R. H. Looker, Main av. N., $4,500; and C. W. Sande, near the corner of Arnold av. and Second st., $3,700. Residence remodeling permits were granted to Clifford Higinbotham, $600; C. J. Melby, $300; and R. G. Lane, $300; while T. J. Welsh received a permit covering the cost of erecting a small office structure in the mill yard.

The council took favorable action on a petition signed by Dr. Edward Bratrud and Charles Conner for a sidewalk on Crocker av. N., and on one signed by 20 property owners asking for installation of curbs and gutters for a distance of one block north and south of the Third st. parkway on Kendall av. N. By a 5 to 2 vote Andrew Hanson was granted an and off-sale beer and refreshment licenses at 206 Main av. N.

Wilbur Wilde, appearing at the meeting to offer the use of his power sprayer in fighting tree worms, said he would provide an operator and assistant at a fee of 75 cents an hour. Mr. Wilde can be reached at 721 Main Av. N.

Fred Fredrickson, county WPA manager, was present, and was authorized to proceed at once with the laying of sidewalks on the west side of the arena and around the downtown park. He stated that the city-wide project had not yet been approved in Washington.

The council was notified that the local fire department had turned back into the city coffers the sum of $87.25 out of the appropriation of $125 made to finance expenses of the district fire school held recently in the city. The outlay was much less than had been expected owing to the fact that a heavy fall of snow kept many of the delegates from attending the meeting.

Given its first reading Tuesday evening was a new ordinance gov-

Local Man Married at Argyle May 1st

In the presence of immediate relatives and intimate friends Mrs. Priscilla McGinn and Harold J. Nelson of this city spoke their nuptial vows at a pretty house wedding at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Andrew Nelson of Argyle, Saturday evening, May 1. The service was read at seven o'clock by Rev. L. M. Larsen, pastor of Our Savior's Lutheran church.

Promptly at seven, to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Helen Kvikstad, the young couple took their places beneath a pretty floral arch. The bride, daughter of Geo. Griwitz of Minneota, was attired in a gown of peach lace and carried a bouquet of tea roses. Miss Marion Miller, bridesmaid, wore a frock of pink lace and also carried tea roses. The bridegroom was attended by Myron Tiedt.

Immediately after the ceremony, dinner was served to the bridal party and guests, numbering thirty-five.

After a honeymoon trip to Minneapolis and Minneota, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson will be at home to their friends at 116 North Main Ave. in this city. The groom is employed with the Independent Grocery.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bloomquist and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Booren, all of this city, were present at the wedding. Mrs. Bloomquist and Mrs. Booren are sisters of the groom.

MUSIC GROUP HONORS MISS ERMA SPRINGEN

Miss Erma Springen, bride-to-be, was honored by the Music group of the local Woman's club of which she is a member, at the buffet supper held Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Harold Harrison to mark the end of the group's activities for the current season. A sweetheart cake decorated with red roses graced the buffet board which was decorated with white tulips. Small tables with festive white coverings were arranged about the rooms. The woman's club chorus, for which Miss Springen served as accompanist for the past two years, presented the bride-elect with a lovely gift.

Series of Card Parties Given at Carlisle Home

During the past week the Mesdames W. L. Carlisle, N. A. Holen, and R. M. Douglass entertained at a series of three evening bridge parties. The entertaining was done at the Carlisle home, refreshments being served at the conclusion of the bridge games, four tables being in play at each party in the series.

The series opened with a party on Wednesday evening of last week at which bridge honors went to Mrs. A. M. Holte and Mr. Kern Olson for first and second high scores, respectively.

Honors went to Mrs. D. C. McLeod for high score and to Mrs. Leon Kaliher for second high score at the second party in the series Friday evening. The hostesses presented Mrs. Norbert Holzknecht, who left Monday to reside at Fargo, with a special guest prize as a going-away gift.

Mrs. W. G. Claffy and Mrs. C. W. Popowsen high and second high honors, respectively, at the last party of the series Wednesday evening.

MRS. L. V. JOHNSON HOSTESS FOR DAUGHTER

Mrs. L. V. Johnson was hostess at her home Saturday afternoon at a party honoring her daughter Eleanor, the occasion being Eleanor's fifth birthday anniversary. The guests enjoyed the afternoon playing games, supervised by Audrey and Andree Moland. In the late afternoon a lovely two-course luncheon was served by Mrs. Johnson, assisted by Mrs. Oscar Cerny. Gracing the luncheon table which was decorated in yellow, was a decorated birthday cake lighted by five yellow candles. Gum drop favors were provided for each guest. Lovely birthday gifts were presented to the honor guest. Present were Eleanor Johnson, guest of honor, and Sonia Meyer, Katherine Vorachek, Darlene and Olive St. Martin, Darlene Rossen, Clair Ann O'Hara, LeDorn Poppenhagen, Irene Johnson, Barbara Jean Cerny and Goldie Hostvet.

Ruth Remmem Is Bride of Minneapolis Man

Miss Ruth Remmem, daughter of Mrs. Inga Remmem of this city, became the bride of Dominic W. Daniels, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Daniels of Minneapolis, at church nuptials in Minneapolis May 2. The vows were spoken at Zion Lutheran church at 12:30 o'clock in the presence of the attendants, Miss Mildred Remmem who was her sister's bridesmaid and Leonard Daniels, the groom's brother, who served as best man.

For her wedding the bride was attired in an afternoon frock, which was fashioned on princess lines and made distinctive by unusual petal sleeves. The frock was of an aqua shade with slight accents of beige and dubonnet, the two-tone color combination also being carried out in her accessories. A corsage of sweetpeas and talisman roses complemented her costume. Her attendant wore a dress of honey-beige with a deep yoke of heavy cord lace and accessories of a matching color accented with touches of British tan. Her corsage consisted of sweetpeas and premier roses.

At five o'clock on the afternoon of the wedding a dinner was given at the Curtis Hotel at which twelve guests, members of the bride's and groom's families were present.

After a wedding trip into Wisconsin, Mr. and Mrs. Daniels are at home in Minneapolis. The bride was graduated from Lincoln high school in 1930 and since her graduation has been employed in Minneapolis.

Walch-Thompson Nuptials Take Place February 20

A recent announcement of interest to local residents is that of the marriage of Miss Florence Walch of International Falls to Ward Thompson, also of International Falls, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Thompson of this city. The wedding took place February 20 at Virginia, Minn. Mr. and Mrs. Thompson have taken an apartment at International Falls, where both are employed with the resettlement project. Mr. Thompson, a graduate of Moorhead State Teachers college, was for a time employed here at the N. R. S. office. He and Mrs. Thompson motored to this city Saturday evening to spend Mother's Day with Mr. Thompson's parents.

DOROTHY MAE ZAVORAL HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

Alice Larsen, June Bride-Elect, Feted

Miss Alice Larsen, June bride-elect, was feted at a glassware shower Saturday evening at the home of Miss Rosine Dahlen. Sharing hostess duties with Miss Dahlen were the Misses Lois Thoreson, Helen Margaret Olson, Orpha Gabrielson, and Harriet Helquist.

Arrangements for the shower carried out a novel theme, ideas for which were drawn from the honor guest's post-nuptial plans. Since the bride-to-be will reside in Michigan, the game "Michigan" was played, Miss Alva Dixon carrying off the prize. As guest prize, Miss Larsen was presented with a corsage of roses and sweetpeas. A two-course luncheon was served at tables for four centered with pink roses harmonizing with the general color scheme of pink-and-white. The gifts were arranged on a special shower table, on which had been constructed a miniature oil well which was surrounded by gifts. Since the groom-elect is employed with an oil company, this method of presenting the gifts was used to further carry out the theme of the party.

The following names comprised the guest list: Misses Blanche Greenland, Thorlis Johnson, Esther Bennes, Alva Dixon, Mamie Wise, Agnes Tandberg, Lenore Jorgenson, Katherine Ellis, Merle Bryant, and Peggy Quale; and Mesdames John Arnold and Lincoln Arnold.

CLUB PRESIDENT HOSTESS TO BOARD MEMBERS

Mrs. C. W. Vorachek, club president, was hostess to the members of the board of directors of the local Woman's club who have served with her during the past year at a social gathering at the Vorachek home Wednesday afternoon. The board held a short business session to wind up affairs for the year, after which they enjoyed the afternoon informally. In the late afternoon refreshments were served by the hostess.

Current Events

The Current Events group will meet for the last time this season at the home of Mrs. Gunder Legvold Tuesday afternoon. Included on the program will be a paper on American Culinary Art read by Mrs. W. W. Prichard, Sr., a paper on American Museums by Mrs. C. H. Jung, and election of officers for the coming year. The serving committee is composed of the Mesdames Legvold, H. A. [illegible], H. O. Berve, M. A. Bratt and, Julien Provencher and Walter Smith.

ROY BROWNS ENTERTAIN FOR GERTRUDE ENGELBERT

Complimentary to Miss Gertrude Engelbert on her birthday anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brown entertained at a buffet luncheon at their home Friday evening. Two lovely birthday cakes graced the buffet which was lighted by tall tapers. Birthday gifts were presented to the guest of honor. Present were Miss Engelbert, honor guest, Mrs. Edith Engelbert, Mrs. Anna Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Ruben Sundberg, and Gordon Engelbert, all of Grygla, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bjorkman and son Dickie of [illegible], who are visiting in this city, and Lee Duffield.

Ellen Carlson and Leonard Larson Wed

Miss Ellen Carlson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Carlson of Silverton and Leonard Larson, son of Lewis Larson of Agder, were united in marriage Wednesday, 12 at a service read by Rev. E. M. Fjelstad at his home at 11:00 a. m.

The bride's wedding gown was of coronation blue in formal length, her bouquet consisted of roses. Her attendant, Mrs. Agnes Fish of Grand Forks, also wore a gown of formal length of maize and carried roses. Little Shirley May Fish attended as flower girl. Melvin Carlson, brother of the bride, was groomsman.

Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents. The table was centered by a beautifully decorated three-tiered bride's cake. Mr. and Mrs. Larson will leave on a trip to southern Minnesota and Chicago, after which they will be at home on the groom's farm in Agder.

AUTO IS TRAMPLED OVER, UNKNOWINGLY

Bellingham—The telephone lineman, and the school teacher both, unknowingly trampled over a car three miles west of town, but before the snowplow could play pushball with it, its owner rescued his Ford. George Heinrich, who became stalled in a snow drift while driving through a cut, was forced to abandon his auto and walk three miles through driving sleet and snow until, as he said, "I couldn't have been wetter if I'd jumped into a lake." When he returned for the car the following day, the automobile was entirely out of sight, buried under snow that rose six inches above the roof.

What is the "Low-price Field"?

You hear a lot about "the low-price field" these days. A good many cars claim to be in it. So whenever the low-price field is mentioned, remember:

Until Ford came, no average American could own a car.

Today all Ford prices are still low — with the prices of the 60-horsepower Ford V-8 $30 to $60 lower than those of any other car of comparable size.

But with Ford, "low price" doesn't merely mean low figures on the price tag. It means much more than that. It means low prices and low costs all the car's long life. Low prices for service — for parts — and, above all, for operation.

Both Ford V-8 engine sizes are economical to operate. The 85 horsepower gives greater gasoline mileage this year than ever, and the "60" delivers the highest mileage in Ford history.

Private owners, cab companies, fleet operators all report that the "60" averages from 22 to 27 miles per gallon of gasoline.

Check and see how much Ford saves you.

BRITISH KING AND QUEEN CROWNED IN IMPRESSIVE RITES

Coronation Ceremony in London Marred by Steady Downpour

Exultant Britain crowned and consecrated its sovereign, George VI, and his radiant Elizabeth Wednesday and hailed them with the thunder of a million cheers and the glory of a valiant past.

Torrents of rain, threatened all day long, beat down on their triumphal, dazzling cavalcade at the end of the greatest day of splendor that England ever saw.

At the stroke of half past twelve, the venerable hands of Cosmo, archbishop of Canterbury, placed the great St. Edward's crown upon the kingly brow within the walls of Westminster Abbey, walls that looked down upon the 36th king they have seen so crowned.

Then followed the coronation of the Scottish queen.

Across the channel in a French chateau a man and woman listened —Edward, once king and Wallis Warfield, for whom he gave up this day. Their wedding, postponed by a disagreement between the royal family and government in London town, may be in June.

A million folk and more cheered and strained for a glimpse of King and Queen as their majesties rode in a golden coach of state to the coronation in Westminster Abbey of the ruler of 500,000,000 souls.

Official Paper of Pennington County and City of Thief River Falls

Now we know all about cooking schools. From our standpoint it was a pleasant experience. That Mrs. Hanscomb proved to be an excellent cook did not surprise us. But how any person can maintain a constant flow of interesting chatter the way she does and still do a good job of cooking is unbelievable. A couple of times during the first class we were on the point of suggesting to her that she'd better cut out the talking and watch the cake in the oven, but the cake came through very nicely without our assistance. During the last session we were kind of hoping something would go wrong just to hear what she would have to say under such circumstances, but that didn't happen, durn it. At any rate, we now have had a new experience. We know all about cooking schools.

In the past we have always felt rather sorry for members of the legislature whenever they have been called upon to put in extra time at a special session. Not so for the coming session however. This time the joke will be on the taxpayers. By voting themselves ten dollars a day pay for the time put in on special sessions, the law makers have made special sessions quite attractive for themselves. Would it be awfully mean to suggest that perhaps this extra session wouldn't have been necessary if the members of the legislature had been forced to either finish their job at the regular session or attend a special session at their own expense? We probably will have quite a few special sessions from now on.

Anyone who has a building lot for sale should try to induce Jack Brendecke to station his pop corn wagon on it for a while. Just as soon as he gets himself nicely established up pops a building and then he's on the move again.

Here it is the middle of May and still a month of school ahead of us. Last fall, as we recall it, the youngsters liked the idea of an extra week of vacation. A vote now probably would indicate strong sentiment in the student body for an earlier start of the school year.

For many years the city's water supply depended entirely upon one pump and if that pump had decided to quit working we might have been confronted with a serious condition. It would have been rather awkward, for instance, to try fighting a fire with buckets of water from the river. Fortunately the council has finally acted and a reserve pump will soon be installed and ready to share responsibility with the old equipment that has performed so dependably in the past.

Sidewalks are going to be built this summer and with the start assured it is possible that the activity in this line may continue for some time. Certainly there is a great need for sidewalks, both new and old. A couple of blocks of new curb and gutter is in prospect too and will serve as a good example to residents of other streets. Concrete curbs will establish drainage levels and simplify the problem of street maintenance.

Local golfers got off to a flying start at a season-opening dinner last night at the Evelyn. One of these years golf is really going to take hold in this community and when it does the round house road is going to require some hard surfacing. Golf is really a good game—not nearly as foolish as it appears to be from the outside of the fence. And the local course deserves more patronage than it receives. Many popular forms of recreation are more expensive. As pleasure costs go, the cost is not great. The game has been a great boon to husband-weary wives and there probably would be fewer unhappy homes if more husbands would seek this means of striving to fulfill unreasonable expectations.

We had a pretty wet snow up here a couple of weeks ago but it was wetter down at Montevideo. According to the generally reliable Montevideo News, the snow was so wet down there that one bucket of snow made a bucket and a half of water. The fact that Montevideo is another one of those places that is laughingly referred to as a dry town may have had something to do with the story of course. There is always the possibility that the overflowing buckets may have proven to be a little confusing.

Reports from Washington are very discouraging these days. According to ugly rumors the administration is threatening to economize again. That's a very bad sign. They must be getting ready for another extra heavy spending spree. From the very first promise of a twenty-five per cent cut in government costs, every threat of economy has been followed by new high record expenditures.

Senator Shipstead has joined the ranks of that reactionary group that is opposed to the President's plan for packing the Supreme Court. A majority of the members of the Senate Judiciary Committee are also guilty of the unforgivable sin of questioning the wisdom of the only honest and able man in the country, our President. It now appears that we are going to be forced to put up with our intolerable form of government for yet a little while.

A dust storm followed by rain Tuesday night caused a lot of local housewives to wonder why in the world they had been in such a hurry to get the windows washed and the screens up.

Just one thing keeps us from complaining about the wetness that is retarding seeding operations and that is the recollection that for several years we have been wishing the country would get thoroughly soaked once again.

THIRTEEN UNLUCKY FOR THIRTEEN-YEAR-OLD BOY

Princeton — Donald Anderson, the thirteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ephraim Anderson of this village, may have a reason for thinking that thirteen is an unlucky number. He now carries his arm in a sling for the second time this spring. While riding his bicycle recently Donald fell and fractured the same arm which was broken February 13 in an attempt to crank a car. The arm had just been taken from its cast and sling when it was fractured again in the same place.

Mrs. Thilda Erickson and Mrs. A. P. Anderson visited Monday with Mr. Anderson's sister in law, Mrs. Henry Jackson at St. Hilaire. Mrs. Jackson has been ill but is improving.—Mr. and Mrs. Ole Odegaard visited at the Louis Aas home in Goodridge on Wednesday evening. The St. Pauli Sunday school will organize for the year's work on Sunday morning following the 9:30 services.—Mrs. Mary Sherva who arrived recently from visiting her daughter, Mrs. Calness in Duluth spent a few days with her daughter Mrs. Oscar Seeland and family here at Hazel before returning to her home at St. Hilaire.

FOUR GENERATIONS CELEBRATE MOTHER'S DAY

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Peterson, sons Harry and Curtis Peterson, their daughter Mrs. Wm. COUNCIL DEALS WITH VARIETY OF MATTERS IN SESSION TUESDAY erning the sale of fireworks in the city, and prohibiting the sale of such materials except during the first week of July. The new regulation is designed to eliminate the situation that prevailed last year when firecrackers and other noisemakers were used for nearly a month preceding July Fourth.

City Clerk P. G. Pederson read a letter from R. A. Radford, state PWA chief, in reference to the proposed sewage disposal plant, in which it was stated that under new regulations the city will be required to finance the entire cost of the project and will then be reimbursed to the extent of 115 per cent of wages paid workers taken from the relief rolls. This rule would make it necessary for the city to issue bonds for the entire cost of the project. The letter was referred to E. L. Lium, consulting engineer, for consideration.

The contract for supplying up to 600 sacks of cement for sidewalk construction was divided equally between the Central and Robertson Lumber companies, which submitted identical bids providing for delivery of the material as needed at the rate of $2.76 a barrel.

A five-inch centrifugal pump and 40-horsepower electric motor for the waterworks pumping station, to replace present old equipment, was purchased from Fairbanks Morse & company of St. Paul on its bid of $1,660.

PLUMMER DOWNS GARNES 12 TO 1 IN SEASON'S OPENER

Contest Featured by Work of Pair of Plummer Pitchers

The Plummer baseball team initiated the new season by getting off to a 12 to 1 victory over Garnes on the Plummer diamond Sunday.

The feature of the game was the work of Plummer's two hurlers, Toulouse and Fremling. Toulouse started the game and worked four innings, allowing only two hits and getting six strikeouts. No runs were scored against him. Fremling worked three innings, allowing but two hits although these came in the same inning and counted one run. Fremling was credited with four strikeouts in the three innings. The game lasted only seven innings.

The hitting of both teams was poor, but the fielding of the Plummer club far surpassed that of Garnes. Two errors were charged against Plummer and ten against Garnes. Plummer collected six hits and Garnes four, but errors and wildness made up the difference in the score.

One of the features of the game was a double play by Garnes in the fifth inning. Langlie was caught attempting to go home on a hit and Craft was caught trying to steal second on the play.

Score by innings:

Plummer	0 0 5 0 4 0 3—	12
Garnes	0 0 0 0 0 1 0—	1

Batteries: Plummer—Toulouse, Fremling and Karlstad; Garnes—M. Lund, Shetterly and Cantwell.

Funeral Rites Friday for Alfred C. Dahl

Funeral rites will be conducted Friday afternoon at two o'clock at the chapel of the Larson funeral home, for Alfred C. Dahl, 50, who died Monday at his home at 608 Arnold Avenue. Rev. J. O. Jacobson will officiate at the services, which will be conducted by Elmer J. Eklund post of the American Legion, and interment will be made at Greenwood cemetery.

Alfred Dahl, a resident of this city for the past forty-three years, was born March 9, 1887, at Baldwin, Wis. He was a World War veteran, having enlisted at Camp Dodge, Iowa, on June 24, 1918, remaining there until his honorable discharge on March 4, 1919.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Dahl of this city, four brothers, Bennie of this city, Edwin of International Falls, Carl of Canwood, Sask, Can., and John of St. Cloud; and one sister, Mrs. Alfred Hanson of Crookston, are the surviving relatives.

Potato Improvement Group Drive Under Way

Support of every Pennington county potato grower and dealer of the membership campaign launched by the Red River Valley Potato Improvement association is urged in a communication received this week from the executive committee.

"We believe that the future of the potato industry in the Red River Valley depends upon a united effort to improve the quality of seed stock grown in this area," the communication states. "Thru the co-operation of every grower and dealer a program can be developed that will bring the Valley again to the top among the potato producing areas of the country. It is apparent to anyone that the quality of our seed stock in recent years has deteriorated for the reason that there has been no definite program to encourage planting of good seed."

The county agent in each of the 12 counties included in the association and one grower in each county have been elected as directors of the group and will assist in carrying on the membership campaign. The annual dues are $1 for the grower, $5 for a grower-dealer, $10 for a dealer and $25 for a shipper.

Concordia Board Votes to Proceed With Plans for Women's Dormitory

Decision to proceed with construction of the new $180,000 women's dormitory at Concordia college, Moorhead, as soon as financial arrangements can be made, and the hiring of Paul E. Christiansen as director of the combined campus school of music and the Concordia Conservatory of Music, were highlights of the college board of directors' meeting last week.

Christiansen is the son of Dr. F. Melius Christiansen, famous director of the St. Olaf college choir, Northfield, and is a renowned musician in his own right. He will be the directing head of the college music department, with the campus school and the conservatory combined as one unit.

In voting to proceed with building plans, the Concordia board of directors decided to float a $100,000 bond issue, the remainder of the cost to be paid from endowment funds. A special committee of eight members to handle the financial affairs was appointed, including George A. Beito, Gonvick, Minn.; Ingeman S. Sattre, Evansville, Minn.; C. N. Brunsdale, Mayville, N. D.; Dr. E. N. Hegge, Hatton, N. D.; L. J. Norby, Detroit Lakes, Minn.; John Nystul, Fargo; O. H. Lee, Fergus Falls, and O. E. Reiersgord, Glen.

Some Benefit Payments Already Payable Under Social Security Act

Under the old-age benefits system of the Social Security Act, there are two types of benefits which are already payable it was announced this week. These are:

First, lump-sum or single cash payments to wage earners who have reached their 65th birthday since January 1, 1937. It is not necessary for an employee to stop working in order to become eligible for a lump sum benefit.

Second, death benefits or single cash payments to the families or estates of those employees who have died since January 1, 1937.

The amount of these benefits in each case will be 3½ per cent of the total wages earned by the employee in covered employments since January 1, 1937.

Before either of these benefits can be paid, it is necessary that a claim be made on forms which will be supplied upon request. Anyone having such a claim should write or call at the nearest office of the social security board, at Fargo, of which G. H. Russ, Jr. is manager.

James A. Dahl, 46, Dies at St. Peter

James Arthur Dahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dahl of this city, died at St. Peter May 2. The body was brought to this city, where funeral services were conducted Saturday at the Erickson and Lund chapel, Rev. J. O. Jacobsen officiating, and interment was made in St. Pauli cemetery.

Mr. Dahl was born August 8, 1890 in Smiley township, being at the time of his death forty-six years of age. On Sept. 4, 1918 he enlisted in service in the world war, and entered training at Camp Grant, Ill., being honorably discharged later the same year, returning to his home in Smiley. In 1927 he moved to this city where he resided until June, 1932. At that time he went to Rochester for medical attention, remaining there until 1935 when he moved to St. Peter to spend the remaining two years of his life.

202 CARELESS AND DRUNKEN DRIVERS JAILED IN APRIL

Arrests by Patrol Show Big Gain Over March, Says State Chief

Two hundred and two Minnesota motorists were jailed for drunken and careless driving by the Minnesota Highway patrol in April, an increase of 111 over March, according to a report by John P. Arnoldy, patrol chief, to N. W. Elsberg, state highway commissioner. Convictions resulted in all cases.

The patrol, now operating under the new traffic code, expects further strides to rid streets and highways of drunken drivers in May. It will no longer be required to take offenders into district courts for drunken driving prosecutions. Offenders can be arraigned in municipal and justice courts under the new law, which makes the offense a misdemeanor. In a bulletin to members of the patrol, Chief Arnoldy cited:

"Penalties prescribed by law are: 'For the first offense, imprisonment for not less than 10 days or a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $100; for the second or subsequent conviction, imprisonment for not less than 30 days nor more than 90 days or a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $100.'"

In April, 15 were charged with drunken driving, a gross misdemeanor under the old law, and 187 faced the less serious charge of careless driving. The patrol classes them all as drunken drivers, but placing of charges heretofore has been determined by county attorneys.

HEN STAMPS OWN EGG

Morgan—A hen on the farm of Mrs. E. J. Lamp near here has evidently decided to do her own grading, for the Lamps recently delivered an egg to the produce station with the figure "2" embossed on the shell. This raised figure, nearly an inch in size was of the same composition as the shell. The Lamp family hopes that hereafter the hen will stamp her eggs grade one.

CLEANUP NOTICE

The week of May 10 has been designated clean-up week in Thief River Falls. Let all citizens assist in the conservation of health by cleaning all yards, disposing of all accumulations of refuse and filth and correction of any other insanitary conditions.

Co-op Railroad Proposal

Co-operation among farmers was not unknown in the early years. In fact, the Thief River Falls country was involved in a most ambitious farmers co-operative idea back in the 90's. While it proved abortive and so may be classed as a dream, it really was much more than that and is deserving of more serious consideration than a dream deserves.

E. W. Kibler, postmaster at Cavalier, N. D., which is in Pembina county, has a copy of a weekly newspaper called the "Farmers' Railroad", published at Cavalier for the express and apparently the sole purpose of promoting a farmers cooperative railroad to extend from Thief River Falls, through Warren, into North Dakota and to Drayton and from there to St. Thomas, from where it was to course to Cavalier, on to the foot of Pembina mountain at Olga and then straight west to Portal, N. D.

The copy owned by Kibler is the first issue of the newspaper, dated June 1-8, 1894. The publisher was D. W. Hines, a prominent farmer and rancher of the Hannah, N. D. neighborhood. The fact that the Soo Line built a road from Thief River Falls to Kenmare, N. D., through virtually the same country proves that there was "method in the madness" of the North Dakota farmer. But railroad building requires money and considerable political influence generally and it does not appear that the Hannah man had much of either. But he did have a sublime faith in his dream or project and it seems likely that he would have succeeded in the construction of a farmers' cooperative railroad if he had been able to obtain a reasonable amount of backing.

Hines, although he was unable to make any capital investment in a railroad and apparently was unable to influence others to do so, did manage to make a few tangible moves toward the fulfillment of his plan. He devoted all of his time to promotion of his dream as his contemporaries called it, and managed to enlist the interest of men in Minnesota and North Dakota. We have no record of the men in the Thief River Falls country who were in sympathy with the idea, but it may be that there are many farmers of this neighborhood who were enthusiastic about and who recall the scheme.

Hines even went so far as to bring a surveying party up from St. Paul, but we do not know whether he used his own money for this or obtained it from other sources. The surveyors appear to have run lines from Thief River Falls across the red river to Drayton and one for a short distance west of that place. To house the surveyors and their helpers he borrowed a tent from a farmer and he persuaded farmers' wives to bake bread for them and merchants in the village along the route to donate groceries. He was surprisingly modern in his stand, for he coolly informed the farmers and merchants that if they did not make the donations for which he asked he would call on them later with a bill for each one's share of the cost.

Naturally, considerable feeling developed and Hines made bitter enemies as well as staunch friends. This enmity and friendship, however, does not seem to have been limited to Hines' stand on the railroad project. In the first issue of his newspaper he tells of being mistreated in different towns, even being suspended in the air head downward. But he appeared at enthusiastic meetings in many towns, although Thief River Falls and Warren are not mentioned.

The issue carried advertisments of a few business places indicating that the advertisers thought enough of the idea to support it financially to the extent of a small ad anyway. The first issue also contains an article clipped from another newspaper in which Hines is referred to as "Coxey", then in the limelight and his railroad plans ridiculed in abusive terms.

The writer cannot understand why a small-town editor should oppose such a scheme on its merits alone, unless he felt confident that the idea was so fantastic as to be impossible and ridiculous. This may have been the case, especially when we consider that so much money and influence are required to even get started on a railroad building project, to say nothing of a true gambler's spirit. Hines, however, appears to have been a successful, hard-headed farmer and one would think he would not have lost his head in the clouds. But such things do happen and Hines may have become obsessed by his dream.

The writer has not had opportunity as yet to consult local newspaper files for references to this railroad project but it is probable this newspaper made reference to it. It would be interesting to read them and to talk with some one who knew and heard Hines.

Perhaps he, like other dreamers, really paved the way for the Soo Line road later and also for co-operative enterprises in the areas he visited on his mission as a railroad promoter. In that case considerable credit is due this North Dakota man and the writer suggests that leaders of present farmers' cooperative movements remember Hines and his dream. The remembrance should serve as an inspiration.

Traffic Accidents in State Decline Compared to Amount of Gas Used

Based on gasoline consumption, Minnesota traffic accident fatalities were reduced in the first three months of this year, as compared to the same period in 1936, it was reported today by the Minnesota Public Safety Committee.

The death rate, per ten million gallons, was 11.6 for January, February and March of 1937, against 13.0 for those months in 1936.

Although 98 persons lost their lives in the 1937 period, as compared to 96 last year, a large increase was reported in gasoline consumption, the barometer of automobile travel, A. V. Rohweder, chairman of the committee, said.

The gasoline consumption in the three months this year was 116,588 gallons, against 73,915,900 in 1936, he said.

Had the same rate of fatalities prevailed through the first three months of this year that prevailed in the same period last year, the traffic death total would have been 118 instead of 98, Mr. Rohweder points out.

100 ENLISTMENTS SOUGHT FOR U. S. ARMY BY JUNE 30

Vacancies for 100 army recruits at Fort Snelling and at Fort Lincoln, North Dakota, will be filled by June 30 in a campaign to bring the army up to authorized strength, it was announced this week by Clyde J. Dyke, sergeant in charge of the U. S. army recruiting office at Grand Forks.

STEINER

Quite a large crowd attended the community meeting at the hall Friday evening. An interesting program consisted of a talk on the Supreme court by H. O. Chommie of Thief River, songs by Freeman Lanske, a monologue by Miss Bernice Halvorson and Miss Ardith Rupprecht sang, accompanied by guitar music. Lunch was served by Mr. and Mrs. P. Werner of Holt.

Mrs. A. Murry, leader of the Home Management club of this community, accompanied by Mrs. R. H. Rupprecht, motored to Thief River Monday, where they attended the Home Management meeting.

Afternoon guests at the J. Whitman home Sunday were Mrs. R. Rupprecht and daughter Ardith, Steve Warring of Thief River Falls and Mr. and Mrs. L. Meyer and children, who helped Mrs. Whitman celebrate her birthday. A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Whitman's daughter, Mrs. L. Meyer.

The Steiner 4-H club which should have been held the 21st at the hall was postponed until May 28th. The 4-H play "Cousin Ingen's Dinner" will be presented them. The boys of this community gathered at the hall Sunday for kittenball practice. —Miss Winnie Rupprecht who has been employed at the Sorenson's Cafe in Thief River Falls during the winter months spent a few days last week with her parents before leaving for Pontiac, Mich., where she will be married. She left for Pontiac Thursday night.

Mrs. Josh, Mrs. Leslie, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Clara Murry came home Sunday and spent Mother's Day with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Jacobson. Mr. A. Solem, Miss Ardith Rupprecht, and Miss Cyrilla Roller were judges for the elimination contest at Steiner school Friday. The winners are Lewis and Ruth Meyer and Norma Jean Vilguth and LeRoy Copp. Other guests were Mrs. L. Meyer, Dr. and Mrs. H. Copp and Mrs. J. Vilguth. Cake and coffee was served after the contest. The contestant will be among those given at the Declamation contest at the hall Friday evening, May 14. Only three schools plan to take part this year. The next meeting of the Home Management club will be held at the R. Werner home on Tuesday, May 18.

The community extends its sympathy to J. Whitman who has been forced to stay in bed the last four weeks. Mr. Whitman suffered a slight stroke which seems to have paralized one side of his face. He is improving and we wish him a speedy recovery. Mrs. Ardith Rupprecht returned to her home last week, after spending the last three weeks at the Otto Rupprecht home near Silverton.

Mrs. A. Koglin is visiting a few days with her daughter, Mrs. [illegible] of Thief River Falls. Mr. [illegible] of Silverton [illegible] a team of horses from [illegible] last week. A few of the farmers around here are through with their seeding. If the weather stays nice we may be through within a short time. Emil Berg, who has been gone for two years, returned to visit this summer with his brothers.

MOYLAN

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wilkens visited Saturday evening near Marle at the Frank Kretz home. Mr. and Mrs. Orris Olsen and children visited Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. John Bergen who lives south of Goodridge. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hanson have moved from St. Hilaire to Moylan where they have rented a farm. —Mrs. Arthur Johnson's sister from Wylie is visiting at the Johnson home a short time.

Iver Westby returned home last Tuesday from Washington, where he went last fall to spend the winter with his sister and family. —A large crowd attended the auction sale at Nick Kast's place Monday.

BLACK RIVER

Mr. and Mrs. Morton Erickson and [illegible] and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Lindquist and Edith were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chet Peterson. A fair sized crowd attended the Luther League meeting held Friday evening, May 7. The following program was given: Reading, Edgar Naplin; [illegible], Girls trio; reading, Myrtle Person.

Mr. and Mrs. Melcher Erickson and family and Aug. Schulin and family and Irene Schroeder were Sunday visitors at the George Davis home in Crookston. —Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Carlson, Mrs. Esther Benson and Clinton and Vern Almquist of Grand Forks were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jens Almquist. —Martin Peterson visited friends at Hazel Sunday. —Miss Hazel Melin who is employed in Thief River Falls is spending her vacation at her home here. Edith, Pearl, Agnes and Clarence Anderson, Edgar Naplin and Myrtle Person were callers in Hallock Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. John Gullingsrud and family of Thief River Falls and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Larson and family of Holt were Sunday visitors at the J. A. Almquist home.

LINCOLN HIGH SCHOOL PROGRESS

CLASS PLAY TO BE PRESENTED FRIDAY, MAY 21

Domestic Strife Is Theme of Annual Senior Stage Presentation

The Senior Class Play, "Big Hearted Herbert", is a hilariously funny comedy. The theme of this play is universal, for everyone has seen or met somewhere a man of the big-hearted Herbert type, and longed to hold the mirror of reality before him.

Herbert Kalness, the leading character, is a great man in his factory, but at home he seems to be unable to adjust his view point toward the rising generation. Thus the dominating and successful Herbert finds himself tossed in the domestic blanket, for his children don't seem to agree with him about anything, but to crown his sorrow, his devoted wife takes the youngsters' side of the argument. He is a self-made man who has risen from humble beginnings. His success and his belief in himself have unwittingly turned him into a domestic autocrat. He loves his family dearly, but forgets his children are no longer babies, and feels he must rule and guide them as he did when they were small. Although he prides himself on being a plain man and imagines that he lives plainly, his charming wife, who loves his virtues and smooths over his faults, has modernized and decorated their home quite successfully. However, she has never been able to banish the awful portrait of Grandpa Kalness, nor the big brass cuspidor, because her husband insists that they are two objects which are proper to the living room.

The day arrives when the daughter of the house becomes engaged, and at a dinner to celebrate the event, Herbert, who has been worried and upset all day about business, has a tantrum, which even his wife can't excuse. So, the next day, when he proposes to bring his best customer and wife home to dinner, assuring them that he is a plain man, his wife turns the house plain to the nth degree, and serves them a plain dinner in the plainest of ways. The sight of his wife in an old wrapper, and a supper of Irish stew destroys his resistance however, and in a final riotous scene, Herbert realizes that he is not so plain, and that his life will be happier if he is more of a father and less of a tyrant.

This play will be given at the Municipal Auditorium Friday, May 21.

PROWLERETTE'S CORNER

Whew! No longer must we say "Sh, don't look now but I think the sun is shining." If it weren't for the weather, I sometimes wonder how I'd start my chatter about the prowlerettes and their doings. It's an ill wind that blows nobody good, though.

Kittenball girls have been divided into four teams for convenient practices and to accommodate the numbers. Sour Donald Duck, general manager, announced the formation of the following teams: "Donald Duck" captained by Lillian Samuelson, "Pluto" by Jean Lee, "Minnie" by Helma Skaar, and "Mickie" by Evelyn Tungseth. Hope Mr. Disney won't mind, but Donald Duck is [illegible]! Practices are from now on held this: Plutos and Mickies on Monday nights and Minnies and Donald Ducks on Wednesday nights!

Tracksters are finding unexpected leg muscles after the first few practices, perhaps it's from "Go in and out the window" through entrances our high school has. Practices continue as before on Tuesday and Thursdays. Everyone out, play, keep fit and folding.

Dear me, my mind keeps wandering toward the "old swimming hole" these days but Mom says it's too early. Wonder if my hair'd get wet? I know where my suit is—you know, hang your clothes on a hickory limb.

Be seeing you and forget the rubbers!

LINCOLN ELEVEN DOWNS RED LAKE FALLS TEAM 19-0

Coach Lee's Entire Squad Sees Action in Spring Contest

Viewed by a fair sized crowd, the Lincoln High football machine smashed their way to victory over a fast Red Lake Falls' team 19 to 0. The Prowlers unleashed a powerful offensive drive to cross the goal line twice by sheer manpower. A beautiful catch by Lorentson garnered the last touchdown of the game. Mel Haughom annexed the extra point to end the scoring. Red Lake Falls displayed a fast running game and gave the Prowler defense a good workout. For Thief River, Caldis and Nesse ripped through the Red Lake Falls line for consistent gains and Booren and Haughom did well in open field running. One of the most spectacular plays of the game was Haughom's long dash after breaking through the line. He was tackled after eluding many others and the Prowlers lost the ball on downs. The Prowler suffered a loss in the fourth quarter when Bob Hanson was carried from the field. Coach Lee gave his entire squad a chance to see action in the game. This game ended spring football practice for both teams. With some more practice, Thief River Falls should produce another winning football team.

Caldis dominated the scoring of the contest by going over for two touchdowns besides demanding humble respect by his opposition for his powerhouse drives throughout the contest. The entire starting line acquitted themselves nobly as well as a number of promising subs. An entire junior eleven with the exception of the sophomore tackles, Sandberg and Stadum started the game.

The veterans, Francis Martell and Kiefenheim performed well in the backfield for the Red Lake county gridders with Bernard Columbus being outstanding in the forward wall. Martell was injured early in the game and was replaced by slippery Joe Poulnt who proved to be a tartar for the Prowlers would be tacklers, who "went" [illegible] off like water from a duck's back. With better blocking he might have easily romped away for a touchdown.

The Prowler juggernaut rolled up eight first downs to the visitors three during the game.

Starting lineups:

Home Economics Classes Entertain School Board

Prior to the regular meeting of the school board Monday evening the School Board members and their wives were entertained at a three course dinner by the Home Economics II classes under the supervision of Miss Rosine Dahlen. A nautical theme was carried out in a blue and white color scheme with fish, sea gulls, boats, anchors, sailor gobs and cargoes decorating the tables, which were set in the clothing room.

Covers were laid for sixteen guests including Superintendent and Mrs. Morris Bye, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Claffy, Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Norby, Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Jacobson, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Skarstad, Mr. and Mrs. Wm J. Douville, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Woodhouse, and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Helquist.

Post drama concerning etiquette didn't do some of the newsboard movie contestants much good. However, as I've said, those little bars of [illegible] were so cute! —Crookston Forester, Crookston.

If you go without them,
You get wet,
And if you wear them,
Your feet sweat,
That's where the rubber comes.

This is the Freshmen's Progress week. All the work for this issue of the school paper except this editorial, has been done by the Freshman Class with the assistance of Miss Olson and some members of the regular staff. We think that it would be a good idea to have the Freshman class issue at least one issue of the Progress every year. They do not get a chance to participate in many things the upper classmen do and it would, in time, lead to a better school paper. We think that this class issue has been very well done. If you are of the same opinion, let the Freshmen here about it. They will appreciate it.

Tomorrow evening another in the series of Lincoln High School's all too few social events is scheduled. This is the annual Junior Senior Prom, sponsored by the Junior Class. This season's event promises to compare splendidly with the excellent affair staged last year. The very much up and coming Class of 1938 announce that they have been hard at work for some time decorating and preparing a very fine program of entertainment. All of this should encourage the upper classmen to turn out in full force for the occasion. The Juniors are promising everyone a good time. Don't miss the fun—attend the Prom!

"Swimmin' About"

Have you ever stood outside the Avalon and noticed any couples going in? Well, you should have been there Thursday night and you would have seen a certain little freshman, Ardith Langer, and a certain sophomore boy going in.

I wonder why Francis S. likes red hair. She even wrote an essay on "Why I Like Red Hair."

Do any of you know Joseph R.? He's in every one of E. R. Classes and they're on rather—terms. He even makes love to her in school sometimes.

Report cards came out Thursday, and the way it looks, some of the freshmen and sophomore girls will have to stay home a few evenings now.

Soon time for swimming isn't it?—Why not try the water out soon?

Some boys in this town have made a lot of use of cars this year. "Red" E. certainly has a lot on his string.

Do you know why A. L. always talks about Middle River?

Whee! It won't be long now and we'll be keeping the old swimmin' hole company. I hear the water is kind of wet this year, but what do you say, we try it, anyhow?

It seems we have a feud going on in good old Lincoln High. Yes, siree, and it's between a sophomore and a freshman, Kenny E. and Rob K. over Enid O. Yea, Rob, keep it up, you may win out soon. Not that I wish you any hard luck Kenny, but you know Rob is a freshman.

I'll bet a lot of electricity has been generated by an angry parents hand this last month, you know staying out late nights. You don't believe it? Ask Earl M.

What's this we hear about Cliff L. shining around the junior girls, especially Fae B.?

Marguerite S.: Oh, kid! He's got red hair, and he is a freshman too. So good looking and oh, girls, he is such a tumbler.

Goodbye, good luck and don't let spring fever get you down.

It seems that spring fever is a seasonal habit. It happens every spring that couples are coupled up. When you talk of spring fever some person will ask, "What is spring fever?" My definition for spring fever is, when cupid gets busy and starts joining the hearts of some of the most unusual couples you ever saw. Very often you see freshmen and sophomore girls and boys coupled. When a person gets spring fever, I am told, they think of nothing else. They never do any work and seem to wait for the clock to strike eight, when they are dated. Well, I only hope that not too many are affected.

GOODRIDGE NINE BOWS TO LOCALS TUESDAY 11 TO 4

Prowlers Show Midseason Form in Outslugging Opponents

Coach George Lee's Prowlers opened the baseball season in auspicious style Tuesday afternoon by trouncing a green Goodridge nine, 11 to 4 on the latter's diamond. The Leemen led all the way and their lead was never threatened as the pitchers held them well in check except in the sixth inning when Goodridge punched three runs across the plate.

The Prowler sluggers will make their second start today when they face the Crookston squad on the Pirate's diamond. Sahl will pitch for the locals while Floyd Barnes is expected to take the hill for the opponent.

The Prowlers garnered eleven runs on thirteen hits off the tantalizing slants of Alvin Halvorson, but at the same time had twelve men "whiffing." There were only three extra base hits, however, all being doubles; two by Sahl and one by Halvorson.

Four twirlers toed the rubber for the Lincolnites while Halvorson chucked the entire seven innings for Goodridge when the game was called by mutual consent. Helquist occupied the mound for the first three innings and was highly effective as he struck out five men. Marvin Hensrud held them hitless and next two innings but Selmer Dicken was reached for three singles and a like number of runs in the sixth inning. Helmer Sahl quelled the Goodridge batsmen in the final inning, being nicked by a lone single.

Each team committed four bobbles but outside of these the field was of high standard especially on the part of the Prowlers. The starting Prowler infield of Mickelson, Tunberg, Lee, and Sahl starred on the defense with both catchers, Christopherson and Curtis Olson doing effective work behind the platter.

Every member of the local team saw service but the Goodridge line up was kept intact for the entire game.

LIBRARY NOTES

The library staff has recently bound over fifty dramas for the Junior English classes. The books were made by subdividing collections and were sent through several processes before they became real books.

The high school library is now undergoing inventory. All books must answer to the roll call.

The library staff has made the Progress sheets into books and bound them. These books were started in 1931. Each year two volumes are made. The editors of the Prowler frequently consult these books. Each fall the new editors of the Progress like to inspect them.

Phi Chi Theta will sponsor a style show to be given Saturday, May 8.

Ag. Classes Present Miniature Farm at P. T. A.

One of the many interesting exhibits at the P. T. A., May 3 was the model farmstead exhibited by Mr. Harrison's Agriculture II class.

The farmstead was a unique experiment made on a scale of one inch for eight feet. The model was made by Ted Helle and represented what would be an ideal set up for any Pennington county farm. The distances between the buildings were worked out to show the most economical and easy ways of work. The buildings, which were also planned and constructed by the Agr. II class, were also drawn to exact scale and were uniform in coloring; white and green for the house with red and green for all the other buildings. The farm was a typical stock farm and included besides the regular barn a sheep barn, hoghouse, a poultry house, a milkhouse, a machine shed and a garage. Also included were many shade trees and an apple orchard.

This week the Agr. III classes are busy with weed seed identification. The pupils of the Senior Agr. class are preparing lengthy reports on various phases of farm life and the government of farm life.

NELSON BROTHERS APPEAR TODAY IN NOVELTY ACT

Local Student Body and Public to Hear N.B.C. Performers

At three o'clock this afternoon the pupils will have the chance to witness one of the most original, amusing, and versatile organizations of their kind. This presentation is a musical organization called the Four Nelson Brothers or The Minnesota Minstrels.

These four boys play a total of forty instruments including brass, reed and stringed instruments. They will present several original compositions and arrangements. Among their most unique numbers are included tunes on tubes, bottles and balloons, whistling novelties, and pieces on toy instruments.

These four boys are natives of the southern part of our state. They have won several contests including the Major Bowes radio award. Two of these boys are now enrolled in college and two are college graduates. Their great range and excellent work in all fields is proved by the fact that included in their ranks is one boy who is a school teacher, music teacher, band director and salesman; one is a leader of two Minnesota high school band champions; another was winner in the State oratorical contest for colleges, and the other brother is a magazine illustrator of national fame.

The Nelson Brothers have performed in nearly all of the major cities of the United States and Canada. Critics in nearly all of the major cities of the United States and Canada have given the brothers excellent reports. A Columbus critic called them "The neatest trick of the year." St. Paul papers say their work is "complicated but very fascinating". Winnipeg say they present "A well stage act, certain to please."

They have performed their musical feats over fifteen radio stations and have thrilled hundreds of theatre going audiences.

Several of our faculty members have heard these boys and claim that they excel in their field. Come out and see the best program of the year. If you have no assembly ticket, the program will cost five cents with a fifteen cent fee for adults.

Butcher's Love Song

I never sausage eyes as thine,
And if you'll butcher hand in mine
And liver round me every day,
We'll seek some ham-let far away,
And meets life's frown with loves caress
And cleaver road to happiness.

JUNIOR - SENIOR PROM FEATURES WEEK'S ACTIVITIES

Juniors Entertain Seniors at Plantation Promenade Friday

The anual Junior-Senior Prom will be held at the Sons of Norway Hall, Friday evening, May 14.

The theme of this years Prom is that of a colonial plantation. Decorations and entertainment to carry out this theme are being taken care of by two committees under the supervision of Miss Tandberg, Miss Helquist and Lynn Booren, general chairman. The members of these committees are: decoration committee, Stanley Newland, chairman, Lorrayne Baken, Mary Chommie, May Aderson, Jean Lee, Gordon Holte, Wendell Olson, Robert Smith, and Robert Quale; entertainment committee, Margaret Jacobson, chairman, Margaret McKechnie, Arlene Prestabak, and Clifford Olson.

The music will be furnished by an orchestra composed of Mayville State Teachers College students. Jack Booren, former Lincoln High School student, is a member of this orchestra, Morey's Cadets.

The refreshments are being handled by a committee composed of: Marion Oden, chairman, Eileen Hoffseth, Fae Belcher, and Yvonne Anderson.

This event is predicted to be one of the largest and best in recent years. All Juniors and Seniors, faculty members and school board members are cordially invited.

Girls to Participate in Interclass Meet

Girls will participate in track events this year under the supervision of Miss Helquist. Extra points will be given to girls for a perfect forward roll, backward roll, cartwheel, headstand, elbow stand, knee dip, back bend, dive, and roll.

Other events are:

Dash—100 yards

Jump—100 yards, running broad jump, hop step and jump.

Throw—Kittenball throw, (for distance, no running start). Baseball throw (for distance, running start, one hand overhead) Javelin throw (running start).

Relay team—Eight girls on a team. Baton (stick relay) Starting and turning lines 50 yards apart. Four girls on each end of runway. Shuttle run, with stick or baton, until back in original position.

First team—each member 10 points.

Second team—each member 5 points.

MUSIC NOTES

The Lincoln High School Band is to play on Memorial Day and also at the American Legion Convention to be held here in June. "I think the band has made the fastest progress this year of any group I have ever been connected with," Mr. Biggs is quoted as saying. "If they continue to show as much sincerity, Thief River Falls should have one of the best school bands in the state." The band has done excellent work in everything in which it has participated.

A banquet is also being planned for the members of the chorus at which they shall receive their letters. The date of the banquet has not yet been set.

The Crookston seniors aren't the only ones who have chosen "Tiger House" as their senior class play. The Detroit Lakes seniors have already presented "Tiger House". They presented their play April 30.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wockworth motored to Bemidji to visit their niece, Helen Kaiser who is a patient at a hospital there. From there they motored to Northome where they also visited at the Frank Kaiser home. On their return they were accompanied by their nephew, little Harry Kaiser who will remain at the Wockworth home indefinitely.

FLIGHT OF LARGE METEOR WITNESSED

Fergus Falls—A brilliant meteor which made the western sky appear like dawn was witnessed recently by a group of Fergus Falls persons while on their way to Wahpeton. They had reached a point between Foxhome and Breckenridge when they noticed that the clouded sky gradually became lighter. Shortly afterwards a brilliant meteor came through the clouds, and shattered like a sky rocket. The entire landscape was momentarily like day.

30,000 SCOUTS TO MEET IN NATION'S CAPITAL IN JUNE

Silver Jubilee Jamboree to Open in Washington June 29

Thirty thousand Boy Scouts and Scouters will encamp in Washington, D. C., from June 29 to July 10 at the Silver Jubilee Jamboree of the Boy Scouts of America.

There will be Scouts from every state in the Union living under Canvas, on the bank of the Potomac River, in the shadow of the Washington Monument. From Region Ten, which comprises North and South Dakota, Minnesota, and parts of Montana and Wisconsin, will be a delegation of 1340 distributed among 35 Troops of 32 boys each. On Sunday, June 27th, Scouts from these states will assemble at St. Paul and special trains will carry them to Washington, arriving there Monday, June 28th.

Scouting is "high adventure" and the pilgrimage to the Nation's Capital will be the height of the 1300 boys from this section of the country. Never before has there been an opportunity like this for so large a group of Scouts. The excitement of traveling to the Capitol with boys from their own section of the nation will be more than matched by their life among Scouts from Alaska, and West, East, South and Central states.

Registration for the trip is still open. More than 60 per cent of the quota is filled but by June 1st it is expected that the 35 Jamboree Troops will be filled. Each Troop is composed of 32 boys with a Jamboree Scoutmaster and two Assistants and one Senior Patrol Leader. A total of 1124 boys from the ages of 12 to 18 will represent Region Ten, and 216 adult leaders will make up the total of 1340.

Pike and Muskie Season Due to Open Saturday in Minnesota; Fees Changed

The long-awaited angling season begins in earnest next Saturday, May 15, when it will become legal to take wall-eyed pike, muskellunge, pickerel, sand pike or saugers, and yellow perch. The trout season is already open throughout the state.

The 50 cent fishing license is now required of all residents of the state over eighteen years of age, the $1 family license having been abolished by the 1937 Legislature.

The daily limit for wall-eyed pike is 8, with 16 permitted in possession; for pickerel, 10, with 20 permitted in possession; for muskellunge the daily limit is two, with two permitted in possession. There is no limit for yellow perch. Rock or lake sturgeon may not be taken at any time.

It is unlawful to buy or sell game fish, or to take fish with nets, tip-ups, trot lines, or any chemicals or explosives. Fish may be taken only with hook and line, except as spearing or netting is expressly permitted.

HEN DELIVERS EGGS AT PRODUCE BUYER'S HOME

Red Lake Falls. The poultry flock of Jos. J. Helm has a White Rock hen which knows a thing or two. Last week this biddy, having read in the Red Lake Falls Gazette advertisements that the Helms' next door neighbor, Walter W. Hinze, is in the produce business, walked in through the open door of the Hinze home and laid an egg behind the davenport. The following day the performance was repeated. Although Mr. Hinze has been in the produce buying business for many years, this is the first time a hen delivered her product at his home. Biddy does not know that the eggs are given back to the Helms family.

U. S. Hits Three States; Shows Minnesota Wise in Barring Diversion

The wisdom of Legislators and good roads boosters of many years ago, when they wrote into the Minnesota state constitution an absolute prohibition against diversion of motor vehicle and gasoline tax revenues to any other than highway purposes, was brought sharply to the attention of the public within the last few days when the United States Bureau of Public Roads slashed federal highway aid funds of three states to penalize them for their diversion practices.

A short time ago, the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, on orders of its chief, Thomas H. MacDonald, withdrew $341,000 of federal aid money from the State of Maryland because it diverted $1,000,000 of road funds to general purposes of government.

Last week the bureau similarly withdrew $558,006 from the State of New Jersey and about $3,000,000 from Georgia for appropriating gasoline gas and motor vehicle registration fee monies to purposes other than highway financing. This penalty was inflicted on New Jersey in spite of action of Governor Harold G. Hoffman when he recently vetoed a bill that would have diverted still eight million dollars more of the state's highway funds to finance emergency relief. In his veto message, Governor Hoffman called the practice of diversion "a racket through which the states have preyed upon their motorists since 1930."

Such practices are impossible in Minnesota because, even were such an act to be passed by the State Legislature, it would be unconstitutional, and no serious move has ever gotten under way in recent years to alter this constitutional provision.

Coaching School Set for Bemidji August 23 to 28

Dave McMillan, University of Minnesota basketball coach, will head the cage department of the coaching school which will be staged in Bemidji August 23 to 28, Alex J. Nemzek of Moorhead, co-sponsor of the school with H. M. (Buck) Robbins of Bemidji, has announced.

Nationally known coaches who will act as instructors are: Harry Stuhldreher, head grid coach at the University of Wisconsin; Dr. George Hauser, line coach at the University of Minnesota; W. H. Browne, head cage coach at the University of Nebraska and others.

This will be the second consecutive year that the school is scheduled at Bemidji. Last year about 100 coaches attended the sessions and Nemzek believes that more will come this August, he declared. The school has been conducted for several years, first at Moorhead where Nemzek is athletic coach at Moorhead State Teachers College.

FARMER LOSES 22 HEAD OF CATTLE

Minneota. John F. Jerzak, a farmer living near Minneota, suffered a most unusual loss in the heavy snowstorm of last week when 22 head of his cattle perished in the storm. The cattle were in the pasture when the storm broke and apparently were driven with the storm toward the creek. It is believed that the cattle became mired in the soft ground around the creek and became so badly bogged down that they were unable to pull themselves out. When found, they were completely covered by the heavy, wet snow. Several head of cattle were dead when discovered and after much frantic digging on the part of Mr. Jerzak and his sons, a few head were pulled from the mire and taken to the barn. The night under the heavy blanket of snow, however, had been too much for the cattle as several head died after having been taken in.

N. W. SCHOOL MAN DISCUSSES LATE SEEDING OF WHEAT

Dunham Recommends Seeding of Only Rust-Resistant Varieties

The question of dates of planting grain crops is of paramount importance to Red River Valley farmers this year. The date of seeding grain crops is dependent very largely on rainfall conditions during April. According to R. S. Dunham, agronomist and weather observer at the Northwest Experimental Station, Crookston, the 4.26 in. of precipitation in April this year is the second highest rainfall for April in the thirty-six years of weather records at Crookston. Mr. Dunham points out that 4.26 in. of rainfall in the drought sections of the Valley more than compensates for the delay in seeding; however, in the north part of the Valley, where there was good moisture from last fall, the delay in seeding may be serious unless rust-resistant varieties of grains are planted.

For those farmers who must plant wheat late, the rust-resistant varieties are much safer than Marquis, Reward, and other non-resistant kinds. In the eight years that Thatcher has been grown at the Northwest Experiment Station, it has been planted after May first three times. Yields compared to Marquis, Reward, and Hope are as follows:

Marquis	20.5	5.9	7.8
Reward	25.4	15.9	10.9
Hope	26.1	17.1	9.0
Thatcher	33.3	22.9	10.4

As an average of the entire eight years 1929-36 Thatcher has yielded 25.9 bu.; Hope 21.7 bu.; Reward 21.5 bu.; and Marquis 19.9 bu.

Among the oats varieties Anthony, Rusota, Minrus, and Rainbow are safer than Gopher when planted late because of their rust resistance. In 1927 Gopher carried a 40% infection of black stem rust and yielded 9 bushels less than Anthony. In 1935 yields of Gopher and Anthony were alike and in 1936 no yields of oats varieties were obtained owing to lack of pollination. The difference in maturity between Anthony and Gopher was 8 days in 1929 and 7 days in 1935. As an average of 8 years 1928-35 Anthony has yielded 67.2 bu. and Gopher 62.3 bu.

The heavy rainfall of April 1 to April 29 had penetrated the soil to the depth of three feet on plowed land and two feet on sod land. Soil samples taken from a depth of three feet contained 14 per cent water in contrast to the very dry condition of late fall.

County Agents From 17 Counties to Assemble at Crookston May 20th

Crookston will be the site for one of a series of county agent conferences to be held throughout Minnesota this month. Seventeen counties will send their county agents to the conference there which will be held at the Northwest School of Agriculture May 20 and 21.

Preceding the conference of county agents will be a meeting for rural youth leaders, scheduled the evening of May 19, at the Hotel Crookston. Smith-Hughes instructors will join the county agents for the second day of their conference.

Counties which will be represented are Grant, Douglas, Todd, Wadena, Ottertail, Wilkin, Clay, Becker, Clearwater, Mahnomen, Polk, Red Lake, Pennington, Marshall, Kittson and Roseau.

The conference at Crookston is the concluding one of the series of four which are booked for May.

ANOTHER EVIDENCE OF EARLY SETTLERS

Grand Rapids. A copper spearhead, uncovered in road building operations, was found recently by Charles Kersting of the West Cohasset neighborhood, who operates a maintenance machine on state highway No. 6. The spearhead is slightly bent, where it was worked over by a tractor or grader, but is otherwise in perfect condition. It is five and a half inches long, and casual tests indicate that it is made of tempered copper. The fact that no tools of similar nature have been found among Minnesota Indians causes students to believe it indicates the presence here, many years ago, of inhabitants with a different type of advancement than the early Indians possessed.

CONCRETE ROADS

It's big business—this vacation trade. Retail stores, restaurants, filling stations, hotels, garages, amusement places, farmers—all profit directly from it. And everybody profits indirectly.

Other communities are in competition with yours. That's why it pays to build concrete roads. For tourists like to follow the concrete—just as you do.

Your community will make money and save money if your roads are concrete. Concrete costs less to build than other pavements of equal load-strength, costs far less to maintain and less to drive on. Insist on concrete.

Concrete stays good in all weather and all seasons. No spring break-up. No annual repair and rebuilding mess. Best for night driving. That's why tourists follow the concrete.

PLAN FOR STATE INSTITUTION IS C. AND C. TOPIC

Rep. J. O. Melby Foresees No Action at Special Session

640 ACRES OF GOOD FARM LAND NEEDED

Sen. Tungseth Suggests Enlisting Cooperation of Nearby Towns

The proposed institution for the feeble-minded being sought for establishment in this community was discussed at a meeting of the Civic and Commerce association last Thursday by a group of men including Representative J. O. Melby of Oklee, who introduced the necessary bill in the lower house in the recent session of the legislature; Senator E. L. Tungseth, senate sponsor; and County Attorney H. O. Berve, who read a letter he had received from the state board of control.

Pointing out that present similar state institutions are seriously overcrowded, Mr. Melby stated that from a geographical standpoint this section is entitled to recognition, serving as it does a large territory. He said that the state board of control has been authorized to make an investigation of this and other proposed sites chiefly in Southwestern Minnesota, but added that no action is likely at the special session of the legislature which convenes Monday.

The board of control stated in its letter to Mr. Berve that not less than 640 acres of good farm land within a mile to two of the city would be required, and that the land need not be donated. Other requirements listed are an adequate water supply and sewage facilities. Mayor W. W. Prichard expressed the opinion that the necessary site could be arranged for.

Senator Tungseth called attention to the need of presenting a united front in seeking the establishment of the institution in this city, and suggested the wisdom of enlisting the cooperation of other Northwest communities on a reciprocal basis.

At the meeting a letter was read from the Bemidji Civic and Commerce association inviting the local group to come to Bemidji for a golf tourney at an early date. The invitation was accepted, the exact date to be set later.

Another challenge to a golf tourney, issued by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, was accepted, and the matter of making arrangements was left in the hands of a committee appointed by President Walter Jung, including Tom Mehegan, Lincoln Arnold, S. R. Dahlen and Hal Ekeren.

SENIORS PRESENT THEIR CLASS PLAY TWO TIMES FRIDAY

Large Cast Will Appear in Comedy "Big Hearted Herbert"

"Big Hearted Herbert", the Lincoln high school senior class play, will be presented by the class at the Auditorium Friday afternoon and evening under the direction of Miss Helen Margaret Olson. The matinee will open at 2:15 and the evening performance at 8 o'clock.

In the order of their appearance, the cast includes Milton Nesse, Bruce Prichard, Vivian Havel, Marjorie Matheson, Archie Monson, Margaret Rae Munt, Alfred Nelson, Brunell Erickson, Donald Olson, Leonard Helquist, Elizabeth Dahlen, James Peterson and Solveig Fjelstad.

The play, the co-authors of which are Sophie Kerr and Anna S. Richardson, is a comedy with the plot woven around Herbert Kalness, a plain businessman, who insists that his family follow his ideas for plain living. The play deals with the manner in which Mrs. Kalness circumvents her h[illegible].

As a musical feature of the program, a group of selections will be supplied by the Lincoln high school band under the direction of Ronald G. Riggs.

Three Named on Valley Water Conserving Body

Governor Benson last Thursday appointed the Minnesota Red River valley conservation committee to include Col. Earl Howard, Wheaton; H. H. Matt, East Grand Forks, attorney, and E. V. Willard, state conservation commissioner. Appointment of the committee rounded out Minnesota's preliminary action on the tri-state authority, which also includes committees of three men each from North Dakota and South Dakota.

PLANS TAKING FORM FOR BIG LEGION MEET

Ninth District Convention Scheduled for City June 11-12

PARADE IS SET FOR SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Street Demonstrations to be Feature Friday and Saturday Nights

Plans for the Ninth district convention of the American Legion and auxiliary to be held in Thief River Falls Saturday and Sunday, June 12 and 13, are fast taking form under the leadership of O. C. Paulson, district commander, and the local committee in charge of arrangements.

Registration of delegates from posts throut the district will open at the Auditorium Friday, June 11, at 2 o'clock, and will continue thru Saturday morning. Street demonstrations will get under way Friday evening at 7:30, and will be followed at 9:30 by a dance in the arena, with music supplied by Allyn Carsel and his recording orchestra.

The Legionnaires will devote themselves to serious affairs Saturday morning and early afternoon when their business session and election of officers will be conducted, to be followed at 4 o'clock by a joint session of the Legion and auxiliary. A baseball game between Junior Legion teams representing Thief River Falls and East Grand Forks also will be a feature Saturday afternoon.

Legion members and musical groups in attendance at the convention will engage in activities on the downtown streets early Saturday evening, to be followed by a dance in the Auditorium, with a Forty and Eight demonstration also scheduled for late in the evening.

The official parade, a time-honored feature of Legion conventions, will be held Sunday afternoon, June 13 at 1:30, and will proceed to the fair grounds, where a massed band concert will be presented. A memorial parade is scheduled for the evening at 7:30.

Sports events in connection with the convention will include a baseball game Sunday morning between rival Legionnaires from Roseau and Marshall counties, together with a Legion golf tournament being arranged for the two days of the convention under the direction of H. O. Chommie, who has been named tourney chairman.

Final Showing Tonight of Locally Made Films; 'Seventh Heaven' Sunday

The motion pictures of scenes in Thief River Falls which were taken recently will be shown for the last time this month at the Avalon theatre this evening. Since they were first shown on the screen Monday evening, local citizens have enjoyed the novelty of seeing themselves in the movies. Numerous business places and their staffs are shown as well as the high school band, glee club and other local groups.

The Avalon offering Sunday and Monday, with a midnight preview Saturday evening at 11:15, will be "Seventh Heaven", a story of a young man and woman in the attic's quarter of Paris. The lease must be approved by the Department of the Interior at Washington, D. C., and favorable action is anticipated.

KIDDIE REVUE IS TO BE PRESENTED THURSDAY, MAY 27

Elks Lodge Sponsors Production Directed by Miss Elaine Wenner

The story of what happens to a street urchin when he dreams he has become a wealthy man able to gratify his every wish, is told in "Shoe-Shine Boy", a singing and dancing kiddie revue to be presented at the Auditorium next Thursday afternoon and evening, May 27, under the sponsorship of the local Elks lodge.

Miss Elaine Wenner, dance instructor, is in charge of the production and also designed the costumes. Members of her classes numbering more than fifty, will appear in the various numbers while the accompanists will be Alyce Protz, Dolores Tollefson and Ardith Melby.

Among the groups that will appear in the three-act performance are the high school boys double quartet, honkytonk dancers, sandmen, dream dancers, cane dancers, Pennies from Heaven, Yacht Club girls, Russian acrobats, Scotch lassies, African Zulus and Spanish castanet dancers.

Clifford VeCen plays the role of the Shoe-Shine Boy, other leading roles being filled by Jewell Warner, Arlene Michaels, Lois Ann Peterson, Ragna Perrin, Lorraine Amundson, Dorothy Blanchard and Marcella Ruane, while Lorraine Quist will supply a marimba solo.

Wrestling Program to Attract Many Tonight

Abe Kashey, Noted Mat Star, Will Meet Johnny Marrs of Wyoming

With a steady demand for seats reported during the past week by Alex Campbell, in charge of ticket sales, the arena is expected to be well filled with wrestling fans tonight, when the local Legion post and rink committee will present an outstanding series of matches featuring a bout between Abe "King Kong" Kashey of Paterson, New Jersey, and Johnny Marrs of Cheyenne, Wyoming.

Comfortable seating facilities will be assured for the event by the transfer of seats from the main floor of the Auditorium. Proceeds of the program will go to defray expenses in connection with the district Legion convention to be held in this city in June.

Kashey has won the vast majority of his bouts during the past three years. He starred in the amateur ranks for five years before turning professional, and is a former Metropolitan A. A. U. champion. Marrs, who, like Kashey, weighs about 210 pounds, has shown himself to be a master both on offense and defense, insuring a scrap that will be full of action.

In the semi-final match Stanley Myslajek of Minneapolis will tussle with Jack Sampson of Wahpeton, N. D. Both stars are rated as having plenty of speed and cleverness. The quarter final bout will be between Carlson Johnson of Minneapolis, former Western Conference wrestling champion and University of Minnesota football star and Nels Gravgaard of Kennedy, who has achieved a reputation thruout the Northwest for his ability to handle himself in the mat game.

In preliminary events Jack Adkins and Ray Bredeson, both of the city, will oppose each other, while Harold Johnson of Newfolden will be matched with Red Melvie of Viking.

Bill LaFave of the arena management committee is in charge of local arrangements for the program, while Harry Johnson and Joe Soderberg will serve as referees.

Pays High Tribute to Norse Contributions

Rev. Holm of Warren Is Syttende Mai Speaker Here, Monday Evening

Addressing a large gathering at the Syttende Mai program in the Sons of Norway hall Monday evening, Rev. H. M. Holm of Warren, in an eloquent address, sketched the history of the Norwegian people, and paid tribute to Norse cultural and artistic achievements as well as to the Norse pioneers who aided in settling this country.

Reverend Holm told of the stirring events that took place in Eidsvold, Norway, May 17, 1814, when the constitution was adopted and the Norwegian national government was organized. Recounting succeeding incidents, he stated that Norway and Sweden have set an example for the world in the peaceful solution of difficult political situations.

Speaking briefly Judge M. A. Brattland said that people of Norwegian descent should not merely be proud of their ancestry, but should try to conduct themselves in such a manner as to live up to their fine heritage. It is difficult, he said, to separate Norway from the Nordic countries of Northern Europe. H. O. Berve spoke in a similar vein.

Musical numbers on the program, over which Bernhard Knudsen presided as chairman, included selections by the men's chorus accompanied by Mrs. Mildred Engen Hamilton; vocal solos by H. M. Hitterdal; and the singing by the audience of "Ja Vi Elsker" and "America".

MRS. WECKWERTH ELECTED HEAD OF 4-H CLUB LEADERS

Date of County Club Picnic Is Set at Thursday, June 17th

At a meeting of 16 Pennington county 4-H club leaders Monday evening in the Auditorium basement, Mrs. Owen Weckwerth was named president of the organization and Mrs. Axel Engelstad vice president, while Miss Bernice Woolson was reelected secretary-treasurer.

Preliminary arrangements for the annual county 4-H picnic were made at the session, and the date was set at Thursday, June 17. It was decided to hold the 4-H music contest in connection with the picnic, the winning vocal and instrumental groups to participate in the contest to be held during 4-H week in Crookston June 21-26.

July 15 and 16 were the dates set for the 4-H achievement days in Thief River Falls, while July 13 was set for the event in Goodridge for the clubs in Goodridge, Highlanding, Mavie, Deer Park, River Valley, Mayfield and Reiner.

It was announced that the subdistrict home economics achievement day will be held at Lincoln high school August 3, with Marshall, Red Lake and Pennington county club workers taking part.

ARMY RECRUITING PARTY WILL VISIT CITY WEDNESDAY

Group From Fort Snelling to Seek Men for Service in U. S. Army

In connection with the United States war department's effort to recruit the army to its authorized strength of 165,000 men, a motorized recruiting party from Fort Snelling, Minnesota's historic army post, will visit Thief River Falls next Wednesday, May 26, and will spend the night here, it was announced by Brigadier General Campbell B. Hodges, commanding officer at Fort Snelling.

"Our Army needs men. Fort Snelling will require about 575 new men by June 30th to reach the strength authorized by Act of Congress", General Hodges said. "Two years ago Congress increased the strength of the regular army to 165,000 men to be raised in two annual increments. Last year the strength went to 147,000 and this year to 165,000.

"The most interesting part of the year's activities at Fort Snelling are now in preparation. Plans are being made for the Fourth Army maneuvers in the area near Little Falls in August. Some 15,000 regulars and National Guardsmen from four states are expected to participate. Recruits enlisting now will be able to take part in these maneuvers."

COUNCIL VOTES FAVORABLY ON STREET OILING

Asks Bids on Material for Oiling More Than 20 Blocks

NEARLY ALL WORK ON EAST SIDE OF RIVER

Buys Larger Stoker for Auditorium to be Paid for on Rental Basis

Continuation this year of the city street oiling program, which has made substantial progress in the past few years, was assured Friday evening when the council in an adjourned session took action to call for bids on oil for surfacing more than 20 blocks, mostly on the east side of the river.

Streets designated for oil treatment during the current season include six and one-half blocks on St. Paul av. from Nora st. to the river; five blocks on Markley av. from Schuneman st. to East Third st.; eight blocks on Kendall av. from Nora st. to East Third st.; and from the end of the paving on LaBree av. at St. Lukes hospital past the Math Barzen company plant to the Model laundry.

Deeming the present stoker used for firing the furnace in the Auditorium too small for the purpose, the council voted to purchase on a rental basis an Iron Fireman stoker to be installed at a cost of $1,422.06, which sum will be divided into payments extending over a period of 10 months. The present stoker in the Auditorium will be transferred to the fire barn.

The sum of $150 was voted to the American Legion post and auxiliary drum corps to aid in financing the local observance of Memorial Day May 30. The services of O. J. Pederson were engaged on a month-to-month basis as director of the municipal band, drum corps and men's chorus, payment to be made from the band fund.

MORE THAN FIFTY CHILDREN ATTEND HEALTH ROUNDUP

PTA Clinic Gives Children Thorough Physical Examination

In spite of intermittent showers, the pre-school clinic conducted Saturday in the Lincoln high school building under the sponsorship of the local Parent-Teachers association, was exceptionally well attended, fifty-five children of kindergarten age being examined. The children were given a complete physical examination, and in addition innoculation against diphtheria and vaccination for smallpox were given to the majority of those who had not previously been immunized.

A courtesy car driven by Glen Arhart was available to transport to the clinic children whose mothers were unable to accompany them. At the close of the clinic lunch was served in the home economic rooms through the courtesy of the home economic department and a group of high school girls. Refreshments were provided by the Gamble Robinson Co. and the Thief River Grocery.

In preparing for the clinic, the ladies of the committee in charge of arrangements visited all mothers having children of kindergarten age, and acquainted them with the work of the clinic. The committee plans to follow-up the work of the clinic during the summer months, so that the children entering school for the first time next fall will be as free as possible from remediable defects.

The committee includes Mrs. Andy Williamson, chairman; Mrs. Clara Paulson, school nurse; Supt. Morris Bye, C. W. Pope, Mrs. B. O. Norby, Mrs. R. M. Douglass, Mrs. Clarence Knutsen, and Mrs. Lincoln Arnold. The clinic was conducted with the cooperation of a group of local physicians and dentists.

BIRD CRIPPLED 5 YEARS AGO WELCOMES SPRING

South St. Paul—John Marthaler opined last week that spring has officially returned. So has the one-legged robin that has nested in a tree on his lot for the last five years. The robin has a history all intimately connected with the Marthaler family. Mr. Marthaler found the bird caught by the leg five years ago. A string used in nest-building had become tangled around the robin's leg and when it was freed the leg sloughed off. Each year since that time the one-legged robin has returned to its nest. It balances on its one leg by bracing its wing tip against the branch or the ground. Its activities have been watched with interest year after year until it has become the final sign of spring at the Marthalers. When the bird returned this year, it found another robin remaking its 1936 nest. Crippled or not, the old robin ousted the interloper and maintained its right to the nest which is being prepared for the 1937 family.

GLASSWARE SHOWER GIVEN FOR LILLIAN ERICKSON

A glassware shower feting Miss Lillian Erickson, June bride-elect, was given at the Rudolph Bagmoen home last Thursday evening by Mrs. Stuart McLeod, Mrs. Edgar Longren, Mrs. Rudolph Bagmoen, and Miss Kay Ellis.

The following names were included on the guest list: Misses Lillian Erickson, guest of honor, Rose Erickson, Eva Bolarge, Merle Bryant, Beulah Bennes, Irene Klawel, Helene Ristau, Violet Furan, and Edna Alexander; and the Mesdames J. W. Ruane, Carl Kankel of Red Lake Falls, Paul Lundell, M. J. Peterson, Victor Kvickstad, Clifford Storholm and Dave Strom.

Cards provided the diversion, four tables being in play. Prizes for high scores were awarded to Mrs. Kankel and Miss Furan. At a late hour a two-course luncheon was served. The bride-to-be occupied the place of honor at the bride's table, at which covers were laid for eight guests. The bride's table and auxiliary tables were made festive with simple decorations carrying out a color motif of pink and yellow. Lovely shower gifts of Fostoria-ware were presented to the honor guest.

Woman's Club Holds Final Meeting Monday

Terminating a very successful season of club activity, the local Woman's club met for its final session of the year Monday evening, at which time reports on the club's achievement and financial status were given, and officers elected for the coming year.

Mrs. Jack McKechnie, club secretary during the past year, was automatically advanced to the club presidency for the 1937-1938 season, succeeding Mrs. C. W. Vorachek. Officers elected Monday were Mrs. Albin Wassgren, vice-president; Mrs. B. O. Norby, secretary; and Mrs. Harold Rasmussen, who was re-elected treasurer.

Varied entertainment features of the program were provided, included a two-piano duet "Chasing Butterflies" by Murine Swanson and Lois Nelson; "Pattern" by Amy Lowell, read by Mrs. Stanton Dahlen; and a selection "Country Gardens" by Grainger, sung by the Woman's club chorus.

Miss Erma Springen, who is withdrawing from the club after serving for the past years as accompanist for the Woman's club chorus, was given a vote of thanks for her services. Mrs. C. W. Vorachek, out-going president, was presented with the past presidents pin by Mrs. J. M. Bishop. Refreshments were served by a committee, of which Mrs. Alv Vistaunet was chairman.

Local Women Attend Dist. Woman's Club Convention

Puppet Shows Draw Big Attendance at Library; Program This Afternoon

Puppet shows will continue to be given at the Public library each Thursday afternoon at four o'clock until the end of the school year, Mrs. Hazel Halgrim, librarian announced today. Rumpelstiltskin will be presented for the first time this afternoon. Plays given during the season include "Little Red Riding Hood", "The Frog Prince", "Little Black Sambo", "Snow White", "Sleeping Beauty", "Hansel & Gretel", "Peppermint Boy", "Knave of Hearts". The interest of the children in puppet shows has in no way diminished. It has frequently been necessary to close the doors and repeat the performance to accommodate the crowd. This has meant at such times, an audience of three or four hundred children. Every effort will be made to continue the project in the fall. Puppeteers during the season have been Mrs. Agnes Israelson, Mrs. Camille Dostal, Miss Lucille Curtis, Miss Evelyn Augur and Mrs. Halgrim.

Fifty Guests at Shower Honoring Erma Springen

The Andy Anderson home was the scene Wednesday evening of a lovely shower feting bride-elect Miss Erma Springen, music supervisor of the city schools. Approximately fifty guests, the ladies of the faculty and local women who have previously served on the faculty with Miss Springen, were present to honor the bride-to-be. Daintiness characterized the shower in every detail. For the guests' amusement a mock wedding was performed. To herald the arrival of the shower gifts, which were pieces of glassware, a telegram with instructions as to how to obtain the gifts was received by the honor guest. At intervals during the course of the evening alarm clocks placed at various points would ring, and by each clock a gift, beautifully wrapped, would be found. A buffet luncheon was served. Cut flowers decorated the rooms and tables.

MRS. JAMES BJERKEN HONORED AT SHOWER

Mrs. James Bjerken was feted at a shower Tuesday afternoon at the Salvation Army hall at which Mrs. E. W. Bailey was hostess. A devotional hour was held, at which Lieu. Col. For Your Cookbook

ORANGE BLUE-PLUM SALAD

- 2 packages orange gelatin
- 4 cups hot water
- 1 No. 2½ can blue plums
- ½ pound salted almonds

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Cool. Cover bottom of ring mold with gelatin and set in refrigerator until firm. Drain blue plums. Remove pits. Place almond in each plum. Arrange half of the plums around the mold on chilled gelatin with an almond between each plum. Cover with gelatin. Chill again. Whip remaining gelatin. Arrange another layer of plums and almonds. Cover all with whipped gelatin. Chill. Serves 10.

FRENCH FRIED APPLES

- 3 cooking apples
- 1 egg
- ¼ cup water
- Dry bread crumbs
- Confectioners' sugar
- Cinnamon

Peel, core and cut apples in eighths. Beat egg slightly, add cold water. Dip apple wedges in egg and then in crumbs. Drop gently into deep hot lard, 350 degrees F. and cook until brown. Drain on absorbent paper. Dust with mixed sugar and cinnamon.

IMPERIAL CROWN ROAST OF PORK

Have the crown prepared at the market. Wipe with a damp cloth and thoroughly rub with salt and pepper. Arrange the roast in a dripping pan so that the rib ends are down and the meaty part of the roast is uppermost. As the meat cooks the fat and liquid will baste the bones so they will not become too brown. Insert a roast meat thermometer so that the bulb reaches the center of the thickest part. Do not water and do not cover. Roast in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until done, allowing 30 minutes to the pound. If a roast-meat thermometer is used, cook the meat until the thermometer registers 185 degrees F. To serve, fill the center of the crown with buttered peas or other vegetable and accompany with broiled tomatoes. Slip paper frills over the rib ends or decorate with radishes. A twelve rib crown roast will serve twelve people.

SPANISH CORN

- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1 large green pepper, minced
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- 1 No. 2 can whole kernel corn
- 1 No. 2 can tomatoes
- 2 tablespoons melted butter
- 1 cup ready-to-eat rice cereal

Melt butter in frying pan and saute pepper and onion until tender but not brown. Add other ingredients, except melted butter and rice cereal and simmer until juice has partly evaporated. Pour into casserole. Mix rice cereal with melted butter and spread over top. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) until brown. Serves 6.

MERRY-GO-ROUND CAKE

- 1 package raspberry gelatin
- 1 cup boiling water
- ½ cup sugar
- 1 pint whipping cream
- ½ jelly roll, made with red jelly

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water, add the sugar and cool until the mixture starts to congeal. Fold in the cream which has been whipped until stiff and pour into a spring form pan which has been lined with thin slices of jelly roll. Place in refrigerator until firm enough to cut. Serves 10.

Growing With Your Child

HE'S SO SHY!

(Institute of Child Welfare, University of Minnesota.)

"Where's William going to live in town, when he goes to high school next year?" asked Mrs. Brown of her neighbor, Mrs. Smith, as they were driving home together one day from a meeting in town. Mrs. Brown's children are older than Mrs. Smith's, of whom William is the first to finish the country school near home.

"Oh, I'm so exasperated with William," exclaimed his mother. "He's determined not to go to high school. He says his dad needs him at home now, but I'm sure that isn't his real reason at all. I think he's afraid of the new school, and of trying to get acquainted with a lot of boys he's never seen before. If only Margaret were ready to go, too! She isn't nearly so shy, and if he had her to bolster him up, he wouldn't feel the same about living in town."

In the rural district where these families live, the distance to town is too great for the children to travel back and forth to high school every day. It has become customary for a number of them to live in town, during the week, in rented rooms, or to board with families that can take in an extra child or two. The students who are not living at home are under the supervision of the high school Dean, but naturally their social life is not at all like being at home.

"Do you mean he is really seriously considering dropping out of school now?" asked Mrs. Brown.

"I'm afraid that's just about it," admitted William's mother. "You know, living where we do, the children have been pretty isolated. William has never had an intimate boy friend. Margaret [illegible] tomboy, and [illegible] so that they have always been inseparable, but now they are growing more and more apart in interests, and he's high and dry."

"But [illegible] in his 4-H club work? And what about the boys he knows at Sunday school?" Mrs. Brown wanted to know.

"It's true, of course, he does know a good many boys, in that way; but he [illegible] frequently, and he [illegible] that he doesn't feel [illegible] with them. Sometimes," [illegible] Mrs. Smith, "I wish we had moved to town, when he [illegible] at, when the children were little. I'm sure I'd have voted for it, if I could have foreseen the William" problem, though it may not be common, is far from being unique. A good many children who live in the country lack the easy, natural contacts with other children in early childhood that make the growth of friendships and wholesome relations possible. Then when they are far from being at their best, when they are self-conscious of their sudden increase in size, and are often very awkward, before they are not old enough to be socially [illegible], they are thrust into the new conditions that make [illegible] habits necessary. If William had only been going to a larger school from early childhood, he would not feel the extreme bashfulness that is going to make him hate the new school so painfully that he can be persuaded to go at all.

In advantages there [illegible] are to finding young children long distances by bus every day in order that they may attend a consolidated school. But the advantages that overtake a boy who, like William, doesn't adjust easily to others, are perhaps greater. William [illegible] a hard time now, over what has become a settled habit of [illegible] and escape [illegible] the best we can advise [illegible]. It is unlikely that many [illegible] go out of their way to [illegible] him.

What do you readers suggest as a possible solution? Write us what you think can and should be done by William's parents, and we'll let you know the plan that [illegible] might work. Just drop a card to the Institute of Child Welfare [illegible] I may reply personally.

"LIVE CLEAN LIFE" SAYS FELLER TO SCOUTS

Guest of honor of the Cleveland Boy Scouts at their twenty seventh anniversary festival, Bob Feller, the eighteen-year old rookie pitcher of the Cleveland "Indians," found himself surrounded by a throng of three thousand whistling, cheering boys. According to the Associated Press, the young pitcher who likes to strike out sixteen or seventeen batters a game and does, gave the following advice to the Boy Scouts aspiring to grow up to be $10,000-a-year major league pitchers:

"I don't smoke or drink. I don't even drink coffee. I drink plenty of milk. I think it's the best policy not to smoke. If it doesn't hurt you, it doesn't do you any good and it costs a lot of money.

"Use your head. Use your common sense. Live a good clean life. I think smoking hurts your wind. Take everything you do seriously."

NOTHING STRONGER THAN COFFEE FOR SONJA

"More about the beauteous Sonja Henie," says Edgar Munzel, writing for the Sports Showup section of the Chicago Herald and Examiner. "That the "Norwegian ice queen" still is unspoiled by her stay in Hollywood is the opinion of this sports writer, who declares "she's very much 'One in a Million' as far as Hollywood is concerned. Doesn't smoke or drink anything stronger than coffee." It was estimated that during the four nights of her engagement in Chicago, Miss Henie exhibited her prowess as a skater before 63,000 people or more.

A. H. LANGLIE PIONEER SETTLER IS CALLED

A. H. Langlie died at his home May 5, at 11:15, death being due to hardening of the arteries and complications, followed by influenza.

Aslak Housen Langlie was born in Telemarken, Norway, July 12, 1863, being at the time of his death 73 years, 9 months and 23 days. He immigrated to America at the age of 15 and settled in Ashby where he grew to manhood.

On Jan. 10 1884 he was united in marriage to Maria Monson, also of Ashby. In 1890, Langlie together with his wife and one daughter Clara moved to what is now Newfolden and homesteaded the farm where he has spent the greater part of his life farming. He was also engaged in cattle buying at one time. Mr. Langlie was one of Marshall county's earliest settlers and pioneers and has endured all the hardships that accompanied the early settlers. He was always a strong and hard working man until a year ago when his health started to fail and he became weaker gradually until this winter when he was bedridden most of the time. He leaves to mourn his departure, besides a large circle of relatives and friends, 4 daughters, Mrs. Clara Knutson of Grand Forks, N. D., Mrs. Ed Anderson of Onamia, Minn., Mrs. K. T. Solhom, and Mrs. Fred Jarshaw of this vicinity. One son Helmer of Bowman, N. D. Hans of this vicinity, Peder and Allen at home, 39 grandchildren and two great grandchildren, four brothers and 3 sisters. His wife preceded him in death 4 years ago.

Peace be with his memory.

Funeral services were held in New Solum Monday afternoon. A quartette from Holt sang three numbers and two duets by Mrs. Clarence Larson and Mrs. Amos Roseland of New Solum. Rev. H. O. Peterson was assisted by Rev. Mylne of Newfolden in the funeral services. Memory wreaths amounting to $44.00 were given to Glenwood Old People's Home by relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hugson and family were callers at Thief River Falls on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Tangquist and Mrs. Oscar Anderson were callers at Thief River Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Boe of Thief River Falls visited at the Axel Jacobson's home Sunday. They also attended the Luther League in the evening.

Ruth Sheveland accompanied by Evelyn Jornell motored to Newfolden Sunday afternoon. Ruth Sheveland who has spent some time at her sister's home in Thief River Falls returned home last week. Rev. J. Bowman accompanied by Aleck Anderson and Gilbert Odden, sang for the patients at the Sanatorium at Thief River Falls Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Erickson and family visited at the home of Mrs. Emma Tangquist Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Pesak from Crookston visited at the Henry Anderson's home Sunday.

FIRST CALF TRIPLETS ON RECORD STILL LIVE

Lafayette—Canada can have its Dionne quintuplets, but Minnesota may lay claim to having produced the first bovine triplets to live, if three calves on the farm of Albert Schippleck, Lafayette township farmer, manage to stand on their own legs. At last reports the calves, though smaller than normal size, were quite healthy, and it was expected that they will survive. Dr. E. Orell, Lafayette veterinarian, states that according to records in Washington many sets of triplets have been born, but never has a complete set come to its feet or survived. The triplet calves are from a Holstein cow, which is distinctly "not for sale" by its owner. The Holstein has produced a total of 11 calves in the past eight years. In the past she gave birth to twins on four occasions. The triplets have been quite an attraction, visitors coming from miles around to see the unusual event.

MINNESOTA SPUDS EARLIER THAN CALIFORNIA'S CROPS

Hackensack—George C. Williams, a supreme potato grower of Hackensack, surpassed by far the other growers of the northern United States in early production for he dug his first 1937 crop of potatoes last week, and Ray Leslie of Atwater returned after basking in California's mellow sunshine to do something that can't be duplicated, even in the West. Specializing in Early Ohios, Mr. Williams states that it is by far his earliest and best crop in many years of potato experience. The spuds averaged one-half pound each, and were entirely free from rot or scab. The entire crop, amounting to two potatoes, was discovered by Mr. Williams while plowing his garden. The deep snow had protected the spuds from freezing, and they were kept perfect during the winter months. Mr. Leslie's tubers also came through the winter in excellent shape, turning up when he was also spading a plot for garden purposes.

HERE'S AN OIL COMPANY TELLING YOU HOW TO USE LESS GASOLINE!

GASOLINE MILEAGE FACTS RELEASED BY STANDARD OIL, SHOW YOU WAYS TO SAVE AS YOU DRIVE

Handing you a pocket size book all the dollar-saving facts about gasoline mileage gleaned from the World's Greatest Road Test last summer, the Standard Oil Company presents [illegible] of test car driving by thousands of motorists like yourself.

Remarkable possibilities for increased economy in the public's consumption of gasoline are revealed in the statements of the test car drivers themselves.

Standard Oil Company has long felt, and the World's Greatest Road Test definitely proved, that many motorists are not enjoying the gasoline economy they might. Encouraged by the records of many drivers who were able to show savings ranging as high as one gallon in every ten, we are going to do everything possible this summer to help individual drivers help themselves to more miles per gallon.

More than 23,000 Standard Oil Dealers have just been provided with initial allotments of the book "How to SAVE AS YOU DRIVE." These, together with complete details of Standard's SAVE AS YOU DRIVE plan, will be distributed, starting today, to all interested drivers who request them. The books are free—while they last. Seed Treatment Held Safest Insurance for Getting Potato Crop

Red River Valley potato growers will be spending from $18 to $25 per acre this year for good seed stock. Such expenditures are not justified, according to Superintendent T. M. McCall, Northwest School and Station, Crookston, unless adequate crop insurance is taken in the form of potato seed treatment. Cool wet soils make conditions favorable for the black scurf disease to girdle the young plants before they emerge and hot and dry soils favor the rotting of the potato seed piece if the decay producing organisms are not destroyed by chemical treatment. The spending of a few cents per acre and the adherence to a few simple rules in handling potatoes at planting time will overcome many disease troubles and bring in many dollars at harvest time. Mr. McCall suggests the following rules:

1. Plant only sound potatoes.
2. Treat potatoes while dormant, before or immediately after cutting. Use acid mercury dip or commercial brands.
3. Plant potatoes the same day as cut if possible.
4. Do not cut potatoes much in advance of planting unless provision is made for cut surface of tubers to dry and cure. Dusting of potatoes with lime helps dry the cut surface. The lime is of little if any value as a fertilizer and does not control black scurf. Dry sulphur, hydrated or air slaked lime, or any non caustic dust substance will help dry up the cut surface of the tubers and make conditions less favorable for rots to develop.
5. Potato seed pieces with short stocky sprouts are able to compete best with unfavorable soil and temperature conditions.
6. Plant potatoes medium depths, 2½-3", so seed pieces will not be dragged out of position in cross harrowing. Avoid deep planting on heavy soils.

DITCH DIGGER STRIKES GOLD UNDER OLD WALK

Preston—"Thar's gold in them thar hills." At least that is what Leslie McElhose thought when he found a twenty dollar gold piece while digging a ditch to lay water pipes under what was formerly an elevated walk in front of the old Farmer's saloon building in Preston. When passers-by stopped to ask the ditch diggers whether or not they had found remnants of by-gone days, the diggers began joshing about having dug up several old skeletons and a bag of coins. Suddenly, McElhose, who was digging ahead exclaimed that he had just found one—a fifty cent piece. "That's no half-dollar," said the other worker. "Didn't you ever see a gold coin before." Upon closer examination, the 50 cent piece proved to be a $20 gold piece, dated 1873. It was almost as shiny as when it came from the mint.

EASY MONEY

Two young Irishmen in a Canadian regiment were going into the trenches for the first time and their captain promised $1 for every one of the enemy they killed.

Pat lay down to rest while Mike watched. Pat had not lain long when he was awakened by Mike shouting "They're coming! They're coming!"

"Who's coming!" shouts Pat.

"The enemy," replies Mike.

"How many are there?" shouts Pat.

"About 50,000," says Mike.

"Begorra," shouts Pat jumping up and grabbing his rifle, "our fortune's made"

Capitol News Review

By A. I. Harris

Complete elimination of the state real and property tax is aimed in a tax program being drafted by the House interim committee, according to Speaker Harold Barker. The program is designed also to reduce local realty levies now made for maintenance of schools.

At work daily since the end of the regular session, the House interim committee includes Representatives William Ost, New York Mills; George Hagen, Crookston; Edward Hagen, Milan; and John Kinzer, Cold Springs.

Senate opposition to the interim committee's plan to eliminate the state realty levy entirely seems assured, Barker warned, but he expressed hope that the Senate will accede to portions of the plan so that the state's levy on real and personal property will be materially reduced from the high level at which it has stood for the past two years.

Results of a check-up with federal and state authorities show that farmers in many parts of the Northwest lack seed. Obstacles in the way of their getting enough for spring sowing have been so great in some sections, particularly in North Dakota, that wholesale abandonments of farms have been reported.

Although the Minnesota Legislature passed a $750,000 seed loan bill, only 13 counties have taken advantage of it, due to lack of familiarity with its provisions on the part of county commissioners. A total of 1700 state loans have been issued to farmers, averaging about $130 each.

Farmers who have been forced to turn to the federal government for aid have met with a great deal of red tape. They have to show proof that they are unable to get a loan elsewhere before they can get aid from the Farm Credit Administration, although less than half the $50,000,000 appropriated by Congress has been loaned farmers. Of the 1,420,000 farmers whom Secretary of Agriculture Wallace asserted were in need of aid, crop loans had been made to only 102,540 in April 22.

Pointing to the rise in prices as out of line with any wage increases, the American Federation of Labor in its current monthly survey of business, gives figures showing that in all manufacturing industries in the last two years wage costs rose 1.8 per cent while prices increased 7.2 per cent. "Business firms do not determine prices with any view to the welfare of society as a whole," the bulletin comments.

A caution to state department heads against too costly out-of-state travel by state employees was issued by Governor Benson in a memorandum reminding them of the rule requiring approval of the chief executive for all such trips. The governor expressed himself always ready and willing to approve legitimate expenditures for such travel, but warned against junkets at state expense and requested that all applications for his permission contain an estimate of the expense.

A five million dollar increase in sales of eight major cooperative wholesale associations handling groceries, gasoline, and farm supplies has been reported by the Cooperative League of the United States. Sales of less than $22,000,000 in 1935 increased to $27,798,000 in 1936, giving the lie to scoffers that farmers and workers are unable to manage their own affairs successfully.

With all the pomp and circumstance that the British Empire could muster, a boy who never thought that he would be king became George VI and had the questionable honor of having our own J. P. Beginning of the Year

As early as 251 B.C., the Romans accepted January as the beginning of the year. They named the month in honor of Janus, the two faced god, as looking both into the past and the future. During the Middle Ages the year was made to begin at various dates. In England, in 1751, January was made the first month by act of Parliament.

It Happened at the Capitol

A Lull Between Storms

One feature common to the regular legislative session has marked the interim before next Monday's special term begins. The statement barrage has continued even throughout the breathing spell between terms. Senators and representatives, both supporters of the administration and its outspoken critics, have kept up the "You did—I didn't" scrap that assumed new vehemence when the tax deadlock brought the regular session to a close with its biggest aims still unfilled.

Some counter-attractions have varied the monotony of this doubtful lull between legislative storms. There was the trial of extremist leaders of the People's Lobby demonstration, concluded early this week in district court in St. Paul. And some ten days ago came the Minneapolis Primary Election, where Latimer and Haycraft, each disputing the other's right to wear the Farmer-Labor label, rained blows at each other in the center of the ring, with Leach, off in the neutral corner, winning the match easily on the decision of voting referees.

Eyes center now on the main event once more, however, with a timely statement this week pointing to one problem likely to loom large as the special term begins next Monday. Representative Roy E. Dunn of Pelican Rapids, an anti-administration leader in the House, asserted flatly that success of the extra session depends entirely on whether the "four outsiders who dominated the House during the regular term" continue to do so now. He named the "outsiders" thus—the editor of the Minnesota Leader, Farmer-Labor party organ; the Governor's private secretary; the secretary to the Speaker of the House; and the Governor himself—Abe Harris, Roger Rutchick, Art Jacobs and Elmer Benson. These four men he declared responsible for the needless and costly extra session which begins next week. Other charges made by the House member against this "capitol quartette" included: killing of civil service legislation, promotion of a state liquor dispensary plan, and prominence in what he termed "the disgraceful People's Lobby demonstration."

If the vigor of conflicting statements is any index, acrimony and accomplishment will have the same inverse ratio at the special as at the regular session.

The "White Hope"

Representative John J. White, of Ogilvie, outspoken Farmer-Laborite and loud-speaking auctioneer, wants another assignment along that same line. He seeks to become Speaker of the House at the extra session, ousting Harold Barker from the place of leadership which a coalition of independents and Farmer-Laborites gave him during the regular term. Mr. White, and with him others in his party, is aroused over stubbornness which brought about the tax deadlock making the extra session necessary. The feeling grows that if Barker goes back to the Speaker's chair in an unchanged frame of mind, lawmakers might as well pack up and go home early instead of going through a futile tilt which would end once more in certain deadlock.

Speaker Barker has been at the capitol much of the time between sessions, serving with four other House members on an interim committee which will have a complete House tax program ready early next week. Combining the bills into one measure, as Senators and many House members wanted to do, is a procedure shunned by the interim group. Its contribution to the tax tangle will be introduction of ten or twelve separate bills, each dealing with a distinct phase of the tax program. Though the Senate majority prefers the concerted directness of an omnibus bill approach, it will probably not make an obsession of that preference.

Farmer White's hopes of winning the Speakership from Barker drew sympathetic response in many quarters, but it remains to be seen whether he can switch the slightly more than twenty votes needed to make the change. The minority group would be joined by several Farmer-Laborites in a roll call for White as speaker.

CHILD BAPTIZED IN 100-YEAR-OLD ROBE

Moorhead—During the baptismal service held last week in Trinity Lutheran church at Moorhead, Maurine Alice, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Martinson, wore a robe made approximately one hundred years ago in Norway. It is owned by Mrs. O. Martinson, grandmother of Maurine. Mrs. Martinson and her brothers and sisters wore it in Norway when they were baptized, but Maurine is the first one to wear it in America. Fifteen years ago, after it had remained in Norway for many years after Mrs. Martinson came to Moorhead, it was brought to Minnesota. Home-made by one of Mrs. Martinson's aunts, the robe is woven with wool yarn in linen, customarily called Norwegian tapestry.

MAINTAINING OUR PARKS

During the past week we have heard several comments on the development of the city's park system in recent years. Dressed up in their new spring finery, the parks evidently are attracting attention. And they should. While much remains to be done, the progress that has already been made is really outstanding.

Before any further additions are made to the park system perhaps it would be well to get ourselves properly organized for the maintenance of that part of the system which has already been built. This matter of maintenance is no small problem. Giving the proper care to the Third Street boulevard alone is quite a job.

Those in close touch with the problem favor the appointment of a full time park superintendent. The idea has much merit. It is not reasonable to expect members of the park board to supervise park maintenance handled on a day labor basis. Their responsibility should be limited to general planning and supervision. Appointment of a full time superintendent to handle the details would not necessarily mean added expense to the city. Proper supervision of the work should mean greater efficiency and possibly a lower maintenance cost.

The great need in the city's beautification program, however, is the active interest of our citizens in the problems of beautification. There is too much of the tendency to shift all of the responsibility to a few city officials. The new west-side park is a credit to the initiative of a few residents. The enterprise which they displayed in securing the park probably will be a factor in keeping the park properly maintained now that it has been built. Such interest is needed in other parts of the city. Our park system is a problem that not only individuals but civic organizations should interest themselves in. We have a good start toward making Thief River Falls a really beautiful city. It would be a shameful thing if we did not now take proper care of that system of parks which we have started.

This is a year of double holidays. Memorial Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Christmas and New Year's Day all come during the week-end, which is good news for those who work in stores, offices and factories. It gives these people a better chance for an outing than would be possible with a one-day holiday. Thanksgiving, of course, still comes on Thursday for no good reason at all.

Now that the Senate Judiciary Committee, made up largely of Democrats, has demonstrated its independence by refusing to subscribe to the President's court packing plan, we feel a lot better about the prospects for a continuation of Democracy in this country. The real fight is yet to come however. Boss Farley has taken over the job of lining up the votes. The party whip will be cracked and huge sums of the taxpayers' money will be held out as bait to the weaklings. The final result is by no means certain, alas.

TELEPHONELAND
(Boston Transcript)

On the 1st of January, 1936, there were more telephones in the 12 largest cities of the United States than in the British Empire, which includes one quarter of the population of the globe. In all the world, there were 35,028,182 telephones of which nearly one half were in the United States. The figures assembled by the chief statisticians of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. tell a familiar story.

America, in which it was invented, is preeminently the land of the telephone. It stands for the American habit of getting things done with as little loss of time as possible. A visitor might say that it represented a telephone civilization, the meaning being indicated by his tone of voice, which might or might not be complimentary.

The present generation cannot imagine an America without telephones although many of the elders remember when Dr. Bell's invention was still a curiosity. There are people among us who regard it as a necessary evil, but they would not omit the "necessary." By the great majority it is included among the blessings of modern times. And, as people like to count their blessings, it is always of interest to read the figures showing how rich in telephones is the United States as compared with the rest of the world.

ANOTHER HITCH IN THE BELT
(New York Times)

The Nazi high command has instructed the German people to "chew more and eat less" in order that food imports into the Reich and consequent tribute to foreign nations be cut. This is garth control with a vengeance. Moreover, no medical guarantee goes with the official instructions that long-continued chewing will overcome that empty feeling at the pit of the stomach. It never seems to produce that effect on our always [illegible].

But before we scoff at this latest example of, so to speak, government-by-the-teeth, let us recall our own efforts at Hooverizing during the war. Hooverizing consisted of eating all we had and having as little as possible. It was supposed to release more food to the troops abroad who would win the war and make the world safe for democracy. Hooverizing may have won the war, but it failed most dismally to make the world safe for democracy. It is to be doubted that chewing more and eating less will even make Germany safe for the Nazi, certainly not if it continues very long.

I said, "I will go out and look for my enemies;" and that day I found no friend. Again I said, "I will go out and look for my friends," and that day I found no enemies.—Lewis.

MANY THINGS TO DO
(Grand Rapids Herald Review)

The efforts proposed by a new organization, Ducks Unlimited, are doubtless worthwhile.

The general purpose is to improve the breeding grounds of Canada so that we shall have more birds in the United States.

That is logical, good and right. However, it must be recognized that the shortage of ducks is seldom due to conditions in Canada. It is due to the great shooting and destruction in the United States. For ducks to breed in Canada there must be ducks to migrate to Canada. If we kill too many south of the border there will not be enough to the North.

No one should believe for a minute that anything done to improve breeding in Canada will help the ducks unless there are proper restrictions and limitations of killing in the United States. The blood thirsty hunters of the United States will kill an unlimited number of ducks if given the least encouragement.

Let no one deceive himself. Modern men and guns are better at killing than nature is at raising and restoring. This does not mean that we should not encourage the good efforts of any and all sincere groups. We should recognize facts and limitations.

FOOTNOTE TO HISTORY
(Milwaukee Journal)

Premier Mussolini took his modern machines and went into Africa and gobbled Ethiopia. Observers said things were so bad in the home country that he needed a foreign war and victory to hold his sway over the Italian people. Defenders said that the people of Italy were increasing so rapidly they needed room to expand.

The next thing we heard Mussolini was importing Chinese into Ethiopia to do the work he wanted done there. And now we find that he is concerned to increase the birth rate in Italy. Every Italian worker will be given an increase of pay on the birth of a son. Marriages of those under 26 will be rewarded by a government loan, part of which will be cancelled by the birth of children. Laws are planned to punish bachelors and those married persons who do not have children.

All this should be added to the story that Italy needs room to expand and is, therefore entitled to dispossess other peoples if they are weak enough to be defeated.

All this, we may add, should be pondered by those who think that fascism is the cure for troubles we experience in America.

TEACHING FEAR
(Mankato Free Press)

Japan's minister of war recently shocked a large number of Americans into thinking. Speaking before the Japanese Diet, he said that when Japan's naval and air program is completed, his country will have no need to fear the United States for three years. In the meantime, apparently, the Japanese must fear the United States.

The shocking thing about this to most Americans is that they need be feared at any time. It has never occurred to Americans that other people might consider us as menaces to their peace. Like most civilized peoples, we Americans don't like the idea of being feared by anybody and can't quite see ourselves in the role of a grasping neighbor with designs on somebody's garden.

The remark made by the Japanese minister of war has, therefore, been a rude awakening for many Americans. It has also set them to thinking. Since Americans weren't aware of the fact that other people are taught to fear this country, it is possible that people in these same countries are not aware of the fact that we are taught to fear them.

In this country we hear a good deal of talk about the "yellow peril" and Japan's threat to our peace and safety. But the thought of an American "menace" to Japanese safety is a new one to us. The facts behind these groundless fears are obvious if we only care to face them.

Neither country has any special reason for fearing the other. Only through a system of subtle propagandizing have these fears been implanted and only through thoughtless ignorance have they been nurtured to the proportions which they now assume. The same is true about our "fears" about other countries, and their similar fears of us, if they exist. These fears are engendered by those who would like to see us constantly armed to the teeth and equipped with the most threatening war machines in the world. The militarists of other countries can then point to us as something to be feared—and armed against.

The people whom we and other nations of the world should fear most is not our neighbors but those who would make enemies of neighbors.

THIS REMINDS THE WRITER—
(Milan Standard)

It is funny how quickly a politician loses his standing as a liberal when he happens to oppose the present national administration. Senator Wheeler, a democrat from Montana, does not agree with President Roosevelt's plan for "packing" the supreme court and has expressed his opposition vigorously. Although he has always held a position in the front rank of the reformers, he is now put in a class with reactionaries. This reminds the writer of the Liberty League. The leading members of that organization supported Roosevelt in 1932. Their personal and financial support appeared to be very welcome at that time. When they turned against the president in 1936, they were dubbed arch enemies of the people. But all this is the way of politics as it is practiced by its devotees.

SOME NEW LAWS
(Long Prairie Leader)

Under a law passed by the Minnesota Legislature a farmer cannot buy a piece of farm machinery and a housewife her groceries except at a price that is at least cost plus ten per cent. If a dealer sells merchandise at a price less than this, [illegible] to fine and imprisonment. Another law makes it a crime for a man in all but the smaller villages to work as a painter or paperhanger unless he gets a permit from the State and pays a license fee. Still another new law gives the Governor the absolute power to fix the price of shaves and haircuts. Great days these are!

PUBLIC PAYS
(Stillwater Gazette)

Wonder if some of the people who always turn out when there is a strike and give the strikers encouragement, stop to realize that every strike that calls for increased wages and shorter hours, means the dearly beloved but kicked around public must pay the demands of those who strike. There is no escape from this, and every strike means more for the public to pay.

WANT ANOTHER MILL
(Fergus Falls Journal)

North Dakota taxpayers have sustained a loss of about $1,000,000 on their state owned mill since it was established, but the state mill board is anxious to put up another mill for linseed oil extraction. Taxpayers are protesting, but another mill will be useful in providing jobs for politicians and friends of politicians.

Schools cannot be condemned because of individuals. After all, the highest education in the world may be null and void on certain people. Certainly all will agree that it's not so much the education one has which leads to success as it is the application of that education to the problems of business.—Waseca Journal.

WPA Chief Harry Hopkins no doubt would appreciate an invitation to come to this city to dedicate the new park wading pool that was under construction last winter.

Looking Backward

TEN YEARS AGO
From the Times of May 19, 1927

L. A. Thune, Lincoln high school athletic coach the past four years, resigned to accept a similar position in Iron Mountain, Michigan.—Nearly 400 women attended the annual convention of the Ninth District Federation of Women's Clubs in the city this week.—Dr. O. F. Melby is attending the national convention of the American Medical association in Washington, D. C.—Father A. I. Merth will deliver the Memorial day address in Red Lake Falls.—Only 52 students will be graduated from Lincoln high school this year, Harold Hand, principal announced.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
From the News-Press, May 17, 1917

The council purchased for $1,100 a deep-well pump for use in the local waterwork system.—A Minneapolis company is seeking a franchise to supply this city with gas service.—Supt. J. H. Hay was named county director of the Public Safety commission, organized as a war measure.—T. C. Norris, Manitoba premier; F. H. Davidson, mayor of Winnipeg, and his secretary Fred B. Furgeson, headed a Jefferson highway cavalcade that visited Thief River Falls. The run to this city from Winnipeg was made in eight hours and 24 minutes, the caravan continuing on to New Orleans.—County Attorney Chommie has issued orders to authorities to enforce the law prohibiting the attendance at public dances of persons under the age of 21.

PUBLIC OPINION

Organized Labor has made great gains lately as to wage increases, working conditions and rights to organize and bargain collectively. So long as capital is organized to bargain collectively through corporations, it is easy to see that labor has not had a fair chance without some system to meet this advantage of corporations of capital.

However, now is the crucial time for Labor, and they must not rest on their laurels, because a lawsuit is already started to outlaw strikes under the Railway Labor Act which requires a postponement of any strike for 60 days. A bill to amend the Wagner law so as to make arbitration compulsory has also been introduced.

If labor lets go their right to strike, they will surely regret it in the long run, so now they should get busy politically, quit their wrangling and join in the calling of a National Convention of the National Farmer-Labor party, the Union Party and other reform organizations believing in American Constitutional government, such as the Townsend Organization, Liberty Party and many others, and then we will have a fair chance to get real reforms instead of palliatives and quack remedies like the New Deal.

I wish to announce that prizes offered so far for the crow hunt which opens Sunday, May 23, and continues until June 6 have been donated by Montgomery Wards, Oen Mercantile company, Kelly Hardware, Gamble Stores and the Coast-to-Coast store. Go out, you crow hunters, and win a prize.

Speaking of fishing at Red Lake narrows, I brought in a 23-pound Northern pike, and H. N. Elofson also got a large pike. Ask him the weight. Let's hear from the Crow lake fishermen.

Water, Light and Heat Benefit in Combating Arthritis, Say Medics

A good hope for escaping all deformities of the joints can be held out to a large number of arthritis sufferers, according to a bulletin issued by the Public Health Education Committee of the Minnesota State Medical Association today.

The bulletin calls especial attention to the good results and also the relief from pain that follow proper use of such simple agents as heat, light, hot baths and massage in the treatment of arthritis. They often remove a great deal of worry, too, because fear of deformity plays an important part in the distress of such patients.

Arthritis is not one disease but a symptom of many different diseases. It is obviously necessary to remove the origin of the trouble before the arthritis, itself, can be cured; but relief from pain and protection against crippling from the disease can be given to a great many sufferers by the treatment that is now known as physical therapy. With proper supervision, a good deal of this treatment can be carried out at home according to the Committee. Inexpensive, home made appliances can be constructed that will serve as well as more expensive equipment for heat and water bath treatments. No one should try to use them, however, without his doctor's instruction.

Tall Tales
As told to: FRANK E. HAGAN and ELMO SCOTT WATSON

The White Cliffs of Dover

"BACK in the days when we had iron men on wooden ships instead of wooden men on iron ships," said Cap'n John of Marblehead, "I signed on for my first cruise with Old Stormalong. A big feller the skipper was—just four fathoms and a compass width from the deck to the bridge.

"He had to be, of course, for his vessel, the Courser, was the biggest ship on the Atlantic. Why, I mind the day he sent a young feller aloft to push a cloud off the top of the mainmast . . . when he came down he was drippin' wet with somethin' white. 'Danged near drowned up there in the Milky Way . . .' he was sputterin'.

"But I was startin' to tell you about that time a storm drove us toward the English channel. Between Calais and the cliffs of Dover Old Stormalong took one squint ahead and yelled: 'Will she make it?'

"'May scrape a bit of paint off'n her sides, but I think she will,' on swered the man at the wheel.

"'Can't have that!' roared Old Stormalong. 'All hands over and soap the sides . . . put on an extra heavy coat on the starboard.'

"The next minute me and the rest of the crew was plasterin' the sides of the Courser with all the soap we had on board and she eased through without a bit of trouble. Of course, it was such a tight fit that the Dover cliffs scraped every bit of soap off the starboard side. Ever since those cliffs have been pure white . . . that's our soap still clingin' to 'em. Sure it is! Next time you go through the channel take a look at the waves. They're still a bit foamy from that same soap!"

ART ARNOLD'S COUSIN FROM UTAH Sees a "torture test"

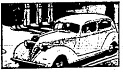
"Believe me," he writes, "I KNOW Hudson and Terraplane are the No. 1 CARS. I saw what they did on the Salt Flats"

"I saw a LOW PRICED car beat the best any closed car had ever done before! That 1937 Terraplane . . . a stock car, mind you, picked at random by the American Automobile Association Contest Board officials . . . went 1,000 miles out there on those great Salt Flats, averaging 86.54 miles an hour! What a 'torture test' of endurance.

2104 MILES
87.67 M.P.H.

"Then a Hudson . . . 2104 miles in 24 hours! Out here, we've seen a lot of stock cars come to the Salt Flats and try for that 24-hour record . . . the prize of them all. But none ever touched what we saw that 1937 Hudson do! 87.67 miles an hour . . . for a full day and night! 32 official records for Hudson . . . on top of 8 for Terraplane!



"Then those California records! Terraplane beat every other leading low priced car . . . and Hudson beat every other Eight . . . in the Los Angeles-Yosemite Economy Run. And then . . . the Wrightwood Canyon climb! Up 9 wicked, twisting miles in 8 minutes, 20 seconds for Terraplane; 8 minutes, 0.4 seconds for an official Hudson record.

"You can bet it's Hudson for me! Those people know how to build automobiles, Art. More power. More size and room. More economy and safety and endurance than any other cars anywhere near them in price, proved in official tests. I've got mine . . . and once you drive one, you'll say it's your No. 1 CAR, too! See if you don't!"

No. 1 Cars of the Low and Moderate Price Fields

- No. 1 Wheelbases . . . 117 inches in Terraplane; 122 and 129 inches in Hudson.
- No. 1 Horsepower . . . 96 and 101 in Terraplane; 101, 107 and 122 in Hudson. Double carburetion in Super Terraplane and all Hudson Sixes and Eights.
- No. 1 Roominess . . . 53 full inches of front seat comfort for three.
- No. 1 Driving Ease . . . with exclusive Selective Automatic Shift (an optional extra).
- No. 1 Safety . . . with exclusive Duo-Automatic Hydraulic Brakes and bodies all of steel, including roofs. New Double-Drop "2 X" Frame.
- No. 1 Economy . . . 22 miles per gallon for Terraplane; 22.71 for Hudson in Los Angeles-Yosemite Economy Run.

Hydraulic Hill Hold, optional extra on all models—48 models—choice of 12 beautiful colors . . . also a complete line of Terraplane Commercial Cars.

CROOKSTON WINS PITCHERS' DUEL FROM PROWLERS

Locals Held to No Runs, No Hits in Contest Last Thursday

A ball game at Crookston last Thursday in which the Lincoln high school Prowlers were defeated 2-0 when Crookston scored twice in the last inning, was featured by the sensational performance of Floyd Barnes, 17-year-old Crookston hurler, who held the local boys to no runs and no hits.

Sahl, pitching for the Prowlers, also distinguished himself by striking out twelve batters in the seven-inning game, while Barnes struck out 16. Crookston drove in three hits in the last inning, making a total of five for the contest.

The Warren high school team will oppose the Prowlers on the fair grounds diamond this afternoon at 4 o'clock. A return game will be played at Warren next Tuesday afternoon, and a contest has been scheduled at Climax next Thursday.

Engaging in another pitchers' duel Tuesday afternoon, the Prowlers defeated Goodridge 2 to 0, scoring the winning runs in the first inning. The locals made a total of four hits off Alvin Halvorson, while Goodridge got one hit off Holmquist in four innings and none off Hensrud in three.

Cong. Buckler Criticizes Shipstead's Court Stand

Rep. R. T. Buckler, of Crookston, last Thursday critized opposition of Senator Henrik Shipstead, Minnesota Farmer-Laborite, to the president's court re-organization plan.

"I don't think Senator Shipstead is acting in accordance with the constituency in Minnesota and certainly not in accord with the people who voted for him," Buckler said.

Buckler, like three other Farmer-Labor colleagues in the house, favors Mr. Roosevelt's court program.

Rehabilitation Agency Has No More Seedlings

With over a million seedlings recently placed in the hands of Minnesota farmers who wish to restore their drought-killed woodlots, the supply of seedlings propagated by the Minnesota Rural Rehabilitation Corporation is exhausted, Lloyd I. Nelson, the Resettlement Administration's Assistant State Director of Rural Rehabilitation in Minnesota, stated this week. Orders for over 100, trees must be cancelled by the Rural Rehabilitation Corporation and the unusual demand for seedlings is an indication of how widely the importance of woodlots is recognized by farmers, Mr. Nelson said.

Argument Against Christianity

In early Christian days, when the pagan world fought the introduction of the Bible, unbelievers argued that the freaks of nature, pygmies and the like, proved the impossibility of the descent of all men from Adam.

Old Bureau Contains Copies of New York Papers 80 Years Old

Mrs. Ray Harris, 417 Duluth av. S., is the proud owner of a bureau that was given as a wedding present to her grandmother, Sarah Parkin of Jacksonville, Illinois. Historical interest is lent to the bureau owing to the fact that the drawers are lined with copies of the New York Weekly Tribune dated February 14 and March 21, 1857. The papers reveal that the inaugural of President James Buchanan had just taken place, and that the famous Dred Scott decision dealing with the slavery issue had been recently handed down. At that time the supreme court was being attacked by the Republican party and defended by the Democrats.

Anton Hall Is Rotary Speaker Tuesday Noon

Members of the local Rotary club at their luncheon Tuesday noon in the Evelyn hotel enjoyed an enlightening talk by Anton Hall on the significance of the Seventeenth of May, the Norwegian Independence day. Sixteen Boys Enrol in New Boy Scout Troop

Sixteen members were enrolled Tuesday evening in the new Boy Scout troop to be sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, with Adrian Lorentson serving as scoutmaster. The group met in the room on the second floor of the arena.

CHARLES OMMODT GIVEN TROVATTEN POST AT CAPITOL

Detroit Lakes Man Heads State Department of Agriculture

Governor Benson Thursday appointed Charles Ommodt, 41, of Detroit Lakes, to succeed R. A. Trovatten as commissioner of the state department of agriculture, dairy and foods at an annual salary of $4,600. His term for four years starts June 1.

Trovatten was notified Thursday he is not to be retained although no reason for the governor's action was given. It was said his successor had received the indorsement of the state's leading co-operatives and that he had worked closely with the governor during the recent session of the legislature.

An appointee of the late Governor Olson, Trovatten had long been identified with agricultural affairs in Minnesota. He succeeded N. J. Holmberg in 1931, the same year Ommodt was made assistant commissioner. Holmberg had served 12 years.

Mr. Ommodt was born in Lafayette county, Wisconsin, and came to Minnesota at the age of 10. He is a graduate of the South Dakota State college at Brookings, early became interested in the co-operative dairy movement and has directed farmers' creameries at Sundahl, Barnesville and Hawley in Minnesota.

At one time he was field agent for the Land O'Lakes creameries in District 11, and is a brother of Ben Ommodt, formerly of Thief River Falls. He owns a dairy farm in Mahnomen county but resides at 2283 Alden place, St. Paul.

Dr. Deputy to Retire as Bemidji College Head

Dr. M. W. Deputy, president of the Bemidji State Teachers College since its founding nearly 20 years ago, expects to retire as head of the institution by January 1, 1938, as the result of a retirement ruling adopted by the State Teachers College Board at a meeting in St. Paul. The state board, after re-electing the presidents of all six Minnesota State Teachers Colleges, including Pres. Deputy, adopted a resolution retiring staff members and employees of the colleges at the age of 68. Dr. Deputy has reached that age, as has also Dr. E. W. Bohannon of Duluth, president of the Duluth State Teachers College since its founding in 1902, who is likewise affected by the new ruling.

SAFETY PIN SAVES SMALL BOY'S LIFE

Roseau.—A safety pin is the small object given credit for saving Orvel Olson, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Knute Olson of Enstrom, near Roseau, from drowning. The boy was found hanging in a well, suspended from a nail by a safety pin in his overcoat. Orvel had gone to pump water for the stock on the Olson farm, but had discovered that a bolt needed replacement before he could pump the water. He ran to the barn to get his pliers, and a few minutes later his father, who was working nearby, heard the boy scream. Running to the well, he found his son half way down the opening, hanging on a nail by the safety pin, suspended over five feet of water. A loose board had evidently caused Orvel to fall while repairing the pump.

Mrs. Martha Overland Dies; Resident of the City for Past 25 Years

Mrs. Martha Overland, who has resided in this vicinity for thirty-one years, the past twenty-five of which have been spent in this city, died at her home, 801 Main Ave. No., Monday morning after being ill for some time. Her sister-in-law, Mrs. Alfred Flattum, was present at the time of Mrs. Overland's death, which occurred at 4:20 a. m.

Funeral rites will be conducted this afternoon at two o'clock at the Trinity Lutheran church, Rev. R. M. Fjelstad officiating, and interment will be made in Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Overland was born February 4, 1873, at Highland Prairie, Filmore county, Minnesota. She was married there in 1891 to Elias Overland, and she and her husband made their home at Highland Prairie until 1906, in which year they moved to a farm east of this city. Six years later they moved to this city, where Mrs. Overland lived for the remaining twenty-five years of her life.

Surviving relatives are her sons Einor of Big Timber, Mont., and Gordon of this city; her three sisters, Mrs. Petra Peterson of Minot, N. D., Mrs. Oscar Nipstad of Grey Cliff, Mont., and Mrs. Mary Nipstad of Ferdig, Mont.; and three brothers Alfred Flattum of this city, Clarence Flattum of Grey Cliff, Mont., and Roy Flattum of Preston. Her husband and parents preceded her in death.

Funeral Rites Today for Hilmer Bjerken

Funeral rites will be held at two o'clock this afternoon at St. Petri church, Rev. S. T. Anderson officiating, for Hilmer Bjerken who died Sunday at the home of his mother, Mrs. Peter Bjerken of Moylan township. Interment will be made in St. Petri cemetery.

Mr. Bjerken, who was thirty-nine years of age at the time of his death, was born August 21, 1897 in Norman county. He moved to Mahnomen county in 1908 and in 1912 he moved to Moylan township, where he has since made his home. He entered service in the World war at Camp Forest, Ga., October 23, 1918, serving until Febbuary, 1929, when he was honorably discharged. In 1928 he was married to Louise Hanck, who survives his death.

Other surviving relatives are his mother, Mrs. Peter Bjerken, five sisters, Mrs. George Marsh of Valley City, N. D., Mrs. Elmer Benter of Crosby, N. D., Mrs. Elmer Blair of Moylan township, and Clara and Petrina Bjerken of Moylan; and one brother Peter Bjerken of Moylan. His father preceded him in death.

Mrs. Caroline Carlson of Hazel Passes Sat.

Mrs. Caroline Carlson of Hazel died in this city Saturday at the age of fifty-nine years. Funeral services were held Tuesday at the Salem church near Malung, Rev. Herman Larson of St. Hilaire officiating, and interment was made in the Salem church cemetery.

Mrs. Carlson was born September 10, 1877, in Kenyon. She was married to Nels A. Carlson at Moland in 1895. In 1915 she and her husband and family moved to Roseau county and made their home on a farm near Malung for a number of years. They moved to their present home at Hazel in 1929.

Surviving Mrs. Carlson's death are her husband, four sons Melvin and Albert of Wannaska; Roy and Leonard of Milwaukee, Wisc.; one sister, Mrs. Sam Henderson of Malung; and fifteen grandchildren. Her parents, two brothers, four sisters preceded her in death.

Mrs. Rose Cetkowski Dies at Age of 44

Mrs. Rose Cetkowski died at her home in Rollis township Friday at the age of forty-four years.

She was born August 24, 1892, at Manistee, Mich., and at two years of age, in 1894 she moved with her family to Orleans where she resided until her marriage to Frank Cetkowski June 17, 1930, in which year she moved to Rollis township, Marshall county, where she has since made her home.

Surviving relatives are her husband, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michiel Blazejewski of Orleans, three sisters, Mrs. Helen Metzake and Kate Ludebak, both of Manistee and Theresa Blazejewski of Orleans; and four brothers, Valentine and Frank of Orleans, Nick of Alsen, N. D., and Casmer of Strandquist.

Funeral services were conducted Monday morning at St. Bernard's Catholic church, Rev. A. I. Merth officiating, and interment was made in St. Bernard's cemetery.

Clearwater Co. Awards Court House Contract

The Clearwater county board recently took action to award the general construction contract for the new court house in Bagley to the A. Bodenberg company of Duluth on its bid of $66,018. A total of nine bids were received, ranging up to $89,200. A PWA grant will aid in financing the project.

96 IN DISTRICT LEAVE WPA FOR PRIVATE JOBS

1,355 Workers in State Obtain Other Jobs During April

The extent to which private employment is providing jobs for persons who heretofore have been depending on WPA is indicated by the fact that official reports from the office of Walter Sassaman, state supervisor of employment for WPA, show that during April 1, 355 left the work relief program to take other employment. Of this total, 96 were reported from District No. 7, which includes Pennington County.

That private employment is picking up is indicated by the report for March, when 950 WPA workers found work in private industry. This is an increase of 405, and represents a total of 2,305 workers who, during the last two months, left WPA for other jobs. At the end of April, says a report by Victor Christgau, state administrator to J. H. Kovarik, director of District No. 7, there were 39,281 at work on WPA.

In the state as a whole, for all private employment, National Reemployment Service offices report 3,234 placements during April, and 2,040 during March. Of this total, NRS placed 734 workers on farms during April and 640 on farms during March, according to word from Dreng Bjornaraa, state director of the federal employment agency.

Turkey Raisers Should Watch Costs, Death Loss, Says Dr. W. A. Billings

The hope of profit in the 1937 farm turkey enterprise rests chiefly in two practices, keeping the feed costs down and avoiding excessive death loss, says Dr. W. A. Billings, extension veterinarian, University Farm, St. Paul.

The demand for poults and turkey eggs is poor and prices for them are low. Many breeding flocks have been disposed of because of the lack of a demand for either eggs or poults and the high cost of the feed necessary to maintain the flocks, states Dr. Billings. Turkey eggs, in fact, have become a drug on the market.

All these factors point to a noticeable reduction in the size of the oncoming turkey crop. Another factor influencing the size of flocks is the high price of starting feeds. Other feeds are high too, and will continue to be until the new crop comes in.

In order to keep feed costs down, the turkey producer should utilize home produced and locally mixed feeds wherever possible. Careful sanitary practices should be followed in all cases.

Growers should avoid hatching turkeys in late June or July because May hatched birds fit much better into Minnesota conditions and can be put on the market in time for Thanksgiving.

Safety Meetings Are Arranged by Highway Department June 1-10

Highway district safety meetings, at which highway department officials will carry the message of safety to every field employe of the department, have been set from June 1 to 10, inclusive, in 15 Minnesota cities, according to an announcement by W. F. Rosenwald, chief maintenance engineer.

The caravan will continue to conduct two meetings a day, at Mankato and Windom, June 3; Marshall and Willmar, June 4; Morris and St. Cloud, June 5; Duluth and Virginia, June 7; Bemidji, June 8; Crookston and Detroit Lakes, June 9, and will conclude with a single meeting at Brainerd June 10. A special program is being arranged at Bemidji.

Speakers will review "Safety Rules", "Born to Crash," "Industrial Safety", "Equipment", "Personal Injury Liability", "Safe Operation of Motor Vehicles", and "Advanced First Aid", according to subjects assigned by Mr. Rosenwald.

Research Group Says Omnibus Bill Tax Plan Would Fill State Need

With the legislature scheduled to meet in special session Monday to tackle the state tax problem again, the Minnesota Institute of Governmental Research in a special report received here today expressed the conviction that the omnibus tax program under consideration at the close of the regular session would meet the need for new state revenue during the biennium and permit a reduction in the state tax on property.

The provisions of the omnibus tax bill undoubtedly will constitute the main features of the tax program to be enacted at the special session, since members of the two houses were pretty well agreed on the sources of income to be taxed to get the needed revenue, and the report will be of considerable interest to property owners and others who have been anxious to learn the possible effect of the bill on property taxes.

The report, just made public by Harold L. Henderson, director of the Institute, is the result of a study of state revenue needs and estimated return from the various taxes proposed in the omnibus tax program as agreed upon in conference in the regular session.

Warns of Buying Seed From Outside Peddlers

The Seed Division of the Department of Agriculture, Dairy and Food cautions the seed buying public to beware of seed peddlers who drive into the state from all directions and sell alfalfa, clovers and other farm seeds at a price attractive to the buyer because it is just below what the local merchant is offering the same variety of seed for. Last year just too late to do much good, the department was notified of alfalfa seed being trucked in from Oklahoma—also seed was shipped in from Kansas. Every-one should know that alfalfa seed from the southwestern states is not adapted to Minnesota conditions.

Pour Concrete on 4-Mile Section of Highway 59

Pouring of a four-mile section of concrete on Highway 59 north from Detroit Lakes got under way early last week, and is expected to be completed by July 1. The project will close the last gap in the paving from Detroit Lakes to Erskine.

Working Students at 'U' Are Best Scholars

Students in modest financial circumstances outdo their more fortunate comrades at the University of Minnesota scholastically, Dean J. B. Johnston of the Arts college, revealed recently. From the group receiving federal aid, about 1,300 students, has come the highest ratio of good students, he declared at the recent Cap and Gown day exercises. More than twice as large a percentage were listed on the University's honor roll as from those whose parents were in the higher income groups.

Group Demands Ousting of District Officials

A delegation of 25 men from the ninth congressional district in northwestern Minnesota, Thursday asked Governor Benson to exert his influence for removal of two state employes. Without making public their reasons, the group insisted on the ouster of P. F. Starey of Detroit Lakes, maintenance engineer with the state highway department, and L. W. Patterson, superintendent of the Fergus Falls state hospital.

State Citizens Receive $52,000,000 Insurance Benefits in Past Year

Minnesota life insurance policyholders and beneficiaries were paid $52,800,000 in 1936, or $144,657 a day, according to a special compilation by the National Underwriter, weekly insurance newspaper.

This huge sum represents an increase of $1,400,000 or 3% over the 1935 total of $51,400,000. Minnesota ranked 14th in life insurance payments among all states while it is 18th in point of population. The per capita payment in 1936 was $20.04, compared to $19.75 the year before.

Minneapolis led Minnesota cities in life insurance payments in 1936 with $14,337,000 compared to $14,070,000 in 1935. Minneapolis ranked 15th among all the cities in the country. St. Paul was second in payments in Minnesota with $5,875,000 in 1936 and $5,042,000 in 1935. Duluth came third with $1,457,000.

Headlight Adjusters Short Course Opens

A short course for official headlight adjusters in Minnesota opened Monday at Dunwoody Institute, Minneapolis, under the direction of the Minnesota Highway patrol. Students, more than a hundred strong, came from all parts of the state. Allen Johnson, of Dunwoody, was chief instructor, assisted by highway patrolmen. The course will continue at two-day intervals for several weeks. Garage men, and others, who desire to become official headlight adjusters in Minnesota were urged to attend by John P. Arnoldy, chief of the patrol.

John Burke, Former N. D. Governor, Dies Friday

John Burke, 78 years old, former United States treasurer, who served three terms as governor of North Dakota and was a state Supreme court justice, died in a Rochester hospital Friday after undergoing an operation. Burke, state Supreme Court justice since 1924, was treasurer of the United States for two terms under President Wilson. He first was elected governor in 1906, and was re-elected in 1909 and 1911.

SALES OF RURAL CREDIT FARMS IN STATE SHOW GAIN

Arens Reports Sales of Almost $600,000 in Past Four Months

Sales of state-owned farm lands for the first four months of 1937 totalled $599,125.08, an increase of $191,016.85 or almost 33 1-3 per cent over the same period last year, Theodore H. Arens, conservator of the department of rural credit, announced today.

From January to April inclusive, this year, 154 whole farms have been sold by the Department at an aggregate price of $521,219.56, Mr. Arens revealed. Forty-five partial sales were made during the same period for a total of $77,905.52.

By comparison, during the first four months of last year, 97 entire farms were sold at a gross price of $342,236.00 and 36 partial tracts were disposed of for $65,874.23, total proceeds of $408,110.23 or $191,016.85 less than the aggregate sale proceeds for the same period this year, according to Mr. Arens.

In the sales thus far this year, a total acreage of 23,030 has been disposed of, as compared with 16,110 acres sold during the same period in 1936. These sales are both for cash and on contracts for deed and do not include transactions under the crop payment plan.

Under the crop payment plan an additional 94 farms, including two partial tracts, have been sold this year for the State's investment of $852,855.00 involving 16,926 acres. In 1936 the plan was slow in getting under way so that only 17 farms embracing 4,496 acres were sold for the state's investment of $214,425.28 during the first four months.

This crop payment plan, before amendment by the last legislature provided for resale only at the state's investment. Under the terms of Chapter 409 Laws of 1937, amending the crop payment act, the Conservator is authorized to make sales based on a price equal to a reasonable contract value and not on the basis of the state's investment, thus making it much easier for farmers to retain their farms. The crop payment plan permits the department to accept proceeds from one-third of the crop for a period of five years as full annual payment. If such proceeds are above the interest requirements, the difference is credited to principal and if the proceeds fail to meet the interest requirements, the difference is written off, so that a farmer is never forced to pay any more than one-third of what he can actually produce on his farm.

According to Mr. Arens, now that the crop payment plan has been simplified and the interest rate on outstanding loans and contracts has been reduced by the last legislature from 5½% to 4%, sales are expected to show an even greater ratio of increase during the remainder of the year.

Crookston Votes for Winter Sports Arena; Will Seek Aid of WPA

Crookston voters Friday approved a $25,000 bond issue for erection of a winter sports building at a special election.

The city council now will select a site for the structure, make arrangements for the sale of the bonds and start construction of the building as soon as the project is approved by the WPA.

The vote was 828 in favor of the bond issue and 560 against with voters in seven wards approving it and the eighth voting against it.

The bonds will run for a period of 20 years with the city retiring them at the rate of $1,250 each year. City officials said revenue from renting the structure is expected to finance a large share of the cost.

Plans for the building were prepared by M. O. Foss of Fergus Falls. They call for a building 128 feet wide and 284 feet long housing a regulation size hockey rink and capable of seating 2,500 persons.

When completed it will cost approximately $67,000 with the WPA contributing $42,000 of which $25,000 will be for labor.

RECORD CATCH ON LAKE MADE BY THREE TOTS

Worthington—It was nip and tuck for a while, but finally three boys, two of them only five years old and the third seven, landed the record catch of the season on Lake Okabena, a 27½ inch buffalo weighing five pounds, 14 ounces. No adults were nearby when the catch was made from the landing in front of the Cherry Point store. The three youngsters, after a terrific struggle, hauled the catch clear of the water without aid. Delirious with joy, they hot footed it to the store, dragging the monster fish along. "Now you can't keep them away from the water," commented the store owner. The fish was caught on single worm bait, but it took the combined efforts of the three boys to haul him in. For a time, there was some doubt as to whether the boys or the fish would win.

PENNINGTON CO. TO OBTAIN $52,161 IN STATE ALLOTMENT

Granted $39,750 in Gas Tax Funds and $12,411 From One-Mill Tax

The one cent increase in the gas tax, voted by the last legislature, results in the largest allotment of funds since the law went into effect in 1925. More than six and a half million dollars in state money was allotted to 87 Minnesota counties for highway purposes in the form of state aid. Allocations were made last week by the state board of allotment, consisting of State Treasurer C. A. Halverson, State Auditor Stafford King and N. W. Elsberg, state highway commissioner.

Pennington county will receive $39,750 in its gas tax allotment and $12,411 from the one-mill tax.

The fund consisted of $1,262,750 of the revenue from the one-mill road and bridge levy and $5,300,000 which constitutes the counties' share of gasoline tax revenue.

For the first time in Minnesota history, the $5,300,000 in gasoline tax money allocated to the counties may be expended entirely upon county roads by the county governments, or any part of it up to 50 per cent may be re-allocated by the county governments to the townships for township roads. This, however, is a matter of discretion left entirely to the county boards.

This year the counties will also share in the increased highway revenue made possible by the one-cent additional gasoline tax enacted by the last legislature. Their share of this additional revenue is estimated at about $800,000, and with it most of the counties can match the $550,000 in federal secondary and feeder road money which this year, for the first time, is to be allotted to the counties rather than the state for secondary road construction. The counties are required to match this $550,000 federal money dollar for dollar and, in addition, provide necessary right of way, engineering and supervision service, estimated to cost them an additional $250,000.

Without the additional gas tax revenue, most counties were in danger of being unable to take advantage of the new federal assistance because anticipated revenues had already been obligated for promised projects. Had this situation prevailed, few counties would have been in a position to pass along any funds whatever to the townships under the new law.

The state board of allotment's allocations, in even dollars, to other counties in the two funds include Marshall, $84,161; Red Lake $52,161; Roseau, $91,011; and Polk, $133,148.

562 MILLION PIKE EGGS IN HATCHERIES

More than 562 million walleyed pike eggs are ready in Minnesota's seven hatcheries, according to Dr. Thaddeus Surber, state commissioner of propagation. Dr. Surber said he expects 60 per cent of the eggs will hatch successfully. The normal hatch is 70 per cent, but changeable weather conditions this year will mean a smaller hatch, Dr. Surber stated.

LINCOLN HIGH SCHOOL PROGRESS

PIRATES DEFEAT PROWLER NINE 1 TO 0 THURSDAY

Barnes Twirles Mates to 1-0 Shut-out Over Local Swatters

The bizarre Mr. Barnes—meaning Brother Floyd of Crookston—is in again. That is to say, he is back in the hearts of his comrades and fans, but he still remains a thorn to rabid local baseball followers. There was a time last winter when Barnes, because of leading his team to inglorious defeat at the basketball tourney here, was hardly higher than deuces low. He returned in this fan's favor with a bang by whitewashing the Prowlers 1 to 0, by twirling a no-hit, no-run baseball game at Crookston last Thursday.

Behind perfect support, Barnes' willowy flipper set down Lee's Lincoln Larrupers for the complete seven innings without a single player reaching the initial sack. Barnes left sixteen strikeouts in his wake; striking out every batter who faced him at least once. He held the Leemen in the palm of his hand all the way as he enticed the Prowlers to strike at bad balls which put them down one-two-three, usually via the strikeout route.

The Pirates had no easy time copping the game despite Barnes' gilt edged elbowing as "Hemmy" Sahl allowed only one run and three hits besides fanning twelve and holding the Polk county lads hitless for five frames. Barnes had the better of the duel outside of the hit and run column as Sahl struck out three less, issued three passes, and "dusted off" one Pirate batsman.

The first hit of the ball game occurred in the sixth inning when Ralph Lundeberg rapped out a single.

Crookston scored its first and only run in the last of the seventh. Barnes led off with a single and pilfered the second bag. C. Lee was safe at first when Roy Lee, "hot corner" guardian, juggled his grounder for an error. Sahl worked himself out of a difficult spot by whiffing Reil and Morlan but H. Lundeberg stowed the game away for the stellar pitching efforts will go for naught.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PROM IS HELD FRIDAY EVENING

Morey's Cadets Furnish Music for Annual Event

The annual Junior Senior Prom was held in the Sons of Norway hall, Friday evening, May fourteen at nine o'clock. The theme carried out was that of an old colonial ball room. The main colors being blue, gold and shell pink. The walls were done in blue construction paper handpainted with gold strips. Gay shell pink festoon hung from the walls to the center where a chandelier, bedecked in shell pink and blue streamers shed a soft blue light upon the dancers. The stage was fixed as a terrace with carpeted steps banked with potted ferns and huge crimson artificial flowers. In the back of the orchestra, French doors let to a painted woodland scene. Black and white silhouettes of old fashioned characters ornamented the three walls.

Punch was served by three old-fashioned raven haired maidens of the Sophomore class. They were, Dorothy Robarge, Beatrix Peterson, and Mary Mayor-Oaks. The punch consisted of ginger ale mixed with oranges, lemons, sugar and crushed pineapple. Small chocolate cookies and wafers were served on silver trays. The girls waited on the table which was covered with a lace table cloth. Glass candlesticks with lighted tapers graced the table with a cut glass punch bowl between them.

At the door a colored darky, Robert Fosker, announced the couples as they entered the ball room.

The entertainment theme was carried out at various intervals in the dancing. Robert Quale was the colonial master of ceremonies who announced the docking of the show boat and that the dancers were to have a sample of their active entertainment. LeRoy Rupprecht played his Hawaiian guitar and yodeled. The next actor was Ralph Gustafson, in the disguise of a shiftless old darky who sang "Old Man River". Later on in the evening Lois Ann Peterson did a part shadow waltz and tap dance.

Morey's Cadets the orchestra was at its best for the small crowd that attended. The soft colored lights, the ballroom atmosphere, and the long gowns worn by the girls lent a festive atmosphere to the occasion and was pronounced a huge success by all.

DISTRICT TRACK MEET AT GRAND FORKS SATURDAY

Captain Adkins Is Chief Threat of Local Squad

The annual district track meet will be held this year in combination with an intercollegiate meet at the University Stadium in Grand Forks, N. D. The preliminaries are scheduled to take place at 9:30 Saturday morning. Those boys who qualify in the winning will be entered in the meet. Last year Crookston was first, but only winning over the local team by two points, while this season things look favorable for the Prowlers.

The boys who will represent Lincoln High School in the various events are listed below:

100 yard dash—Jack Adkins, Selmer Dicken, Pomeroy Hill.
220 yard dash—James Peterson, Lynn Booren, Milt Nesse.
440 yard run—Clarence Haug, James Peterson, Lynn Booren.
880 yard run—Selmer Christofferson, Selmer Dicken, Melvin Anseby.
High Hurdles—Don Lorentson, Gordon Caldis, Elmer Doran.
Low Hurdles—Jack Adkins, Pomeroy Hill, Don Lorentson.
High Jump—Melroy Nelson, Elmer Doran, Jack Granum.
Broad Jump—Milt Nesse, Pomeroy Hill, Elmer Doran.
Pole Vault—Pomeroy Hill, Bob Hanson, Melroy Nelson.
Shot put—Jack Adkins, Lenny Helquist, Milt Nesse.
Discus—Lenny Helquist, Milt Nesse, Gordon Caldis.

The winners in the respective events will compete in the regional meet at Bemidji on Saturday, May 29.

LOCALS VS. WARREN IN SECOND HOME DIAMOND CONTEST

Sahl Slated to Take Mound Against Warren Hurler in Second Start

The Prowlers will seek to extend their string of victories over Warren Athletic aggregations when the baseball squad meets the Ponies this afternoon at the fair grounds. Helmer Sahl is slated to pitch for the locals. A pitching duel is in prospect as the Warren twirler set down a strong Climax nine recently to the tune of 7 to 1.

Selmer Christopherson is expected to complete the Leemen's battery with Ruben Mickelson at first, Wallace Tunberg at second, Roy Lee at third and Selmer Dicken at short, forming the inner works. Lynn Booren, Milt Nesse, Cliff Oleson, Jack Adkins, Don Lorentson, Alvin Dicken and Alphen Berggren may do chores as "gardeners" although the regular positions in the outfield are not definitely settled.

Helquist has first call as relief chucker if Sahl fails to go the route. Marvin Heustad, promising sophomore right hander, will be ready to take the mound if occasion demands to give the Leemen three right hander hurlers of high calibre.

Tomorrow evening another annual Senior Class Play will be presented. The Seniors have been hard at work for several weeks on their version of the stage production "Big Hearted Herbert". This play received wide acclaim in all the large cities in which it appeared. The cast is well picked and drilled by Miss Olson. All arrangements have been completed to make this performance the best class play ever presented. The only thing needed now is the support of the public. Every student can spare the twenty cents for a ticket. Buy one now, help the Seniors put this over in a big way. The receipt help to pay for your Prowler. Buy now!

PROGRESS INTERVIEWS

The following is an interview given by a member of the four Nelson Brothers troupe to a member of the Progress staff.

Name: Sanford Nelson.

Home: Olivia, Minnesota.

How long have you been doing this work: Two years.

What was your most embarrassing moment in appearing before an audience: I believe it was when our bottles are not properly filled with water, which in such a case, allows no tune to be played—but I believe the most embarrassing moment was off stage, when I went into the Y. W. C. A. and asked for rooms for the Four Nelson Brothers.

What is your hobby: Tennis and the piano.

How do you travel: By car, but I don't like to travel.

What is your favorite instrument to play: The trumpet or the piano.

Would you like to form an orchestra, or become a soloist: No, that would be hard work.

Have you ever tried composing and publishing songs: No, but we do compose a few ditties for ourselves and make our own musical arrangements.

How many instruments does your troupe possess: Forty. One of my brothers can play around thirty different instruments.

What type instruments do you like best: The brass—We have only a very few reed or string ones.

Do you plan to continue with this work: No. One brother and I plan to return to college and finish, my three brothers plan to be teachers. I want to go into embalming.

You won out first in Major Bowes Amateur hour did you not: Yes, we toured the eastern states with one of his units.

Are you with the Northwest Assemblies: No we're independent.

Have you been on vaudeville: Yes, in theatres.

How many programs do you average a day: four.

MAY MORSELS

Maybe it's a grand up this idea of congratulating the freshmen on their paper last week but we'll do it without much fuss 'cause it really was fair to middling or even better, especially that bit about spring fever—but ain't it the truth, though?

Freshmen, oh freshmen! What would this high school be without you? Answer: A greatly improved institution. However, freshmen are rather against things—for instance Dick H. Now when he and Dorothy R. go a prancing down the lanes and stuff, our hearts are all elevated, the birds sing more gaily, the sun shines brighter and Dorothy and Dick just prance onward. P. S. They hold hands, too.

You know, just lots and heaps and piles of gossip coagulate at Proms and Masquerades. At first glance whom do you suppose we saw? Lovey C. and Jimmy P.? No! Marion O. and Don A.? No! Jesse H. and Mae A.? No! Spose I'll have to tell you all or else a mess of sobbing will commence. Well, the first ones we saw were Mary C. Ivan H!!

From the very beginning of the Prom, we all noticed that something was wrong so we all looked about a lot and then we began turning things upside down and finally we discovered the trouble. Don L. had slugged it and you can imagine how depressed all the girls were.

"All is not gold that glitters." Let not such be said of Clutch. If Those beautiful glittering curls of his were glittering to beat the band when he and Eileen R. were romping around Friday night. What's more, it's said that they had a glittering good time.

Harold Tsen hasn't anything over on Ewing M. Not at all he hasn't. Just you mention one girl who would pass up a ride in his new Model T Ford De Luxe Sedan. But Alma H. "Toots" to you is the girl who really rates. So the rest of you can just walk and walk some more and see if you get picked up. Ten to one you don't!

"Bones" has got a girl!!, "Bones" has got a girl!!, Yes, they look so darn cute like when they're together. Do you know why? 'Cause he's such a nice big blonde and she is a little dark whopper. (Beatrice P.) It's really very fascinating devastating or something.

Kinda thought you might want to know: Lois M. and Selmer C. were two of the grand total of 6 or 8 Seniors at the Prom. (more or less)

Who says the birds don't sing the best at 4 to 5 in the morning? All right, Wes. [illegible]

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

Miss Holquist's General Science classes are reviewing by means of typed sheets.

Mrs. Korstad's mathematics classes are reviewing by the aid of special question.

The Sophomore English classes are studying Julius Caesar this week.

Northrop News

The third grade pupils conducted an art exhibit Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Northrop school. Parents were invited as well as the other grades to view the exhibit. One hundred pictures were exhibited as well as several art books, all of which have been executed by the third grade pupils. Dale Larson, Charles Hall, Pershing Nelson and Anita Stoughton, the knights and ladies chosen by the pupils, acted as guides.

Four more third grade pupils have received Palmer method pins this last six weeks period. They are, Mary Ann Grendahl, Richard Jogora, Dale Larson, and George McReynolds.

PROWLERETTE'S CORNER

Hi ho! The Prom's an event of the past. All the gowns were so alluringly swishy and colorful—I didn't have time to note posture. But with all the doings to be crowded into an altogether too skimpy three week period—ooh my! Here's the way it looks on a memo pad:

H. S. Girls Track Meet—May 21.
Activity Banquet—May 25
H. S. Girls Pintos and Mickies—May 26.
H. S. Girls Don Docks and Minnies—May 27.
Playoff for the winners of kittenballers—May 31.

Tennis Tourney May 31—June 1. Remember, prowlerettes, all girls who enter the tournament, win or lose, get 25 points toward the "L". The winners take first 100 points, second 75 points, and third 50 points. Time and points to be handed in for skating (ice not roller), bicycling, hiking, and such officially closes May 28.

Oh yes! The garland of posies for good posture in the estimation of the faculty is placed on the deserving head of Junior, Yvonne Anderson. Good—girl,—Yvonne,—but don't let the slump bug bite you—we like you as is!

Going to be plenty contenders for the tennis courts this summer—we're all learning. Down with the thumb twiddling era, says I! Huh? Thumb whirling at six in the morning! Well, I am losing weight, and I don't skimp on meals either—ah bliss!

Next I'm going to take in a steak fry after an evening game—tender steak broiled over coals—oh dear! I feel as if I had seen something—one imbibing lemon—must stop.

Service! I mean "toughall"—shucks, 'bye. See you at six—one eye open and one closed.

Yvonne Anderson, prominent Junior girl was chosen by the faculty to be Lincoln High School's Venus DeMilo. Her posture is very nearly perfect. She won the race by a very small margin—both Anna Hanson and Esther Haughom having one point less than Yvonne. Don't let a "slump bug" bite you ever, because we like you the way you are.

MUSIC NOTES

When the honor students of the senior class were chosen, there was much stress laid on the fact that they had all been very active in extra curricular activities. The high school band has become one of the most important organizations in school this year and although there are only six seniors as members of the band, they will be missed next year.

Two solo clarinet players, Archie Monson and Gordon Winger, will leave two important positions open. [illegible] player, will leave a position which will be difficult to fill adequately. Bruce has also been president of the band for the past year. It will also be hard to fill Lois Morell's place as bass drummer. Lois was also an officer of the band, holding the office of secretary. Julien Provencher, saxophone player, and Vivian Havel, who plays the French horn, will both leave important positions open. These six seniors have been very faithful in their band work this year, and although they have all taken part in band work in former years, that is the first time they will receive any real recognition of their efforts.

Although it will be possible to fill their positions by younger students who are taking lessons on various instruments, these experienced members will be missed greatly.

WIND-CHILL

All our Junior lads and lassies certainly blossomed out in fine style at the Prom.

Mr. Harrison claims that if a person lives to be eleven years old he will very possibly live the rest of his life. Very fine deduction.

Seen at the Prom: Marion D. not dancing with "home town" talent. Now its your turn "Da".

We hear Allyn Cassel's band is coming to town on graduation night. Hot dawg!

Seasons early records for fishing: Mr. Lee 17 (?) Mr. Montague 1 (positive).

Flash! Senior day is coming. Juniors rule the school for a change.

Only three weeks left! How time flies or flows or flits.

NELSON QUARTET OFFERS ASSEMBLY MUSICAL PROGRAM

Instrumental Numbers and Novelty Acts Receive High Acclaim

Last Thursday afternoon, May 13, the students of Lincoln High School were given the opportunity to hear the most versatile and interesting group of musicians who have ever appeared on our high school assembly programs. This extraordinary group is the Four Nelson Brothers, four brothers who can play any sort of an instrument and can get music out of almost anything. These boys appeared on Major Bowes Amateur Hour last year, and have since been touring the country, appearing in all the larger cities in America and Canada where they received great acclaim. They are natives of Minnesota, and are sometimes called the Minnesota Minstrels.

Their act was filled with humor and their program had so many variations that they were able to keep the students interested for one solid hour and when it was over everyone wanted to hear more. The boys have forty instruments, including brass, reed, toy and stringed instruments, and they are masters on all of them. One of their many novelties was as follows: The four boys stood in a circle each playing a slide trombone. The trombones were all hooked together in the center and were played by the boys moving backwards and forwards to make the different notes. While doing this one of the four was playing a piano accordion and another was blowing a cornet while the third fingered the cornet for the second.

Another difficult feat was the playing of cornets and trombones by blowing into a narrow rubber connected with the mouth piece of the horn and in this manner playing the instruments. They also played real music in toy horns, saws, bottles, and balloons.

Perhaps the most difficult of all their acts was the last one. In this act each boy was blowing one instrument and fingering another, a feat which required great skill and concentration. One boy was seated, playing a piano accordion, and blowing a cornet, another blew a clarinet and fingered a cornet, the third fingered the clarinet and blew a baritone horn, and the fourth fingered the baritone and blew a trombone, sliding the trombone with his foot.

The students appreciated this act so much that we hope it will be possible to get the four Nelson brothers to appear in this city again some time in the future.

"Thumbnails of Seniors"

Gertrude Nohre
O. G. Winger

Her favorite subject is Chemistry, can you imagine it; and a girl at that! Gertrude Nohre was born in Holt, Minnesota, April 28, 1919. She has attended Lincoln High but one year and the Gertrude we know is very quiet and reserved but you never can tell—? (I think I've got something there!) Her musical tastes are satisfied by Al Duncan playing "Moonlight and Shadows". Gertrude's favorite screen friends are William Powell and Myrna Loy. She took a fancy to the screen version of "Ramona". "Jane Eyre" is underlined in red ink on her list of books and likewise is the author, Charlotte Bronte. Her radio dial often seeks out a parade which is a hit with her. Banana cream pie is most delicious in the line of foods. Unlike most women, she fails to live up to their life long tradition of being late. She hopes to be a successful private secretary some day.

November 26, 1919 was quite an eventful day in Kennedy, Minnesota. A boy was born, and later christened Gordon Jerome Winger. Since that eventful day Gordon has completed eleven years of school and his main ambition is to increase that number to twelve and to graduate! He is known as O. G. to his friends. "The Tale of Two Cities" by Dickens is his favorite book and author (could it be possible that he had to read it for a book report?). Gordon's favorite past time is listening to the radio and prefers Wayne King playing, "Little Old Lady". He prefers social science to any other subject, apple pie to any other desert, the Jello program to any other radio program, and Popeye to any other newspaper interest. Gordon is a member of the school band.

Hanscomb Players Present Varied Stage Program

Bob Hanscomb and his internationally famous company will soon appear at the Municipal Auditorium, as another member on the Northwest Assemblies Programs. He heads a cast of six players who present a variety of plays, comedies, comedy-dramas, and others. Bob Hanscomb will be remembered throughout the middlewest for his excellent works with "Sunny" and the "Late Christopher Bean" two years ago. Among others, Hanscomb will offer for next year the following plays all of which have been produced at least one season in school assemblies. Among those which have been presented are "Fletcher and Son", "Wings", "Back Number", "The End of the Circle", and "The New Road". These productions are all recommended very highly. The play which they will present at our assembly is entitled "His Son's Father."

SENIORS CAPTURE INTERCLASS TITLE JUNIORS SECOND

Winners to Participate in District Meet Sat.

In the interclass track meet held last week the Seniors emerged victorious by a wide margin. The upper class led with eighty-one points followed by the Juniors with sixty-six, the Sophs with twenty and the Frosh trailing with six points. This meet was conducted to see who would make the trip to Grand Forks for the district tangle. Pomeroy Hill, Junior flash, was high point man with twenty-three points, Capt. Adkins and Nesse were tied for the second honors with nineteen points. Adkins won three first places. The Sophomores honors were held up mainly by Earl Nicholson who scored thirteen of his classes twenty points. Other leading scorers were Caldis with fifteen points, Hanson with twelve and Peterson and Doran who each got eleven. Helquist won out in the weight events winning both shot and discus. The track team that will represent Lincoln High at Grand Forks Saturday will be picked from the winners of these events.

Scoring for the meet was figured on a 5-4-3-2 basis with first place getting five points.

100 yard dash: 1. Adkins; 2. Dicken; 3. Hill; 3. Christofferson; 5. Doran.
220 yard dash: 1. Adkins; 2. M. Nesse; 3. Peterson; 4. Hill; 5. Doran.
440 yard dash: 1. Haug; 2. J. Peterson; 3. Anseby; 4. Stadum
880 yards: 1. Christofferson; 2. Dicken; 3. Hanson; 4. Erickson; 5. Nicholsono.
Low Hurdles: 1. Adkins; 2. Caldis; 3. Hill; 4. Sorenson; 5. Oleson.
High Hurdles: 1. Caldis; 2. Nicholson; 3. Doran.
Broad jump: 1. Nesse, Hill, Nicholson (tie) 2. Doran; 3. Peterson.
High Jump: 1. Nicholson; 2. Doran; 3. Meloy Nelson and Salveson (tie).
Pole vault. 1. Hill; 2. Hanson; 3. Nesse; 4. Nelson; 5. Battleson.
Shot put: 1. Helquist; 2. Adkins; 3. Nesse; 4. Hill; 5. Stadum.
Discus: 1. Helquist; 2. Nesse; 3. Caldis; 4. Hill.
Javelin: 1. Hanson; 2. Peterson; 3. Caldis; 4. Hill; 5. Haug.

With all the boys sprouting out with these flashy spring ties they must have some meaning with them—at least we've found out.

Red means—He has a steady girl
Blue means—He is looking for a girl.
Yellow means—He is a woman hater.
Gray means—A romance is fading.
Black means—His girl gave him the air.
Green means—A new romance is sprouting.
What color is he wearing girls?

SENIORS PRESENT ANNUAL CLASS PLAY, FRIDAY

"Big Hearted Herbert" Three Act Comedy Given Tomorrow

Under the direction of Miss Helen Margaret Olson, the seniors have completed their work on the senior class play and are ready to present it Friday, May 21 at 2:15 p. m. and 8:00 p. m.

The play is entitled "Big Hearted Herbert" written by Sophie Kerr and Anna S. Richardson. It is a comedy farce with the plot woven around Herbert Kalness who, he himself insists, is just a plain man who has no respect for fol-de-ral or the superfluous (so he thinks,) fineries of Society life. He insists he is just a plain man who has worked ever since he was a boy. It is a comedy full of laughs for everyone.

The characters in the order of their first appearance are as follows:

Herbert Kalness—Milton Nesse
Robert Kalness—Bruce Prichard
Elizabeth Kalness—Vivian Havel
Martha—Marjorie Matheson
Herbert Kalness, Jr.—Archie Monson
Alice Kalness—Margaret Rae Mont
Andrew Goodrich—Alfred Nelson
Amy Lawrence—Brunell Erickson
Jim Lawrence—Donald Olson
Mr. Goodrich—Leonard Helquist
Mrs. Goodrich—Elizabeth Dahlen
Mr. Havens—James Peterson
Mrs. Havens—Solveig Fjelstad

Herbert Kalness, a self-made business man, cannot adapt himself to modern life, and insists that his family be brought up according to the plain traditions. In the factory he is a great man, but at home he is almost unbearable. Success in his factory has made him an egotist thinking only of himself. He loathes any men who have been to college and when he finds out that his son, Junior, is planning to go to college to study to be an engineer, he is almost out of his mind with rage. Matters come to a crisis when he learns that Alice, his daughter, is engaged to a young man from Harvard College. He disgraces his entire family when he practically chases Alice's guest from the house.

His hard-working wife tries hard to settle the differences between her husband and her children. To strengthen their family tie and to make Herbert come to his senses, Mrs. Kalness embarrasses Herbert in front of his friends by taking his plain traditions literally.

This charming, hilarious three act story in form of a play entitled "Big Hearted Herbert" will give the audience plenty of laughs.

The cast themselves are not the only ones who have been working hard to get the play ready for presentation. The others include:

Stage manager—Marion Green
Advertising manager—Lois Morell
Prompters—Margaret Aasen and Eleanor Christofferson.

Those who made posters for the play include Mae Lindquist and Bernice Vignes, Hettie Gustafson, Madeline Gunderson, Lois Morell, Clifford VeVea and Roberta Daily.

The seniors will present this play at the municipal auditorium Friday night at 8 o'clock, and the matinee in the afternoon at 2:15 o'clock. The admission prices are 40c for adults and 20c for students, 10c for children at the matinee Friday afternoon. Everyone is urged to come and get their money's worth of laughs and entertainment.

The Lincoln high school band will play a concert immediately preceding the evening performance.

Sign of Money Coming

It is lucky when the palm of the right hand itches; it is a sign of money coming.

RIVER VALLEY

The last regular meeting of the R. V. Forum was held Tuesday, May 11, 1937. The meeting was called to order by Irene Gustafson acting as chairman. Gilbert Brenseth was elected chairman, Thorman Lunden, vice chairman, Clifford Thompson, secretary. The question of the meeting in Oklee was brought up by Mr. Denning, but Mr. Kolestrand made a motion seconded by Mr. Radniecki that the discussion be postponed until next Tuesday due to the absence of chairman Mr. Foss. —Miss Solie from Thief River Falls gave a short talk on 4-H club work and its different fields, a discussion followed, and motion made by Mr. Radniecki to hold a meeting here May 28 at 8 p. m. for the possibility of organizing a club in this vicinity.

Two songs were then offered by Sidney Hindahl and Oscar Mostrum. Remarks by Mr. Denning on the subject of Cooperation and its benefits. The debate "The pen is mightier than the Sword" was changed to a discussion by Olaf Dahlen and Mr. Anderson Pro., Mr. Kolestrand and Mr. Denning, Con. Edwin Gordon reported that the W. P. A. hall project has been accepted at Washington, D. C., and it was decided that a meeting be held at River Valley in the afternoon Friday. Roy Gunderson sang a song.

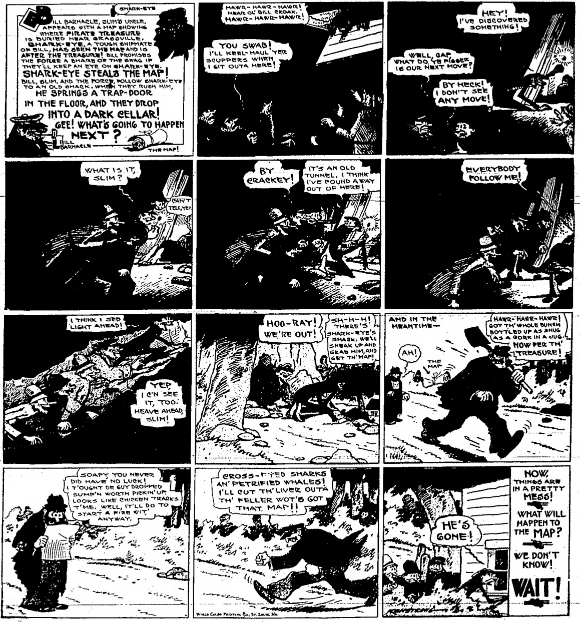
GEE, TOMMY, YOU'RE A BRIGHT BOY!
YEH, MA RUBS ME WIT MUSTARD. DAT MAKES ME SMART.

SLIM JIM AND THE FORCE



SHARK-EYE
BILL BARNACLE, SLIM'S UNCLE, APPEARS WITH A MAP SHOWING WHERE PIRATE TREASURE IS BURIED NEAR GRASSVILLE. SHARK-EYE, A TOUGH SHIPMATE OF BILL, HAS SEEN THE MAP AND IS AFTER THE TREASURE! BILL PROMISES THE FORCE A SHARE OF THE SWAG IF THEY'LL KEEP AN EYE ON SHARK-EYE. SHARK-EYE STEALS THE MAP! BILL, SLIM, AND THE FORCE, FOLLOW SHARK-EYE TO AN OLD SHACK. WHEN THEY RUSH HIM, HE SPRINGS A TRAP-DOOR IN THE FLOOR, AND THEY DROP INTO A DARK CELLAR! GEE! WHAT'S GOING TO HAPPEN NEXT?
BILL BARNACLE
THE MAP!
HAWR-HAWR-HAWR! HEAR OL' BILL CROAK, HAWR-HAWR-HAWR!
YOU SWAB! I'LL KEEL-HAUL YER SCUPPERS WHEN I GIT OUTA HERE!
HEY! I'VE DISCOVERED SOMETHING!
WELL, CAP WHAT DO YE FIGGER IS OUR NEXT MOVE?
BY HECK! I DON'T SEE ANY MOVE!
WHAT IS IT, SLIM?
CAN'T TELL, YET!
BY CRACKEY!
IT'S AN OLD TUNNEL, I THINK I'VE FOUND A WAY OUT OF HERE!
EVERYBODY FOLLOW ME!
I THINK I SEE LIGHT AHEAD!
YEP, I C'N SEE IT, TOO. HEAVE AHEAD, SLIM!
HOO-RAY! WE'RE OUT!
SH-H-H! THERE'S SHARK-EYE'S SHACK. WE'LL SNEAK UP AND GRAB HIM, AND GET TH' MAP!
AND IN THE MEANTIME—
HAWR-HAWR-HAWR! GOT TH' WHOLE BUNCH BOTTLED UP AS SNUG AS A CORK IN A JUG. NOW FER TH' TREASURE!
AH!
THE MAP
SOAPY YOU NEVER DID HAVE NO LUCK! I T'OUGHT DE GUY DROPPED SUMP'N WORTH PICKIN' UP. LOOKS LIKE CHICKEN TRACKS T'ME. WELL, IT'LL DO TO START A FIRE WIT, ANYWAY.
CROSS-EYED SHARKS AN' PETRIFIED WHALES! I'LL CUT TH' LIVER OUTA TH' FELLER WOT'S GOT THAT MAP!!
HE'S GONE!
NOW, THINGS ARE IN A PRETTY MESS! WHAT WILL HAPPEN TO THE MAP? WE DON'T KNOW! WAIT!

SAFETY COUNCIL ASKS MOTORISTS TO SUPPORT WORK

To Seek Annual Membership Fee of 12 Cents From Each Driver

A membership campaign to secure funds for traffic safety educational work in Minnesota and to stimulate interest in continuation of activities to save life and limb on highways, was announced today by A. V. Rohweder of Duluth, chairman of the Minnesota public safety committee.

Each motorist in Minnesota, Rohweder said, will be asked to become a supporting safety committee member by payment of a twelve-cents-a-year membership fee to finance the work of the state, city and county safety groups. Of the twelve cents, seven cents will be for city and county public safety work and five cents for the work of the state committee.

The Minnesota Public Safety Committee was financed for some time by federal funds and more recently by funds allotted by the state executive council. The city and county committees, in most instances, have operated on a purely volunteer basis.

With the legislature taking no action toward appropriation of funds for safety work the activity of the state group, which has led the battle against accidents, is threatened. The method for receiving memberships will be announced later.

With educational activity at a high point in the last three years, the state traffic death rate is but little more than half of the national average. For the past three years, Minnesota has won awards in the national traffic safety contest sponsored by the National Safety Council.

BOY DROWNS IN OPEN SILO PIT

Long Prairie—The two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Strom of Bruce township drowned last week at their home in a six foot deep silo pit which contained three or four feet of water as a result of heavy rains. Marvin, the lad, was playing in the yard while his mother hung out clothes and during her absence of not more than 15 minutes, he disappeared. Mrs. Strom's search for him ended at the open silo pit, near the edge of which Marvin had evidently stopped and tumbled head first into the water. Failing to revive her son after taking him from the pit and applying first aid, Mrs. Strom carried him to the Jake Kedrowski farm, a half a mile away. Mr. Kedrowski was taking the mother and son to a doctor in Swanville when Mr. Strom returned from town. Nothing could be done for the boy, who had, no doubt, died before being taken from the pit.

FARMERS, HUNTERS TO JOIN IN GAME CONTROL PROGRAM

Would Sell Tickets to Limited Number of Hunters in Given Area

A comprehensive plan providing for more harmonious farmer-hunter relationship, for better hunting, and for soil conservation on Minnesota farms is now under way and will probably be in operation within a year, according to Conservation Commissioner E. V. Willard.

Nearly 100 farmers on a 30,000 acre area near Faribault will cooperate with the department of conservation, the University of Minnesota, and the United States soil conservation service in a scientific game management program.

The lack of adequate public hunting grounds and the belief that greater harmony between sportsmen and farmers is necessary if good hunting is to be maintained is responsible for the plan, according to Mr. Willard.

The conservation department now has authority to spend one half of the funds collected from the sale of hunting licenses for the purchase and management of public hunting grounds and game refuges, but counties and townships do not like to see large areas removed from the tax rolls for refuge purposes. The prices the department has had to pay have accordingly been so high that very little land could be purchased.

"Experiences had thus far and the unmistakable trend toward greatly restricted hunting privileges compel the student of the situation to conclude that a serious study of some other plan of providing future hunting grounds rather than by outright purchase of land should be made," Mr. Willard said.

Under terms of the new game management plan, a committee of farmers will decide approximately how many hunters should be allowed in a given area, after consulting with the department of conservation and the university.

Tickets will be issued to farmers who will sell them to hunters for the privilege of shooting on their land. The tickets will probably cost about 50 cents each.

The daily take will be counted by the farmers and the combined figures will be tabulated. In this way accurate estimates of annual game taken in the area concerned will be obtained.

Both farmers and hunters will benefit from the work of the soil conservation service which will supervise the planting of shrubbery on sloping lands to check soil erosion and to afford game cover.

It is hoped that "No Hunting" signs on farm lands will gradually give way to "No Hunting Without Permission" signs.

CAFE MAN CASHES CHECK IN PENNIES

South St. Paul—Having complained frequently at getting his checks cashed in one dollar bills, Jake Newbrand, stockyards employe, found himself equipped to match pennies with John D. Rockefeller when a Chutehouse restaurant man counted out the number of coppers to the amount of a thirty dollar check. Newbrand was so choked with emotion at the sight of all the pennies that he carried away the coins without speaking. He is determined, however, to spend a part of his supply in the same cafe so that the operator may have another chance to count them.

In the State Senate

By Sen. E. L. Tungseth

In my letter of last week I wrote that I would follow up with another letter outlining the net result of Rural Credit legislation in the 1937 Regular Session just closed. There are three Rural Credit Bills all of which have some importance. One of them deals with the reduction in the rates of interest; one deals with crop payment for the purchase of Rural Credit farms and one deals with financing the Rural Credit Department.

The bill for the reduction of rates of interest was Senate File No. 622, which now is known as Chapter 465 Laws of 1937. This bill was first introduced with the rate of three percent per annum on all regular mortgages, loans and contracts for Deed. As such it was recommended to pass by the Rural Credit Senate Committee. However, when acted upon by the committee of the whole, Senator Solstad from Polk County offered an amendment increasing the rate of interest from three to four per cent. This amendment carried and with this rate it was also finally passed. Incidentally I may mention that it seems strange that a Senator from a rural county like Polk should be anxious to go on record in favor of an increase in the rate of interest on Rural Credit loans, but alas that is the case occasionally. This rate of four percent interest will, of course, affect not only the new loans, but the old loans as well and became effective on the 26th of April, 1937. This bill also provides a rate of five per cent per annum on defaulted payments, tax liens, judgments, assessments or insurance paid by the Department of Rural Credit on any lands against which said Department holds mortgages or contracts for deed. This bill will effect an enormous saving in the rate of interest for all those who have Rural Credit loans with the State of Minnesota, and most certainly is a step in the right direction. It means a saving of 1.25 percent as compared with the former rates.

Senate File No. 915 now to be known as Chapter 409 Laws of 1937 was a bill to amend Chapter 367 Laws of 1935 and which deals with the sale of Rural Credit farms on crop payment plan. The 1935 law was enacted particularly for the purpose of protecting original owners from cash competitors who might wish to purchase such farms which the original owner was still anxious to retain and re-purchase. Since 1931 and especially since 1935 the conservator was authorized to sell the farms at less than state investment. This situation would naturally put many of the original owners in a very difficult position as they might not have the same amount of cash for down payment as some outside purchaser. This means of protection for the original owner was one of my contributions to rural legislation in the 1935 Session, and provides that whenever the original owners wish to retain or re-purchase such farm to which he has formerly held title, that he could do so on a crop payment plan regardless of other competitive bids. Said crop payment contract to run for five years in anticipation of better times and better opportunities for the same owner to purchase under better contract. Said 1936 crop payment legislation was amended in the 1937 Session so that outside bidders could also purchase on crop payment plan, provided that such bidder would at least invest fifteen percent of the purchase price cash. The 1937 amendment has not, however, canceled the privilege of the original owner, who in every case has the first opportunity to re-purchase such farm as formerly owned by him within a thirty day period after he has received due notice from the conservator. As I mentioned in my former letter, original owners should, who wish to re-purchase their farms, pay special attention to this important feature of our law so that their farms are no sold away from them without being given their first opportunity to re-purchase. Said new crop payment plan is not very satisfactory since it is very severe and requires two-third of all crops raised on such farms, including hay, potatoes and corn, but in certain cases it may work out to advantage.

Senate File 1304, which your Senator introduced and sponsored, dealt with a refinancing feature for the Rural Credit Department, instructing the State Board of Investment to withdraw the State Trust funds still invested in Rural Credit Department Bonds, and for which the Rural Credit Department still pays from 4.10 to 4.25 rate of interest. This is the highest rate of interest on any bonds now issued by our Rural Credit Department and is a rate of interest far in excess of the present market. With these high interest bonds out of the way the conservator can now, no doubt, obtain new credit for the Department at not to exceed 3%. Since the Rural Credit Department still has some $24,000,000 of said State Trust Funds it can readily be seen that with the shifting of such a load that a great saving can be affected by our Rural Credit Department. The operation of this law is left entirely in the hands of the conservator and it is up to him to make the most in savings out of the new authority given him. In addition to above legislation, I might add the bi-annual feature of obtaining sufficient appropriations from the State to provide for the loss in school taxes to such districts wherein Rural Credit farms are located since the State pays no taxes on its own property. The appropriation received in this Session was $200,000 and will, no doubt, be sufficient to pay the local school districts amounts equal to the loss of said school tax on State farms.

E. L. Tungseth.

SMILEY

The regular monthly meeting of the Smiley Community Club will be held at the Hall Friday evening and will be designated as 4-H night. The committee in charge of the program arrangements are the Owen Weckwerth and Martha Lokken families.

Mr. and Mrs. John Skjervin and family, accompanied by Miss Loraine Berg and Millard Torkelson of Grafton motored to this vicinity Sunday morning and spent the day visiting at the home of Miss Berg's mother, Mrs. Lissa Berg and also at the Christ Larson, Walter Lendobeja homes here, the Perry Borgies in Rocksbury and at the home of Mrs. S. H. Berg in Thief River Falls.

Sunday dinner guests at the Freeman Allen home were Mr. and Mrs. Martin Carlson and daughter, Clara; Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Korupp and daughters of Thief River Falls and Freeman Allen, Jr., who has returned to his parental home from Portland, Oregon for an indefinite stay.

Leon Lendobeja, accompanied by his niece and nephew, Delores and Julian Lendobeja, Jr., will motor to Fargo this weekend to visit at the Harold Enberg home there.

Christ Larson and son Louie and daughter Mrs. Lissa Berg spent a day last week visiting relatives in Gonvick. —A new barn is being erected at the Emil Thune farm with John Myhrar of Thief River Falls as head carpenter.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Corbet and sons of St. Hilaire were Sunday visitors at the Freeman Allen home.

The Smiley School, Dist. 4 will hold their closing day exercises on the school grounds Friday afternoon as is announced by the teacher, Miss Beatrice Ostmoe. It will be in the form of a picnic for the pupils, their parents and friends.

Lillian Larson and daughter, Betty Lou of Grand Forks spent Mother's Day with the former's mother, Mrs. Christ Larson. —A very large crowd attended the picnic given in the "Birches" by the Hiawatha school pupils and teacher, Miss Ann Austad for the parents and friends designating the closing of a successful school term. Hilarious contests and relays were engaged in by both youngsters and grown ups with prizes being awarded the winners. A huge table covered with eats were served topped by home made ice cream and cake. A pick-up ball game finished up the happy afternoon.

Mrs. Annie Lane and children were week-end guests at the home of Mrs. Lissa Berg.—Mrs. Lissa Berg will be employed this week painting the Henry Holstad house.

THE GREATEST TIRE EVER MADE TO SELL AT THESE LOW PRICES

COME in, examine a cross section cut from a Firestone Standard Tire, then examine the deep-cut, non-skid tread and see how much extra value you get. You will quickly understand why more and more car owners are equipping their cars with these tires. You will agree that never before have you seen so much quality, so much built-in mileage and so much safety at so little cost. You will find the Firestone Standard Tire is made safer from blowouts with the Firestone patented process of Gum-Dipping. The patented construction of two extra layers of Gum-Dipped Cords under the tread protect against punctures and bind the tread and cord body into one inseparable unit. The wider, flatter tread with more rubber on the road will give you longer mileage and greater protection against skidding. Firestone is able to give you all these extra values because Firestone Standard Tires are built in such large quantities that great savings are made in production.

Don't drive another day on thin worn tires that are dangerous and may cause an accident. Join the Firestone SAVE A LIFE Campaign by equipping your car with Firestone Standard Tires—First Grade Quality at Low Cost.

DON'T RISK YOUR LIFE ON THIN WORN TIRES

Protect yourself and your family from the danger of driving on thin worn tires which may cause a serious accident.

DO YOU KNOW

THAT last year highway accidents cost the lives of more than 38,000 men, women and children?

THAT a million more were injured?

THAT more than 40,000 of these deaths and injuries were caused directly by punctures, blowouts and skidding due to unsafe tires?

Above is a section cut from a smooth, worn tire, which shows the one-third protection worn off. Tires in this condition are more liable to punctures, blowouts and skidding. | Above is section cut from a new Firestone Tire. Note the thick one-third protection against skidding, blowouts and punctures. Come in today, see by actual demonstration.

TO FORM GARDEN CLUB AT MEETING FRIDAY, JUNE 4TH

Group Sponsored by County Agent's Office and State Society

A Thief River Falls garden club will be organized Friday evening, June 4, in the Civic and Commerce association rooms in the Auditorium, it was announced today by Howard Grow, assistant county agent, who stated that with the growing interest in home beautification in this community, a large membership is anticipated.

The new organization, which is being sponsored by the county agent's office in cooperation with the Minnesota State Horticultural society, has for its objectives civic betterment, home beautification, the study of different varieties of garden plants, better home garden practices and the holding of local exhibits.

The only requirement for membership will be the payment of a fee of 35 cents, which will entitle each member to a premium to be selected from a list to be prepared by the state society in July.

Rise in Tax on Gross Earnings C. & C. Topic

Representatives of Railway Management and Labor Oppose Increase

Passage by the state legislature of a proposed bill to increase the gross earnings tax on railroads was opposed by three speakers at the Civic and Commerce association luncheon last Thursday, following which the matter was referred to the association's legislative committee for further study.

Speakers were G. A. Kingsley, Soo Line general attorney; Alex Janes, assistant general counsel of the Great Northern railway; and W. J. McGaughren, chairman of the clerks union of the Rock Island railway and chairman of the railroad employes' volunteer committee on legislative matters affecting the railroads. In the discussion was brought out the fact that most railroads have lost tremendous sums of money in recent years.

In his prepared statement, Mr. McGaughren said in part, "As a representative of labor with a vast experience in public relief matters, I am now convinced, after four years of trial on the part of the government to solve this problem of unemployment, that we should now have our government cooperate with industry even to the point, if necessary, of subsidizing it, so that these idle workers of the nation can be placed back in their former positions in society. I firmly believe that the time will come when it will be necessary for us to do that.

"Many of us have given our life's work and we hope to continue to be employed by the railroads in the future. We know now, however, that any legislation that will affect the railroads, such as the proposed increase in the gross earnings tax, will force economy which would be unwise, and when I speak about economy, there is only one way that we can have economy in our railroads today, and that is by the reduction in the operating forces.

"If that happens, it means that some of the present railroad employes will become subjects of public charity and will have to appeal to their local or state governments for assistance. I believe this applies to industry in general, and while I truly appreciate the position which our lawmakers are in at this particular time, I would say to them that they should give serious consideration to this problem of taxation on industry."

Indian Powwow at Red Lake Narrows June 20

A typical Indian powwow will be presented at the Red Lake narrows by Indians on the reservation Sunday, June 20, according to word received by Postmaster Andrew Anderson from George Wilson, secretary of the Red Lake Summer Resort association. The date was originally scheduled for Sunday, June 13, but was postponed in order to avoid a conflict with the Ninth district convention, which will be in progress that day.

C. C. GOLFERS WIN TOURNEY SUNDAY FROM JR. CHAMBER

Senior Group Captures Close Match With Margin of Seven Strokes

Age triumphed over youth Sunday on the local golf course when ten members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce bowed in defeat to the same number of players representing the Civic and Commerce association, the aggregate scores being 533 for the winners and 540 for the losers.

Vic Jung of the junior group and H. O. Chommie of the seniors were tied for low scoring honors for the nine holes, each turning in a card of 42. Prize winners in the blind bogey contest were Dr. Baldwin Borreson, John Barten, Ronald Riggs, R. W. Gabrielson and Kern Olson.

A feature of the tournament was the taking of 100 feet of motion pictures showing interesting bits of action as the players made the rounds. The pictures will be shown for the first time at a dinner to be served shortly to the victors with the losers of the tourney as hosts.

PROGRAM NEARING COMPLETION FOR 4-H CLUB PICNIC

Annual County-Wide Outing Is Scheduled for June 22

The annual county-wide 4-H club picnic will be held June 22, Miss Bernice Woolson, adult leader of Silverton, chairman of the arrangements committee, announced today. The county club music contest will be held in connection with the picnic. The clubs who are taking part in either the vocal or instrumental groups are asked to notify Miss Thelma Solie, 4-H club leader. Two selections must be played, one of them a 4-H club song, and three individuals must comprise the group to be eligible to compete at the county contest, Miss Solie said.

A full athletic program is also being planned which includes kittenball, kickball, horseshoe, boys dashes, 3 legged races, girls kittenball throw, boys kittenball throw, girls standing broad jump, boys running broad jump, boys high jump, boys one-half mile relay, girls dinner calling contest and boys hog calling contest.

Contestants will be selected at the picnic to take part in the athletic tournament at Crookston during 4-H Club Week June 24, 25 and 26.

Stores, Public Offices, Postoffice Will Remain Closed All Day Monday

Patrons of Thief River Falls stores, in making their week-end purchases, are reminded to make provision for the double holiday occasioned by the observance Monday of Memorial Day. Local stores will remain closed all day Monday, it was announced by A. M. Magnuson, chairman of the merchants committee of the Civic and Commerce association. Postmaster Andrew Anderson stated that the postoffice will be closed Monday, with no deliveries either in the city or on the rural routes. In addition the banks, as well as the city and county offices, will remain closed.

Local garages will render only the usual Sunday services next Monday, it was announced, and the cooperative creamery will be closed all day in observance of the holiday, G. S. Bergland, manager, said.

Victor Jung Awarded Marksmanship Honors by U. S. Rifle Group

Victor Jung of this city, has qualified as an expert rifleman in the junior division of the National Rifle Association, it was announced in Washington today. The only grade higher than expert is distinguished rifleman. Of a total of 2,264 junior shooters of the country who have qualified so far this year in all grades of shooting proficiency from the beginning grade of pro-marksman to the highest grade of distinguished rifleman, only thirty-one have succeeded in attaining the distinguished rating and 161 the expert rating.

BENSON HOLDS FIRM TO STAND ON TAX BOOST

Calls for Program Designed to Relieve Home Owners and Farmers

ADDRESSES OPENING OF SPECIAL SESSION

Would Increase Taxes on Big Incomes and Mining Companies

A plea for enactment of legislation that will bring substantial tax relief to the home-owners and farmer, coupled with recommendations embodying higher taxation on mining companies, chain stores, public utilities, inheritances, incomes in the upper brackets and liquor, was made by Governor Elmer A. Benson in a personal appearance before the legislature Tuesday.

Governor Benson spoke to a joint session of the house and senate, on the second day of the convocation of a special session, necessitated primarily by the failure of the last assemblage to agree on a tax program for 1937 and 1938.

To bring Minnesota more in harmony "with the progressive spirit of the time", the chief executive advocated that the special session, inbetween times that the tax program is being ironed out in conference, give serious consideration to the following:

(1) A labor relations act patterned after the national Wagner labor relations act.

(2) A bill requiring all paid lobbyists before the legislature to register.

(3) Youth legislation.

(4) A measure to prohibit importation of thugs and strike-breakers in labor disputes.

(5) An adult education bill.

(6) A veterans consolidation act.

(7) An oleomargarine tax bill as a means of aiding the farming population.

(8) An increase of personal property tax exemptions for farmers from $300 to $500.

(9) Suitable housing legislation.

(10) An act to permit municipalities which own their power plants to extend their lines into any part of the state upon a majority vote of the governing body.

Governor Benson stressed that the legislation, other than those measures dealing with taxation, can be enacted without prolonging the duration of the session. He suggested that the session, however, should not be extended beyond the time necessary to enact bills outlined in the call.

MEMORIAL DAY RITES TO BE HELD MONDAY MORNING

High School Band and Kyle Montague Will Share in Program

Elmer J. Eklund post of the American Legion again this year will sponsor Memorial Day services to be held next Monday morning. No exercises will be held in the Auditorium, but a procession will form at Lincoln high school at 10:30, headed by the high school band under the direction of Ronald C. Riggs, and will proceed to Greenwood cemetery, where a brief address will be delivered by Kyle Montague of the Lincoln high school faculty. Harry R. Lund, commander of the Legion post, announced that all graves of veterans in Pennington county cemeteries will be decorated under Legion auspices.

SETESDALSLAG TO CONVENE IN CITY JUNE 4-6

Program Details Announced by Bj. Bjornarna, President

LOCAL MEN'S CHORUS WILL SING JUNE 4TH

Speakers Include U. of N. D. Professor and Winnipeg Orator

Thief River Falls will be the rallying point Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 4, 5, and 6, for citizens of Norwegian descent in Northwestern Minnesota and Eastern North Dakota when the Setesdalslag holds its annual convention at the Auditorium. Bj. Bjornarna of Trail, president of the organization, will be in charge of the sessions.

The three-day program will open with a get-together Friday afternoon, June 4, to be followed in the evening by a "Setesdalskveld" in old Norwegian style. Mayor W. W. Prichard will extend greetings to the gathering, while the address of the evening will be delivered by Peter Myrvold of Winnipeg and the local men's chorus will sing a group of selections. Norwegian folk dances in costume also will be presented, and the evening will close with an old-time American dance.

The speaker Saturday afternoon, June 5, will be Rev. Hans Uppstad of Page, N. D., the occasion being designated as a "Nye Norges Fridomsfest." In the evening Professor Richard Beck of the University of North Dakota will give an address, and a representative of the Norwegian-American steamship line will present a new motion picture film made in Norway. Folk dances, songs, violin solos and a dance will complete the program.

Rev Halvard Li of Fisher will officiate at a "Fest-Messe" at the Auditorium Sunday morning, June 6, at 11 o'clock. He will be assisted by Reverend Uppstad and others.

NEW BUS LINE TO START SCHEDULE HERE ON FRIDAY

Will Serve Many Communities From Baudette to Detroit Lakes

The new bus line recently authorized by the Minnesota railroad and warehouse commission to serve communities from Baudette to Thief River Falls and Detroit Lakes will go into operation Friday, it was announced today by Ed. Carlson of the Triangle Transportation company, holder of the franchise.

The southbound bus will leave Baudette at 7:25 in the morning, Warroad at 8:35, Roseau at 9:10, Greenbush at 9:45 and will arrive in Thief River Falls at 10:45, continuing south at 11:05. The bus will leave Erskine at 12, Mahnomen at 12:45 and will arrive in Detroit Lakes at 1:25, making connections with a bus that will arrive in Minneapolis at 7:10.

Traveling north the bus will leave Detroit Lakes at 4 o'clock, Mahnomen at 4:50 and will arrive in Thief River Falls at 6:20. Continuing north at 8 o'clock, the bus will reach Roseau at 9:35, Warroad at 10:20, and will arrive in Baudette at 11:20.

The line will make connections in this city to and from Minneapolis, Moorhead, East Grand Forks, Bemidji, Duluth, Crookston and the West Coast.

Crowd Mobs Abe Kashey After Match Thursday

Some Members of Audience Disapprove of Act Put On by Wrestler

Giving an exhibition of wrestling that thrilled or shocked the members of an audience of 1,000 persons in the arena last Thursday night, Abe Kashey, widely known for his rough tactics, won the feature bout of the evening from Johnny Marrs, after 25 minutes of tussling that included various forms of modified mayhem.

Evidently unaware of the fact that the "rough stuff" was only a part of Kashey's act, a group of spectators, incensed at his conduct on the mat, climaxed the end of the bout by pulling the wrestler out of the ring, while one of the group hit him over the head with a chair, after which he fled to the dressing room.

The semi-final match between Stanley Myslajek of Minneapolis and Jack Sampson of Wahpeton, which ended in a draw, also was featured by frequent hard falls and plenty of action all the way thru. The cleanest exhibition of wrestling was presented in the quarter-final match between Carlson Johnson of Minneapolis and Nels Grovgaard of Kennedy, the two men being evenly matched. Johnson got the fall with a toe-hold after seven and one-half minutes of lively action.

Less exciting were the preliminaries in which Ray Bredeson won a fall from a masked boy in two and one half minutes, and Harold Johnson of Newfolden and Red Melvie of Viking battled ten minutes to a draw.

300 Bicycle Riders Get License Tags Tuesday

Municipal Judge Arnold Explains Regulations at Auditorium

The biggest concentration of bicycles in the history of this city occurred at the Auditorium Tuesday afternoon when nearly 300 riders parked their bikes outside the building while they went inside to listen to an explanation of bicycle traffic regulations by Municipal Judge Lincoln Arnold, following which each boy and girl received a license tag to affix to his or her vehicle.

At the meeting, which was sponsored by Police Chief A. B. Stenberg, Judge Arnold and Marvin Henson of the local office of the National Youth Administration, the children were told that the regulations were designed primarily for their own safety, and that the numbered license tags will be assistance in tracing stolen bicycles.

Special stress was laid by Judge Arnold on the following traffic rules:

Don't cut corners, and don't fail to keep to the right side of the road at all times.

Don't enter a street from an alley or private driveway between intersections without coming to a full stop.

Don't ride your bicycle at night without a front light, and a rear reflector button.

Don't fail to come to a full stop at all Stop signs.

Don't drive your bicycle on the sidewalk in the business district.

Don't carry a passenger on your bicycle.

Don't dodge your bicycle from side to side, and don't make a "U" turn in the middle of a block.

Don't ride more than two bicycles abreast.

Don't follow behind any vehicle too closely, and don't hitch your bicycle onto any moving vehicle.

RED RIVER VALLEY BASEBALL LEAGUE TO START SUNDAY

Thief River Falls to Play First Game of Season at Warren

The seasons' schedule of the Red River Valley baseball league will open next Sunday when Manager George E. Lee will take his Thief River Falls aggregation to Warren for a contest starting at 3 o'clock. At the same time Oslo will play East Grand Forks in the latter city.

The locals will play their second game at East Grand Forks next Thursday, June 3, while the opening game on the home grounds is scheduled against Warren for Sunday afternoon, June 6. The fair grounds diamond is being improved by the installation of 1,000 feet of snow fence around the entire playing field.

The tentative opening lineup announced by Mr. Lee includes Orvallo, Sahl and Twete, pitchers; Lee, catcher; Roy Johnson, first base; John Jaranson, second; Wallie Dahlump or Gabrielson, third base and outfield; Gaynor Eide, shortstop; and Walter Ekeren, Harry Glander and Jack Dempster, outfield. Henry Waag and Frank Tunberg are also likely prospects, Mr. Lee said.

LINCOLN SCHOOL TRACK MEN STAR AT GRAND FORKS

Amass More Points Saturday Than Three Opponents Combined

Coach R. W. Gabrielson's Lincoln high school athletes made easy work of winning the Thirty-Second Minnesota district track championship at Grand Forks Saturday, piling up 87 1-2 points, with Crookston second at 25 1-2. East Grand Forks had 15 points and Warren nine.

The Prowlers swamped the opposition by taking all but two firsts in 13 events, the mile run having been omitted. Gabrielson's boys took ten individual firsts and the half mile relay. The only other firsts went to Crookston, Johnson of the Polk county seat taking the high jump and Panser the pole vault, in which event Crookston collected nine points. The Prowlers were not to be shut out of either, however, Granum placing third in the high jump and Hansen third in the pole vault, to give Thief River points in every event of the meet.

Adkins of the Prowlers was high individual. He totaled 15 points with firsts in the 100 yard dash, 200 yard hurdles and shot put.

Detailed results of the meet are printed on the High School Progress page in this issue. The local athletes will journey to Bemidji Friday to participate in the regional meet.

George Lee Plans Junior Baseball League in City

An extensive program of junior baseball for boys upward from the age of nine years will be conducted during the summer months by George E. Lee under the sponsorship of the local American Legion post. Mr. Lee, who plans to organize teams into a city league, said today he will issue a call next week for all interested boys to turn-out for an organization meeting. Play will get under way shortly after June 1.

MANY BANDS, DRUM CORPS ARE COMING FOR LEGION MEET

Former State Commander to Speak Sunday Evening, June 13th

In keeping with the tradition of former American Legion gatherings, Thief River Falls will be alive with bands and drum corps at the time of the Legion and auxiliary convention in this city June 11, 12 and 13.

Emmet Wright, band and drum corps chairman, announced today that organizations expected to be present include the W. B. A. drum corps of Fergus Falls, recently returned from a national convention in Miami, Florida; drum corps from Fargo and Grand Forks; the combined Crookston high school band and drum corps; the Ninth District Legion band; the Thief River Falls auxiliary drum corps; and the Fergus Falls auxiliary glee club, former state champions.

In addition, Mr. Wright stated, Ronald G. Riggs, director of the Lincoln high school band, is arranging for the participation of a group of high schol bands from this section of the state.

Mike Murray of St. Cloud, former state Legion commander, will be the speaker at memorial services Sunday evening, June 13. O. C. Paulson, Ninth district commander, announced, adding that other speakers will be Frank Webb of Grand Forks, North Dakota department commander and Joe Rabinovich, Americanization chairman of the North Dakota department.

REMAINING ASSETS OF 8 CLOSED BANKS WERE SOLD FRIDAY

More Than 25 Bidders Present at Sale Conducted by Judge Brattland

More than 25 bidders were present at the court house last Friday when Judge M. A. Brattland, acting under the direction of the state banking department, disposed of the remaining assets of eight Northwestern Minnesota closed banks.

The bidding, while brisk, was all in low figures, the highest amount of nearly $900 being realized from the sale of the remaining assets of the Citizens State bank of Thief River Falls, which were sold in three lots. The Western Security company of Aberdeen, S. D., bought the notes and judgments, while W. F. Laffree bought one claim and Ogilvie parties bid in a contract covering four lots north from the Auditorium.

The Aberdeen company also bought the assets of the State Bank of Viking, while the Grygla cooperative store purchased the remaining assets of the Citizens State bank of Gryglа. Other institutions included in the sale were the Farmers & Merchants State bank, Oklee; State Bank of Spooner, First State bank of Roosevelt, Red River Valley State bank of Fisher and the First State bank of Mentor.

The banking department was represented at the sale of G. S. Hinton, examiner in charge of liquidation, and J. J. Flynn of St. Paul, attorney for the department.

Mayor Designates Sunday as Straw Hat Day in City

Following issuance today by Mayor W. W. Prichard of a statement designating next Sunday, May 30, as Straw Hat day, male residents of the Thief River Falls community will be garbed in the height of fashion if they wear straw headgear, henceforth to the end of the warm weather season. Local men's furnishings stores are prepared to cooperate to the fullest extent in carrying out the mayor's edict by having on display a varied array of the latest summer models.

COUNTY BOARD GETS LOW BIDS ON ROAD WORK

Anderson Brothers Awarded Grading Jobs; Schenkey Gets Graveling

BOARD SEEKS BIDS ON THREE MORE PROJECTS

Funds Made Available Thru Increase in Gas Tax Allotment

The Pennington county board at an adjourned meeting Monday awarded grading and graveling contracts aggregating nearly $11,000, making up the major portion of this year's road improvement program. Anderson Brothers were awarded the grading jobs on their aggregate bid of $6,752, while seven graveling jobs were given to Oscar Schenkey of Middle River on his total bid of $4,111.

Eight bids were opened on the grading work and three on graveling, the low bids being below the estimates and also below the figures that prevailed in last year's lettings. Roads to be graded by Anderson Brothers under their contract include sections of State Aid Roads 1 and 11 and County Aid Road 34, while the graveling jobs to be carried out by Oscar Schenkey include work on County Aid Roads 5, 17, 37, 28, 20, 18 and 7. All bids for graveling State Aid Road 1 were rejected.

The board after being informed by N. W. Elsberg, state highway commissioner, of a substantial increase in the allotment of gas tax funds payable to Pennington county for the current year, authorized the advertising for bids on three additional highway improvement projects, the bids to be opened June 21 at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Included in the call for bids are grading projects on a seven and one-half mile section of County Aid Road 1 in Sanders and Bray townships, and grading three miles on County Aid Road 22 in Kratka. Also included in the call for bids is a regraveling project on a ten-mile section of State Aid Road 2 in Rocksbury and River Falls.

The board at its meeting also adopted a resolution vacating County Aid Road 41 as a preliminary to its designation as State Aid Road 11, and for the same reason vacated a section of County Aid Road 3 in Hickory to be designated as an extension of State Aid Road 1.

SENIORS REGISTER HIT IN CLASS PLAY PRESENTED FRIDAY

Large Audience Thoroly Enjoys "Big Hearted Herbert"

Entering wholeheartedly into the spirit of the occasion, thirteen members of the senior class of Lincoln high school entertained a large audience Friday evening in the Auditorium with their presentation of the class play, "Big Hearted Herbert". Each of the performers in the production, which was staged under the direction of Miss Helen Margaret Olson, had his or her part letter-perfect.

The play told the story of the humanizing of the father, Herbert Kalness, enacted by Milton Nesse, thru the concerted efforts of his wife (Vivian Havel) together with their sons and daughter and friends of the family.

Others appearing in the production included Bruce Prichard, Marjorie Matheson, Archie Monson, Margaret Munt, Alfred Nelson, Brunell Erickson, Donald Olson, Leonard Helquist, Elizabeth Dahlen, James Peterson and Solveig Fjelstad.

As an enjoyable prelude to the play the Lincoln high school band under the direction of Ronald G. Riggs presented a group of well-rendered selections.

Miss Alice Larsen, who will leave next week for Lansing, Mich., where her marriage to Merrill Grothe will take place June 4, was entertained at an informal going-away party and an out-of-town dinner and shower during the week end, and at a bridge luncheon Monday.

Mrs. John Arnold entertained at her home Monday afternoon at a dessert luncheon at which Miss Larsen was honored. Luncheon was served at 1:30 o'clock and was followed by bridge, five tables of which were in play. Bowls of flowers centered the tables, which were decorated in a color scheme of pink and white. The hostess presented Miss Larsen with a prize for high score at bridge, and with a going-away gift.

The guest list included the Misses Alice Larsen, guest of honor, Esther Bennes, and Elizabeth DeCremer; and the Mmes. L. G. Larson, G. W. Booren, Gunder Legvold, N. K. Harris, Andrew Bottelson, Lloyd Bennes, Harold Larson, W. W. Prichard, Jr., H. F. Borgeson, L. B. Hartz, H. O. Chommie, H. A. Brumund, Rudolph Sagmoen, Lincoln Arnold, E. W. Gabrielson, C. W. Pope, and Roy Oen.

Miss Harriet Helquist, assisted by her mother Mrs. C. E. Helquist, entertained informally Saturday evening at a going-away party honoring Miss Larsen to which were invited a few intimate girl friends and their mothers. Present were the honor guest Miss Alice Larsen, her mother Mrs. L. G. Larsen, Mrs. Bernie Dahlen, Mrs. H. [illegible] Dahlen, Miss Ondia Gabrielson, and Mrs. A. G. Gabrielson. Needlework provided the diversion and at ten-thirty o'clock a lovely luncheon was served. On each guest's luncheon tray were placed doll figures, members of a miniature bridal party. After the luncheon the figures were assembled and the entire bridal group presented to the guest of honor as a memento of the occasion.

Mrs. Beulah Dow and Mrs. Kate [illegible] entertained at dinner and a shower at [illegible] Sunday in honor of Miss Larsen. Included in the guest list, which [illegible], were Miss Larsen and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Larsen, Mr. and Mrs. J. [illegible] and Miss Margaret Campell, all of this city.

Former Local Man Is Wed at Little Falls

A May wedding of interest to residents of this city is that of Miss Elvira Ann Marie Gohmann of Little Falls to Melvin Leonard Westby of St. Cloud, formerly of this city. The nuptials were performed May 4th at the Sacred Heart church of Little Falls.

Rose-colored crepe was chosen by the bride for her wedding gown which was complemented by white accessories and a bouquet of Premier roses and white sweet peas. The bride's sister Georgiana was bridesmaid and Clarence Gohmann was groomsman.

Mr. and Mrs. Westby spent several days visiting with relatives and friends in the vicinity of St. Cloud, and with the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Westby of Pelican Rapids. They will make their home at 219 Sixteenth Ave. north at St. Cloud, where the groom is employed at the Otto Bros. garage.

MRS. L. BJORKMAN GUEST OF HONOR AT SHOWER

Mrs. Lawrence Bjorkman was guest of honor at a shower given Friday evening, at which Mrs. Otto Wold, Mrs. Herman Olson, and Mrs. Harvey Patterson were the hostesses. John D. Rockefeller Dies Sunday in Florida

John D. Rockefeller, Sr., died Sunday morning at his winter home in Ormond Beach, Florida, in his ninety-eighth year. Attaining great wealth thru the Standard Oil company, which he founded, he gave away during his lifetime more than $530,000,000, while other gifts by his son raised the total to $700,000,000. Funeral rites were held Wednesday at the family estate in Pocantico Hills, New York.

Bridge Party Given Honoring Bride-Elect

Mrs. Mathias Barzen and Miss Katherine Barzen entertained for their daughter and sister, Miss Margaret Barzen, June bride-elect, at a bridge party at their home Wednesday evening.

Honors at bridge were awarded to Miss Agnes Tandberg, the groom-elect's sister Mrs. Arthur Vick of Crookston, and the groom-elect's mother, Mrs. A. J. Convrette of Crookston. Miss Margaret Barzen was presented with a guest prize. At eleven o'clock refreshments were served, tiny Colonial bouquets serving as favors for each guest. Spring flowers and blossoms decorated the rooms of the Barzen home for the occasion.

The guest list included the Misses Margaret Barzen, guest of honor, Lillian Arnold of Crookston, Esther Bennes, Hordis Johnson, Elva Dean, Irene Knewel, Elizabeth DeCremer, Lucille Larson and Agnes Tandberg; and the Mmes. A. J. Convrette, Arthur Vick, Kern Olson, Roy Oen, Kenneth Porter, Gunder Legvold, Louis DeCremer, E. M. Hanneman, Roy Barzen, Orvie Oen and Lloyd Bennes.

Adeline Nabben Is Bride of Manvil Moe

Miss Adeline Nabben, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Haakon Nabben, became the bride of Manvil Moe, son of Mr. Soren Moe, at a ceremony performed Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. R. Peterson of Greenbush read the service. Only the immediate families were in attendance.

The bride chose white for her wedding costume, which consisted of an afternoon frock of taffeta and white accessories. She carried a bouquet of sweet peas and ferns. Her attendant, her sister Miss Josephine Nabben, wore a yellow frock and white accessories, and a corsage matching the bride's bouquet. The bride's brother Victor was groomsman. Harmonizing with the costumes of the bride and her attendant, the room decorations were in yellow and white.

A luncheon was served by the bride's parents following the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Moe left on a wedding trip to Duluth. They will reside in this city. Mrs. Moe was graduated from Lincoln high school with the class of 1936.

GOODRIDGE

Convention a Success

The Luther League Convention and Choral Union which was held Friday, Saturday and Sunday, was very well attended considering the bad roads. There were not quite as many delegates as expected, but the meetings were very well attended and did not lack in enthusiasm. The theme of the convention was "With Christ on The King's Highway". Prof. Carl B. Ylvisaker of Concordia College, Moorhead delivered some very fine talks and sermons. The Choral Union concert on Sunday afternoon was a real treat for all and it was estimated that there were between four and five hundred who had that privilege.

Four H Club Meeting

The Goodridge Four H Club met Thursday evening in the school house. The following program was given:

Song—"Hail to Minnesota", by all.
Song—Theodora Beulke and Ardith Geving.
Poem—Dorothy Urdahl.
Poem—Pearl Limesand.
Song "Taps" by all.

The next meeting will be held June 17 at the Fred Urdahl home and the program committee will be Robert Wiseth, Darrell Josephson and the lunch committee will be Fred Urdahl's and T. Beulke's.

Surprise Party

The members of the Home Management project surprised Mrs. Dave Day at her home on Thursday evening. Mrs. Day is leaving soon to make her home at Grygla, where Mr. Day has purchased a garage. Conversation passed the time and at ten thirty ice cream and wafers were served by the self-invited guests. Mrs. Day was presented with a gift from the members.

Parcel Shower

Mrs. Gene Williams was the honor guest at a parcel shower, when a group of friends gathered at the home of Mrs. Alfred Swanson Wednesday. A social time was enjoyed and lunch was served by Mrs. Henry Tollefson, Mrs. Earl Akin, Mrs. Telleff Tollefson and Mrs. Swanson. The guests were: Mesdames Ole Easthouse, Melious Johnson, Jay Payne, Carl Edseth, Olga Peterson, Ed Williams, Guy McEnelly, J. A. McEnelly, Miss Gena Tollefson and the hostesses.

Home Management Meeting

The second meeting of the Highlanding home management group was held Tuesday at the Old Glory school house. The lesson was on rug making. The leaders Mrs. Swanson and Mrs. Gunstenson and assistant leaders, Mrs. Korstad and Mrs. Oftedahl made this a very interesting meeting. Many worth while things were learned. Lunch was served at the close of the lesson.

Celebration

Celebrate the Fourth of July at Goodridge Saturday, July 3rd. All kinds of amusements.

Thrift Club

The Thrift club met at the home of Mrs. C. L. Noer Tuesday evening May 18th. A very interesting lesson was presented by the leaders Mrs. Barstad and Mrs. Ristau. The lesson included rug making of all kinds and patterns for hooked rugs. The members made samples of several different kinds of rugs. A delicious lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. C. L. Noer, Mrs. O. L. Sabo, Mrs. Gene Stephenson and Miss Adeline Stephenson at the close of the lesson.

Church Dinner

The Bethel Ladies aid will serve dinner and have a sale at the John Miller home Sunday, May 30. Dinner will be served at noon and the sale will be in the afternoon. Every one welcome.

Base Ball Games

The Goodridge baseball team will play at Grygla this coming Sunday, May 30, and there is no doubt but what it will be an interesting game, so be sure to go up with the boys.

The game last Sunday with Plummer ended with a score of 5 to 16 in favor of Plummer. The score was 2 to 5 in favor of Goodridge up to the sixth inning, when things changed in favor of the Plummer boys.

The high school ball team went to St. Hilaire Monday afternoon and beat the St. Hilaire nine by a score of 3 to 1 and it was a very good game.

Base Ball Dance

Oscar Tverstol and his orchestra of Argyle will furnish the music for the baseball dance to be given Saturday evening, June 5th in the new Community hall.

Miss Emma Swanson and brother Ernest and Nordeen and Lloyd Urdahl spent Sunday visiting at Karlstad with Miss Margaret Urdahl who teaches school there.

Mork and Carrie Roe home. Miss Roe returned home with them after spending the past three weeks visiting relatives and friends at Minneapolis, St. Paul, Albert Lee, Bricelyn and Anoka.

George Sundquist returned home Friday from Thief River Falls where he had been in a hospital after an accident of having his collar bone broken when the Goodridge high school team played base ball there on Tuesday last week with the Lincoln nine. It is rather a bad time to be laid up the last few weeks of school.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Douglas of Grand Forks, N. D. visited on Sunday at the home of Mrs. Douglas' sister Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Peterson. —Aglon Cummings who is employed at Hibbing, spent the week end at his farm here. He was accompanied by Miss Edith Johnson of Hibbing who visited at the John Kast home and with other friends. —Rev. and Mrs. E. L. Tungseth and daughter Arlene, Mrs. William Gilbertson and daughter Dorothy of Thief River Falls attended the ladies aid here on Wednesday afternoon and they also visited with friends. Mrs. Gilbertson visited at the home of her brother A. G. Jerstad.

Mr. and Mrs. Basil Bellou of Esplee visited on Sunday at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Edseth.—Visitors at the John Kast home on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Christianson and son Portis and Mr. and Mrs. V. C. McLeod.

The Goodridge meat market had the misfortune to have their shipment of meat from the packing house get lost in Transit last week, and so the village was rather meatless over the week end. Mr. Beulke was very sorry to have this happen, but it was thru no fault of his. Just one of those things that happen. Plenty of meat arrived on Tuesday after the delay.

Mr. and Mrs. Ober Sabo were business visitors in Grand Forks, N. D. on Wednesday. They were accompanied by Rev. E. O. Sabo and daughter Gladys of Mavie.

Those from town who attended the funeral of Helmer Bjerken at Grygla on Thursday were: Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Nelson and Mrs. Ida Nelson and Mrs. Jay Payne.

Misses Hazel and Yvonne Mandt left Tuesday for Seattle, Wash., where they will visit relatives and friends for some time. —Ray Stephenson of Bemidji visited here on Sunday at the home of his mother Mrs. Gena Stephenson. —Rudolph Bjorgan who is attending Concordia college at Moorhead spent the week end here at the home of his parents, Rev. and Mrs. O. O. Bjorgan and he came to attend the Luther League convention.—Mr. and Mrs. Harold South and Mrs. Roy Wiseth were visitors Sunday afternoon at the Carl Christianson home. —Ethel Moquin spent the week end visiting in Thief River Falls. —Lloyd Nelson was a business caller in Thief River Falls Wednesday. —Mrs. T. J. Cummings of Detroit Lakes visited last week at the home of her sons Aglon and Donald and with old friends.

BRAY

The Home Management club held their meeting at school Dist. 180 Tuesday afternoon. The topic discussed was rug making. A delicious lunch was served by the ladies. —Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Erickson and family and Grace Sevre spent Sunday visiting in Argyle.

Thorolf and Lorentz Hegsted of Bemidji spent Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Hegsted.

Mr. and Mrs. Merl Johnson and daughter of Kennedy spent Sunday at C. Lindquist's. —Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Schalz and family and Mrs. Eldon Erickson and children shopped in Grand Forks Friday.

RIVER FALLS

To Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Grindeland, city, a boy, May 24.

To Mr. and Mrs. Harry Meyers, city, a girl, May 26.

To Mr. and Mrs. Orin Drangstvelt, Goodridge, a boy, May 27.

STEINER

Three schools, Steiner, Riverside and Loftness held a joint picnic at the Skomodal park Sunday to celebrate the last of their school term. A large crowd attended. Dinner was served about one o'clock and the young folks spent the afternoon playing ball. The kittenball game was won by Rosewood and Steiner, the score being 12 to 4. They played against Smiley and Silverton. —Mr. and Mrs. Trower and son Dan of Downs, Kansas, arrived last week to visit some time with their daughter, and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. Vilguth and family.

Steiner 4-H club met Friday evening at the hall. The 4-H play was not given as some of the members were unable to come. A short program was given. A tap dance by Ruby Werner, a reading by Bobbie Vilguth, singing by Opal Werner, a reading by Ardith Rupprecht and Miss Solie gave a brief talk. Several new members have joined our 4-H. Our number is now 33. The girls taking sewing plan to start their meeting this week.

The ladies held their home management meeting at the R. Werner home Tuesday. Lunch was served by Mrs. A. Solem, Mrs. Halverson and Mrs. Werner. The next meeting will be in June at the A. Kish home. —Norma Jean Vilguth and Lewis Meyer, winners of the declamation contest of this community motored to Warren Saturday, where they took part in the county declamation contest.

(Omitted last week)

A large crowd attended the Declamation contest at the community hall Friday evening. Three schools took part, Riverside, Loftness and Steiner and there were twelve contestants in all. Choosing the winners proved to be a difficult job as all the declamation pieces were interesting and well done by the boys and girls. However the winners chosen for class A are first prize, Louis Meyer of Steiner school with his piece "Two o'clock in the Morning"; second prize to Clara Mae Jorde of Loftness school with her piece "Washing Dishes"; and third prize to Laura Jorde of Loftness school with her piece "Mary Ellen's Star". Winners of Class B were: first prize, Norma Jean Vielguth of Steiner school, the title of her piece "Roses Are Red"; second prize went to Harold Halverson of Riverside school, his piece "Hirams Housekeeping. Chester Jorde of Loftness school with his piece "Sven Svenson the Swede Farmer" and Genevieve Olson with her piece "The Old Sagning Woman" tied for third prize. Judges were Mrs. Lorenzen, Miss Manman and Miss Hamlin all of Holt. Other features on the program were community singing led by R. Werner, vocal solo by Freeman Lanska, vocal solo by H. Roen of Thief River and a violin and guitar duet by Ardith and Arthur Rupprecht.

The date of the next meeting of the 4-H club has again been changed. The meeting will be Friday evening, May 28th. Everybody welcome. —Supper guests at the R. Rupprecht home Sunday were the Misses Adelyn Rupprecht and Frieda Hanson, Art Langseth and Stub Aumunson all of Thief River Falls. —Arthur Whitson of Mayville, N. D. is visiting his sister, Mrs. P. Dahle. He arrived Saturday. —Mrs. R. Rupprecht and daughter Wilma of Steiner and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rupprecht and sons Morris and LeRoy of Thief River were dinner guests at the Otto Rupprecht home near Silverton Sunday.—We wish to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. M. Mathiew who were married Friday. Mrs. Mathiew's maiden name was Arneda Peters of Grygla. The couple are making their home at Mavie.

GIRLS REQUESTED TO REGISTER NOW FOR 4-H CONTESTS

Many Plan to Share In Home Economics Achievement Days in July

The county 4-H home economics achievement days have been set for Goodridge July 13, and Thief River Falls July 15 and 16, Miss Thelma Solie, county club leader, said today.

All girls who are planning on giving demonstrations are asked to notify Miss Solie, as it is necessary that she have a list of all demonstrators before a schedule can be arranged. Individual bread demonstrations will begin about 9 o'clock, so the judging of the finished product might take place around four o'clock. Girls enrolled in the cake project will give oral individual demonstrations and the girls in bread baking will give silent demonstrations. Two girls enrolled in sewing may comprise a team and give an oral demonstration of a definite result secured or of a new practice used in carrying on the project.

Demonstrations should be well planned so that they show a specific purpose, said Miss Solie. To be effective, they should be well given thus requiring careful and thorough preparation.

The following are planning on giving cake demonstrations: Isabell Nelson, Pauline Zachar, Gladys Nelson and Jean Pomerenke, all of Mavie; Joyce Meyer, Steiner; Agnes Johnson, Highlanding; Bernadette McGilvrey, North; and Eugene Thompson and Thomas Jorde, Northfield.

The following girls are planning on giving bread demonstrations: Ellen Janda, Vivienne Lindquist, and Olive Almquist, St. Hilaire; Lois Jones, Highlanding; Hulda Stock, Mavie; Lorraine Swanson and Veone Schalz, Bray and Polk Centre; and Gladys Nelson and Jean Pomerenke, Mavie.

Elsberg Awards $53,343 Warren Paving Contract

Contracts for the construction of approximately 20 miles of grading and concrete and bituminous surfacing of state highways, to cost $301,004, have been awarded in four counties by N. W. Elsberg, state highway commissioner. The work will include 10.2 miles of grading and bituminous surfacing in Koochoching county; a mile of grading and concrete paving in Warren, Marshall county; 7.5 miles of grading and bituminous surfacing in LeSueur and Scott counties and five monolithic culverts in LeSueur county. The Marshall county job includes grading and paving T. H. No. 1 and T. H. No. 75 in Warren; length 1 mile; Hallett Construction Co., Crosby, $53,343. This project to be constructed jointly with City of Warren paving.

SHEEP BREEDERS ASSEMBLE AT N. W. SCHOOL JUNE 1ST

Will View Results of Experiments Conducted in Recent Years

Sheep breeders of Northwestern Minnesota will gather at the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, on June first to view the results of sheep breeding trials carried on at the experiment station during recent years. A general invitation has been extended by T. M. McCall, superintendent of the Experiment Station, to sheep breeders, feeders, and all interested in any phase of sheep production, to attend the program.

Sheep breeders and feeders day will inaugurate a series of county sheep tours which will begin in West Polk county on the morning of June first and continue with county tours throughout the Valley each day for the first three weeks in June. The West Polk county sheep tour, under the leadership of County Agent Carl Ash, will join with the general program at the noonday picnic lunch on the school campus and conclude the day in the general group meeting.

An outstanding program has been arranged for the afternoon sessions. W. E. Morris, livestock specialist, in charge of the demonstration work on the tours, Professor L. M. Winters and E. F. Ferrin of University Farm, St. Paul, specialists in breeding of sheep and swine, will speak on the general program. Professor O. M. Kiser, in charge of livestock work at the Northwest Station, will exhibit pens of ewes and lambs and explain work in breeding large versus small size ewes in market lamb production and the results to date on the twinning versus single-lamb reproduction of Shropshire ewes.

The drenching and dipping demonstration to be held on the morning farm tour, the wool grades exhibit, and the general program combine to make June first the beginning of the most comprehensive educational program ever attempted for sheep breeders in the Red River Valley.

Farm Workers and Maids Still Needed, Says NRS

Demand for competent farm workers and maids continues at a rapid pace, according to Dreng Bjornaraa of St. Paul, state director of the National Reemployment Service which operates 26 offices in Minnesota outside the Twin Cities and Duluth. A weekly report from all offices indicates that requests for farm hands are being adequately taken care of, he says, but there is distinctly a shortage of applicants for employment as maids. F. R. Stanghelle, manager of the Thief River Falls office, states that the report regarding the state as a whole also reflects the demands made upon the local office. The wage being paid at the present time, he says, is slightly higher than that offered earlier in the season.

Army Recruiting Agents Visit Thief River Falls

Two men from the United States army recruiting service at Fort Snelling were stationed in the city Wednesday to interview prospective recruits from this community in connection with a campaign to increase the Fort Snelling garrison from 1,738 men to a total strength of 2,113. In a statement Brigadier General Campbell Hodges, in charge of the garrison, said, "Right now we are particularly interested in the young man about to graduate from high school. For those not financially able to go to college or without prospects of a steady job the army offers an ideal opportunity, either for a career or as a stop-gap until other permanent employment can be obtained."

In spite of the fact that there are three copies of "Gone with the Wind" in the library, there is always a long waiting list. Two other copies have been ordered to help supply the demand.

Rural school libraries are being returned for the summer. With the assistance of N. Y. A. help, each book needing repairs is being made ready for use again next fall. Teachers or trustees contemplating membership will do well to look over this fine collection. It will prove more convincing than any verbal argument.

GAMBLE'S TIRE POLICY!

READ THIS NEW TIRE POLICY AND SAVE !!
EFFECTIVE NOW! Gamble's now offer only one complete line of tires — our famous CREST—at prices far below tires of this same quality

COMPLETE SAFETY AT BIG SAVINGS !!!

It is generally understood that fine quality merchandise carries a good margin of profit while the cheaper grades are sold on a close margin. If we carried many grades of tires our investment would be increased, turnover would be slowed up and stock keeping would become more complicated.

We decided to change this picture by carrying only one complete line of tires—our fine quality CREST—and selling them on a small margin, thereby eliminating lines and giving the car owner the opportunity of getting the quality he wants at prices he wants to pay.

Our tremendous increase in tire sales more than offsets our reduced margin.

When prices are so low on Gamble's fine quality CREST tires, why not equip your car with CREST?

Official Paper of Pennington County and City of Thief River Falls

A grateful nation will pause in its labors on Monday to pay reverent tribute to its hero dead by going fishing.

Nice things are being said about the Senior Class Play which was presented at the Auditorium Friday night. One encouraging thing about performances of this kind is the fine response they get from the public. The popularity of all types of school activities indicates that our people really are interested in the schools, and perhaps that is one of the reasons why we have such a good school system.

There is going to be a lot of activity in the city next month. Besides the graduation exercises, which generally are a part of the May program, there will be three large conventions, the first being a meeting of the Setesdals Lag on the fourth, fifth and sixth. The following week-end will bring the Ninth District Legionnaires and a week later the Norwegian Lutherans will hold their Northern Minnesota gathering here. While the burden of entertaining these various groups will fall upon a few individuals, it should be remembered by all citizens that conventions are a community responsibility and all should co-operate toward making things pleasant for the visitors. As good hosts we will adjust ourselves to the needs of the respective occasions.

Representatives of railroad management and labor presented good arguments against further increases in state gross earnings taxes on railroad transportation at the Civic & Commerce Association luncheon last week. They set us right on one point. In discussing this question we have argued that the railroads would have no reason to complain about an additional tax providing the tax were spread uniformly over all forms of commercial transportation. Our thought was that it then would be just another sales tax to be passed along to the public which eventually pays the bill anyway. This reasoning failed to take into consideration the fact that a large portion of Minnesota's products, both agricultural and industrial, are sold outside the state, and that by adding to the cost of Minnesota's products, our farmers and manufacturers would be at a disadvantage in outside markets. If Minnesota were a self-sufficient state and all of our business consisted of an exchange of services among ourselves, a tax on transportation would be as fair a way as any to collect the cost of government. But at least half of our population is dependent on industry which sells eighty per cent of its products in other states in competition with the industry of other states. Minnesota's customers in other states are not going to pay the bill for our foolishness. If we attempt to tax them thru the added costs of the products we sell them we will find that they not only will buy elsewhere but by refusing to pay the higher prices we ask they will force our industries to establish themselves in states that are governed more wisely.

PRINCIPLES COME FIRST
(Sioux Falls Argus-Leader)

The assumption that "my political party can do no wrong" and that "the opposition party can do no good" is always bad. Rabid partisans contribute much to political confusion and nothing to good government. The American citizen should consider first his principles and then affiliate himself with the organization most likely to promote those principles. When he places his party first and his principles second, he often finds himself in embarrassingly confusing circumstances.

If I had the opportunity to say a final word to all the young people of America, it would be this: Don't think too much about yourself. Try to cultivate the habit of thinking of others; this will reward you. Selfishness always brings its own revenge. It cannot be escaped. Be unselfish. That is the first and final commandment for those who would be useful and happy in their usefulness.—Dr. Charles W. Eliot.

A Marshall man, traveling to Mexico, met and visited with the negro candidate for vice president of the United States on the communist ticket in the 1936 election. The candidate told the Minnesotan he could be proud of his state because "Minnesota is the garden spot of communism." He is counting on Minnesota and Wisconsin, he said further, to furnish the nucleus for a national party in 1940 acceptable to the communists. That is something to look forward to.—Montevideo News.

The firing squad for thirteen prominent Communists of the Russian governing junta who held only slightly divergent opinions on some political matters, shows clearly that tyranny in the days of the Soviet differ only slightly from tyranny in the days of the Czars.—Jordan Independent.

When a man gets wrapped up in himself it makes a very small parcel.—Louis Allis Messenger.

I must do something to keep my thoughts fresh and growing.—James A. Garfield.

Remember that if the opportunities for great deeds should never come, the opportunity for good deeds is renewed day by day. The thing for us to long for is the goodness, not the glory.—F. W. Faber.

4 Minnesota 4-H Club Members Will Join in Washington Assembly

Selected on the basis of individual achievement and leadership by the state 4-H club committee, four of Minnesota's top ranking club members who will carry Minnesota's banner at the eleventh national 4-H club encampment at Washington, D. C., June 16-23, were announced today at state club headquarters, University Farm, St. Paul.

The winners of this coveted trip, which will give these two boys and two girls the opportunity to spend a week in the nation's capital along with 200 other delegates from every state in the union, Alaska and Hawaii, as announced by T. A. Erickson, state club leader, are: Elna Radtke, Sleepy Eye, Brown county; Dorothy Boxrud, Louisburg, Lac qui Parle county; Wilson Radway, Roosevelt, Roseau county; Kenneth Ostlund, Cerndale, Wadena county.

Alternates selected to replace any regular delegates who may find it impossible to make the trip to the national camp include Margaret Hohman, Hutchinson, McLeod county; Aileen Mittelsteadt, Waseca county; Emil Dietz, New Prague, LeSueur county; Robyn Larson, Bemidji, Beltrami county.

Looking Backward

TEN YEARS AGO
From the Times of May 26, 1927

Rev. Roy L. Smith of Minneapolis will be the high school commencement speaker June 3.—Mrs. H. A. Brumund was elected president of the Woman's club, succeeding Mrs. T. Reep.—Prof. G. Nordberg, president of Oak Grove Seminary, Fargo, was the speaker on the Seventeenth of May program at the Sons of Norway hall.—Ed Roe of Grand Forks was named to succeed L. A. Thune as Lincoln high school athletic coach. Captain Charles A. Lindbergh arrived safely in Paris Saturday after an airplane trip over the Atlantic ocean. Rev. J. O. Jacobson was a speaker at a church conference in Devils Lake, N. D. T. M. Thronson was elected secretary-treasurer of the Ninth district bankers association at its meeting in Detroit Lakes.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
From the News-Press of May 21, 1917

The ten Pennington county banks joined in an appeal to the public to purchase some of the first issue of Liberty bonds. Mrs. Ole Nelson and her infant daughter Annie were burned to death in a blaze that destroyed the Nelson farm residence in the town of Highlanding.—Dr. Frank Nelson of Minnesota college, Minneapolis, will deliver the Memorial Day address. June 5 has been set by President Wilson as the date on which all citizens must register for the draft in connection with this country's participation in the World War.—The freshman class of Lincoln high school donated $15 to the Belgian relief fund.

Boy Scout Circus Held at Grand Forks Friday

Plans to stage as an annual affair the Lake Agassiz Scout Council circus were made Tuesday by the council executive committee according to Peter S. DeJong, council executive. Cowboys, Indians, chariot races and tumbling teams contributed to the success of the first circus held Friday, May 21, in the winter sports building on the University of North Dakota campus in Grand Forks. More than 600 Scouts and Scout heads performed before a crowd estimated at nearly 1,000.

It Happened at the Capitol

That there is nothing so uncertain as politics, is being clearly demonstrated in the Capitol city as these lines are being written. The House of Representatives seems to be divided against itself and there is a mad scramble for the Speakership, with Speaker Harold Barker, of Elbow Lake, finding no solace whatsoever in the candidacy of John J. White of Ogilvie.

White is himself a pronounced liberal, and his consistent liberal voting in the House cannot be denied. However, as many others in the House, he cannot stand for the domination of Arthur N. Jacobs, Secretary to Speaker Barker, who White declares is the "power behind the throne."

Barker raises the cry that White is merely a puppet or a smoke-screen to cover up the important tax matter, and that his candidacy is being fostered by Roy Dunn, leader of the so-called conservative bloc.

The Senate can sit by and smile. They have no such problem facing them and will be fully organized and ready to go to work Monday afternoon. The Lieutenant Governor Gottfried Lindsten, is still indisposed and will be unable to take over the work of his office. President Pro-tem, Wm. B. Richardson, of Rochester, will doubtless be in the chair and preside in the masterly manner that he did in the regular session.

Gov. Benson is scheduled to give his address to the joint gathering of House and Senate on Tuesday. The address is merely a formality, since the radio and press have carried most of what, in all probability, he will say. He will demand the sort of tax legislation he desires, which is the House plan. What contacts I have had since coming back, convince me that the Senate is still much of the same mind and will refuse to appropriate more money than is absolutely necessary. Tax experts and statisticians have set up facts and figures, which would convince the most skeptical, that the Senate bill will not only provide all the money necessary for the next two years but would reduce the levy on real estate, as well. We can see little reason, therefore, in shoving out an additional seven million, and especially at a time when the taxpayer is so sorely pressed.

Secrecy surrounds the activities of the House Tax committee, which has been in session since the regular session, although Speaker Barker has condescended to give out brief disclosures. He states that if the House bills are enacted into law that the following will result: (1) Yield sufficient additional revenue to put the 1937-1938 biennium on a cash basis for the first time in many years. (2) Raise an amount for debt retirement equal to the total of the certificates of indebtedness authorized by the 1937 legislature. (3) Produce an amount permitting exemption from all state taxes of the first $1,000 of homestead valuation. (4) Raise an additional amount to assure that the village rate on general property for state purposes will not exceed 10 mills per year.

If that is all the House proposes to do, there is little need for the special session. The Senate Omnibus bill would have done that very thing, with possibly one exception, item (2)—Raise an amount for debt retirement equal to the total of the certificates of indebtedness authorized by the regular session.

With a tax-strike not among the impossibilities, it seems wholly unnecessary at this time to further burden the taxpayer by liquidating the certificates of indebtedness. True, we do want to cut down interest debt and we must some day get our house in order financially, but a breathing spell at the present time would not be a bad thing for anybody, and unless such a breathing spell is provided soon, Mr. Barker and his Farmer-Labor friends might find the people up in arms and after their scalps at the next election.

Womenkind of Minnesota will have something to say about affairs in Minnesota, if the menfolk fail to settle affairs of state. Out in Washington the women have organized and are protecting that state against the gang labor war that has been going on. Who knows but that the women of Minnesota will do likewise and organize to banish once and for all those politicians who think more of their own selfish political destiny than of the welfare of the state? There are not a few women who are thinking seriously of doing that very thing and when they do, look out Mr. Politician.

In a special article to many newspapers in the state, Roy Dunn, minority leader of the House, openly places the blame for the present dilemma in the House on Abe Harris, Roger Rutchick, Arthur Jacobs and Governor Benson. In the article Mr. Dunn is quoted as saying: "In my opinion these four men were responsible for the unnecessary and expensive deadlock of the regular session. They caused the defeat of the Civil Service proposal of the Minnesota State Federation of Labor and the League of Women Voters; they were active in the effort to put the state in the hard liquor business; they figured in the disgraceful capitol 'sit down' lobby and they continually played politics with the serious problems of taxation."

DR. JOHN T. BOWERS FUNERAL SERVICE HELD AT BEMIDJI

Former Local Doctor Passes Away Unexpectedly at Home Wednesday

Funeral rites were held Saturday at Bemidji for Dr. John T. Bowers, who died suddenly Wednesday evening while working in the yard at his home north of Bemidji. Dr. Bowers, who was 55 years old, had moved to that city from Thief River Falls four years ago, and still owned considerable property in this community.

He was born in Malden Rock, Wisconsin, in 1882, and was graduated from River Falls teachers college and from Valparaiso university. He established his practice in 1908 in Osceola, Wisconsin, and was married in that year to Miss Bessie Rosenquist of Ladyfinger, Wisconsin. He practiced at Gully, Lake City and Wausau, Wisconsin, before coming to Thief River Falls.

Dr. Bowers is survived by his wife and four children; a daughter Laura teaching at Sterling, Colorado; Mrs. Math Harzen of Minneapolis; Mrs. Henry Poppenburg of Magnolia; one son, John T. Jr.; two sisters, Mrs. Nellie Holstrom of Lake City, and Mrs. R. L. Hauge of Elsworth, Wisc.; one brother Dr. Harry E. Bowers of Lake City.

Funeral rites were conducted by Dr. Crawford Grays of Bemidji assisted by Rev. E. A. Cooke and Rev. J. B. Smith of Thief River Falls.

East Grand Forks-Warren Shooters Now Leading in Inter-City Crow Hunting

The next meeting of the Pennington County Sportsmen's club will be held Tuesday evening, June 1, in the Civic and Commerce association rooms. At that time will be announced the latest standings in the crow and gopher hunt now being contested between the Thief River Falls and Grygla clubs on one side and the East Grand Forks and Warren clubs on the other. The contest got under way Sunday and at the end of the first day's shooting the East Grand Forks-Warren hunters had a wide lead over their opponents, the score being 2,617 points to 1,174.

$10,000 Welding Shop and Apartment Will be Built on LaBree av. N.

Philip Hawkins, proprietor of the Electric Welding and Machine Shop, located in the Cities Service building on Main av., today announced plans for the construction of a large welding shop with an apartment on the second floor on the east side of LaBree av. at the intersection of Fourth st. Work on the building, which will be 50 by 100 feet in dimensions and of brick and tile construction, will get under way in June, according to present plans. The city council recently granted a permit for the building, which is estimated to cost $10,000.

Trees Being Replaced on Third St. Parkway

The work of replacing virtually all the elm trees planted last June along the Third st. parkway, which failed to survive the excessive heat last summer, is now under way under the direction of the state highway department, which developed the beautification project. Also to be replaced are a number of evergreens of various types which have failed to thrive.

FIREMEN RESPOND TO SUMMONS LAST FRIDAY

The fire department was summoned late Friday afternoon to the Trovaton apartments on Atlantic av. N. when a furnace pipe became overheated, no damage resulting.

WORMS REPORTED NOW HATCHING ON TREES IN THE CITY

Property Owners Asked to Arrange for Spraying Without Delay

A survey made by H. E. Grow, assistant county agent, shows that the Canker worms are now hatching on the shade trees of Thief River Falls. The feeding on the leaves will start immediately and will continue for the next ten days or two weeks.

"The only control for these worms that can be used effectively this year" said Mr. Grow, "is an application of arsenate of lead used as a spray. W. H. Wilde has a sprayer that can be used in this control of the worms. Mr. Wilde is available to spray trees thruout the city.

"In an announcement of two weeks ago there was an error as to the price that Mr. Wilde will charge for his services. He will furnish all materials and labor for $1.50 per hour. Not over one or two hours will be required to spray most places. Mr. Wilde's services can be had by writing him at Box 134, or by calling him at 80. Make arrangements early as Mr. Wilde has a large number of places to spray. In this way anyone can get his services when it is most desirable."

VIKING BOY WINS MARSHALL COUNTY DECLAM CONTEST

Halward Stone Wins Rural School Title at Warren Saturday

Halward Stone, sixth grade pupil in the Viking public school, won sweepstakes honors in the annual Marshall county rural school declamation contest conducted at the court house in Warren Saturday, competing in a field of 27 contestants.

The Viking boy gave the selection, "Skinny's Dilemma" to win first place in the Class B as well as sweepstakes honors. He will have the right to represent Marshall county at the state rural school declamatory contest at the state fair next September.

First honors in the Class A contest were won by Marion Bush of the Grygla school with the selection, "Janice Takes Care of the Baby." Second place in Class A was won by Donald Dagoberg, district 70, West Stephen section with the selection "Tommy Stearns Scrubs Up" while third place in the class was won by Roger Sackett, also of the Viking school, with the selection "Ronnie Drives the Car." All Class A contestants were fourth grade pupils.

In the Class B event second honors were won by Erma Holmstrom, eighth grade student of district 30, South Newfolden section with the selection, "Ma at the Races" with third place going to Frances Whalen, seventh grade student of District 97, East Stephen section with the selection, "Ma's Birthday."

Mrs. Ingeborg Stene Dies at Grand Forks

Mrs. Ingeborg Stene, 85, died Thursday of last week at Grand Forks at the home of her daughter Mrs. F. J. Past, with whom she made her home for the past six years. Lightning Kills Cattle Near Plummer Monday

A bolt of lightning striking during a thunder storm early Monday morning killed five cows and a heifer, all grade Holsteins, belonging to Francis Walker of Gervais township in Red Lake county, five miles southwest of Plummer. The animals were grazing alongside a fence when the bolt struck at 5 o'clock in the morning. The dead cattle represented Mr. Walker's entire herd, and were not covered by insurance.

Writer of Bad Check Is Taken to St. Paul Monday

Shortly after arriving in this city, Gottfried Carlson, former superintendent of a construction camp at Bronson, was taken into custody by local police Saturday at the request of the police department in St. Paul, where he is wanted on several charges of having issued fraudulent checks. St. Paul authorities came up and got the man Monday. He is reported to have used a deputy sheriff's badge in connection with his check-writing operations.

SOCIAL SECURITY LAWS UPHELD BY SUPREME COURT

Old-Age Pensions Held Constitutional by High Court Monday

The administration's prized social security legislation, intended to protect workers against another depression, and to provide for them in old age, emerged, unscathed, Monday from its constitutional test by the supreme court.

In epochal decisions, the tribunal sustained provisions of the federal measure providing unemployment insurance and old age pensions. It then upheld state unemployment compensation laws to supplement the federal act.

This major administration victory gave it a clean sweep in its legislation before the high tribunal this term. Promptly some opponents predicted that it meant defeat for President Roosevelt's program to put "new blood" in the court.

Administration supporters, however, refused to concede the fight.

Justice Stone delivered the 5 to 4 opinion upholding the Alabama unemployment compensation act, similar to those enacted by 46 other states and by the District of Columbia. It was a test case of the legislation.

The provisions of the unemployment insurance provisions of the federal act were upheld by a 5 to 4 vote and those granting old age pensions by a 7 to 2 ballot. Both decisions were delivered by Justice Cardozo.

2d Headlight School at Dunwoody June 7 to 9th

A second short course for official headlight adjusters will open June 7, to continue through June 9, at Dunwoody Institute, Minneapolis, according to an announcement by John P. Arnoldy, chief of the Highway patrol. Because the first school, which opened May 17, was unable to care for the large number of students who came from all parts of the state, the second school was ordered. Allen Johnson of Dunwoody, who conducted the first school, assisted by highway patrolmen, will be in charge of the second. Garage men, and others who desire to become official headlight adjusters, are urged to attend.

TWISTER BECOMES GIANT SPRINKLER

St. Peter—The story of the cyclone becoming a giant sprinkler was verified by residents of the Oshawa vicinity immediately after it occurred. During last Tuesday evening's storm, the twister which struck Nicollet county swooped down on the Mike Bresnahan farm in Oshawa, sucked up the water in a small slough, and then continued for some distance before spreading the water like a giant sprinkler over the Alan Mans farm.

Half of Minnesota Cars Operated With Illegal Lights, Elsberg States

Half of the motor vehicles operating on Minnesota's streets and highways have defective and illegal headlights and 10 per cent have defective brakes. This is the finding of the Minnesota Highway patrol, in a report to N. W. Elsberg, state highway commissioner, after conducting 16 testing stations in various parts of the state last week. Between 400 and 500 vehicles were tested at each station.

As a result, a statewide order to take motor vehicles with illegal headlights or brakes off the highways has gone out to highway patrolmen in a general drive. The April report of the patrol, just completed, shows 253 drivers arrested for illegal equipment so far this year and 3,229 tagged for various infractions of the traffic code on lights.

The 16 testing stations will continue to operate, according to patrol officers, and from 6,000 to 8,000 motor vehicles, both pleasure cars and trucks, will be stopped and tested weekly, the stations being moved frequently.

Southern Zone Bass and Crappie Season to Open on Saturday

On Saturday, May 29, the season for crappies, bass, and sunfish opens in the so-called southern zone of the state. Anglers in the northern zone must wait until June 21 to take these species.

The state is divided into northern and southern zones by an imaginary line running from Browns Valley in the west, through St. Cloud, to Cambridge in the east. Persons in doubt as to whether a certain lake lies in the northern or southern zone should consult their game warden or the state division of game and fish at St. Paul.

The daily limit for crappies is 15, with 25 permitted in possession; for black striped, yellow, silver, and gray bass the daily limit is six, with 12 permitted in possession; for sunfish, rock bass, and other fish not mentioned specifically in the law the daily limit, for a mixed catch, is 15 with 30 permitted in possession.

BEANS, FLOWERS DON'T MIX; CONTAINER BREAKS

Windom—Beans and flowers don't get along well together in one vase, according to an incident witnessed here. While several women were seated in the living room of a local home a lovely black vase on a table, several feet away from everyone, cracked and then fell in a thousand pieces to the floor, and water, flowers, and beans were spilled on the rug. Everyone gasped in amazement, then the solution was offered by the hostess. A small boy in the family had been playing with beans in his small tractor and had evidently put a load into the vase. The mother, thinking the vase empty, had filled it with water and flowers. The swelling of the beans caused the vase to break.

U COMMENCEMENT SCHEDULED TO BE HELD ON JUNE 14

Baccalaureate Sermon to Precede Exercises in Auditorium

Marking the completion of its sixty-seventh year of instruction, the University of Minnesota will hold annual Commencement exercises, Monday June 14, in Memorial Stadium. Baccalaureate service will be held in Northrop Memorial Auditorium, Sunday June 13.

Preceding the Commencement Program in the stadium, the annual banquet of the General Alumni association will be held at 5:30 p. m. Monday June 14, in the Minnesota Union. Returning alumni thus will be given ample time to attend the reunion dinner before attending the Commencement exercises.

The Baccalaureate sermon will be given by Dr. T. W. Graham, dean of the graduate school of theology, Oberlin College, Ohio, while President L. D. Coffman will be speaker at Commencement and will present the candidates with their degrees. Deans of the various colleges will present their students who have completed their courses for the appropriate degrees.

From 1,200 to 1,500 students are expected to receive diplomas. Among these will be all of the degrees granted by Minnesota including bachelors degrees, those of master of science, master of arts, the various professional degrees in law, medicine, dentistry and pharmacy, engineering chemistry and agriculture and doctorates of philosophy to those who have finished the long task of preparing for this honor.

Home Building Setting Fast Pace in Minnesota

Home building is setting a fast pace in Minnesota this year, it is shown by reports of the 32 Federal savings and loan associations in that state received today by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board in Washington.

Loans for construction, purchase, reconditioning, and refinancing of residential dwellings in Minnesota, made by these associations, increased sharply during the past 12 months, the reports revealed. "Direct reduction" loans for all purposes jumped from $10,691,607 on May 1, 1936, to $16,296,300 on May 1 this year, an increase of $5,601,693.

A direct reduction loan is one in which the face value of the mortgage is continually reduced by easy monthly payments like rent until the borrower owns his home free of debt.

The rapid growth of these associations is shown by the fact that assets leaped from $15,687,858 a year ago to $23,155,481 this month, or $7,467,623 in new assets.

Remember the old fashioned trip behind the wood shed? It was never followed by a sit-down strike.

Red River Valley History

By Win V. Working

Although we have referred to this prehistoric girl before, we present the following paragraphs about her because we consider the story decidedly unusual and also because the great glacial lake referred to covered much of this region. While the subject matter is taken from a press release, it is probable that few readers have as yet encountered it:

"Just a snub-nosed Minnesota subdeb of 16 or so, and she wore a clam shell around her forehead. At her waist she wore a conch shell pendant, from the Gulf of Mexico. And a dagger made of elk antler swung by a leash from her girdle.

"Nobody will ever know what disaster overtook this first Gopher Girl on a dim and shadowy day 20,000 years ago. She disappeared. Probably she was drowned in a pre-historic glacial lake.

"No one ever made a note of having seen the Gopher Girl until a Minnesota road crew uncovered a glittering fragment of her clam shell ornament, away along in June, 1931.

"The glacier had long gone the way of glaciers. The lakes Prairie, Pelican, and grand old Agassiz had dwindled to dots in a parched and drouth-stricken land.

"But since that June day, six years ago, Dr. A. E. Jenks, chairman of the Department of Anthropology of the University of Minnesota has been very busy filling up all the little scientific chinks in a theory he held from the start that here near Lake Pelican, was the first real evidence ever found that man lived in the interior of America in the day of the glaciers and that the skeleton unearthed from glacial drifts by the road crew was, in fact, a fragment of the remains of a proto-Eskimo, pre-Indian, Mongoloid maiden a girl who lived within walking distance of the retreating glacier on the edge of a lake that now exists only in books.

"Dr. Jenks has just made public fully documented findings in his book, 'Pleistocene Man in Minnesota,' published by the University of Minnesota Press.

"That is how it happens the physicians of Minnesota had a chance to study with scientific sidelights the skull of the first Miss Minnesota at close range at their Eighty-Fourth Annual Meeting held in the St. Paul Auditorium, May 3, 4, and 5.

"They will compare Miss Minnesota with a representative of an even earlier race of men, one of the first of the famous Mechtas who lived in North Africa some 10,000 years before the Gopher Girl. This North African man, the doctors explain, also is definitely a 'homo sapiens.' A man, not an ape. He had many so-called civilized accomplishments to his credit.

"Dr. Harold S. Diehl, Dean of Medical Sciences at the University, and Dr. E. A. Meyerding of St. Paul, secretary of the Minnesota State Medical Association, are keenly interested in the fossil remains. Dr. Meyerding is in charge of the many scientific exhibits at the meeting which will be attended by thousands of physicians from Minnesota and nearby states and addressed by nation[illegible]

[illegible] Professions section of the convention will be especially interested in Miss Minnesota's most noticeable feature—her teeth. They are large and strong and all present except one which fell out and was lost when the road crew removed the lady's bones from the glacial lake deposits on State Highway No. 30 near Pelican Rapids."

Very likely the same sort of girl lived here in pre-historic times. But she wouldn't be a very pleasing partner at a dance or picnic. However, it is probable that the young men of her day were not as particular as those of the present.

PLUMMER

PLUMMER DEFEATS GOODRIDGE IN LEAGUE OPENER

The Plummer Cardinals successfully opened their current league season by overwhelming Goodridge 17 to 5 on the Goodridge diamond. The game was a ragged affair, and for awhile it looked as though the Cardinals might toss the game away. Goodridge lead by a score of 5 to 2 going into the seventh inning, but from there on the Plummer hitters went into high gear and put the game away.

Hanson at third base for the Cardinals played an exceptional game in the field and smashed out a double and single at the plate. Karlstad was once more the big gun in the Plummer line-up, getting three doubles, besides making one of the prettiest plays of the game to nail a Goodridge runner at the plate. Craft's throw to home in attempting to stop a Goodridge runner from scoring for second was wide so Karlstad reached out and took the ball with his bare hand in time to tag the runner out.

Toulouse started on he mound for the Cardinals but was ineffective and was relieved by Gilbertson in the fourth. Fremling hurled the last three innings, and looked something like his old self, allowing two hits and no runs in three innings. In the ninth inning he struck out three men.

Next Sunday the Plummer aggregation resumes its fight for the Northern Minnesota League title against Kittson on the Plummer diamond.

LINCOLN HIGH SCHOOL PROGRESS

T. R. F. TRACKMEN SWEEP DISTRICT MEET SATURDAY

Prowlers Amass 108 Points; Will Enter Regional Competition

The district track meet held at the University of North Dakota Stadium in Grand Forks last Saturday was a grand success for the local team. The Prowlers rolled up 108 points, more than all the other three schools combined.

The pole vault was the first event to take place, in which Panser of Crookston took first place by an easy margin. He vaulted 10 feet 6¼ inches. Spence from the same school, was second with Bob Hanson representing Thief River Falls third. Morlan, another Crookston boy captured fourth place. In the next event, the shot put, the Prowlers placed three boys, Adkins first, with a heave of 37 feet 7½ inches, Helquist second, and Nesse fourth. Two East Grand Forks boys, Swenson and Sundin, gained the third and fifth positions respectively. First place in the high jump went to Johnson of Crookston with the relatively low height of 5 feet ½ inch. Sundin was second and Granum, the local representative, and Frazer of Warren tied for third and fourth.

In the broad jump, Nesse was first with a leap of 19 feet 9 inches.

Panser of Crookston, and Hill tied for the second and third positions. Fourth went to Wallace, a Warren boy. Again in the discus the Prowlers placed in three positions. Helquist heaved the plate 91 feet 3 inches to take an easy first, and Caldis and Nesse were in fourth and fifth positions respectively. Second place went to Sorenson and third to Auld, both from East Grand Forks. Once more in the javelin throw the locals were in three positions; Caldis threw 120 feet 6 inches for first, Hanson was third and Peterson fourth. Second place went to Sundin and fifth to Lindholm of Crookston.

The running events were even more of a success for the locals than were those in the field. Starting with the 100 yard dash Adkins, Hill, and Dicken placed in first, third and fourth positions in the order named. Bossman from Warren, captured second and fifth went to East Grand Forks. Adkins time was 11 seconds flat. In the 220 yard dash Dicken and Hauge gained first and fifth respectively. Schaeffer of Warren was second, Hiney of East Grand Forks third, and Jensen from Crookston, fourth. Dicken's time was 25.4 seconds.

Booren, Hauge, and Peterson won first, second and fourth in the 440 yard run with Warren taking third and Crookston fifth. Booren ran it in 61.7 seconds. The half-mile run resulted in nine more points for the locals. Christofferson's time of 2 minutes 22 seconds put him in first place. Lindholm of Crookston, came in third while Warren commanded the last two positions. Adkins went over the low hurdles and broke the tape in 27 seconds. Lorentson followed for second and Hill ran a close third. Two Crookston boys won the fourth and fifth places. In the high hurdles Lorentson was first, his time being 18.8 seconds, Caldis ran second, and Sanders and Spence of Crookston, third and fourth.

There were but three teams entered in the half mile relay and two were local teams. The other was from Warren. Due to a mistake made by one of the boys in the first of the local teams that team, which should and would have had first place, got third. However, the other local team took first; thus giving Warren a second.

The ranking is as follows:

1.	Thief River Falls	108 points
2.	Crookston	34½ points
3.	E. Grand Forks	23 points
4.	Warren	22½ points

Mr. Gabrielson and the boys on the team should be heartily congratulated on the splendid work they have done in the District meet. We all hope they are equally successful tomorrow, when they journey to Bemidji to compete in the Regional meet.

HELLE CHOSEN '37 PAPER EDITOR

McKechnie, Jacobson, Smith Placed on Managerial Staff

On Monday, May 24, the Progress staff for 1937-1938 was announced. A number of changes have been made in the titles of various offices. The following compose next year's staff:

Editor-in-Chief—Theodore Helle
General News Editors—Margaret Jacobson, Robert Smith
Managing Editor—Margaret McKechnie
Sports Editor—Jerome Salveson
Ass't Sports Editor—Gordon Holte
Girls' Sports—Mary Chommie, Harriet Simonson
Features—Lorrayne Haken, Lorraine Amundson, Yvonne Anderson.
Reporters—Martha Havel, Mary Alyce Biedermann, Joyce Bennes

Next week will mark the last issue of the Progress and, as has been the custom in previous years, the new staff will put out the paper.

Activities Banquet Is Set for Friday, June 2

Tuesday, June second, the annual Lincoln activities banquet will be held in the Civic and Commerce rooms of the Auditorium. This yearly occurrence had previously been scheduled for May 25. At the banquet letters will be awarded for all extra-curricular events that have taken place during the past school year. Included among these events are: basketball, football, track, tumbling, declamation, debate, basketball program, music, band and girls' sports. Several numbers will be included on the program and food prepared by the home economics classes will be served.

Hanscomb Players Present "His Sons Father" May 19

The Hanscomb players, an internationally famous company, appeared at the Municipal Auditorium Wednesday, May 19, as another number on the Northwest Assemblies Programs.

Bob Hanscomb, head of the company, heads a cast of six players who present a variety of plays, comedies, comedy dramas, and others. The play which the company presented here was "His Son's Father."

It seems that Mr. Jones was tired of his son's "gallavanting" around and wasting his generous allowance. When worse comes to worst the father literally "put his foot down" and for this reason the son labeled his father as an old crab who was "tight" with his money. It was then determined that the two would change places, that is, the father would take the place of the son and receive the allowance, and the son would take up his father's position as president of a factory. This agreement was to last for a year.

At the termination of the said year, the son had well decided that the reason for his father's disgruntled feeling was adequate. He readily admitted defeat and asked that his father return to the factory. The son, then, married the girl with whom he was in love and settled down to working, and making a home.

And they lived happily ever after.

PROWLER BATSMEN NOSE OUT PONIES 3 TO 2 TUESDAY

Sahl Beats Warren Hurler in Brilliant Pitching Duel

The hitless bugaboo still hung like fog before the eyes of the Prowlers, but with superb hurling by Sahl, they eked out a 3 to 2 decision over Warren, in a baseball game Tuesday, at the fair grounds. Helmer Sahl allowed only two hits, fanned fourteen and rapped out two hits to engineer the Leemen to victory.

The Prowler cudgels were virtually useless until the final inning when they scored two runs to win after trailing 2 to 1. Sahl opened the sixth with a lusty single but Christopherson and Nesse fell by the wayside for two outs. Alvin Dicken got on first when Bob Wilson fumbled his hot grounder. Dicken stole second and Cliff Olesen singled, his first hit of the season, to score Dicken with the winning marker.

Sahl's task of winning his first engagement was made more difficult by his mates' uncertain antics on the diamond. Roy Lee committed two bobbles and Sande one, and some indolent base running also hindered the local's success. The Prowler outfielders, as usual, had little to do as there was not a single putout registered among the eight "gardeners" who occupied the outfield.

Harry Howard, rangy Warren right-hander, held the Prowlers to four hits with four strikeouts to his credit. His change of pace baffled the local batsmen causing them to miss the ball by chopping at it. He was, however, outpitched by Sahl, who had his curving fast ball handcuffing the Pony batters. With better support, he would have registered a shutout.

Warren's only hits occurred in the fifth and sixth innings when Floyd Wallace and Bruce Fulks, respectively, beat out hits.

The Prowler standings now give them a total of three wins and one loss. This is an exceptional record for the pitchers as the team batting average has declined steadily with a .202 average for four games. Their opponents have an aggregate batting total of .131 which reflects the ability of the Prowler twirlers

Adviser .... J. K. Montague

A year's work has been completed. At least this statement is true for the present Progress staff. With this issue we bid the readers of our page adieu. We do this with a great deal of regret and only hope that those readers have enjoyed our efforts in some small way at least. The many events that our reporters have told you about have become history. Our victorious football eleven our ever-to-be-remembered basketball team, our various and very enjoyable pep fests and assemblies have sped past but we hope that through our efforts they have been recorded and preserved for those who are yet to come to our school

As we leave we want to call your attention to a certain group without whom our paper would not have been possible. That group is the typists who decipher our somewhat scrambled and hardly discernable writings and put it down in neater form. These people have received none of the credit due them.

The next Progress will be edited by a new staff, headed by Ted Helle. We know the work of that new group will be all any school could wish for. To them we offer our heartiest congratulations and our best wishes of good luck. All those of the old staff will be watching their work with great interest and highest expectations.

The final, and to the seniors, the most important events of the school year are drawing near. Baccalaureate services and commencement exercises are scheduled for the weeks of June sixth. Sunday evening, June sixth, the baccalaureate services for the graduating class will be held in the municipal auditorium at 7:30. Rev. Erickson, the minister of the Swedish Lutheran Church, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon. The following Friday, June 11, commencement exercises will be held in the municipal auditorium. Doctor George Micklenburg from Minneapolis will be the commencement speaker.

'ROUND THE SCHOOL

Miss Diebel's World History classes are studying the Napoleonic Wars and the reconstruction of Europe.

Miss Greenland's Latin I and II classes and algebra classes are on their review.

English II classes, under the instruction of Miss Steenerson, are studying parliamentary drill and after dinner speeches after which they will begin their review drill.

Mrs. Korstad's advanced algebra classes tried an old state board test Monday just to see what they could do.

Mr. Mayor-Oaks general science and chemistry classes are also on their review.

Mr. Harrison's agricultural classes are busy with their review of the past nine months.

LINCOLN BAND TO PERFORM FOR MEMORIAL SERVICE

Sixteen School Bands Invited to Band Festival Here

During the past two weeks, when the weather permitted, the high school band has been practising marching. The band has been invited to march in the Memorial Day parade and at the Legion convention in Jue, and it takes a great amount of practice to learn to play well and march at the same time. There have been a few slight changes made in the personnel of the marching band, by substituting some cornet players from junior high for some of the clarinet players in the regular concert band. This was done because a marching band needs a strong brass section, while the deers do not count very much in such a band.

The high school band will be well represented at the lettermen's banquet this year. Thirty-six members of the band will receive letters for their work throughout the year. The letters this year will be different from any given here formerly.

Beginning this year, Mr. Riggs has devised a system for giving these letters. A band member will receive a letter the first year of his work, and he will not receive another one until he graduates from high school. This final letter will have a stripe for each year he has been active in band work. Band work probably takes more ability and more time throughout the entire year than any other activity in high school, and because a member is not allowed more than three unexcused absences from practices throughout the entire year, these letters are really difficult to obtain and it will be an honor to have one. The band has met 114 times during the year and a member had to attend all but three of these in order to get a letter.

The high school band has invited sixteen school bands from surrounding towns to participate in a mass band here during the Legion Convention in June. Mr. John Howard will direct the band and it is sure to be a great success. Several bands have already accepted the invitation and we will be able to have even a better mass band concert than was planned at the time of the music contest in April.

WIND-CHILL

Take a good look at the paper when it comes out next week. The new staff will put out the paper for the first time.

Wasn't Mr. Montague's entrance at the class play last Friday grand?

Where were you last Sunday? Either on a certain picnic or the Lake, or Goodridge. I betcha, I bet I betcha.

Baron, Gustafson, Peterson, and Monson were among the missing at a certain weiner roast Sunday. Reason—Maple Lake.

Worry, worry, worry thats what Marge and Lois are doing over a couple of speeches too.

Our teachers are quite the golfers. They did well at Bemidji Sunday.

Tomorrow the Juniors rule. Do they look forward to it!

The class play was a howling success—even if I do say so myself! At least "Howling" describes Milt's part.

All the Seniors are glad Mr. Montague doesn't make out the English State Boards. He made out a 325 point English test last week and all the Seniors TRIED to pass it (Some succeeded).

PROWLERETTE'S CORNER

Prowlerettes! Salute the track team for a clean sweep—does our town shine?

Don't forget girls, Friday, May 28 is the deadline for all points handed in toward numeral or your "L". If you are a potential "L" girl with eyes on the Highest Rank Cup, get into swing, because on June 2 at the Activities Banquet comes the announcement. Everybody who is invited to attend—it is the thing to be there!

My, my I'm beginning to be the don't forget your hankie type!

Don't forget, racquet artists, the tennis tourney officially starts May 31 and ends June 5. Ask Merten Ward, capable manager, just who your first opponent will be—then size her up.

Mmm—short and sweet will all I have to do my dears, so trot along with your worries. I know a remedy for State Board Blues too—hiking, tennis, bicycling, steak frying, weiner roasts, or anything but sit still!!!

"Thumbnails of Seniors"

Gwen Evenson
Liden Liden

She's Gwen to her friends, eighteen years old and keeps her girlish figure by bicycling. Gwyneth Evenson was born May 19, 1919, in Thief River Falls. She prefers Guy Lombardo's band playing, "The Love Bug Will Bite You", to any other. From a spectator's point of view she prefers basketball to any other sport and watching people is her favorite pastime. "The Stowaway," starring Shirley Temple rates three A's in her estimation, and she wouldn't object to dates eight nites a week with Robert Taylor (would any of us). Gwyneth believes "Mystery Flower" by Grace Livingstone Hill to be the best book she has ever read. Miss Wise has inspired Gwyneth in her future ambition, she hopes to be a stenographer—she'll make a nice one won't she? Wednesday evening you will find her by the radio listening to "One Man's Family. She indulges —in strawberry shortcake.

He's small—but oh my! They call him Kenny. Kenten Liden is seventeen years old, born in Thief River Falls on October 11, 1919. Ginger Rogers and Fred Astaire in "Top Hat" filled the bill as far as Kenton is concerned. He has high ambitions, this lad, his future ambition to be an Albert Tangorra (world's champion typist). "September in the Rain" still rates with Kenny played by Wayne King. He prefers just to sit for a pastime, and his pet peeve is studying. "Captain Stromfield's Visit to Heaven" by Mark Twain is good enough. Gracie Allen, is the best radio star and Jack Benny has the best radio program in Kenny's estimation. He isn't afraid of his boyish figure, because he too enjoys his strawberry shortcakes.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY ACCLAIMED AS HUGE SUCCESS

Cast Presents Three Act Comedy Farce Here Friday

Last Friday, May 21, the senior class presented their annual class play which was entitled "Big Hearted Herbert", under the supervision of Miss Helen Margaret Olson.

The plot was woven around Herbert Kalness, a self-made business man who condemned society, and who believed in plain traditions.

Those who took part in the play in order of their first appearance were as follows:

Herbert Kalness—Milton Nesse
Elizabeth Kalness—Vivian Havel
Robert Kalness—Bruce Prichard
Martha—Marjorie Matheson
Herbert Kalness, Jr.—Archie Monson
Alice Kalness—Margaret Rae Munt
Andrew Goodrich—Alfred Nelson
Mr. Goodrich—Leonard Helquist
Mrs. Lawrence—Brunelle Erickson.
Mr. Lawrence—Donald Olson
Mrs. Havens—Solveig Fjelstad
Mr. Havens—James Peterson

Herbert Kalness canot adopt himself to modern ways of living, nor does he want his family to do so. He dislikes colleges and society and refuses to have any acquaintances with college-bred. Naturally, when he learns that his son plans to attend college he becomes very enraged. His anger is further enlightened when he learns of his daughter's engagement to Andrew Goodrich, a young lawyer from Harvard. At a dinner party given by Alice, he pitifully disgraces the entire family with his plain traditions, and he all but chases her guests from his house.

Mrs. Kalness faithfully tries to settle matters between her children and their family, but she finds this a difficult task. However, when Mr. and Mrs. Havens, two of Herberts best customers arrive at the Kalness home for dinner, Mrs. Kalness has rearranged their home into a plain, sightly room, has cooked the plainest of food for them, and pitifully embarasses Herbert by taking his plain traditions literally.

Others who helped make the presentation of this play possible were the following:

Stage manager—Selmer Christofferson.
Advertising—Lois Morell
Properties—Marion Green
Posters—Hettie Gustafson, Madeline Gunderson, Clifford Veres, Roberta Dailey, Lois Morell.

The Senior class presented "Big Hearted Herbert" at the Municipal Auditorium on Friday at 2:15 o'clock and 8:15 o'clock.

The Lincoln High School Band played several selections before the evening performance, and also during the intermission of the first and second acts.

The play was attended by a capacity audience at both performances and furnished those present with many laughs.

PLANS FOR BIG LUTHERAN MEET NOW COMPLETE

Church Convention Will be Held in This City June 17-20

MISSIONARY GROUP TO MEET IN AUDITORIUM

Dr. J. A. Aasgaard and Many Other Dignitaries to be Present

Program details were completed this week for the annual convention of the Northern Minnesota district of the Norwegian Lutheran church of America to be held in Thief River Falls June 17 to 20, which is expected to attract one of the largest gatherings of the year to this city.

In connection with the convention, which will have its headquarters in Trinity Lutheran church, the Women's Missionary Federation affiliated with the church will hold its sessions at the Auditorium June 18 and 19, while the Lutheran Daughters of the Reformation will meet in the Community church Thursday, June 17.

The opening sermon of the convention Thursday morning, June 17, will be delivered by Rev. O. M. Grimsby, Duluth, following which on Thursday afternoon, Friday and Saturday, various aspects of the convention theme, "Workers in the Church", will be discussed by Rev. M. Casper Johnshoy, Stavebuck; Rev. E. Livingston, Clearwater; Dr. A. J. Bergsaker, general secretary, Minneapolis; Rev. J. K. Krogh, Little Falls; Rev. J. S. Strand, Osakis; Rev. P. B. Trelstad, Middle River; Rev. G. W. Tolo, Fertile; Rev. C. M. Westermoe, McIntosh; Rev. H. S. Strand, Detroit Lakes; Rev. T. H. Megorden, Fosston; and Rev. A. J. Anders, Lake Park.

The principal sermon of the convention will be delivered at services Sunday morning at 10 o'clock by Dr. J. A. Aasgaard of Minneapolis president of the Norwegian Lutheran church of America, while Rev. R. M. Fjelstad will give the confessional address. Reverend Johnshoy will serve as liturgist, and Rev. I. T. Aastad of Detroit Lakes, district president, will officially close the convention.

The sessions of the Women's Missionary Federation will formally open in the Auditorium Friday morning, June 18, with a sermon by Rev. R. M. Fjelstad on the theme, "A Personal Question", following which Mrs. E. L. Rolland will give the address of welcome and Mrs. G. W. Tolo of Fertile will make the response. Greetings will be extended by Miss Laura Simonson in behalf of the Dorcas societies, President J. N. Brown of Concordia college, Rev. G. W. Tolo and Ingvald Larson of the Lake Park Children's Home.

The Friday afternoon program will include devotions by Rev. Ed. Urness of Menagha; vocal solo by Mrs. A. L. Abrahamson of Badger; an address by Miss Frida Nilson, dean of women at Concordia college; songs by the Dorcas ladies sextet of Detroit Lakes; and an address by Mrs. K. A. Holstad of Minneapolis, general president of the federation.

At a session in Trinity church Friday evening, June 18, greetings will be extended by Rev. I. T. Aastad of Detroit Lakes, district president, while the principal address will be given by Rev. Fredrick Hallanger of Madagascar. Other numbers on the program will include an organ solo by Miss Ruth Fjelstad, vocal solo by Miss Belva Sandstad of Crookston, piano solo by Mrs. J. C. Wiener of Fergus Falls, and songs by the Fertile ladies aid sextet.

OSTERDALSLAGET WILL CONVENE IN CITY JUNE 25-27

Fourth Large Convention Is Scheduled for Thief River Falls

The fourth major convention to be scheduled for Thief River Falls during the month of June will be that of the Osterdalslaget, Norwegian organization, which will conduct its annual meeting in the Auditorium June 25, 26 and 27, it was announced today by E. O. Erickson, in charge of local arrangements.

Presiding at the convention will be Rev. K. O. Nelson of Chicago, president of the lag, who will be assisted by Mrs. Nina Tangen of Fargo, secretary. The detailed program will be announced later.

Mr. Erickson stated that anyone having rooms to rent to delegates to the convention is requested to telephone 751-R. Last year's convention in Bemidji, he said, attracted a large attendance.

Warren Here for First Ball Game Next Sunday

Setesdalslag Speaker

DR. RICHARD BECK

Professor of Scandinavian languages and literatures at the University of North Dakota, will be one of the principal speakers at the annual meeting of the Setesdalslag in Thief River Falls Saturday evening. The subject of his address will be "Norway and its Cultural Contributions."

Mayor W. W. Prichard Will Throw Out First Ball at 3 O'clock

The shouting of baseball fans and the sharp click of ball against bat will be heard on the fair grounds next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock when the Thief River Falls team meets Warren in the opening home game on the schedule of the Red River Valley baseball league.

The first game of the season scheduled at Warren last Sunday was canceled because of heavy week-end rains, while this afternoon the locals journey to East Grand Forks for a contest. At the same time Warren will be playing at Oslo.

Ceremonies arranged in connection with Sunday's contest include the pitching of the first ball by Mayor W. W. Prichard, with Clarence Sande, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of the team, on the receiving end. Arrangements also are being made to have a band present to enliven the proceedings. Pop and ice cream will be sold during the afternoon.

It was learned yesterday that Red Sobolt, catcher for Luther college last year, who batted at a .300 rate for the Dakota Millers during the summer, is expected to arrive in time to serve behind the bat in Sunday's game, while Orvalla will be on the mound for the locals.

Warren is well fortified this year with a strong pitching staff, including Austin McCarthy, former St. John's university star; Art Palmer and Harold Struble. George Lennon will fill the catcher's berth for the visitors.

Admission for the game has been fixed at the low scale of 25 cents and ten cents.

PLAN SHEEP TOUR IN PENNINGTON CO. WEDNESDAY, JUNE 9

W. E. Morris of University Farm to Demonstrate at Three Farms

The plans and arrangements for the Pennington County Sheep Tour have been completed. The tour will start at the E. H. Pomerenke farm 1½ miles North of Mavie on Wednesday, June 9 at 10 o'clock. There will be a dipping demonstration there supervised by W. E. Morris, livestock specialist from University Farm. He will discuss the value of dipping to control ticks, the construction of a concrete dipping tank, etc.

From the Pomerenke farm the tour will proceed to the Frank Hardisty farm in Smiley Township where a drenching demonstration for control of stomach worms in sheep will be given. Mr. Morris will show how sheepmen can drench their sheep very easily, economically and successfully. Also some docking and castrating will be done at the Hardisty farm. Preceeding the drenching demonstration there will be a picnic lunch for everyone that desires to bring their lunch with them. Free coffee will be served.

The third stop will be made at the Henry Oen farm in Rocksbury township. At this farm Mr. Morris will discuss sheep management, ram selection and care and grading of wool. There will also be a judging contest for anyone who cares to enter. Only one class will be judged.

Any farmer who is raising sheep cannot afford to pass up this opportunity of getting information regarding sheep production direct from a specialist, said County Agent R. M. Douglas.

Two and One-Half Inches of Rain Over Week-end; Large Area Is Covered

The heaviest rain of the past year visited this section over the week-end, an estimated total of two and one-half inches having fallen Saturday night, Sunday and Monday morning. The rain was general, extending far out into North Dakota. Crookston, the nearest official reporting station, recorded 2.46 inches of precipitation over the week end. The pool in the river above the dam rose considerably after the rain and permitted the operation of one of the water turbines.

New Phone Directories Now Being Distributed; Numbers Go Above 1,000

New telephone directories now being distributed by the local office of the Northwestern Bell Telephone company includes a novelty in the form of a group of numbers above 1,000, the first time such high numbers have been used in the history of the exchange. Since the last directory was issued six months ago, the number of telephone connections in the city has increased from 1,196 to 1,271, and in the rural area from 208 to 221. The new directory includes a total of 356 changes since the last one was published in December, 1936.

SETESDALSLAG TO OPEN SESSIONS IN THIS CITY FRIDAY

Well-Known Speakers and Musical Numbers on Program

The annual convention of the Setesdalslag, Norwegian organization, will get under way at the auditorium in this city Friday afternoon and will continue thru Sunday morning. Bj. Bjornaraa of Trail, president of the organization will be in charge of the sessions.

A popular feature of the convention will be a Setesdalskveld Friday, with vocal and instrumental music and folk dances. Mayor W. W. Prichard will extend greetings and an address will be delivered by Peter Myrvold of Winnipeg, while the local men's chorus will sing a group of selections.

The speaker Saturday afternoon will be Rev. Hans Uppstad of Page, N. D., while in the evening Professor Richard Beck of the University of North Dakota will give an address, and a Norwegian motion picture will be presented. Rev. Halvard Li of Fisher will officiate at a "Fest-Messe" at the Auditorium Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Bjornaraa announced this morning that Daniel Aakhus of Minneapolis will appear at the convention with the $10,000 violin of his late father, Elvind Aakhus of Grand Forks. The instrument later will be sent to a museum in Setesdal, Norway. Mrs. O. F. Mellby also will sing, he announced.

EAST GRAND FORKS, WARREN LEADERS IN CROW HUNTING

Standings of Teams Reported at Sportsmen's Club Meeting

East Grand Forks and Warren crow hunters have a better than two-to-one lead over their opponents from Thief River Falls and Grygla, it was announced at a meeting of the Pennington County Sportsmen's club Tuesday evening. The respective standings are 5,572 points to 2,631.

The hunt will officially close next Sunday, June 6, and all points must be turned in to Leon J. Kaliher, club secretary, not later than Monday noon. The losing side will furnish a meal for the winners at a date to be announced later.

Following completion of the crow hunt, members of the club will be solicited for contributions for the support of the wild duck breeding campaign being conducted nationally under the name "Ducks Unlimited."

Carlie Johnson, president of the club, was named to confer with the city council with a view to stopping the reported practice of out-of-town parties in seining minnows out of Red Lake river below the dam.

Retires as Teacher

MISS MINNIE LEAVITT

For the past 17 years a member of the Thief River Falls public school faculty, who, at the end of the present school year, will retire from active work. Miss Leavitt, who thus brings to a close a teaching career in Minnesota extending over a period of 35 years, was graduated from Litchfield high school, Mankato state teachers college and the University of Minnesota. She taught first in the rural schools of Meeker county, and later served as high school principal in schools at Pine River, Kerkhoven and Lake Benton, coming to this city after a period of service in International Falls. The board of education recently adopted resolutions commending Miss Leavitt for her excellent service in the local schools.

GARDEN CLUB TO BE ORGANIZED AT MEETING FRIDAY

Local Group Will Affiliate With State Horticultural Society

A great deal of interest has developed regarding the organization of a garden club in Thief River Falls on Friday evening, June 4, at 8 o'clock in the Civic and Commerce association rooms. Every person in Thief River Falls who is interested in gardening should plan to attend this meeting said Howard Grow, assistant county agent.

The club will affiliate with the Minnesota State Horticultural Society. In order to do this each member must pay a fee of 35c each year. This fee entitles the member to the magazine, "The Minnesota Horticulturist", for the year; a choice of one of the plant premiums which the society offers, and also the privilege of borrowing books from the loan library by paying for their transportation to and from the office.

A garden club said Mr. Grow may lead in making public improvements, in stimulating appreciation of beauty in public and home living conditions, and in accumulating garden knowledge by attendance of meetings and lectures.

"Wake Up and Live" Is Avalon Offering Sunday

Walter Winchell, famed New York columnist, makes his film debut in a musical production, "Wake Up and Live", in which he will be seen with Ben Bernie and Alice Faye at the Avalon theatre Sunday and Monday, with a midnight preview Saturday evening at 11:15. Additional comedy is provided by the laugh-provoking antics of Patsy Kelly, Ned Sparks and Jack Haley, while nine outstanding song hits are provided by Mack Gordon and Harry Revel.

SENIORS WILL ATTEND RITES SUNDAY NIGHT

Rev. Charles W. Erickson to Officiate at Baccalaureate Services

NEW COMMENCEMENT SPEAKER SELECTED

Chisholm Superintendent to Substitute for Dr. Mecklenburg

Garbed in somber caps and gowns, 109 members of the graduating class of Lincoln high school will attend baccalaureate services next Sunday evening, June 6, in the Auditorium. The services will be conducted by Rev. Charles W. Erickson, pastor of Augustana Lutheran church, who was graduated from the local high school in 1909.

Members of the class will advance to their seats to the music of the processional march, "Marche Noble", by Bach, played by the Lincoln high school band under the direction of Ronald G. Riggs. Following the doxology and invocation, the Lincoln high school boys' glee club under the direction of Miss Erma Springen will sing "Moonlight Night" by Wennerberg.

The audience will sing the hymn "How Firm a Foundation," after which Reverend Erickson will deliver his sermon on the theme, "Our Century's Great Challenge." The Lincoln high school chorus directed by Miss Springen will follow with two selections, "Vigil", by F. Melius Christianson, and "Now the Day Is Over", by Barnaby. The benediction and recessional march "The Pilgrim", by Lake, will complete the program.

Supt. Morris Bye announced today that the high school commencement address Friday evening, June 11, will be delivered by James P. Vaughan, superintendent of schools at Chisholm, substituting for Dr. George Mecklenburg of Minneapolis, who was obliged to cancel his appearance here, having been subpoenaed as a witness in a case scheduled to come up for trial that day in federal court in Minneapolis.

Mr. Vaughan, who is a former president of the Minnesota Education association and who has been serving in his present capacity for more than 25 years, has the reputation of being an able speaker.

Mr. Bye also stated that eighth grade graduation exercises will be conducted at the Auditorium Friday morning, June 11, at 10 o'clock, and that Rev. Paul J. Snyder of Crookston will deliver the address.

Hanson Heads Delegates to State Firemen's Meet

At a meeting last week of the Thief River Falls fire department Leonard Hanson, chief of the department, was named delegate-at-large to the state firemen's convention in Crookston June 14, 15 and 16, other delegates from this city being Ole Ness and Lawrence Bjorkman.

Salvation Army to Hold Tag Day Next Saturday

Next Saturday, June 5, will be observed by the local unit of the Salvation Army as Tag Day, the funds to be raised in this manner to be devoted to mission work conducted by the organization, Envoy E. W. Bailey, in charge, announced today.

Junior and Senior Civic Groups Meet Tonight

To Witness Motion Pictures of Golf Tourney Won by Seniors

A joint meeting of the Civic and Commerce association and the Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held this evening at 6:30 in the rooms of the senior association in the Auditorium. At that time the Junior Chamber golfers will be host to the senior club wielders who recently defeated them in a tourney on the local course.

A feature of the evening's program will be the showing by Carl Kretzschmar of motion pictures showing exciting moments in the course of the golf battle. Also slated to come up for discussion at the meeting is the possibility of arranging for a delegation to visit Nicollet ball park in Minneapolis on a day this summer that would be designated as Thief River Falls day.

At last Thursday's luncheon of the Civic and Commerce association A. J. Rae, manager of the local office of the Northwestern Bell Telephone company, said he had made arrangements, in the event of a serious outbreak of fire in the downtown district at night, to notify owners of property in the vicinity of the blaze. Fire Chief Leonard Hanson also offered the cooperation of the department.

Mayor W. W. Prichard urged that all businessmen cooperate in providing more parking space on the downtown streets by refraining from parking their cars in the business district. O. C. Paulson outlined plans for street decorations in connection with the Ninth district Legion convention to be held in this city June 11, 12 and 13.

At the close of the meeting an interesting motion picture showing various details in the manufacture of beer was presented by the Thief River Grocery company, distributors in this section for the Anheuser-Busch Brewing company.

Legion and Auxiliary to Pack City Next Week

Mud Lake Project Gets Under Way

The above picture, showing one of the first shovels of dirt to be moved by McGarry Brothers on the federal project at Mud lake, was taken last week and given to the Times by I. E. Quist of this city, who is aiding in supervising the work as assistant hydraulic engineer with the bureau of agricultural engineering in Washington.

The project, which calls for the expenditure of nearly $90,000, involves the moving of approximately 750,000 cubic yards of dirt for excavations and embankments, as well as gate controls in Ditch 11 and in upper Thief river. The dragline now at work, which will be supplemented by another in a few days, is being operated in three shifts, and has a fifty-foot boom with a shovel of one and three-quarters cubic yards capacity.

The purpose of the work is to restore the former swampy condition in the Mud lake area and create a migratory waterfowl refuge embracing more than 50,000 acres, including all of Mud Lake township and parts of several townships. The project will involve the removal of approximately forty families from the area by next fall.

CREAMERY MEN TO ASSEMBLE IN CITY THURSDAY, JUNE 10

Operators of Districts 3 and 4 to Hear Charles Ommodt

Charles Ommodt, newly appointed commissioner of the state department of agriculture, dairy and food, will be the principal speaker at a combined meeting of Districts 3 and 4 of the Minnesota Creamery Operators and Managers association in the Civic and Commerce association rooms in the Auditorium next Thursday, June 10, beginning at 1 o'clock.

Chief topics for discussion will be the new anti-discrimination law with special reference to cream trucking charges, as well as other dairy and creamery problems.

All creamery managers, operators, assistants and directors are invited to attend, it was announced by Walter Peterson of Middle River and W. J. Strandlie of Roseau, respectively president and secretary in District 3. C. M. Pesek, dairy and food inspector in this district, also will be present at the meeting.

TEN HIGH SCHOOLS TO PARTICIPATE IN GOLF EVENT HERE

Thief River Falls School Is Host in Tournament Saturday

Ten Northwestern Minnesota high schools have accepted invitations to participate in the first annual Thief River Falls high school invitational golf tournament on the local course Saturday afternoon, beginning at 1 o'clock.

E. W. Gabrielson, under whose direction the tourney will be conducted, announced that four boys will represent each school and that eighteen holes will be played. The winning team will receive a trophy awarded by the Thief River Falls Times, while three medals will be awarded for low scores.

High schools which will be represented include Bemidji, McIntosh, Erskine, Fertile, Crookston, Red Lake Falls, Twin Valley, Park Rapids Grand Forks and Thief River Falls.

Horseshoe Courts Now Ready in East Side Park

The concrete horseshoe court layout, consisting of four courts, has been completed and is ready for use at the East Side park. The courts, which have concrete walks on the sides and behind the pitcher's box, were built by youths employed by the National Youth Administration. Materials were furnished by the local park board. Lights may be installed in the near future so that players may play at night.

Legion Housing Group Issues Urgent Call for Rooms June 11, 12, 13

With a large influx of visitors in prospect for the three days of the annual convention of the Ninth District American Legion and auxiliary in this city June 11, 12 and 13, an urgent call was issued today for rooms in private homes during the convention. The rate to be paid for accommodations is $1 a night per person. Those having rooms available for one or more of the three nights are asked to call housing committee, which includes Mrs. H. R. Lund, telephone 552; Mrs. W. W. Long, 265; and Mrs. Sophus Olson, 278.

MEMORIAL DAY RITES OBSERVED IN CITY MONDAY

Week-end Rain Lets Up in Time to Permit Holding of Parade

A steady rainfall that started Saturday night and continued thru Sunday ceased early Monday morning in time to permit the carrying out of Memorial Day rites arranged by the local Legion post.

Participating in a procession from the Auditorium to the First st. bridge were the Lincoln high school band directed by Ronald G. Riggs; the auxiliary drum corps led by Mrs. Jeanette Wright; Boy and Girl Scouts and Brownies. The procession was headed by the Legion color guard, with Ralph W. Woodhouse serving as marshal.

At Greenwood cemetery Kyle Montague of the Lincoln high school faculty paid tribute to the war dead in a brief but impressive address, following which taps were sounded. The Catholic cemetery also was visited, and all graves of veterans in the county were decorated.

Ten Pennington County 4-H Club Workers Win University Farm Trips

Because of their outstanding work in 4-H clubs, a group of ten Pennington county club members have been selected from 429 in the county to attend 4-H week at University Farm, St. Paul, June 14, 15 and 16, it was announced today by Miss Thelma Solie, county club leader. Included in the group are Jeanette Tveit, Northfield; Melei Johnson, Highlanding; Bernice Halvorson, Steiner; Phyllis Prestby, Hazel; Pauline Zachar, Mavie; Iris Ayers, Norden; Hazel Melin, Bray and Polk Center; Alice Anderson, Rocksbury; Roger Roy, St. Hilaire; and Donald Urdahl, Goodridge. Each of the boys and girls has been engaged in 4-H club work for from three to nine years.

Record Crowds in Prospect for Ninth District Convention

CROWDED PROGRAM FOR JUNE 11, 12, 13

More Than Dozen Bands and Drum Corps Will be in Evidence

Thousands of members of the American Legion and auxiliary units and their friends from as far south as Fergus Falls and North to the Canadian border will converge on Thief River Falls late next week for the Ninth District Legion and auxiliary convention which will be in progress Friday, Saturday and Sunday, June 11, 12 and 13.

Every post and unit in the district will be officially represented at the convention, in addition to which there will be large delegations from the various communities. The proceedings will be enlivened by the participation of more than a dozen bands and drum corps, the first of which will arrive Saturday morning, followed by other groups up to the time of the convention parade Sunday afternoon, June 13, at 1 o'clock.

Besides the convention parade, there will be a memorial parade Sunday evening, which will proceed to the Elks park where memorial services will be held, the principal address to be delivered by Mike Murray of St. Cloud, former department commander of the Legion.

Others who will appear on various programs in the course of the convention include C. A. Zwiener of St. Paul, department adjutant; Frank Webb of Grand Forks, North Dakota department commander; Joe Rabinovich, Americanization chairman of the North Dakota department; Mrs. F. C. Moore of Minneapolis, auxiliary department president; Mrs. Hal Cory of Winona, national committeewoman; Mrs. Stoops of the Veterans hospital, Fort Snelling; and James M. Pruett, member of the board of directors of the Veterans hospital.

Other convention features will include a Legion championship golf tournament, including 27 holes of medal play; dances in the arena Friday and Saturday evenings; and a series of three baseball games. A contest will be played Saturday afternoon, June 12, between Legion junior league teams representing Thief River Falls and East Grand Forks; while Sunday include a "grudge" game between Roseau and Marshall county Legionnaries in the morning and a contest between Oslo and Thief River Falls at 4:30 in the afternoon, following the massed band concert and drum corps maneuvers at the fair grounds.

The Legion and auxiliary members will attend to the more serious side of the convention at business sessions to be held Saturday morning and afternoon in the Auditorium, which will be convention headquarters. O. C. Paulson, Ninth District Legion commander, will preside at the Legion sessions, while Mrs. A. E. Helland of Gonvick, district president, will be in charge of the auxiliary meetings. W. E. Dahlquist and Mrs. G. L. Hiddick are respectively general chairmen for the Legion and auxiliary making local arrangements for the convention.

LEE CALLS JUNIOR BASEBALL BOYS TO MEET ON SATURDAY

Session to be Held in High School Gymnasium at 2 o'Clock

George E. Lee, who again this year will supervise junior baseball activities in this city under the sponsorship of Elmer J. Ecklund post of the American Legion, today issued a call for all boys over the age of nine, who wish to learn more about the great American pastime, to attend an organization meeting Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the high school gymnasium.

Mr. Lee will instruct the boys in all branches of the sport during the summer months. A year ago nearly 70 boys practiced regularly during the season, and showed much improvement in their performance as a result.

A special invitation, Mr. Lee said, is extended to high school and junior high school boys between the ages of 12 and 17 who wish to be candidates this season for the Legion junior baseball team. The aggregation will meet its first test in a game to be played with East Grand Forks on the fair grounds diamond Saturday, June 12.

Mrs. Carl Kankel Fetes Miss Lillian Erickson

A lovely bridal shower, carried out entirely in a color motif of yellow-and-white, was given by Mrs. Carl Kankel of Red Lake Falls at her home Friday night in honor of Miss Lillian Erickson, early June bride-elect. Garden flowers decorated the rooms of the Kankel home for the occasion.

Bridge was played at three tables, prizes being awarded to Miss Lillian Erickson for high score and to Mrs. J. W. Ruane for second high score. At the conclusion of the bridge games, the hostess assisted by Mrs. Clement Brunell of Red Lake Falls, served a two-course, yellow-and-white luncheon, covers being placed for the fourteen guests at a beautifully appointed table centered with a white bride's cake. Yellow favors were provided for the guests and at the place reserved for the guest of honor was placed a corsage of yellow tulips and lilies of the valley, the hostess' gift to Miss Erickson. Shower gifts of glassware were presented to the honor guest.

The guest list included Misses Lillian Erickson, honor guest, Rose Erickson, Katherine Ellie, Eva Hobarge, Beulah Bennes, and Hilda Ness of Minneapolis; and Mmes. Stuart McLeod, Edgar Longren, Rudolph Sagmoen, J. W. Ruane, Ralph Aasland, Richard Joringdahl, Victor Kvikstad and Ed Ness.

Mrs. Myrtle Singer 24, Dies in Local Hospital

Mrs. Myrtle Isabelle Singer died Sunday morning in a local hospital at the age of twenty-four years. Funeral rites were conducted at Imanuel Lutheran church, Emardville township, Wednesday afternoon, Rev. J. K. Lerohl of Oklee officiating, and interment was made in Imanuel cemetery.

Mrs. Singer was born in Garnes township May 17, 1913, moving from Garnes to Emardville township, in 1931 and residing there since that time. She was married on March 3, 1934, at Red Lake Falls to Mike Singer, who survives her death together with two daughters Geraldine and Colleen, both residing at home.

Other surviving relatives are her mother, Mrs. Peter Randulson of Emardville township; three sisters, Mrs. Walter Champagne of Plummer, Mrs. Rudolph Olson of Brooks, and Alvina Olson of Emardville township; her stepfather Peter Randulson; one half-brother Raymond, both of Emardville township. Her father, three sisters, and four brothers preceded her in death.

Steam Pressure Gives More Safety in Canning

Even 3 hours of boiling in a hot water bath will not kill some bacteria in non-acid vegetables, and absolute safety in canning foods of this type will require the use of steam pressure, according to Inez M. Hobart, extension nutritionist, University Farm, St. Paul.

Heat penetrates very slowly into the interior of containers, and in the hot water bath processing, the water around the vegetables in the center of the containers may not start to boil until 90 or more minutes after the water in the kettle. Unless some pressure is used, the water in the jars cannot be kept at a boiling temperature. A steam pressure canner, however, makes it possible to force temperatures high enough to penetrate the containers quickly and destroy all dangerous bacteria in fairly short order.

The pressure canner is an economy in the long run when the elimination of waste from spoilage is considered. Dividing the cost of the canner by the hundreds of containers of food processed in it during its lifetime, the cost of the canner per unit canned is very small.

For those who already have a pressure canner, a good checkup is important to see if (1) the pressure gage is clean, (2) the safety valve is in good working order, and (3) the pressure gage registers accurately.

High School Athletes May be Insured in Fall

Those mothers who worry about athletic sons were reassured Friday with the announcement that Minnesota high schools will have an insurance plan in effect next fall.

O. E. Smith, executive secretary of the state high school league, announced the plan will provide for voluntary participation by schools in a scheme modeled after the Wisconsin plan.

Schools will pay from $5 to $15 a year, according to their size, and 75 cents for each boy playing football, with a 25 cent fee for each athlete in other sports.

Kerosene Is Useful Aid in Removing Woodticks, Says Physicians Group

Expert woodsmen and experienced vacationists have supplied the answer to the question: How do you remove a wood tick safe and whole?

It's a simple little trick and particularly useful in June, according to members of the Public Health Education Committee of the Minnesota State Medical Association because wood ticks, as noted in last week's bulletin from the Committee, are capable of carrying a serious infection from animals to human hosts and they are especially prevalent in June.

The trick is merely to put a drop of kerosene or gasoline on the tick. He will promptly withdraw his hold if he has already commenced to burrow and drop off without your help. Even if he has not commenced to burrow, the woodsman's trick is safe and advisable because forcible removal without aid is likely to result in breaking off the proboscis and leaving it imbedded in the skin.

Court Denies Plea for Ditch Into Maple Lake

A district court order denying the petition of a group of East Polk county residents for the establishment in Judicial Ditch No. 70 to drain the overflow from Poplar river into Badger lake, and thence to Maple lake was issued recently by Judge James E. Montague after a hearing on the matter had been held in district court. The petition was first heard last fall and hearing adjourned at that time so data on the spring overflow of Poplar river, if any, could be presented to the court.

Cotton Duck

Cotton duck is heavy, coarse, plain woven material, usually with each alternate pair of warp ends woven as one. It is often sold in grades by weight, designated in ounces, or by number. The name is derived from the fact that it sheds water.

For Your Cookbook

ORANGE ALMOND DELIGHT

1½ cups sugar
6 tbsp. water
6 eggs separated
2 tsp. grated orange rind
1½ cups sifted flour
1 tsp. baking powder
¼ tsp. salt
½ cup orange juice

Boil sugar and water in saucepan to soft ball stage. Beat the egg white stiffly and pour the hot syrup into them in a fine stream. Continue beating until the mixture is cool and stiff enough to hold its shape. Beat the egg yolk until thick and lemon colored, then fold into the egg mixture. Fold in the orange juice and rind. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together and fold into the egg mixture carefully. Pour into ungreased tube pan and bake an hour at 325 degrees. Invert pan until cake is cool. Remove from pan and split in two layers and spread between layers with orange custard. Spread the top with rest of custard and sprinkle with shredded toasted almonds. Decorate the sides of the cake with flowers made of candied orange peel for petals and almonds for the centers. Chill in refrigerator 3 to 4 hours before serving.

ORANGE CUSTARD FILLING

3 egg yolks
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup orange juice, strained
2 tsp. grated orange rind
1 cup whipping cream
1 tsp. lemon juice

Beat the egg yolks until thick and lemon colored; blend in the sugar, orange juice and rind and cook over hot water, stirring constantly until the mixture thickens. Beat the cream stiff and fold in the mixture, then blend in the lemon juice.

BUTTERMILK PIE

1 cup sugar
4 tbsp. flour
4 eggs
2 cups buttermilk
1 tbsp. butter
1 tbsp. lemon extract

Sift the sugar and flour together. Beat one whole egg with three egg yolks, add flour to the buttermilk and cook until thick and creamy, stirring constantly. Remove from the fire and add the butter and lemon extract. Let cool slightly and pour into prebaked pastry shell. Cover with meringues made from the egg whites. Spread on smoothly and pipe a frill of meringue around the edge and a circle in the center. Bake for 15 minutes at 350 degrees. For the meringue, measure ½ cup of sugar for the three egg whites and beat until the sugar has lost its grain.

PEANUT DROP COOKIES

2 cups brown sugar
1 cup shortening
½ teaspoon salt
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
2 cups flour
½ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 cup cornflakes
2 cups rolled oats
1½ cups peanuts with skins left on

Cream the sugar with the shortening and salt. Add the eggs and flavoring and beat until creamy. Sift the flour, soda and baking powder together and add to first mixture. Add other ingredients. Drop by small spoonfuls on cookie sheet and bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 12 to 15 minutes.

SWEDISH LUNCHEON RING

Biscuit dough
2 cups cooked meat
1 tablespoon onion
1 pimento, chopped
1 small green pepper, chopped
Salt and pepper
Milk or broth
Bacon

Roll biscuit dough on a floured board to one-fourth inch thickness. Spread with a mixture of the meat, seasonings and enough broth or milk to moisten. Roll like a jelly roll. Form in a ring. Place on cookie sheet. Cut diagonal slashes to center and place one-half slice bacon in each slash. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) for 30 minutes. Serve with pimento sauce. Serves 6-8.

Luther Leagues of Five Lutheran Church Bodies to Meet in Twin Cities

Young People's Luther League organizations of five Lutheran church bodies will hold their international conventions simultaneously this year in the Twin Cities of Minneapolis and St. Paul, from June 23 to June 27. It is the first time that the youth groups of the five Church bodies concerned have cooperated in this way, although they have been associated together since 1930 in a federation termed the American Lutheran Conference. Member groups are the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America, the Swedish Augustana Synd, the American Lutheran Church, the Lutheran Free Church and the United Danish Lutheran Church.

From ten to twenty thousand delegates and visitors are expected to attend the conventions. Several joint sessions, meeting in the Minneapolis Auditorium, will also be held.

The most significant of the joint gatherings will occur Sunday, June 27, the final day of the conference. Divine services will be held Sunday morning in the auditorium, with Dr. T. F. Gullixson, St. Paul, president of the American Lutheran Conference, giving the conference sermon. The climaxing joint session will be held Sunday afternoon and will feature a concert by a spectacular Lutheran Youth Conference chorus of 3,000 voices, under the direction of Dr. F. Melius Christiansen, director of the world famous St. Olaf Lutheran choir. The public will be especially invited to attend these Sunday joint sessions.

White Garb Urged to Save Lives on Roads

If Chief John P. Arnoldy of the state Highway patrol has his way, Minnesota's highways will be dotted with splashes of white, made up of white garbed pedestrians, at night time this year when three million tourists invade the state. Pointing out that three pedestrians, all garbed in dark clothing, have been killed on the state's highways since April 1, Chief Arnoldy has urged every pedestrian who must use the highways at night to wear something white.

"White clothing can be easily seen when picked up by automobile headlights," said the chief, "and the wearing of white will save many lives this year."

Pedestrians, according to the new highway traffic code, have certain rights but, to save their own lives, they are required to walk on the left side of the road, giving way to oncoming traffic. Pedestrians are subject to traffic control devices, the same as motor traffic.

HOBO MAKES BED OF CHOIR GOWNS

Granite Falls—A hobo chose the basement of the First Lutheran church here for his sleeping place one night and not finding any bed or bedding, he appropriated the 25 choir gowns from their hangers and used them to soften the floor. He "had to get in some place out of the rain," said the hobo when a passerby saw him leaving the church in the morning. It became necessary to have all the robes cleaned before they could be used again in the choir loft for many were covered with tobacco juice and soiled from the dust on the floor.

NEW OPENINGS IN GIRLS RESIDENCE SCHOOL, ST. PAUL

Girls From Rural Communities Invited to Seek Admission

Another four month term of the girls' residence school, operated by the National Youth Administration at St. Paul, will open on May 24th. It is the desire of those in charge that the girls from rural communities and small towns, especially girls who have not had high school opportunities, be enrolled in the school the next term. To be eligible girls must be between the ages of 18 and 25, out of school and not engaged in regular employment. Before a girl may become an enrollee, she must be certified by the relief officer of the county where she resides. Only girls who are physically and mentally sound will be accepted. Young women who are interested in attending the school are asked to write to N. A. Thorson, district supervisor, National Youth Administration, Detroit Lakes, for an application blank.

The girls residence school provides an opportunity for individual development as well as an understanding of community responsibility through training in household activities, health education, social and economic problems, recreation and individual counseling. This program is operated in conjunction with work projects. Each girl is assigned for 44 hours work on the project, deductions are made for maintenance costs, after which she receives approximately $5.00 per month for her personal spending.

WOMAN IS KILLED BY VICIOUS RAM

Baudette—Mrs. Katherine Norlander, aged 72, died May 15 at the home of her son, Ernest, in Lakewood township, north of Williams, from injuries received earlier that day when she was attacked by a vicious ram. Mrs. Norlander was found near the door of the farm house with a fractured skull and other injuries. She had gone to the well for a pail of water when the ram attacked her, knocking her down. The animal continued its attack and no one was near to help the unfortunate woman who received many injuries. When her son returned from work in the fields she was still conscious and able to describe the accident. Doctors were called, but Mrs. Norlander's injuries were of such a nature that she died four hours after she was found.

Red River Valley History

By Wm V. Working

When the Buffalo Roamed

There has been uncertainty among connoisseurs of local history concerning the time when the buffalo (bison) disappeared from this region. The writer has in his possession a sketch of pioneer days prepared by relatives of Lyman K. Raymond, who was a cavalryman in the United States army during and immediately after the Civil war.

The sketch deals with a trip made in the summer of 1865 from Fort Snelling. The expedition moved through this section, presumably on an exploratory mission. Evidently prairie country was encountered at intervals. The account reads in part:

"August, 1865, saw the troops in camp on the Thief river" and from here on Mr. Raymond's diary is filled with interesting notes concerning the country and the abundance of game which included buffalo, antelope, etc. Water, wood and grass, of course, were prime essentials for the troops and their horses and they encountered varying conditions on the march. Sometimes the water was poor, sometimes good and timber was scarce at times as they left the streams behind.

"Killed two buffalo August 9th and two antelope on August 10th" are brief entries in the diary and mention is made of camping at Johnston lake on August 11th, a lake so named by the commanding officer because of the death by drowning there on that date of one of the troopers. 'Cannon were fired over the surface of the water and this brought the body up' and the military funeral which followed was witnessed by a band of 100 Indians deeply impressed with the ceremony."

Here we have interesting facts. First, the dates reveal the buffalo and antelope were killed near here. Second, the firing of cannon over the water to bring up a body is a new idea to many readers, no doubt. Third, the picture of Indians on the Dakota prairies solemnly watching the burial of a soldier is more than intriguing to those interested in such matters: it is in a sense prophetic. Later they were to cause many military funerals on these same prairies.

Continuing we read:

"On Sunday, August 13, 1865, the troopers saw a herd of 52 elk and killed 17 of them, and my partner" (wrote Mr. Raymond) "shot one that weighed 620 pounds on the commissary scale. His antlers stood nearly seven feet high!"

"The troops reached the south east end of Devils lake on August 25, at Fort Totten, and Mr. Raymond noted in his diary that the water was salty and the lake bordered by a narrow belt of timber. He was evidently greatly impressed with the size of the then great lake for he says "It was 60 miles long and 40 miles wide and very deep." This probably approximated its size at the time although some historians doubt that it was quite that large.

"About two weeks were spent in the Devils lake region by Mr. Raymond's unit and many expeditions and scouting trips were made from these headquarters on the Sheyenne river. Toward the end of August, however, the grass around the camp evidently gave out and the troops were moved to another campsite where there were good grass and wood. On one trip made by Mr. Raymond and some of the soldiers they went as far as the Canadian line, became lost and had to stay out all night, as his diary reads and on another occasion three of the troopers became lost but finally found their way back to camp by the aid of skyrockets fired at headquarters.

"A ten-day scouting expedition to Fort Berthold ended with the return of the scouts on September 4th, 1865, 'and their horses looked awful', Mr. Raymond reported. Buffalo were scarce in that neighborhood but the troops dined on buffalo meat on September 7th.

"About this time the expedition evidently headed southeast on its return march to Fort Snelling, for on September 9th, Mr. Raymond noted that they were '45 miles from the Red river' and a few days later they marched into Georgetown, on September 12th. An interesting item of the day reads: 'killed a bear today', presumably in the timberland which bordered the river."

These facts dispell doubts as to the presence of buffalo in this area in 1865 as the information is taken from a diary written at the time the animals were seen and killed. We may assume that they were present for a few years afterward as well.

Compare Price and Value of Feeds for Livestock

The cheapest and most economical grains to buy for feeding all classes of livestock are uppermost in the minds of many Minnesota farmers, and H. G. Zavoral, extension animal husbandman, University Farm, St. Paul, has set up a comparison of prices to aid in selecting feed.

Corn in most counties of the state is selling at or near $1.30 per bushel, and from the standpoint of feeding value for most classes of livestock, states Mr. Zavoral, all other grains are cheaper in comparison.

Comparisons taken from feeding standards point out that when shelled corn is selling for $1.30, other grains are economical feeds for cattle, sheep and horses when selling at the following prices: ground wheat, $1.40 per bushel; ground barley, $1.06; ground oats, $0.64; ground rye, $1.23. As the price of corn increases or decreases, the value of these other grains increases or decreases proportionately. When shelled corn is selling for $1.00 per bushel the relative value per bushel for these other grains are: ground wheat, $1.07; ground barley, $0.81; ground oats, $0.49; ground rye, $0.95.

The values of ground wheat and oats in the above figures do not apply to hogs, but the other grains, barley and rye, do. The comparative values for corn, ground wheat and ground oats for feeding hogs include: corn, $1.30; ground wheat, $1.46; ground oats, $0.60. And when corn is $1.00 per bushel these other two grains are economical feeds when ground wheat is $1.12 per bushel and ground oats $0.46.

Senators to Draw Pay During Special Session

Attorney General William S. Ervin in an opinion handed down Friday ruled members of the senate are entitled to $10 per day pay up to $300 for the special session of the legislature on the same basis as the house. The question arose over the special session law of 1936 providing for extra session pay. The constitution provides that no increase in compensation shall be prescribed to take effect during the period for which the members of the existing house of representatives have been elected.

FARIBAULT FIRM GETS MOORHEAD BRIDGE JOB

A contract for the construction of the 1,591 foot Fargo-Moorhead interstate bridge has been awarded to William O'Neil Sons Company, Faribault, for $304,629, according to an announcement by N. W. Elsberg, state highway commissioner. The bridge proper will be 854 feet long with a 40-foot roadway and two seven-foot sidewalks. It is to be the deck girder type with concrete piers and abutments. Construction is expected to start in the near future.

NEW TRAFFIC CODE TO BE TESTED ON 'GUINEA PIG' ROAD

Trials Will be Conducted Before Zoning System Is Installed

Some 100 or 150-mile section of Minnesota's 11,500-mile Trunk Highway system is to be selected as the "guinea pig" on which the state's new Uniform Traffic Act speed zones will be tried out before they are applied to the general public.

Under the new state law, setting 20, 30, 45 and 60 miles per hour as lawful zoned rates of daylight speeds, the establishment of traffic zones and posting of zoning signs is made a responsibility of the State Highway department.

The new act, with its major purpose the checking of the terrific traffic toll in human lives and injuries, cannot be successful unless the speed zones are established on a practical, common sense basis, N. W. Elsberg, state commissioner of highways, asserted.

The zoning of nearly 11,500 miles of road, of many different types, on widely varying terrain, and under every extreme of traffic conditions, is in itself a tremendous task, Commissioner Elsberg said. If this zoning is to be scientifically effective in its results, then it must be scientifically put into operation, he added, and to this end he proposes to establish some characteristic stretch of a state trunk highway as a "laboratory."

On this laboratory, under actual traffic conditions, will be determined the methods of zoning, the most practical types of signs, and the speed limits which can most effectively be put into effect under all conditions of traffic volume and road surfaces, for the greatest benefit to the largest number of highway users.

In the meantime, the zoning of the entire state trunk system will await the conclusions of these 'laboratory' experiments, so that when the zones are actually established they will be practical and lasting.

Meanwhile, Commissioner Elsberg pointed out, the temporary provision of the new act, fixing prima-facie "speed limits" at 30 miles through populous areas and 15 miles on other highways, will be just as effective as local enforcement officers make it—and no more so.

Mare Can be Worked Up to Foaling Time

A brood mare should be worked up to the time of foaling although care should be taken so that she does not abort, says A. L. Harvey, member of the animal husbandry staff, University Farm, St. Paul. The exercise the mare gets at work helps to keep her in condition and aids her materially at foaling time.

If there is no work for the mare, she should be exercised regularly. Just before foaling her grain ration should be reduced. If the mare has been working, more precaution should be taken in the feeding and mangement because of the abrupt change and the necessary reduction of exercise for several days.

Mares that have had no trouble in foaling will be able to do light work within a week; others may need a longer rest. In either case, however, the mare and foal should be given light exercise each day, beginning 2 or 3 days after foaling. Exercise is necessary for the health of both the colt and the mare and greatly assists in strengthening the colts legs.

The feed of the mare should be held down until the colt is able to take all the milk which she can be fed according to the amount of milk she produces and the work she does.

Remember?

Remember a wide-eyed youngster, bubbling with eager questions, gravely concerned with the serious problems of kindergarten? Remember dreaming of a day when that youngster, grown up, should face the world with every advantage within your power to give? At last graduation day is here—fulfilling your unspoken promise to the youngster—realizing your dream. A day of great happiness—a day whose memory should be kept vivid by some token of remembrance.

Remember! There is a gift that expresses everything you can't put into words. That gift is Gruen—the Proudest Name in Time. The pride that owners exhibit in the Gruen watch rests not only on the outward beauty of its design but also on the inward quality which has made the word "Gruen" famous throughout the world for true precision timekeeping. See the many thrilling new Gruen styles now on display at our store.

Remember particularly to see the Gruen Curvex models. For Curvex is the only watch movement that is truly curved to fit a wristform case. This permits a longer wheel train, larger and sturdier parts and assures the time-keeping accuracy of the finest pocket watch.

WPA WORKERS WHO TAKE OTHER JOBS WILL BE FAVORED

Will Get Preferred Reemployment Status, Says Christgau

Pennington county has 16 men and women employed on "white collar" WPA projects. These assignments not only relieve the county of the financial load which would be inevitable if they were on relief, but many of them are receiving training in preparation for future employment in private industry.

This employment figure was released this week by Miss Beatrice Mertens, district supervisor of women's and professional division in the Detroit Lakes office of J. B. Kovarik, district director.

These so-called "white collar" projects include sewing for the needy, recreation, education, bookbinding, nursing, clerical work and associated activities. In the state as a whole, this division is giving employment to 6,631 women and 3,692 men who, in the nature of their previous work, are unsuited for assignment to manual operations.

Sewing projects provide employment for a large number of people whose training and work experience has been relatively limited. Practically every county in the state has at least one sewing unit, the workers in which range from as few as six to as many as 400 in the large cities. Sponsored by county boards, these workers are making serviceable garments which are distributed through the surplus commodity division to needy persons, thereby effecting a material saving of county funds.

Annual Loss of $362,000 Caused by Forest Fires

Forest fires in Minnesota burned over an average of 221,000 acres of land a year during the last five years and caused an annual loss of more than $362,000.

That is the conclusion of A. E. Pimley, fire prevention assistant of the state division of forestry. During the last 20 years there was a yearly average of 11 fires caused by lightning, according to Mr. Pimley. All of the remaining 31,513 fires during this period were caused by human carelessness.

In 1936, according to the report, approximately 300 fires were caused by land clearing, 250 by meadow burning, 295 by vacationists, and more than 400 by smokers.

Duck Increase Seen by State Biologist

Although the fishing season will continue to hold the spotlight for the coming months, Gordon Fredine, state biologist, has a word of encouragement for duck hunters. Ducks are showing a marked increase because of increased moisture, according to Fredine. Indications are that the downward trend of the state's duck population during the past five years of drouth is at an end. However, it is expected that none of the restrictions in effect during the last waterfowl season will be changed this fall. Geese are also reported to be on the increase.

AMATEUR PLAY HALTED WHEN GUN DISCHARGES

Mahnomen—"The show must go on," a vow held sacred by folks of the stage and screen, received a set-back last Friday evening at Naytahwaush when the amateur production, "Bashful Mr. Bobbs", was called off near the close of the first act. Seymour Miller, principal of the Naytahwaush schools and a member of the cast, received a severe gash in the palm of his right hand when a shotgun, a "prop" of the play, loaded with blank cartridges accidentally discharged. The play which was attended by a large crowd was brought to an abrupt end and friends of the victim took him to Mahnomen where he was treated by a physician.

150 Drunken Motorists Lose License in April

One hundred and fifty Minnesota motorists lost their drivers license in an April drive by the state's combined police forces on drunken and reckless drivers, Gil W. Carmichael, director of the state Drivers License bureau, has reported to N. W. Elsberg, state highway commissioner. Sixty-four licenses were revoked in April as compared to 43 the same month a year ago.

Of 2,599 driver license revocations to date, 2,486 were for drunken driving, Mr. Carmichael said.

Members of the Highway patrol, police and sheriffs, and their deputies, combined in the drive. Mr. Carmichael said enforcement officers and judges are co-operating to rid streets and highways of drunken drivers.

Potato Growers Plan Red River Valley Tour

Plans for a tour of the 12 counties which comprise the area covered by the new Red River Valley Potato Improvement Association, by officers of the association, representatives of the University of Minnesota extension division and others who will speak at a series of meetings, are being formulated by Fred L. Behling, president. In Pennington, County Agent R. M. Douglass and Peter Engelstad, directors of the association, are being asked to make arrangements for a local meeting to be held sometime in June for the purpose of acquainting growers and others with the aims and objects of the association.

Examination to be Held for Halma Postmaster

An examination to fill the postmastership vacancy at Halma has just been announced by the Civil Service Commission, according to word received here from Congressman R. T. Buckler. Applications will be accepted by the Washington, D. C. Office up to June 11 for an open competitive examination. The date of assembling of competitors will be stated on the admission cards sent applicants after the date for the close of receipt of applications. The examination will be held in Thief River Falls, about 15 days or so after June 11. Persons interested in the examination may secure application blanks at the Halma Post Office.

LAMPLIGHTER FOR 37 YEARS ON JOB AT 70

Lake City—Thirty-seven years as lighter of the Lake City pier and point lights, part of the navigation service maintained by the government lighthouse service along the Mississippi river, is the record of Mrs. Sarah A. Kimm of Lake City who is still on the job at the age of 70 years. She started lighting the lights in May, 1900, and has never missed a night, except for illness. The pier light is a red one indicating that it is a landing place for river craft and the other light on the point, a narrow neck of land which juts out into Lake Pepin, serves to point the way up and down stream to steamers and other vessels. The lights are lighted every evening from the time the ice leaves Lake Pepin, usually in March, until the close of navigation in November. When Mrs. Kimm began her work kerosene hand lamps were used but now the government has oil lamps in service and Mrs. Kimm has been notified that electric lights may soon be installed.

CORONATION ACOUSTICON

We are convinced that the hearing aid industry comes of age with the introduction of the Coronation Acousticon. Here, at last, is the instrument that the hard of hearing have long awaited—so perfectly engineered it is assembled under a microscope—beautifully contoured and streamlined—smaller and lighter than any Acousticon ever made—offering for the first time Constant Amplification, a steady, uninterrupted flow of volume in any position of normal use.

Those who know hearing aids will find in the Coronation Acousticon a host of dazzling, almost unbelievable new features. And to hard of hearing persons who have never used an aid, it truly offers "A Royal Road to Better Hearing."

Remember—the Acousticon alone is custom fitted to your personal hearing loss on the patented Audiogauge. We would like to show you what this can mean to you at our office. Won't you call for a demonstration or write for further information?

Official Paper of Pennington County and City of Thief River Falls

THE PENALTY IS DEATH

Local officials are making a commendable effort to regulate bicycle traffic in the city. Under a voluntary registration plan it is hoped that careful driving practices will be adhered to by the youngsters. This plan at least makes it possible for the police to keep in contact with the riders and careless driving can be restricted to some extent.

This does not mean, however, that the police have assumed responsibility for bicycle traffic in the business section of the city. As a matter of fact, there is little the police can do. Mild penalties can be inflicted but without the co-operation of the youngsters themselves, and their parents, little can be accomplished. There is a more severe penalty for carelessness than that which the police are able to administer. Prompted by an unfortunate accident at Red Wing, the Northfield News calls the attention of its readers to this more severe penalty, the penalty of death, in the following comment:

> For violation of two rules of traffic, similar to provisions of the new Northfield bicycle ordinance, a fourteen year old boy was killed at Red Wing Friday night of last week. His companion was injured.
>
> Both boys were riding on the same bicycle. The Northfield ordinance forbids that. The bicycle had no rear light nor reflector. The Northfield law expressly states that all bicycles must be so equipped if ridden after dark.
>
> The Red Wing tragedy bears application to Northfield in the fact that it features the passage of our ordinance. The new measure cannot of itself protect the lives of our young bicyclists. It is merely a tool, a means for attaining that protection.
>
> Some may object to the penalties imposed by the ordinance for violation of its provisions. The parents of any violator who may in the future be punished with a small fine or suspension of license should be deeply grateful that the maximum penalty was not inflicted, the penalty of death.

SIXTY MINUTE PARKING

Mayor Prichard has asked business men to leave their automobiles at home on busy days so as to provide more room for people from out of town to park their cars. Most of the business and professional men probably will co-operate with the mayor in this common-sense appeal. On busy days it is sometimes necessary for visitors to park several blocks out in the residence section. Keeping a few cars off the street isn't going to solve this problem entirely, of course, but it will help. Some towns are making such a practice compulsory. In Fergus Falls, for instance, all residents of the city are restricted to sixty minute parking on certain streets, and the Fergus Falls Journal explains the new markers that have been put up as follows:

> Farmers and other visitors to the city should not be frightened by the 60-minute parking signs that have been put in place from Vine street to the neighborhood of the Northern Pacific station. People staying at the hotels park their cars on the street all day and all night, and are not molested. If you live outside Fergus Falls, park anywhere on the streets as long as you want to. The signs are intended for citizens of this city only, so as to keep the streets clear for outside people.

NEW HIGH IN FOOLISHNESS

(Waseca Journal)

While President Roosevelt was away fishing last week, Mrs. Roosevelt (author of "My Life" in the Ladies Home Journal and wife of the president) kept up the family's tradition for nonsensical suggestions with that of an eight hour day for housewives.

Obviously the idea is typically "new deal." Based on the unproved theory that a husband works only eight hours a day, Mrs. Roosevelt has advanced this new proposition with all the sagacity of an old political campaigner, mainly, we suspect, to keep her family name in the spotlight and to prove that she and the president have the interests of suffering womanhood at heart.

Relaxing for a moment, let's scale the heights of humanity to the level of our first family and have explained to us a few of the complexities which would be bound to result from such a schedule.

First we should like to get some idea of how the house jobs are going to be arranged. If wifey gets up at seven to get breakfast, she's going to have in her eight hours by three in the afternoon. After that who's going to heed the howls of the baby until hubby returns at six. Who's going to cook the evening meal and wash the dishes, play hostess to the guests invited for the evening, see that the kids wash behind the ears before they slip upstairs to bed.

Mrs. Roosevelt forgets that all married men cannot afford the luxury of maids for their wives, and that in that case being a wife is a 24 hour a day position. Does she suggest polygamy for these unfortunates.

The basis of Mrs. Roosevelt's momentous idea is about as deep and lasting as beauty. She is tampering with one of the basic units of American society, the home, and she makes the error of figuring humanity on a machinery output scale. She robs the possibility of emotion and the will to "work overtime" out of the relationship of marriage.

Most women chose between the eight-hour day and marriage before they pronounced the vows of matrimony.

To those who feel they made a bad bargain, we can do nothing but condone Mrs. Roosevelt's suggestion and with all the friendliness in the world suggest that they line up with the AFL, rather than with the CIO.

Accidents to those using and operating machinery do not all take place in factories. Actually, there is a surprisingly large number of machine-made mishaps on the farms of the country. Two items in last week's News told of painful, and perhaps partially crippling, accidents on farms in this vicinity. The factory worker has his machine under control and operates it under careful safeguards. The farm worker often has to operate complicated, heavy equipment under uneven conditions that put a severe strain on his ingenuity and increase the element of risk to boot.—Montevideo News.

Groups Endorse Drive to Finance Safety Campaign

Heads of ten state organizations with memberships including thousands of men, women and children have indorsed the supporting membership campaign for continuation of traffic safety educational work in Minnesota.

Announcement of the support of these groups, including fraternal, civic, veterans' and women's organizations, was made by A. V. Rohweder of Duluth, chairman of the Minnesota Public Safety Committee.

Under plans for the drive, Minnesota motorists are asked to become supporting members of safety committees through payment of a membership fee of twelve cents a year.

Seven cents of the sum will be used for city and county safety work and five cents for the activity of the Minnesota Public Safety Commitee, which for three years has carried on an intensive educational campaign in the state.

It is planned to ask a membership payment of 25 cents at this time, thus avoiding another drive next year.

WHEATON HAS FIRST OIL FOUND IN STATE

Wheaton—Since oil was struck at a depth of 861 feet six miles southwest of Wheaton, Minnesota has an oil field, and hundreds of people have visited the well which is being dug by Robert Lent. The fact that oil rose in the pipe 655 feet in 35 minutes proved that a large vein of oil had been struck. Six barrels of the dark green fluid which by some visitors has been designated as crude oil of the finest paraffin base commanding a premium on the market, were pumped from the pipe one afternoon with the level continuing to rise.

GOODRIDGE

Commencement Friday

A class of eight Goodridge high school seniors and seven eighth grade graduates will receive diplomas at commencement exercises Friday evening, June 4. The high school seniors include Ida Fjeld, Alvin Halverson, Helen McDade, Curtis Olson, Muriel Stephenson, Clara Tanem, Harvey Tollefson and Arlene Uglem. Eighth grade graduates are Lloyd Iverson, Clayton Johnson, Harland June, Hope Swanson, Orda Torgland, Gunner Tweeten and Dorothy Udahl.

Following the processional by Mrs. Leone Peterson, invocation by Rev. O. O. Bjorgan and singing of "America" by the audience, Harvey Tollefson will give the salutatory, after which G. H. Mayer Oakes of Thief River Falls will deliver the commencement address.

The high school chorus will present a selection, following which T. A. Dorud, superintendent, will present the class and O. Udahl, chairman of the board of education, will confer the diplomas. Presentation of awards, an instrumental duet and the valedictory by Curtis Olson will complete the program.

Baccalaureate Services Held

The Baccalaureate service for the Goodridge high school was held on Sunday evening at the new school auditorium. Rev. H. O. Peterson of Viking delivered the sermon, and he chose as his text Romans 6: verse 11. High School Chorus Song, "Beautiful Savior" and a Vocal Solo, "Trees" was sung by Ernest Nelson.

The last two baseball games played by the Goodridge high school team resulted in the score as follows: Goodridge at St. Hilaire, 3 to 1 in favor of Goodridge, and St. Hilaire at Goodridge on Wednesday was 6 to 1 in favor of St. Hilaire. Friday, which was "Senior Day" was spent in and around Bemidji by the Goodridge Seniors. They visited the many points of interest there. Prof. and Mrs. Dorud accompanied them.

Mrs. A. G. Jerstad entertained a few small friends on Friday afternoon in honor of her son Luther's first birthday. The little folks played games and had their pictures taken, and at four o'clock ice cream cake was served. Gifts were given to the guest of honor. Douglas Nelson was the guest of honor on Monday afternoon when his mother invited in a few friends for his third birthday. Lunch was served with the traditional birthday cake and presents were presented to the honor guest by his friends.

Keep in mind the Fourth of July Celebration to be held at Goodridge on Saturday, July 3rd.

COWS' GREED BECOMES $250 LOSS TO FARMER

Graceville—Because three-Shorthorn milch cows became greedy and jealous of one another, George Kolman, farmer living ten miles east of Ortonville, had a $250 loss. All three of the cows smothered to death when their heads became wedged in a small sugar barrel, left in the barn as a feed container. The barrel, containing only siftings at the bottom, was not more than two feet in diameter. At chore time Harvey Kolman discovered the cows, their heads in the air, locked securely by the barrel. One cow had already died and despite efforts to get air to the other two by knocking out the bottom of the barrel, they died within an hour.

LARGE GATHERING ATTENDS KIDDIE REVUE THURSDAY

Proteges of Miss Elaine Wenner Make Highly Favorable Impression

That Thief River Falls and surrounding communities are well supplied with juvenile dancing talent was amply demonstrated to a large audience at the Auditorium last Thursday evening when the Elks lodge presented the singing and dancing revue "Shoe-Shine Boy" under the direction of Miss Elaine Wenner.

Marked proficiency, indicating thoro preparation, was revealed by the youthful performers in both solo and ensemble numbers, the effect being greatly enhanced by the attractive costumes worn by the dancers and by the appropriate backgrounds that were provided.

Skilled tap, acrobatic and toe dancing was demonstrated in a series of numbers, including honkytonk dancers, sandmen, dream dancers, candle dancers, Pennies from Heaven, a race horse novelty, yacht club girls, Russian acrobats, Scotch lassies, African Zulus, Spanish castanet dancers, Japanese toe dancer and leopard dancer.

Other numbers included selections by the high school boys' double quartet and marimba solos by Lorraine Quist.

Diamondball Meeting for Drawing Schedule Set for Monday Night

WOMEN'S CAMP AT N. W. SCHOOL SET FOR JUNE 14 TO 17

Handicraft Clinics Will be Features of This Year's Program

The dates of June 14-17 have been selected for the Twelfth Annual Women's Camp at the Northwest School of Agriculture at Crookston. One-hundred and fifty to two hundred women from the fourteen Red River Valley counties attend the camp annually, according to J. W. Miinar, registrar of the school.

The Women's Camp is unique in that the women live in well-equipped dormitories and secure their meals at the school dining hall. The camp slogan is "Instruction, Rest, and Recreation."

Registrar Miinar states that the new feature of the program this year will be handicraft "clinics" in rugmaking, knitting, and decorative art, in which women will be given expert instruction in the handicrafts. Mrs. Belle O. Fish, extension specialist in child care, University Farm, St. Paul, and Miss Bess M. Rowe of "The Farmer's Wife" publication, St. Paul, will be the chief lecturer for the camp. Mrs. H. H. Hodgson, Mrs. Ida Swanson, and Mrs. E. W. Eagle of Crookston will be in charge of the rug weaving, knitting, and decorative art work.

Demonstrators of national importance will be on hand to demonstrate foods and painting. Motion picture entertainment, coffee hours, outdoor games, and the swimming pool offer additional inducements which will make the twelfth annual camp a success.

POSTMASTERS OF DISTRICT AGAIN NAME BROWN HEAD

Annual District Meeting Is Conducted at Red Lake Falls Wednesday

Postmaster F. A. Brown of Grygla was re-elected president of the Ninth district of the National League of District Postmasters at the annual meeting of the organization in Red Lake Falls Wednesday of last week. Miss Eileen Elofson of Lancaster was named secretary, succeeding Clifford Hedquist of Argyle.

Speakers on the afternoon program included R. S. Towle of Bathany, state president, and Postoffice Inspector H. E. Schriver of Fargo.

At a banquet in the evening in the Lincoln hotel, over which Mr. Brown presided as toastmaster, a number of speakers gave brief talks, including Postmaster Andrew Anderson of this city and Gunder Legvold, secretary of the district civil service commission. A dance in the community hall closed the day's program.

City Council Votes to Call for Bids on Auditorium Stoker

Acting on the advice of City Attorney Theodore Quale, the city council at an adjourned meeting Wednesday evening of last week rescinded its earlier action in purchasing a coal stoker for the Auditorium on a rental basis, and voted to call for bids on the equipment. A resolution was adopted limiting parking of cars in front of the postoffice to five-minute periods, and signs will be installed calling attention to the regulation.

Stanley Efteland was named garbage collector succeeding Palmer Efteland, resigned.

Red Lake Resort Group to Meet Friday Night; Indians Approve Lease

The Red Lake Indian council Saturday voted a renewal of the lease held on property at the narrows by the Red Lake Summer Resort association. The lease, which is for a five-year period, has been in effect for the past fifteen years and is subject to approval by the Indian bureau in Washington, D. C. A special meeting of members of the resort association has been called for Friday evening in the municipal court room in the Auditorium, at which time improvements of the property contemplated for this season will be discussed.

The white oak of Europe, very similar to the American species, is the oak of myth and poetry. Celts and Britons worshiped it, and the Druids built their sacred fire under its branches.

Colored Lights Being Installed Downtown

In preparation for the series of conventions scheduled to be held in this city during coming weeks, a crew of men this week is installing new ornamental street lights on the light standards in the downtown district. The lights, of various colors, are mounted on circular frames attached to the tops of the standards.

WPA GIVES INDOOR WORK TO SIXTEEN COUNTY CITIZENS

Assignments Serve to Relieve County of Financial Burden

WPA workers who obtain jobs in private industry will be given a preferred status for WPA re-employment, says an official announcement by Victor Christgau, state administrator. District and area administrative offices began enforcing the new regulation June 1.

New WPA policies now in effect are summarized as follows:

New assignments will be restricted, at least until after July 15;

Continuation of present surveys to determine the employability and efficiency of workers with a view to eliminating those incapable of performing assigned tasks;

Eligible relief workers who accept other jobs are assured of re-employment on WPA should such private employment be terminated through no fault of their own within 90 days. This is contingent on new appropriations providing for the operation of projects.

"Congress is about to determine the extent of federal participation in meeting relief needs, and until the amount of the appropriation is definitely settled, it is impossible to make conclusive announcements as to the future operations of WPA," said Mr. Christgau. "However, WPA has definitely adopted a policy of giving preference to its workers who obtain jobs in private employment and who, at the termination of such work, still are in need. Those who find jobs in private industry, even though on a temporary basis, assist materially in meeting the unemployment problem and, therefore, will be given special consideration within the allotted quotas."

Lutheran Church Circuit to Meet at Valle Church

The spring meeting of the Thief River Falls circuit of the Norwegian Lutheran church will be held next Tuesday and Wednesday, June 8 and 9 in the Valle church five miles northeast of Grygla, Rev. S. MARSHALL COUNTY CREAMERY PICNIC SUNDAY, JUNE 14TH

John Brandt and Charles Ommodt Will Deliver Addresses

Middle River State park in Foldahl township east of Argyle will be the gathering place for thousands of residents of Marshall county Sunday, June 13, when the ninth annual picnic of the Marshall county creameries will be conducted.

Address will be delivered in the afternoon by Charles Ommodt, recently appointed commissioner of agriculture, dairy and food; and John Brandt, president of Land O'Lakes Creameries, of Minneapolis. E. M. Evans of Middle River will preside as chairman, and the invocation will be delivered by Rev. J. H. Bowman of Viking.

Musical selections will be presented by the Alvarado band, while the Viking male quartet will sing, and Doris and Thelma Anderson of Viking will give a vocal duet. Horseshoe pitching, kittenball and other contests will complete the program. Admission to the grounds will be free and a loudspeaker system will be installed for the occasion, it was announced.

Buick Co. to Broadcast Braddock-Louis Fight

Buick will be host to the nation at the championship Jim Braddock-Joe Louis fight to be held in Chicago, June 22, according to Wiener Top and Body Works, Buick dealer here, who announced today that the factory has signed contracts for the broadcast of the event over a nationwide NBC hookup. John Wiener said that the largest radio hookup ever to broadcast a major fight will be employed by Buick. This will consist of 125 stations of the NBC'S red and blue networks. Stations WDAY, Fargo, and Bismarck, will carry the broadcast locally.

Nothing further is being said about the plan to broadcast debates in the house and senate. Couldn't congress interest a sponsor?—Arkansas Gazette.

FULL PROGRAM SET FOR LUTHERAN MEET JUNE 17TH TO 20TH

The session Saturday morning June 19, will open with devotions by Rev. A. L. Abrahamson of Badger, followed by a round table discussion by circuit presidents, vocal solo by Miss Helen Ann Tallakson of Fergus Falls, and greetings from Dr. J. A. Aasgaard of Minneapolis. The morning session will close with a workers' conference of department secretaries and ladies aid presidents.

The final federation program Saturday afternoon will open with devotions led by Rev. C. W. Annestad of Twin Valley, following which there will be addresses by Mrs. J. A. Sealander of Detroit Lakes and Mrs. C. O. Estrem of Fergus Falls. Walter Ekeren will supply a vocal solo, and O. F. Gunderson of Roseau will render a violin selection. The convention will close with reports of committees and installation of newly elected officers.

National officers and others will speak at the convention of the Lutheran Daughters of the Reformation in the Community church Thursday, June 17. A special feature will be the serving of a Mothers-Daughters banquet in Trinity church at 6:30.

MOISTURE STATUS IN VALLEY IS MUCH BETTER THIS YEAR

Northwest School Man Reports on Condition of Soil

There are approximately 126 more tons of water now in an acre of soil three feet deep than there has been as an average of the last three years on a corresponding date, according to R. S. Dunham, agronomist at the Northwest School and Experiment Station, Crookston. Considering the total soil water to a depth of three feet as 100 per cent during the last week in May, thirty-one per cent of the total water is found at three feet, 33.5 per cent at two feet, and 35.5 per cent at one foot. Wheat planted April 17 is nearly an inch taller than it has been as an average of the last three years at a corresponding date. Oats are an inch and one-half taller and flax is about the same.

Soil moisture studies and measurements of the growth of various field crops have been made on the same plot of ground at the Northwest Station since 1934. On May 22 each year, the following figures have been obtained by Mr. Dunham: At 12 inches, the percentage of water in the soil reached a low of 21.8% in 1934, and a high of 25.5 in 1937. At the 24-inch depth, the soil moisture sank to the low point of 18 per cent in 1936, with 24.3 per cent in 1937. At 36 inches, the low moisture content for May of 20.4 per cent was reached in 1936. The subsoil moisture supply at the three-foot depth amounts of 23.4 per cent this year.

An acre of soil to a depth of three feet weighs approximately 4500 tons. The water in a soil containing 20 per cent moisture therefore weighs 900 tons per acre. In the soil of the Station, 10 per cent of this is not available to field crops, being held so tightly by the soil particles that such plants are unable to use it. One inch of rainfall weighs 113 tons so that one per cent of soil water equals in weight per acre four-tenths of an inch of rain. The amount of water required to produce a bushel of wheat varies, but approximates 30 tons.

Swedish Day Program in Minneapolis on Sunday

Natives of Sweden and their descendants are invited to attend a Swedish day celebration to be held Sunday, June 6, in Minnehaha park in Minneapolis. Speakers will include Governor Elmer A. Benson, Dr. P. O. Bersell president of the Augustana synod and Dr. C. G. Wallenius, Chicago editor. The program also will include choral singing and Swedish national dances.

Melvin Wedul of Hazel to Graduate from MSTC

Melvin Wedul of Hazel, a graduate of Lincoln high school and the teachers training department at Thief River Falls will receive his B. A. degree at Moorhead State Teachers College on June 7. He taught two years in Pennington county before taking his last three years of college work at MSTC. Wedul will graduate with majors in science and English. He has been active in many extra-curricular activities most prominent being journalism and dramatics. As a member of the staff of the Mistic, college weekly, he has been a columnist two years. This year he was managing editor of the Praeceptor, college yearbook.

Western Union Manager Announces Reductions in Overnight Service

Drastic reductions in rates for overnight telegraph service which will become effective June 1, will provide substantial savings to residents of Thief River Falls, it was disclosed by R. G. Weeks, local manager of the Western Union Telegraph company. A tariff filed with the federal communications commission at Washington, D. C., will reduce the cost of both short and long messages and cut the telegraph bill of the nation by approximately $3,000,000.

"The effect of the reductions," Mr. Weeks said, "is that the charge for 25 words will be the same as, and in some cases lower than, the present charge for a 10 word night message and that long messages can be sent at relatively even lower rates.

"The 10 word night message will be discontinued and the initial charge for night letters will be for 25 words instead of for 50 as at present. The maximum charge for a 25 word night letter will be fifty cents, even for the greatest distances in the United States."

MORE THAN 1,000 4-H WORKERS TO GO TO CROOSTON

Annual Club Camps on N. W. School Campus Week of June 21 to 25

More than one thousand 4-H Club boys and girls from fifteen counties in Northwestern Minnesota will gather at the Northwest for instruction during the week of June 21-25, according to H. A. Pflughoeft, district leader of 4-H clubs.

Two three-day camps will be held during the week to accommodate the large number of club members who wish to attend. The first camp scheduled for June 21-23 will enroll 4-H club members from East Polk, West Polk, Norman, Mahnomen, Kittson, East Ottertail, West Ottertail, and Becker counties. The second camp, June 24-26, will enroll members from Clay, Clearwater, Red Lake, Pennington, Marshall, Roseau, and Lake of the Woods counties.

The 4-H club camps will be conducted by H. A. Pflughoeft, district club leader; T. M. McCall, superintendent; and J. W. Miinar, registrar of the Northwest school. Instruction will be provided by members of the staff of the Northwest School, extension specialists, 4-H club state leaders, and county agents, various regional contests in dramatics and music will be held during the camp. Afternoons will be devoted to the sports events.

April Battle Against Snow Raises Cost for Season to $1,730,000

Minnesota's unseasonable battle with snow in April will send 1937 snow removal expense on the state's trunk highways up to an all-time high mark in excess of $1,700,000 as compared to a total expense of $1,407,405 in 1936, according to estimates by highway maintenance engineers, based on incomplete 1937 figures.

April figures on actual snow removal show a $263,004 increase so far this year over the same period of 1936 but to this figure must be added $35,000 for equipment rental and $25,000 for labor. This would make the increase $323,004 but the removal of snow fence in the spring and erection again in the fall, as well as an anticipated expense of snow and ice control in the last two months of the present year, will cost more than $300,000. It cost $317,052 for snow and ice control in November and December of 1936. This figure, added to present 1937 expenditures, reveals an expense of at least $1,730,000 for snow in 1937, according to W. F. Rosenwald, chief maintenance engineer.

Snow removal expense to May 1, 1937, was $1,352,767, as compared to $1,089,763 for the same period last year, which explains the increase of $263,004. Highway engineers pointed to the heavy snow removal expense as an explanation why it costs nearly $8,600,000 to maintain the trunk highway system annually. The additional 1937 expense is further explained by a higher type of service to the public and the highest precipitation in 45 years in the state, which increased highway problems.

HINDENBURG ZEPPELIN SOUVENIR IS RECEIVED

LeSueur: A souvenir of the dirigible Hindenburg which met disaster recently was received in LeSueur by the publisher of the News-Herald from Oceanport, New Jersey. It was mailed by air by a former LeSueur boy, Nels Swanbeck, who is a member of the 51st Signal Battalion, the only active Signal Battalion in the U. S. Army. The souvenir, a piece of the framework made of the metal known as duraluminum, was subject to the raging inferno of the burning hydrogen gas so has lost its temper and is not as rigid and durable as before, but Swanbeck claims it to be the "real thing." He hid it in his hat because all persons leaving the air station were searched for souvenirs.

It Happened at the Capitol

Retribution

Art Jacobs, whose political gyrations have carried him thru the Republican and Democratic camps to the Farmer-Labor haven which has sheltered him for some years past, was an outstanding issue in the Speakership fight as Minnesota's lawmakers began their extra session last week. And the redoubtable Mr. Jacobs, once the late Senator Schall's chief leg-man, later his leading detractor, emerged victorious. Harold Barker of Elbow Lake was again picked as Speaker, losing fifteen votes from his regular session total, and his first official act the day after taking his oath was that of naming Mr. Jacobs his personal secretary again.

Caucus pledges given Farmer John White of Ogilvie in his battle to unseat Barker and change House dominance went unredeemed in several notable instances when the roll was called on Monday. In perfecting organization for the extra term since, committee lists in the House reveal how the hand of retribution has been brought down upon most of the 57 who voted against Barker. Leaders in the campaign waged for White are shorn of committee chairmanships and vice chairmanships despite the fact that many of the committees will never be called upon to meet. John White lost his chairmanship of the committee on agriculture. C. G. Mann of Pine County, who nominated Mr. White, was demoted from his Printing and Publishing committee chairmanship, and completely eliminated from the one committee which shares with the Rules group the real work of this session—the Committee on Taxes and Tax Laws.

Political Weathervanes

A House leader—one of the independents who joined with Farmer-Laborites in perfecting last session's organization—was being persuaded by influential administration leaders to take out a membership card in the Farmer-Labor Association and become a full-fledged Farmer-Laborite. Thinking it over carefully, the cautious lawmaker is reported to have reached the following verdict: "You know, the situation is about fifty-fifty in my territory now. The drouths we've had have driven dissatisfied farmers into the F-L ranks. And now, since all these rains this spring, I think they'll be swinging back to the Republican fold again. I'd better not get one of your cards for a while yet."

"Fallen Republicans"

Quite a talk-fest preceded Speaker Barker's election as the session began last week. The veteran leftist leader, Rep. S. A. Stockwell, of Minneapolis, renominated Barker. Those who supported the Barker organization were for democracy—those who opposed were against it. "That was the Stockwell formula in an address which emphasized dangers to democracy, and included a plea such as this: "We are no less concerned with what is going on in Spain today, where democracy is threatened by facism, than were people right there on the Spanish scene."

That Homestead Exemption Bill

It is apparent that there is considerable misunderstanding relative to the Homestead Exemption law, and that some people have arrived at the erroneous conclusion that this measure will relieve them of all taxes on the old homestead. The plain, bare facts are that the exemption would apply only to the state tax levy, and that under this measure or, in fact, any of the measures proposed (the Omnibus Tax Bill among them) the item would only be from eight to ten mills, or a small part of the total. Anyone with the idea that this homestead exemption bill is going to "save" them a lot of money is due for a rude awakening.

SILVERTON

Remember the Silverton Ladies aid meeting Friday afternoon at the church parlor entertained by Mrs. John Sorum and be sure to attend. —Bernice, Rara and Dorothy Woolson visited on Monday evening at the C. Paulson home in Thief River Falls with their cousin Mrs. George Deiner of Minneapolis who was a guest at the home of her parents for a day before leaving with Mr. Deiner on June 3, for Santa Anna, Calif., where they will visit the latter's parents. —Margaret Sundfors of Fargo spent Sunday of last week visiting at the home of her uncle and aunt Mr and Mrs. A. H. Barstad. —Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson, Sandara and Margery and Miss Freida Hanson of St. Hilaire spent Friday evening at the Woolson home. —Steve Warring of Thief River Falls was a business caller on Wednesday in Silverton and Smiley.

Silverton Luther League will be entertained Sunday, June 6 at the Syvert Hanson home by the Henry Hanson and Syvert Hason families.

Bridal Shower

Miss Mildred Egenes and Mrs. John Gran were hostesses at a miscellaneous bridal shower honoring Miss Alice Nordahl on Friday evening at the Harry Sundberg home in Smiley. The evening was spent socially. Lunch was served at 11. Miss Nordahl, who will be a June bride, was the recipient of many lovely gifts. Among them was a 32 piece dinner set. Mr. and Mrs. John Ricky of Minneapolis were out-of-town guests at the shower and have been house guests at the Nels Burtness home the past three weeks. Martin Barstad who has been attending Moorhead Teachers College returned to his parental home last week and Monday left for Yellowstone National Park, where he will be employed during the summer at the Fishing View tourist camp.

4-H Club Meeting

Silverton 4-H club meeting was held last Thursday evening, May 27th at the Woolson home with 22 members present. Several members took part in the program and Mr. Grow assistant county agent gave a talk on the new fruit growing project. After a brief business meeting lunch was served by Bernice and Rara Woolson. The next club meeting was set for June 11th but was later changed to June 17, because of the date conflicting with high school graduation. The next meeting will be held at the home of Alphen and Edwin Bergeren.

Miss Violet Salmonson enjoyed a motor trip to Cass Lake over the week end. —Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Patton and son Howard, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Sandum and children of Thief River Falls spent Wednesday evening at the Woolson home. —Mr. and Mrs. Olson of Thief River and daughter Miss Mildred of Minneapolis were callers in Silverton on Monday.

West end guests at the P. A. Peterson home were Mrs. Caroline Foss, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Foss and sons Billy and Dicky of Minneapolis. Mrs. C. Foss is a sister of Mr. Peterson.

There's beauty in the way Coronado never lets you run out of ice ... keeps you always well stocked with three generous trays that hold 9 pounds of ice (almost 100 cubes). And there's beauty, too, in the thoughtful way it cuts current costs!

And now—wonder of wonders!—this gorgeous creation of modern design and modern service can be yours. YOURS FOR NOTHING! For in a few days Gamble's will give away THREE brand new Deluxe Coronados in one of the easiest and most entertaining contests ever presented.

EASY RULES TO HELP YOU WIN!

1. Everybody, except members of the Gamble organization and their immediate families, is eligible to enter. But only one entry per person.
2. Write a last line to the jingle printed above in the blank space provided or on a separate piece of paper. It should have the same meter or rhythm as the first two lines and rhyme with "trick" and "quick."
3. Print your name and address clearly below your last line.
4. Take (do NOT mail) your entry to any Gamble Store or Gamble Agency Store.
5. All entries must be submitted before the close of business Saturday night, June 12th, 1937.
6. The writers of the three best last lines, in the opinion of the judges, will each be awarded a 1937 Gamble's Deluxe Coronado Refrigerator, Model G67. The judges' decision is final, and no entries can be returned. In case of ties, duplicate prizes will be awarded.

Additional entry blanks available at your Gamble outlet.

LINCOLN HIGH SCHOOL PROGRESS

COMMENCEMENT IS SLATED FOR FRIDAY, JUNE 11

J. P. Vaughan to Deliver Address to 109 Seniors

As a climax of the school year, the commencement exercises will be held at the municipal auditorium on Friday, June 11. The graduating class this year consists of 109 seniors, who, with the 13 teacher training students, will receive their diplomas at that time. The principal speaker will be Superintendent J. P. Vaughan of Chisholm, Minnesota.

The program will consist of two selections by the chorus—"Oh Suzanne" and "Homeland". "Dreaming Time" will be sung by the girls' glee club. The Lincoln High School Band will play "March Nobil" by C. Bach for the processional march and "The Pilgrim March" for the recessional.

Mr. J. P. Vaughan is the superintendent of city schools at Chisholm, Minnesota, and has held that position for more than 25 years. He is a former president of the Minnesota Education Association and has been a member of the executive board of that organization for the past 17 years. He has also served for ten years as a member of the executive board of the Minnesota state high school league.

This marks the 34th annual commencement in Thief River Falls.

MISS LEAVITT FETED AT DINNER

Faculty Presents Retiring Librarian With Chair

On Tuesday, June 1, a faculty dinner was held at the Evelyn Hotel, honoring Miss Minnie Leavitt, retiring librarian of Lincoln high school. Mr. Bye presided and later presented Miss Leavitt with a chair as a memento from the faculty, school board, and former teachers of Lincoln high school, who were present.

Speeches honoring Miss Leavitt on this occasion were made by Mr. Clafly, Mr. Norby and Mrs. Korstad. Miss Springen led songs with parodies composed especially for Miss Leavitt.

This year climaxes Miss Leavitt's long association with public school work. She was born on a farm near Eden Valley and attended a rural school. She attended Litchfield high school and was graduated with high honors. After graduation she taught for some years in rural schools, and then continued her education for two years at Mankato State Teachers College. She then taught in various grade schools and later attended the University of Minnesota. From that time she has been at librarian's work. She taught in International Falls prior to coming to Thief River Falls. For seventeen years she has taught English and been librarian in Lincoln High School.

When Miss Leavitt leaves Lincoln high school this year she will leave a gap that will be very hard to fill, for she has served as librarian and become indispensable to many classes of this high school.

SENIORS GO TO BEMIDJI FRIDAY FOR SENIOR DAY

Regional Track Meet Features Day's Activity

One of the concluding activities of the year for the 1937 alumni and Alumnae was Senior Day which was held in Bemidji on Friday, May 28.

About sixty-five senior Prowlers from Lincoln High School participated in the day's events. The students attended the program that the Teachers' College presented in the morning. The exciting and competitive event in the morning was the field and track preliminaries. The final track meet was held in the afternoon. In the evening the Teachers' College again presented a program for the students in the high school gym. A one act play was given and awards of the whole year were given to those who deserved them.

KINDLING STUFF

Senior Day! Ah, Senior Day! The old home town seemed to be pretty well represented in Bemidji last Friday, huh? Some of the Sophs and Juniors thought that since Senior Day comes but once a year, Bemidji couldn't wait that long for them.

No longer do our fair damsels have to rely on home talent what with Bemidji, Crookston, East Grand Forks, and, believe it or not, a car full of handsome swains from Missouri were at Bemidji Friday.

What's this we have been hearing about Hettie G. being an expert fisherman? One never knows, does one?

We hear "Tuney" was stuck again and by a graveyard at that. Some fun wading around knee-deep in mud, huh?

Who says "The fairer sex is the weaker sex?" Ask Oden how it felt to change a tire all by her lonesome.

Better we should put in a couple days of study before vacation, say the Juniors, and abandon the wiener roasts. Not a bad idea we think.

And why is it that every time the girls try to have a "hen party" the boys have to crash it. I guess they just can't get along without us!

Minnesota Chats (University of Minnesota)

From 1,200 to 1,500 students are expected to receive diplomas on June fourteenth in the Memorial Stadium of Minneapolis.

LOCALS CAPTURE SECOND PLACE IN REGIONAL MEET

Park Rapids Receive 70; Prowlers Take 33

The Lincoln High School track team completed its 1937 season last Friday by taking second place in the Regional meet held at Bemidji. Park Rapids, represented by champions in nearly every event, captured first place after amassing a total of 70 points. The local team's 33 points gave them second position.

Thief River Falls qualified in all events in the preliminaries except the 220 yard dash. The first event to be held in the afternoon was the shot put, in which Bailey, of Walker, heaved the weight 45 feet 5 inches to take first. Jack Adkins was next closest with 39 feet 10½ inches. Third and fourth places went to Park Rapids contestants, and fifth to Erskine. Competition in the pole vault was extremely stiff, Hanson being unable to place at all. Shuckart, a Park Rapids boy, vaulted 11 feet 2½ inches to break the regional record as well as to cinch first place. The height stated was official, although on the standards the height read as 11 feet 8 inches, which is considerably higher. Again in the high hurdles Park Rapids gained first and third positions. Don Lorentson ran second and Caldis came in fifth.

Bailey, of Walker, threw the discus 109 feet 0 inches to take an easy first. Helquist, who took fifth, was the only member of the local team to place in that event. The same thing was true in the 100 yard dash, except that this time it was Adkins who was in fifth position. The first place winner, Trandby of Erskine, ran it in 10.5 seconds. The 140 yard run gave the locals their only first place in the whole meet, and the boy that was responsible for it was Clarence Haug. His time was 56.5 seconds.

Six more points were added to the Prowlers' total when Bob Hanson and Gordon Caldis took second and fourth places, respectively, in the javelin. Bailey again gained first with a throw of 12? feet 7 inches. In the low hurdles, a Park Rapids boy placed first with Adkins second. The high jump was almost a repetition of the pole vault, Shuckart jumping 5 feet 6¾ inches for first place. Second and fourth also went to Park Rapids, third to Walker, and Jack Granum represented the locals in number five position. Both the 220 and 880 were unsuccessful as far as the Prowlers were concerned. Although Selmer Christofferson came in second in the 880 he was disqualified for crossing lanes before he was, in the opinion of the judges, two strides ahead of the nearest man.

Once more in the broad jump, Shuckart lead the competition with a leap of 20 feet 3 3-4 inches. Milt Nesse's jump of 19 feet 10½ in. gave him a close second while Bill followed to capture fifth. The final event, the half-mile relay, saw the Park Rapids team running an easy first in 1 minute 40.0 seconds. The local team placed fifth.

This ends the track season and news for another year, the most successful year the school has seen for many years in this activity.

The emptier the head, the more rumors it is able to take in.

With this issue, the Progress staff of 1937-1938 makes their debut to the readers of this page. This issue will serve as a preview of next year's editions to be appraised and as a gauge to determine the merits of the new staff. Ours is a critical position. Unaccustomed as we are, in our new position, we have crudely edited this issue as our humble contribution to this year's collection of the Progress.

It is with eagerness, yet with a feeling of deep responsibility, that we accept our new position. We are certain there will not be a dissenting voice to our declaration that the Progress of the past year has been of unusually high standard. Ours is the Herculean task of upholding this standard. With the able supervision of Mr. Montague, our advisor, to guide our enthusiastic aspirations next year, plus the advice and criticism of our associates and the untiring labor of the entire staff, our hopes for an equally successful year may be realized.

To the retiring members Don Olson, Lois Morell, Vernon Weslul, Marjorie Matheson, Elizabeth Dahlen, Brunelle Erickson, and Marion Dillion we offer our thanks for their magnanimous assistance during the past years. We are reluctant to see them go but may their future be filled with the success they enjoyed at Lincoln High.

In past years, the principal aim of this staff has been for a bigger and better Progress. Occasionally this has been accomplished, and at times it has not, but, as always, the realization of this aim will be our foremost goal. We of the new staff promise only one thing. We'll try to do our best.

JUNE JESTING

What is so rare as a day in June? Finding someone able to pass a practice stateboard. Last week the excitement was caused by the thought of the oncoming 26. Now is the recuperation period for the seniors, and others, such as ——, ——, and ——. (My life is being threatened)

Well to begin with, there seems no greater enticement to the Olson-Kelly team than the word Fosston. It seems that the four had a great time at the boat house.

And Brunelle lost her purse. She hunted high and low, swinging to and fro, and where do you think she found it. Ask the daisies.

Another casualty reported was the loss of Hetty G.'s hotel key. Imagine! Hetty caught in a transome.

Erik is now seriously thinking of the future. The sweet and insolent little fellow was accidentally, quite accidentally mind you, taken for the president of the Bemidji State Teacher's College.

And what is so thrilling as a ride (rides) in a little orange ford. Ask Roberta, Alyce P. and Arnel.

While Bemidji was a panorama of something or other, the rest were looking rather wistful hoping somebody would come along.

Somebody had fun anyway. We hear that Jewel S. is quite adroit in the act of holding hands. For heaven's sake, give Bonna some lessons.

The little red-pick-up gets you there and without boys, doesn't it, Junior girls?

I am now in a position to get even with the former feature writer. In this case I want to justify a great wrong done to Margaret Jane McKechnie and Bob Hanson. If you are smart!! You will get the connection.

DROPS IN THE BUCKET

Some girl this—Merton Ward—going to Bemidji with her fellow classmate and coming back with a Junior in the wee hours of the morning!

And

We can all rest now—Joyce B. has made her selection—and it's one Milton Poppenhagen—or is it?

And

These Seniors sure fall for Juniors this year—for instance—Florence Hanson—(She sure thinks Philbert T. is awfully nice) Johnny Mattson has been shining around a junior tool (Ardith S. if you must know.)

And

Little boys like Pudja and Archie shouldn't smoke so many big cigars—cause they don't always make you feel so good.

And

Does Dorothy Robarge like to go walking with Luverne Ramleck!!

And

Nothing small about Cliff. L. stepping out with the Senators daughter, (one Arlaine Naplin.)

And

Jack Adkins seems to think these "Fosston dames" are pretty nice, from my observations at Bemidji!!!

And

It's about time for Orville E. to select "it" now after trying em all out. Among his try-outs are Jean L., Florence H., Marion O., Joyce B., and—that's about enuf.

And

Green and yellow banners for Clarence Haug for his dashing colossal, performance in the 440 dash!!!

And

Does Peggy J. wish she would've gone to Bemidji for the festivities last Friday! I guess one Ray Powers from Crookston was there among the Seniors!

And

I guess that's all 'till next week.

PROWLER NINE DEFEATS WARREN 8 TO 0 TUESDAY

Sahl Hurls No Hit No Run Game for Locals

Waltzing merrily along, setting down the opposing batsmen in order, usually via the strike out route, Helmer Sahl chalked up one more win as he blanked the Warren Ponies 8-0 at Warren on Tuesday.

The Ponies, besides scoring not a tally, were credited with no legitimate hits. Sahl's magnificent exhibition of outright hurling combined with practically errorless support in the field was a bit too much for the men of Marshall county.

The real thrill of the afternoon came, however, when Sorenson, in relief duty for Henarud, smashed out a three bag clout cleaning the paths ahead of him and driving in three runs. Berggren began the fateful sixth frame by walking out Howard for a charity trip to the initial sack. Tonberg repeated these tactics, Bergren advancing to second. Mickelson then grounded out to Kunz. Howard issued a walk to Lee and the bases were loaded. The ever-ready Sorenson, then hopped on one of the hopless Howard's offerings and clouted it out for a triple.

Sahl, besides pitching a pro brand of ball from the mound, contributed one of his teams five safeties, it being a double. By his performance from the hilltop he becomes one of the favored few to accomplish the pitcher's dream, a no hit shut out.

For the losers, Kunz covered the initial sack like a veteran, accounting for the ten putouts. Howard although liberal with gift trips to the first base, went the route for the Ponies, no Lincoln batsman fattening his battery average except Christofferson who garnered two singles on four excursions to the plate.

Crookston Pepster

Crookston sent seven music groups to the state music contest. They returned with one A, three B's and three C's. The honor of an A rating was awarded to the mixed quartet. The orchestra, choir, and the brass sextet rated B's and the band, boy's quartett and the woodwind quintet received C's.

Faribault's Hilltopper

Twenty-seven students were graduated on May 26th. Five of these expect to go on to college.

Sunday evening, June 6, at 8 o'clock the annual baccalaureate services will be presented at the municipal auditorium. Rev. Charles Erickson will give the baccalaureate address to the 1937 graduating class of the Lincoln high school. His address will be given especially for the benefit of the students who are graduating this spring. The public is invited to attend this service. Many musical numbers will be presented to those who attend this service. Under the direction of Mr. Riggs, the high school band will play "The March Nobil" by Bach as a processional march. As a recessional march the band will play "The Pilgrim" by Lake. "Vigil" by F. Mellius Christiansen and "Now the Day is Over" by Joseph Barnby will be sung by the high school mixed chorus. The Boys Glee Club will sing "Moonlight Night" by Wennerberg.

FIRST ANNUAL REGIONAL GOLF MEET TO BE HELD

Seven Schools Entered In Tournament June 5

A variegated assortment of divot-diggers from the seven schools comprising Region 8 will vie Saturday, June 5, at the local country club for a trophy and five medals to be awarded to the six low scores.

The Tournament, the first in the history of the school will be conducted through the facilities of the local golf course and under the supervision of B. A. Gabrielson, Physical Education instructor.

Each school may enter one team of four players who will play 18 holes, and the total score will be the team score. The team carding the lowest score will be awarded a team trophy, and low individual scorers will be given medals.

Ardent fans of the Scottish pastime will note that aspirants for the local team are, in a sense, veterans of the links, having had much experience in actual play, and the selection of any four will send a team worthy of representing Lincoln High School out on the fairways.

The candidates for berths on the team include Bruce Prichard, Geno Nelson, Alfred Nelson, Lowell Nesse, Milton Nesse, Thomas Jonie and James Borreson.

The addition of golf to the already extended less of extra-curricular activities is expected to gain a great deal enthusiastic support from the student body.

The outgoing nine hole matches will commence at 1:00 with play continuing until evening, the day being climaxed with the presentation of awards in the evening.

EXCHANGE

Moorhead's Spud

Just a few, of the many band regulations of the Moorhead high school are the following!

1. Don't wear your uniform unless you desire it; your citizen's dress will make the audience think you are a soloist.

2. Always wait until the band is about to play and then ask: "What cher going' to play?" And no matter what, don't fail to remark, "What, that 'ham' thing?"

If you are playing at a banquet, let your first question be, "When do we eat?"

Don't bring your music stand; the other fellow will have one (maybe) and you can use part of his.

Allow your tuning slide to get stuck so you cannot move it; then the band will have to tune to you.

Always play as loud as you can to show the people you are the whole band.

Don't attend rehearsals if you can find anything else to do; the other fellows are the only ones who need to rehearse.

LETTERS AWARDED AT ANNUAL DINNER WEDNESDAY NIGHT

BAND NOTES

The high school band made its first marching appearance when it led the Memorial Day parade Monday. The band played three or four marches, and at the bridge the cornets played taps when the wreath was given for the sailors. The next time the band will march will be at the Legion convention in June. So far six school bands have accepted the invitation to partake in the mass band during the convention.

The band will play "March Nobel" as the processional and recessional for the seniors at Baccalaureate services next Sunday evening and again at Commencement exercise the following Friday evening. This will be the last appearance of the band at any school activity this year.

Mr. Riggs plans to continue band work throughout the summer months. He will have two band practices a week and at various times the band will give an outdoor evening concert. Mr. Riggs will also continue to give private lessons during the summer.

School Notes

The H. S. Annual, The Cardinal, has been distributed and many favorable comments have been made on it. All of it is original copy and all of it has been carefully typed. Articles on school activities are illustrated with original photographs, there are many more than were originally planned for and only lack of time prevented inclusion of more. The experience gained in putting out this year's annual will result in a much better one next year.

School was closed Monday so that all might attend the Memorial exercises held in other towns by the American Legion and other civic bodies.

The Senior Class spent part of last Friday at Itasca State Park, going on from there to Bemidji to attend the Guest Day exercises of the Bemidji State Teachers College.

Commencement Exercises will be held at the Municipal Auditorium in Plummer June 11th. Dr. Beck of the Bemidji State Teachers college will be the speaker. His topic is What Now? There are 21 graduates in this year's class.

Wood Ticks Source of Tularemia, Says State Medical Association

The wood tick season is coming on rapidly in Minnesota and, with it, a sufficient danger from tick bites to warrant a warning, in the opinion of the Committee on Public Health Education of the Minnesota State Medical association.

Wood ticks and horse flies have been shown lately to be one source of tularemia in human beings. Tularemia is a disease chiefly of rabbits, hares and squirrels though it also occasionally affects other wild game including quail, muskrats, foxes, coyotes, sage hens and deer. Most human cases are contracted by people who have handled infected carcasses with their bare hands. The germs usually enter through a break in the skin and produce an inflammation there which is followed by a serious general infection. It has been proved recently, also, that the germs will penetrate the normal unbroken skin and so people who handle wild game of any sort should protect their hands by gloves.

Ticks spread the infection by biting first an infected animal and then boring under the skin of a human victim. According to the United States Public Health Service, there were 52 cases of tularemia spread to humans in the Northwest by ticks in [illegible].

Late May and June are the months of ticks in Minnesota woods and picnickers there are urged by the physicians to remove ticks [illegible] so as to prevent them from boring into the skin.

Clinic for Crippled Children at Crookston

Crookston has been selected as one of the twelve communities in the state in which district clinics for needy crippled children will be held in 1937. Announcement of the date, June 19, 1937, of the clinic has just been made by the division of services for crippled children of the state board of control, which will conduct the clinic with the cooperation of the Minnesota Public Health Association and the state department of education.

The clinic, which has been approved by the county medical society, will provide medical examination and vocational consultation for needy physically handicapped persons under 21 years of age in Northwestern Minnesota.

BENTON EWE IS MOTHER OF FOUR

Elk River—An event heralded as unusual as the birth of the Canadian "quints" occurred last week on the George Vatter farm a mile east of St. Cloud in Benton county. A ewe gave birth to four lambs and the quartet, at latest reports, was still alive and "doing well." Farm authorities in the community said the quadruple birth was an event happening only once in many, many years. Twin lambs are not so unusual, nor are triplets, but the quadruplets set up a new goal for Mother Ewe.

$3 IN STAMPS ON AIR MAIL LETTER

Howard Lake—A letter which Jake Pykle received recently carried three dollars in postage (12 twenty-five cent stamps) to send it by air mail from Hong Kong. The envelope, made of [illegible] resembling paper money, was marked "First Passenger Flight by Pan American Airways — America-Hong Kong." It reached Howard Lake in [illegible] days.

Capitol News Review

By A. I. Harris

Substantial reductions in the state realty and property levies, as well as approval of the bill exempting the first $1,000 full value of homesteads from the state tax, was recommended by Governor Benson this week in a message to the special session of the state Legislature.

The Governor also requested a tax program which would reduce the mileage rate to less than 10 mills for each year of the biennium, and at the same time balance the state's budget while providing sufficient funds for social security and relief. Increased taxes on mining companies and elimination of the conditions permitting the present tax strike by the mining trust were likewise asked.

The House interim tax committee had put final touches to its program to be introduced during the special session, and more than twenty measures were expected. Notable among them was the [illegible] chain store taxation upon the basis of the Louisiana chain store tax system, just upheld by the United States Supreme Court.

It was promised last week by the interim group head, Harold Barker, that the House program would carry out the administration tax plans, namely ones based upon real ability to pay. Likewise, the new set of proposals would, if passed, work to discourage the present high rate of tax delinquency by taxing not those unable to pay but "those with ability to pay." [illegible] state [illegible] The tax problem revolves around the need to raise an additional $17,000,000 or $18,000,000 in revenue, to cover increased cost of state activities.

Efforts were being made this week to split liberal forces, with lower House reactionaries, led by Republican representative Roy Dunn, falling in behind the candidacy of John White for speaker in opposition to Harold Barker. Little chance was seen in the move.

According to T. H. Arens, conservator of the department of rural credit, sales of state-owned farm lands for the first four months of 1937 increased one third over a corresponding period last year. From January to April, inclusive, 161 whole farms were sold and 65 partial sales were made, with a total acreage of 21,000 to be put under the plow.

Assertions that the Administration tax program is injurious to business were proved erroneous when a careful analysis of the Administration program as contained in the House bill [illegible] figures show conclusively that corporations with a net income of under $5,000 a year—by far the greatest number of corporations in the state—would pay less taxes in every instance than under the provisions of the Senate omnibus bill.

The Senate bill would aid certain corporations—those with a net income of $10,000 or more a year, and the higher the income the lower are the Senate taxes in comparison with the taxes imposed by the House bill. The average business has far more to fear from the Senate omnibus tax bill than from the Administration program.

Prices are going up, as any one knows who looks into his pocket-book very carefully. According to a checkup by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, farmers in April paid 131 per cent of the pre-war average for commodities purchased. Although the level of prices received for farm products is also considerably higher, it is primarily due to drouth and affects farmers in only a few areas.

Need for expanding the third party movement to the Dakotas, Iowa, Montana, and Michigan was stressed by Henry Rutz, state secretary of the Wisconsin Farmer-Labor Progressive Federation, in a visit to Minnesota last week. He pointed out that it was up to the coordinated committee of the two states to send out special organizers to contact farm and labor groups in the surrounding states and form political organizations similar to those in Minnesota and Wisconsin.

"SUSPECT" DRIVES OWN CAR, CHASED 2 MILES

Fergus Falls — Suspected of having stolen his own car, a man from Owatonna was overhauled here by Patrolman Jake Kraus and Robert Hotchkiss after a two-mile chase into the country. On April 29 the state sending station at Redwood Falls set out a broadcast to the effect that a car bearing a certain license number had been stolen at Owatonna, but later when the car was restored to the owner, the station failed to cancel the broadcast. The Owatonna man drove through Fergus Falls last week on his way to Breckenridge, and the policemen showed their alertness by noting the license number of the once stolen automobile.

NEW DEVOE 2-COAT SYSTEM

TESTS IN 30 STATES PROVE IT LASTS LONGER

- Makes your paint money go twice as far — outlasts other paints 2 to 1.
- Gives you a whiter job — or one with truer tints. Makes your home stand out.
- Stays clean, fresh and bright years after other paints streak.
- Saves one whole coat on new wood. 2 coats do a better job than 3 have done before.
- Resists four great paint evils: checking, cracking, peeling, fading.

Under southern sun — in northern snows — everywhere — Devoe's new 2-Coat System proves it lasts longer than any usual kind of paint. And at the same time, it saves money!

This is because it uses two different paints, each made specially for its own job.

Let us show you how to come out ahead on painting costs. Employ a reputable painter — specify Devoe. Ask about our Budget Plan.

The Ham that

CAN'T HELP BUT

Be Tender

Sweet Clover is the only ham we know of in this territory that is cured by a process that completely eliminates the two fifty-year-old enemies of tenderness and flavor:

First, Sweet Clover escapes the hardening of cell walls that comes from long contact with salt. Sweet Clover is cured in one-fifth the time formerly required.

Second, the new Sweet Clover cure does not soak the meat juices out of the meat cells while in cure, but does retain all the original juices and plumpness of each meat cell. (This last is all important to flavor as well as tenderness.)

You'll be amazed at its juicy tenderness

Look for quality foods where you see this on display

Your Meat Dealer, with hundreds of others, and with the Northern Packing Company, invites you to enjoy the unexcelled tenderness and real ham flavor of the new SWEET CLOVER TENDER CURED HAM — baked, broiled, or fried, without parboiling.

Northern Minnesota District Convention to Draw Hundreds

MANY NOTED PASTORS TO ADDRESS SESSIONS

Women's Missionary Group to Convene at the Auditorium

Thief River Falls will be the rallying point for hundreds of residents of Northern Minnesota from next Thursday morning, June 17, to Sunday morning, June 20, when the annual convention of the Northern Minnesota district of the Norwegian Lutheran church of America will be in progress.

At the same time the Women's Missionary Federation affiliated with the church will hold its convention, while the Lutheran Daughters of the Reformation will meet Thursday and the Lutheran Brotherhood will meet Saturday evening, June 19. The church convention will be held at Trinity Lutheran church, while the Missionary federation will meet at the Auditorium and the L. D. R. at the Community church.

Morning, afternoon and evening sessions of the church meeting will be held Thursday, with morning and afternoon sessions Friday and Saturday and a morning session Sunday morning at which the sermon will be delivered by Dr. J. A. Aasgaard, president of the Norwegian Lutheran Church of America.

The opening sermon of the convention Thursday morning, June 17, will be delivered by Rev. G. M. Grimsby, Duluth, following which on Thursday afternoon Friday and Saturday, various aspects of the convention theme, "Workers in the Church", will be discussed by Rev. M. Casper Johnshoy, Starbuck; Rev. E. Livingston, Clearwater; Dr. A. J. Bergsaker, general secretary, Minneapolis; Rev. J. K. Krogh, Little Falls; Rev. J. S. Strand, Oakdale; Rev. P. B. Trefstad, Middle River; Rev. G. W. Tolo, Fertile; Rev. C. M. Wastermoe, McIntosh; Rev. H. S. Strand, Detroit Lakes; Rev. T. H. Megorden, Fosston; and Rev. A. J. Anders, Lake Park.

Speakers on the opening program of the Women's Missionary Federation Friday morning include Rev. R. M. Fjelstad, Mrs. E. L. Rolland, Mrs. G. W. Tolo of Fertile, President J. N. Brown of Concordia college, Moorhead; Reverend Tolo and Ingvald Larson of the Lake Park Children's home.

Speakers Friday afternoon will include Rev. Urness of Menagha, Miss Frida Nilson, dean of women at Concordia college; and Mrs. K. A. Holstad of Minneapolis, general president of the federation. Vocal music will be provided by Mrs. A. L. Abrahamson of Badger and the Dorcas ladies sextet of Detroit Lakes.

On the program Friday evening June 18, will be Rev. I. T. Aastad of Detroit Lakes; and Rev. Fredrick Hallanger of Madagascar, who will deliver the principal address. Musical numbers will also be included in the program. Speakers Saturday will be Rev. A. L. Abrahamson, Badger; Dr. Aasgaard; Rev. C. W. Aanestad, Twin Valley; Mrs. J. A. Sealander, Detroit Lakes; and Mrs. C. O. Estrem, Fergus Falls.

The program of the L. D. R. next Thursday at the Community church will include addresses by Mrs. I. O. Jacobson, Cooperstown, N. D., Mrs. L. M. Wikre, Crookston; Miss Arna Njaa, Minneapolis, national executive secretary; and Miss Martha Brennum, Moorhead. Slides dealing with Alaska will be presented by Rev. E. Hartje.

A Mothers-Daughters banquet will be served Thursday afternoon at 5:30 in Trinity church. Miss Laura Simonson, Crookston, is district president; Miss Agnes Tandberg, Thief River Falls, vice president; and Miss Mildred Olson, Crookston, secretary-treasurer.

Bus Company Will Open New Service to Duluth; Effective on June 15th

Effective Tuesday, June 15, the Triangle Transportation company will supply bus service from this city to Bemidji and Duluth, leaving Thief River Falls at 12 noon and arriving at Bemidji at 3:30 and at Duluth 7:20 in the evening. Returning the bus will leave Duluth at 11:45 in the morning and arrive here at 7:45 at night. Ed Carlson, manager of the company, also announced a change in the schedule to Detroit Lakes, whereby the bus now leaves Thief River Falls at 10:45 in the morning southbound, while the northbound bus arrives in this city at 6:30 in the evening, leaving at 8 o'clock for towns to the north.

To Address Graduates

JAMES P. VAUGHAN

Superintendent of schools at Chisholm, who will deliver the commencement address at Lincoln high school graduation exercises in the Auditorium Friday evening.

VARIED PROGRAM ENJOYED IN CITY BY SETESDALSLAG

Annual Convention Votes to Retain Bjornaraa as President

A highly enjoyable time was reported by the large gathering of persons of Norwegian descent who attended the annual convention of the Setesdalslag at the Auditorium in this city Friday to Sunday. Bj. Bjornaraa of Trail, lag president, was in charge of the sessions, which were held thruout the day and evening.

Speakers at the various sessions included Mr. Bjornaraa, Mayor W. W. Prichard, Ole Birkeland of Oklee; Arne Grundeson, Fisher; E. M. Bennes, Halvor Langslet, Detroit Lakes; Peter Myrvold, Winnipeg; Rev. H. Uppstad, Page, N. D.; Reverend Haugen, Starbuck; Olaf Neset; Mr. Sandeland, Hudson, Wisconsin; Professor Richard Beck of the University of North Dakota; and Dreng Bjornaraa, who read a message of greeting from Governor Elmer A. Benson.

Violinists who participated in the program included Sam Sorenson, B. Tveitbakk, Steinar Odden, Olav Dale, Daniel Aakhus, Ben Sorbomand, B. Sannes. Other musical numbers included songs by the Thief River Falls male chorus, vocal solos by Mrs. H. Uppstad, guitar and vocal selections by Ruby and Ruth Angell, songs by the Tveit sisters and by Mrs. Krogtue of Oklee. The programs were completed by folk dancing and by the showing of a colored motion picture from Norway, presented under the auspices of the Norwegian-American Line.

In the annual election of officers conducted Saturday morning, Mr. Bjornaraa was again named president, others elected including Olaf Neset, vice president for Minnesota; John Johnson, Aneta, N. D., vice president for North Dakota; T. O. Lien, Oklee, secretary; Arne Grundeson, Aneta, N. D., vice president; Dahle, Gunder Nesland, Thief River Falls; Torger Loyland and Olav Thorbjornson, Thompson, N. D.; and Bernt Serie, Grand Forks, directors.

Resolutions were adopted extending thanks to the city of Thief River Falls for its cooperation; to the men's chorus and other groups that participated in the programs; and to President Bjornaraa and the other officers for their efficient service.

Attractive Decorations for Legion Convention

One of the most elaborate programs of street decorations in the history of the city is being completed today by a crew of men in preparation for the opening Friday of the Ninth district convention of the American Legion. Flags, bunting and banners extending greetings to the Legionnaires are being attractively arranged on the front of downtown business places, creating a highly festive effect.

109 SENIORS TO GET DIPLOMAS FRIDAY NIGHT

Impressive Exercises Are Scheduled at the Auditorium

CHISHOLM MAN WILL GIVE THE ADDRESS

Lois Morell Salutatorian; Marjorie Matheson Valedictorian

Climaxing their four-year high school career, 109 members of the senior class of Lincoln high school will receive their diplomas at impressive commencement exercises in the Auditorium Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Supt. Morris Bye, who will preside, also will present certificates to thirteen graduates of the teacher training department.

The program will open with the playing of the processional march, "Marche Noble" by Bach, by the Lincoln high school band under the direction of Ronald G. Riggs followed by the salutatory by Lois Morell, and a selection "Dreamin' Time", by the Lincoln high school girls glee club directed by Miss Erma Springen.

The commencement address will be delivered by J. P. Vaughan, superintendent of schools at Chisholm, who has selected for his subject "New Frontiers". Following the address the Lincoln high school mixed chorus, directed by Miss Springen, will render two selections, "Homeland" and "O Susanna."

Marjorie Matheson, highest ranking student in her class, will give the valedictory, after which the Lincoln high school boy double quartet will sing "My Old Kentucky Home."

W. G. Claffy, high school principal, then will present the class and H. O. Norby, president of the board of education, will confer the diplomas. Miss Alice Stapleton will present the teacher training graduates, and Mr. Bye will confer the teachers certificates and scholarships.

Dr. A. E. Jacobson will present the American Legion award while Mrs. Thora Nelson will present a similar award in behalf of the Legion auxiliary. The program will close with the playing by the band of the recessional march "The Pilgrim."

COUNCIL PURCHASES SUPPLY OF ROAD OIL

Also Buys New Equipment for City Water Treatment Plant

The city council in its regular session Tuesday evening approved building permits aggregating $32,825 covering four business blocks and additions and five new residences, some of them already under construction. At the same time additional equipment for the filter plant was purchased, as well as oil for treating more than 20 blocks of city streets.

Building permits approved at the meeting included one for an addition 47 by 27 feet in dimensions to Jungs bakery, estimated to cost $5,800; Northern Woodwork company, storage warehouse, $400; Lars Backe, addition 48 by 60 feet to his building at Third st. and Knight av., to cost $1,800; and Mrs. H. A. Laken, business block 25 by 50 feet on Third st. east of Danielson Brothers Electric company, $3,500; residences for W. W. Prichard, $4,000; Central Lumber company, $3,800; F. E. LOCAL BALL TEAM TO PLAY DELAYED OPENER ON SUNDAY

Game With Oslo Will Start at Fair Grounds at 4:30 P. M.

With a steady rain falling over the week-end the Thief River Falls-Warren game in the Red River Valley league scheduled to open the season on the fair grounds diamond was canceled, and local fans will have their first opportunity to see the home team in action next Sunday afternoon at 4:30 when Oslo will furnish the opposition. Orvalla will be on the mound for the locals, while Soholt will be in the catcher's position.

Appearing in its first game of the season at East Grand Forks last Thursday, Thief River Falls was defeated by the East Siders 6 to 4. A series of singles in the first inning gave East Grand Forks a 2 to 0 lead, which was tied by the locals in the fourth, only to have the East Siders run in three more men in the last half of the same inning, scoring again in the seventh.

George Orvalla pitched for the locals, striking out nine men, walking two and yielding eight hits, while Thief River Falls got seven hits off Baumgartner and Shore. Ekeren led the hitting for the locals, getting a double and a single.

Thief River Falls journeys to Oslo for a game this afternoon. The Oslo team last Thursday defeated Warren by a score of 4 to 2.

BRANDT, OMMODT ARE SPEAKERS AT PICNIC ON SUNDAY

Thousands Are Expected to Attend Marshall Co. Creamery Event

Record crowds are expected to attend the Ninth Annual picnic of the Marshall county creameries at the Middle River State Park, familiarly known as the Old Mill Site, Sunday with all creameries of the county cooperating to stage the event.

The county creameries picnic is annually one of the summer's largest gatherings and generally is attended by upwards of 6,000 people. With the favorite picnic site now being developed into a state park, many additional people will attend the event to see what progress has been made in improving the park during the past spring.

Headlining Sunday's picnic will be two major addresses by Chas. Ommodt, Minnesota's new commissioner of agriculture and John Brandt, veteran president of Land O'Lakes Creameries, Inc. This will be Mr. Ommodt's first speaking engagement in Marshall county since his recent election to head the state's department of agriculture, while Mr. Brandt needs no introduction to the people of this section as he has delivered numerous addresses at the picnic and other events during the past few years.

Former Mitchell, S. D., Surgeon Joins the Staff of the Bratrud Clinic

Dr. Joseph F. Malloy of Mitchell, S. D. has been added to the staff of the Bratrud Clinic in the capacity of associate surgeon, Dr. Edward Bratrud, head of the clinic announced today. Dr. Malloy, who is a fellow of the American College of Surgeons, formerly was associated with the Mayo clinic at Rochester for a period of three and one half years. He will specialize in general and special surgery. Dr. Malloy is a member of the American Legion.

After receiving his bachelor of science degree in 1919 at Creighton university, Omaha, and his doctor of medicine degree in 1921, Dr. Malloy served a surgical internship at St. Joseph's hospital, Omaha, following which he completed three and one half years of post-graduate study in surgery and X-ray at the Mayo clinic. He has been in active surgical practice for the past eleven years at Mitchell, S. D., at intervals continuing postgraduate study of his specialty. He is married and has two children.

District Commander

O. C. PAULSON

Of Thief River Falls, Ninth District commander of the American Legion, who will preside at the convention to be in this city Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

ABLE SPEAKERS TO ADDRESS LEGION BUSINESS SESSION

O. C. Paulson, District Commander to Preside Saturday

An array of outstanding speakers will address the American Legion convention business session Saturday morning and afternoon, discussing topics of special interest to former servicemen, O. C. Paulson, Ninth district commander who will preside, announced today.

Speakers will include George B. Sjoselius of St. Paul, administrator of the executive council war veterans relief agency; James M. Pruett, secretary of the American Legion Hospital association, Rochester; C. A. Zwiener of St. Paul, department adjutant of the American Legion; and C. T. Hutchison, manager of the veterans hospital at Fargo.

Others on the program will be Joe Flatten of Edinburgh, N. D., second district deputy of the American Legion; Joe Rabinovich, of Grand Forks, member of the national Americanism commission; Frank Webb of Grand Forks, North Dakota department commander of the Legion; and Linda Stoope, auxiliary rehabilitation chairman for the Minnesota department.

Wyandotte Club Will Hold Picnic Wednesday

Under the sponsorship of the Wyandotte Community club a picnic will be held at Plummer next Wednesday, June 16, it was announced today. The program will include two ball games and other sport events during the afternoon, and a dance in the Avalon ballroom in the evening with music supplied by a Red Lake Falls orchestra.

Develop Plans for Forming Garden Club

A meeting Friday evening preliminary to the organization of a local garden club was attended by a dozen enthusiasts, who decided to invite T. L. Aamodt, president of the State Horticultural society, to come to this city as soon as convenient and formally launch the new organization.

Drum Corps to Appear in New Uniforms Saturday

Street activities Saturday evening in connection with the Ninth district convention of the American Legion and auxiliary will be featured by the appearance of the Thief River Falls auxiliary drum and bugle corps in snappy new uniforms of black whipcord with white trim and white Sam Browne belts, and with the name of the home town in white letters on the back of the jackets.

The new uniforms were designed by Leighton K. Fossum and were manufactured by the Ihrig Hauser company of St. Paul.

CONVENTION PARADE SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Dances, Ball Games and Golf Tournament Arranged for Visitors

Citizens of Thief River Falls today are preparing to extend a welcoming hand to thousands of American Legion and auxiliary members and their friends from as far south as Fergus Falls and north to the Canadian border who will begin assembling in this city Friday for the annual Ninth district Legion convention which will continue thru Sunday.

Officers and special committees of the Thief River Falls post and unit have been steadily at work during the past few weeks making every possible arrangement to insure the success of the big gathering, and have arranged a program that will provide a wide variety of pleasurable activity, as well as leaving time for transacting the business of the convention.

The streets of the city will resound to the music of more than a dozen bands and drum corps, including the Grand Forks drum corps, North Dakota state champions; Fargo drum corps, W. B. A. ladies' drum corps of Fergus Falls, Thief River Falls auxiliary drum and bugle corps, Bagley drum corps, Breckenridge high school girls drum corps and Ninth District Legion band, in addition to high school bands from Gonvick, McIntosh, Red Lake Falls, Fosston, Crookston, Thief River Falls, Roseau, Barnesville and Mahnomen.

The traditional convention parade, including all the bands and drum corps in attendance, as well as a varied array of floats and marching units representing the various posts, will get under way shortly after 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon, and will proceed to the fair grounds where, at 2:30, there will be a massed concert by the high school bands and maneuvers by the drum corps. Following the concert a baseball game will be played between Red River Valley league teams representing Thief River Falls and Oslo.

A pre-convention dance will be held in the arena Friday evening, with music provided by Allyn Cassel and his recording orchestra, while Elgin Phillips and His Royal Gophers will supply music for another gala dance Saturday evening.

Other convention features will include a Legion championship golf tournament including 27 holes of medal play for silver cups and other valuable prizes; a baseball game Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock between Legion junior teams representing Thief River Falls and East Grand Forks; and a grudge game Sunday morning at 10 o'clock between Roseau and Marshall county Legionnaires.

Another event that will draw much interest is the memorial parade Sunday evening at 7:30, which will proceed to the Elks park, where a memorial service will be held, the address to be delivered by Mike Murray of St. Cloud, former Minnesota department commander of the American Legion and widely known for his ability as a speaker.

Convention activities will be enlivened by frequent informal street demonstrations during the day and continuing until late at night. In charge of the Legion sessions will be O. C. Paulson, Ninth district commander who has served efficiently during the past year, while Mrs. A. E. Helland of Gonvick, district president, will preside over the meetings of the auxiliary.

Smiley Hall Will be Scene of County 4-H Club Picnic June 22

The Pennington county 4-H club picnic is to be held Tuesday, June 22nd at Smiley Hall. The picnic will begin with a kittenball game at 11 o'clock and the captain of each team is asked to report to Mrs. Axel Engelstad so a schedule can be arranged. The music contest will be held at 1:30. Those taking part are asked to report to Ethel Moquin. Three individuals or more must comprise a group and they must sing or play one 4-H Club song and one other selection. The winning vocal and instrumental number will take part in 4-H Week at Crookston June 24, 25 and 26. A full athletic program has been planned for the afternoon. Free coffee will be served.

Lillian Erickson and Harry Glander Are Wed June 3d

Miss Lillian Erickson, daughter of Adolph Erickson of Northome, and Harry Glander were united in marriage at church nuptials performed at high noon last Thursday. The vows were spoken at Zion Lutheran church, which was beautifully decorated with ferns and garden flowers for the occasion. Rev. E. L. Tungseth read the service in the presence of immediate relatives and friends.

For her wedding the bride wore a floor-length gown of white embossed organdy fashioned with a fitted bodice, full skirt, and short puff sleeves, and as a headdress she wore a chiffon halo. Her bouquet was of pink and white roses, larkspur, and lilies of the valley. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Rose Erickson, who was attired in a peach pink organza redingote frock over taffeta, complemented by a white picture hat and corsage of pink roses and lilies of the valley. The groom's brother Herbert Glander was best man. Mrs. Mildred Engen Hamilton played a program of nuptial music before the ceremony, and also played the bridal party's processional and recessional marches.

At one o'clock a reception and luncheon was held at the Hotel Evelyn. Decorations, which included a beautiful wedding cake, tapers, and yellow roses, were carried out in yellow, white and silver. Following the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Glander left on a two week's motor trip through the Black Hills of South Dakota. For travel the bride wore a two-piece dress of beige and luggage tan accessories. Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Glander will reside in this city, Mr. Glander being employed with the Central Lumber Co., here. Mrs. Glander, an alumna of Lincoln high school, is employed with the Kiewel Products Co.

Out-of-town guests present at the wedding were the bride's father, Adolph Erickson of Northome, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Glander and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Glander, all of Wahpeton, N. D., Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kankel of Red Lake Falls, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Wold of Mahnomen, and Stuart McLeod of Ada.

MRS. OSCAR STADUM FETED ON BIRTHDAY

In compliment to Mrs. Oscar Stadum on her birthday anniversary, a group of her neighbors and friends entertained for her at a surprise party at the Stadum home Tuesday evening. Honoring Mrs. Stadum were Mesdames Oscar Arndtson, Claus Wiele, Harry Hendrickson, Hannah Egenes, William Sponheim, August A. Johnson, Ingeborg Hjelund, Colman Rosen, Nellie Nelson, John V. Olson, and Lewis VaVea; Misses Mildred Egenes, and Margaret and Stella Stadum; and Jean Bakke and Joan Arndtson. The group enjoyed the evening informally. A lovely lunch was served by the self-invited guests. Birthday gifts were presented to the guest of honor.

Auxiliary Chairman

MRS. G. L. BIDDICK

Member of the Thief River Falls auxiliary unit, who is serving efficiently as general chairman in charge of arrangements for the Ninth district auxiliary convention this week-end.

Larsen-Grothe Vows Are Spoken Friday at Lansing, Mich.

Miss Alice Katherine Larsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Larsen of this city, and Merrill G. Grothe of Standish, Mich., son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Grothe of Roseau, were united in marriage Friday at Lansing, Mich., in the chapel of St. Paul's Episcopal church. The service was read at seven o'clock in the evening by Rev. C. W. Brickman.

The bride chose to wear white for her wedding, her tailored frock being fashioned of Santa cloth complemented by accessories of hyacinth blue and a shoulder bouquet of gardenias. Her attendant, Miss Ila Belle Tuck, wore flowered chiffon and talisman roses. Gerald Menner was groomsman.

Following the ceremony, dinner was served at the Hunt hotel, covers being placed for ten guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Grothe will reside at Standish, Mich., where Mr. Grothe is employed as an engineer with the Gulf Research and Development Co. The bride, a graduate of Lincoln high school, attended the University of North Dakota and is a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority. The groom also attended the University of North Dakota, being graduated from the department of engineering. He is a member of Tau Sigma Rho fraternity.

TRINITY SUNDAY SCHOOL HOLDS ANNUAL PICNIC

The Trinity Lutheran Sunday school closed for the summer months with an annual picnic held in the church basement Sunday. Attendance awards were presented to those pupils who attended Sunday school every Sunday during the past year, or who missed only one class during that time. A program of singing and a talk by R. O. Norby, superintendent of the Sunday school, and refreshments comprised the afternoon's entertainment.

Business Session to Close With Joint Session With Legion

A crowded program will occupy the attention of the Ninth district Legion auxiliary at its business session opening Saturday morning and continuing until late in the afternoon. Mrs. A. E. Helland of Gonvick, district president, will preside.

Following the advance of the colors, the convention will open with the pledge to the flag given by Mrs. C. N. Nelson, district Americanism chairman, after which the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" will be led by Mrs. J. E. Janzen, district music chairman.

The invocation and a silent tribute will be given, after which the preamble will be led by Mrs. C. J. A. Erickson, second vice president. Mrs. H. S. Reitan, district Fidac chairman, will discuss the principal object of Fidac, following which Mrs. L. V. Johnson, president of the Thief River Falls unit, will extend a welcome, and Mrs. A. A. Berggren, district first vice president, will make the response.

Following there will be the presentation of pages, distinguished guests, Thief River Falls unit president, general chairman and committee chairmen, followed by a roll call of the various units. The morning session will close with district, units and treasurer's reports and with Greek songs by Nicky Christo.

Following a luncheon in the Civic and Commerce association rooms, the afternoon session will open at 1 o'clock with an Americanism skit by Greenbush junior members, and a talk by Mrs. J. M. Bishop, former department president. The district and unit reports will be continued and district awards will be presented by Mrs. Joe Herbranson, district membership chairman, following which Mrs. Hughes of Red Lake Falls will give a vocal solo.

The business session will close with election of district officers and a question box supervised by Mrs. C. F. Moore of Minneapolis, department president. At 4 o'clock a joint session with the American Legion will be held.

District auxiliary officers, in addition to Mrs. Helland include Mrs. A. A. Berggren, Detroit Lakes, first vice president; Mrs. C. J. A. Erickson, Leonard, second vice president; Mrs. A. B. Torvik, Underwood, chaplain; and Mrs. A. A. Swanson, Gonvick, secretary-treasurer. On the executive board are Mrs. T. L. Stickney, Crookston; Mrs. H. H. Francisco, Oslo; Mrs. J. H. Herbranson, Warren; and Mrs. William Schueller, Fergus Falls.

Mrs. L. V. Johnson is president of Elmer J. Eklund unit No. 117, while Mrs. Ralph McCann is secretary and Mrs. G. L. Biddick is general chairman in charge of convention arrangements.

Edna Moen Is Bride of James C. Newland

Miss Edna Mae Moen, daughter of Andrew Moen of Nekoma, N. D., and James C. Newland, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Newland of this city, were married in this city Tuesday afternoon at one o'clock at the parsonage home of Rev. J. O. Jacobsen, who read the service.

Attendants at the wedding were the bride's sister, Miss Elsie Moen of Nekoma, N. D., and the groom's brother, Stanley Newland. The bride's frock was of dusty-pink silk crepe trimmed with dainty white lace and rhinestone buttons. Accessories were in white, and her corsage was of shaded pink and tea roses, and pink and white sweet peas. The bridesmaid's frock was also of silk crepe in ashes of roses, and her accessories were white.

After a motor trip along the North Shore Drive, Mr. and Mrs. Newland will take up residence in this city, where Mr. Newland, a graduate of Lincoln high school, is employed as a salesman with the Gamble Robinson Co. Mrs. Newland was graduated from Nekoma, N. D., high school and from nurses training at Deaconess hospital, Grand Forks. She has been employed on the nursing staff at the St. Luke's hospital in this city.

Alice Nordahl and Oswald R. Nora Wed

Miss Alice Esther Nordahl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sundberg of this city, became the bride of Oswald R. Nora at a lovely house wedding held at the home of the bride's parents Wednesday evening of last week. The ceremony was performed at eight o'clock by candlelight, Rev. E. O. Sabo reading the service. Appropriate to lilac time, lilacs and ferns, tapers and other decorations in orchid and white were used for the occasion.

The bride descended the stairs on the arm of her father, who escorted her to the improvised altar of orchid and white, where she was met by the groom, who was attended by the bride's brothers Arnold J. Nordahl and Ove Nordahl. The bride's gown was a floor-length one fashioned of white net on princess lines and worn over white satin. She wore, attached to a wreath of lilacs, the train-length veil her mother wore as a bride. Her bouquet consisted of lilacs and ferns. Bridesmaids were Miss Mildred E. Egenes and Miss Hazel Joyce, who entered alone wearing evening gowns of organdy patterned alike, and carrying arm bouquets of lilacs. Miss Egenes' gown was of blue and Miss Joyce's of peach. The men of the bridal party wore lilac boutonnieres.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held for the immediate families. Thirty-one guests were received. Refreshments were served, the luncheon table being centered with a three-tiered fruit cake topped by a miniature bridal couple. The orchid color scheme was used throughout and favors were provided for the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Nora are at home on the groom's farm west of this city.

POSTPONED GOLF LUNCHEON WILL BE HELD NEXT WEEK

WELCOME—EVERYBODY

Legion gatherings are different in several respects from ordinary run-of-the-mine conventions. For some reason or other they take on the form of a celebration. Perhaps it is because of the background of the organization. The members have many things in common. They talk the same language and they sing the same songs. Twenty years ago the insurance companies looked upon them as doubtful risks. The fact that they are still up and around may be in itself a good reason for celebrating. At any rate, when they do get together occasionally they have a lot of fun in their own way and it so happens that this year they are going to have their get-together in our city.

Of course the community welcomes the members of the Legion and Auxiliary. The elaborate preparations that have been made for their entertainment are in themselves sufficient proof of our genuine hospitality as a community. As a community we realize that the convention is not all celebration. It has its serious side. The boys are boys no longer. They are getting along in years. Life for most of them is no longer the big Christmas stocking that it was twenty years ago. The organizations are still a cross section of our country and still are just as democratic as was that army of which they were a part. Twenty years ago that army was a cross section of our youth. These organizations that meet here this week are a cross section of our middle aged and mature citizens. As representatives of a really representative group, we welcome them.

And in behalf of the guests, we extend a cordial welcome to the people of the community to join with them in the celebration that is so prominent a part of the convention. It isn't in any sense of the word a private party. Everybody is invited and everybody is welcome.

Members of the Thief River Falls Drum Corps are going to make their first appearance in their new uniforms Friday night and are they ever thrilled about it. You know how excited the average woman gets about something new to wear. When you multiply that by twenty-eight you have a lot of excitement. So we hope the new uniforms come up to expectations. They were designed locally. Young Leighton Fossum figured out how they should be put together and many nice things have been said about the ideas he had sewed into them. It's a good drum corps and with new outfits they should go far this year—the members are hoping as far as New York.

President Roosevelt who led in the fight for repeal of the Eighteenth amendment put his support of the repeal effort largely on the ground that the return of liquor would enable the government to boom so that its budget could be balanced. No budgets have been balanced. Budget balancing is further off than ever. [illegible] Prairie Leader.

Another big batch of graduates will be turned out into the world this week, here and everywhere. It is a hopeful occasion. In the aggregate these graduates represent a big investment. That is expressing it hopefully. A large part of the subscription of funds will probably be written off as wildcat speculation. But it is a hopeful occasion nevertheless and while some of the cost will be a total loss, the average return probably will represent a justifiable profit. Those who now leave school to become taxpayers may be able to carry the burden and provide for their children opportunities as great as their parents provided for them. If the human race can just hold its own now for a couple of generations it will be doing well but that may be expecting too much. But to the young folks we extend our best wishes and congratulate the brighter ones on the opportunities they have for securing government jobs.

Permits for more than thirty thousand dollars worth of new construction were granted by the Council at its meeting Tuesday night. Five more new homes were included in the list, which lends support to the prediction made by builders early in the season that there would be more new homes built this year than last. It is encouraging to note too, that several more of the old hotel-size homes are being converted into duplexes. From the standpoint of meeting the community's housing shortage, making it possible for two families to grow where only one grew before by using old rooms more efficiently, serves just as good a purpose as a new dwelling. This year's improvements should make room for several hundred more residents.

LINCOLN SENIORS ATTEND SERVICES SUNDAY EVENING

Rev. Charles W. Erickson Delivers Baccalaureate Sermon

Declaring that the added leisure made possible by the present mechanized age should be used for promoting God's plans, Rev. Charles W. Erickson, pastor of Augustana Lutheran church, in addressing the Lincoln high school graduating class at baccalaureate services in the Auditorium Sunday evening, urged his hearers to choose the right road.

Speaking on the subject, "Our Century's Great Challenge", Reverend Erickson said that man has failed to live up to the possibilities of God's glorious plan, and stated that the great virtues have been less in evidence in recent years.

The Lincoln high school band, directed by Ronald G. Riggs, played the processional and recessional marches, other musical numbers including selections by the Lincoln high school boys' glee club and chorus under the direction of Miss Erna Springen.

Carl A. Carlson Dies In Hospital Saturday; Was Sanders Pioneer

Carl August Carlson, pioneer resident of Sanders township, died in a local hospital Saturday at the age of eighty one years. Funeral services were held in the chapel of the Larson funeral home Wednesday afternoon, Rev. Chas. W. Erickson officiating, and interment was made in the east side cemetery near St. Hilaire.

Mr. Carlson was born January 17, 1856, in Sweden, coming to the United States in 1882. He lived for about four years at Ishpeming, Mich., during which time in 1885, he was married. They moved from Michigan to Crookston and shortly afterward, to Sanders township, where Mr. Carlson resided until his death.

Surviving relatives are two sons, Walfred of this city, and Theodore of San Francisco, Calif.; six daughters, Julia, Mrs. Esther Forrier and Mrs. Ernest Herschfeld, both of San Francisco, Mrs. Harvey Lees of Glendale, Calif., Mrs. Rudolph Maxson of Stanfer, Alberta, Can., Mrs. Craven Calloway of Minneapolis, nine grandchildren and some relatives in Sweden. His wife, Mrs. Lena Carlson preceded him in death.

Week-end Rains Bring More Moisture Locally

Intermittent rains Saturday afternoon, Sunday and Monday brought precipitation to this section estimated at well over an inch, and left considerable water standing in low places in the fields, particularly in the eastern part of the county. The rainfall was general over a large area including much of the drouth territory in North Dakota.

In the State Senate
By Sen. B. L. Tungseth

The state legislature is now in special session, called for the purpose of enacting such necessary legislation as it failed to pass at the last regular session. This has special reference to tax levies, tax and appropriation bills. The people are intensely interested in the fight that will be waged between the conservative and the liberal faction of the legislature, and I shall outline in this letter some of the major issues which are coming to the front this special session.

At this time I wish to call to the attention of all original owners of rural credit farms that time will be given the first opportunity to repurchase their former farms. I have received a number of inquiries with reference to a recent circular letter from the Department of Rural Credit sent out to all original owners, asking them to declare within 30 days whether or not they wish to repurchase their former farms. Quite a number have understood this letter as requiring a repurchase within 30 days. This, however, is not the case, but the Department does want to be informed whether or not you wish to repurchase your former farm. In case you wish to repurchase and can qualify as such a purchaser, the Department will offer to you your former farm at such figure as the Department considers a fair sale value. You may then purchase on a crop payment plan, as provided by law, or you may also purchase on any other contract agreeable to the parties. I have been given definite assurance that the Department [illegible] the original owner has, and I believe that the Department will so handle its business as to be reasonably satisfactory to all concerned. I have previously offered any assistance that I can give to those who need my services in this respect, and it is hardly necessary to repeat that offer now.

LEADERS IN HOME MANAGEMENT TO MEET NEXT WEEK

Miss Kirchner Will Visit This County Monday to Wednesday

The third lesson for the women's project in home furnishing will be given to the leaders by Miss Charlotte Kirchner, Home Furnishing specialist from University Farm, next week. The Thief River Falls group will meet in the Civic and Commerce rooms on Monday, June 14. On Tuesday the leaders will meet in Goodridge at the Lutheran church. Miss Kirchner will give the lesson to the St. Hilaire group on Wednesday in the Bilden & Olson hall.

The topic to be studied this month is the refinishing of furniture. This will include the removal of old stain and varnish as well as the applying of the new stain and varnish.

Only one more lesson remains to be given in this year's project. That lesson will be given in July and the topic will be home-made furniture. An achievement day summarizing last years and this year's projects will be held in October.

SO. ST. PAUL LIVESTOCK

South St. Paul, Minn., June 7, 1937. (U.S.D.A.) Cattle supplies were moderately light here at this week's opening and most classes found a steady market but fed steers and yearlings were under some pressure. Medium to good fed steers and yearlings cashed at $9.50-11.25, and a load of 1014 lb. averages brought $11.50 while medium grade mixed yearlings sold down to $8.50. Fed heifers brought $8.50-10.50, one choice lot $11.00, plain and warmed-up kinds $6.00 [illegible] medium to good beef cows $6.25-7.00, odd head $8.00, plain grassy kinds $5.00-6.00, low cutters and cutters $4.50-5.00, bulk sausage bulls $5.00-6.25 and good beef bulls up to $7.00. Good to choice vealers earned $7.50-9.00, a few strictly choice $9.50 and common and medium lightweights [illegible]

Hogs sold steady to 10c higher today with most good and choice 170-270 lb. averages at $11.00-11.25 and a few at $11.30-11.35 late. Good and choice 280-300 lb. butchers made $10.65-11.00, 160-190 lb. light lights $10.35-11.00, lighterweights $10.25-10.75, good sows mainly $10.25 and feeder pigs $10.00-11.00.

BATHING BEACH TO OPEN OFFICIALLY HERE NEXT SUNDAY

B. W. Gabrielson to Give Swimming Lessons This Summer

The Tindolph park bathing beach will be officially opened to swimmers of the community next Sunday when B. W. Gabrielson, Lincoln high school physical education instructor, will be on duty as waterfront director, assisted by two lifeguards.

The beach has been greatly improved since last season by the erection of a platform with a diving board, a large diving tower twenty feet high and a new lifeguard tower. In addition fresh sand has been spread on the enlarged beach, and the swimming area has been roped off. With the river at its present high stage, the water is in excellent condition.

Mr. Gabrielson, who has achieved an outstanding record in swimming, will give instruction beginning next Monday and continuing until the middle of August. While a definite schedule of classes will not be posted until next Thursday, anyone interested may communicate with Mr. Gabrielson at the beach.

35 FARMERS JOIN IN COUNTY SHEEP TOUR WEDNESDAY

University Farm Authority Gives Demonstrations at Three Farms

The Pennington County sheep tour was held Wednesday, about thirty five farmers from all parts of the county being in attendance throughout the day. The tour started at the E. H. Pomerenke farm north of Mavie where Mr. Morris, livestock specialist from University Farm, had charge of the dipping demonstration for control of sheep ticks. He also discussed the building of concrete dipping tanks and gave out specifications for the construction of these concrete tanks. A discussion was also given on care, handling and grading of wool.

The next stop was at the Frank Hardisty home where everyone enjoyed a picnic lunch before the demonstrations on drenching for stomach worms, castrating and docking were given. Mr. R. J. Moore of the Central Cooperative Association of South St. Paul was in charge of the demonstration at the Hardisty farm.

The third stop was at the Henry Olson farm where everyone took part in judging two classes of sheep and Mr. Morris discussed the essential points in selecting ewes and rams for foundation stock in developing a profitable flock.

Blaze Damages J. & B. Service Station Office

Fire that broke out early Sunday evening in the office of the J. & B. service station south from the court house resulted in considerable damage to office records and furniture as well as burning a hole thru the ceiling. Jack Dempster, co-proprietor of the station, was servicing a car at the time the blaze developed, and sustained severe burns on his hands and arms when he attempted to extinguish the blaze, which was shortly put out by the fire department.

In Memory

In memory of Mrs. Florence Hyland, who died one year ago, June 12:

Those whom we love go out of sight,
But never out of mind;
They are cherished in the hearts
Of those they leave behind.

Upright and just to the end of her days;
Sincere and true in heart and mind,
Beautiful memories she left behind.

Time speeds on, a year has passed
Since death its gloom, its shadow, cast
Within our home, where all seemed bright,
And took from us a shining light;
We miss that light, and ever will,
Her vacant place there is none to fill.

Convention Parade is Big Feature Sunday

Procession Includes Bands, Drum Corps and Numerous Floats

With numerous entries still coming in for the Ninth district American Legion convention parade, which will get under way in Thief River Falls next Sunday afternoon, shortly after 1 o'clock, Ward W. Long, chairman in charge of arrangements for the event, announced early this week that the procession will include more than a dozen bands and drum corps, more than twice as many floats of various kinds, together with a varied array of marching units representing posts thruout the district.

Among the musical organizations which have notified Emmet Wright, band chairman, that they will be in the line of march are such widely known groups as the W. B. A. ladies drum corps of Fergus Falls as well as drum corps from Fargo, Grand Forks, Bagley Thief River Falls and Breckenridge.

Heading the list of bands in the parade will be the crack Ninth District Legion band directed by T. W. Thurson of Crookston, while a number of high school bands also will participate including organizations from Gonvick, McIntosh, Red Lake Falls, Fosston, Crookston, Thief River Falls, Roseau, Barnesville, and Mahnomen.

Among the Thief River Falls business places which will be represented in the parade by floats are Gustafson & Son, Taxerass Implement company, Wiener Top & Body Works, Peterson & Julien Auto Service, Borchert & Johnson, Northern Chevrolet company, O'Hara Fuel & Ice company, Red Lake Ice & Fuel company, Robertson Lumber company, Central Lumber company, Skarstad-Daniels Lumber company, Bridgeman Creameries, Kiewel Products company and Thief River Grocery company.

The parade will take form on First st., at Knight av., and will proceed east to the court house north on Main av to Second st., two blocks east to Horace av., one block north of Third st., two blocks west to Main av., north of Fourth st. and west to the fair grounds. Heading the procession will be a group of members of the Minnesota highway patrol.

After the parade reaches the fair grounds the high school bands will join forces in a massed band concert, which in turn will be followed by a baseball game between league teams representing Thief River Falls and Oslo.

Police Ban Parking of Cars Along Route of the Legion Parade Sunday

To facilitate the Legion convention parade Sunday afternoon starting at 1:30, and to afford spectators a better opportunity to view the procession, Third st. and Second st. between Main and Horace avenues will be cleared of all cars between the hours of 1:30 and 3 o'clock, it was announced today by Police Chief A. B. Stenberg, who solicited the cooperation of local residents in refraining from parking their cars along the route of the parade. Chief Stenberg also asked that residents keep their cars away from the downtown district Saturday afternoon and evening to permit space to accommodate the influx of out-of-town visitors.

CROW HUNTERS OF CITY LOSE MATCH ENDING ON SUNDAY

Harry Myrom and Harold Olson Lead Scoring for Local Entrants

The crow hunt sponsored by the Pennington County Sportsmen's club, in which Thief River Falls and Grygla opposed East Grand Forks and Warren, ended Sunday with a decisive victory for the latter towns, the final score being 22,410 points to 10,118.

In the order in which they finished, local leaders in the scoring will have their choice of articles of sporting goods contributed as prizes by Montgomery Wards, Kelly Hardware, Oen's Gamble Store and Coast-to-Coast Store.

Local prize winners include Harry Myrom, 718 points, first; Harold Olson, 550, second; Adolph Haugen, 371, third; Leon J. Kallher, 368, fourth; and Henry Anensen, 323, fifth.

Other contestants include Helmer Helgeson, 252; Melvin Simonson, 180; Arthur Thompson, 170; I. N. Pederson, 98; Thor Sevafson 95; Bennie Halvorson, 95; John Dokken, 91; Carl Kretschmar, 81; Knute Swanson, 80; Lyle Tweet, 30; Lewis Nelson, 35; Ted Kusmak, 25; and Carlie Johnson, 16.

A special meeting of the local club will be held next Tuesday evening, June 15, in the Civic and Commerce association rooms, at which time prizes will be awarded and preparations made to serve a "feed" for the winners, East Grand Forks and Warren.

Lindberg Is Promoted in Northern State Bank

A. Skarstad, who resigned June 1 as assistant cashier of the Northern State bank to become affiliated with the Skarstad Daniels Lumber company, has been succeeded in his former position by Kenneth Lindbergh, associated with the bank since its organization. Donovan Mattson was promoted to the teller's position formerly held by Mr. Lindbergh.

COUNCIL APPROVES BUILDING PERMITS AT SESSION TUESDAY

struction of a sidewalk on Taft st. between Tindolph and Kendall avs. was held up temporarily pending receipt of further similar requests.

The proposed ordinance prohibiting the sale of firecrackers and other fireworks in the city except during the first week in July was given its second reading.

The council accepted the only bid received on new equipment for the filter plant. A new chlorinator was purchased for $1,265 less a $200 allowance for the old equipment, and an ammoniator was bought for the sum of $610. The bid was submitted by the Wallace & Tiernan company of Newark, New Jersey. A single bid also was received on road oil, that one being submitted by the J. W. Craig company on the basis of 8.57 cents a gallon in tank car lots, the price to include heating and applying the oil.

At the request of Robert J. Lund, appearing in behalf of the fair board, the council voted the usual appropriation of $500 toward the support of the county fair, with the understanding that $205 be returned to the city treasury in payment of light and water service while the fair is in progress.

Auto Registrations Set New High in 1936

Motor vehicle registrations and automotive tax receipts in 1936 reached all-time record highs. A total of 28,221,291 motor vehicles was registered by the states last year. The highest previous year was 1930, with 26,545,281 registered. From 1930 to 1933 there was a drop of almost three million registrations, and not until last year did registrations equal their pre-depression level. The 1936 registrations were only 6.3% above the 1930 high, yet the states collected 23% more automotive tax revenue. In 1930 the states collected $355,704,860 in registration fees and $493,865,117 in gasoline taxes. In 1936, registration fees totaled $359,783,080, and state gasoline taxes $691,120,000. Receipts from registration fees increased only 1%, while state gasoline tax receipts expanded 40%.

BLACK GOPHER CALLED "JEEP" BY CAPTURERS

Granite Falls—If you are a follower of Popeye's troubles you are perfectly familiar with the word "Jeep" even if the animal itself has you somewhat puzzled. However, Bill Fruin and Bernard Aukie solved the question to their own satisfaction by capturing what they are sure is a "Jeep" near the Prestegard farm in Minnesota Falls township. It's capture was no small matter and took something like four days together with untold quantities of water. As exhibited by the capturers in a wire covered box, the "Jeep" has all the earmarks of a gopher except that his color is a solid black and who ever heard of a black gopher?

Barbados, "Little England"

Barbados frequently is termed "Little England" by the white population, but the colored people, locally known as "Bims," call it "Bimshawland." So much does the native love his country that every day he prays that when he dies heaven will be another Bimshawland.

SMILEY

The regular monthly meeting for May was held Friday. A splendid 4-H program was presented, consisting of the following numbers. STATE HISTORICAL SOCIETY TO VISIT ROSEAU JUNE 19TH

To Aid In Celebrating 50th Anniversary of White Settlement

Members and friends of the Minnesota Historical society who participate in its fifteenth annual summer tour will join members of the Roseau County Historical society on June 19 in commemorating the golden jubilee of white settlement in this northern county.

A program of talks and addresses presented at Roseau at 2:30 P. M. will include a review of "Fifty Years of Roseau County" by Eddy E. Billberg, president of the local historical society. He will be followed by Harold Lathrop, director of state parks, who will discuss "State Parks and State History," and Dr. Theodore C. Blegen, superintendent of the state historical society, who will take as his subject "The Lake of the Woods and the Northwest Angle."

A dinner meeting and an evening program will be other features of the Roseau session. Willoughby M. Babcock, curator of the museum of the state historical society, will read a paper on "Manton Marble and the Expedition of 1859"; Edward C. Gale, president of the society, will describe an original La Verendrye document in his possession; and Dr. Grace Lee Nute, curator of manuscripts for the society, will speak on "Hudson's Bay Company Posts in Northern Minnesota."

It's got so a boss in the industrial centers doesn't know whether it's safe to ask the job applicant to have a seat.—Detroit News.

Light Weight Turkeys Wanted by Purchasers, Dr. Billings Asserts

Minnesota turkey raisers, faced this year with producing their annual crop on high priced feeds, may find a few facts as to the consumer's turkey wants of value in getting the kind of bird in most demand on the market.

A survey made by a group of national chain stores, says Dr. W. A. Billings, extension veterinarian, University Farm, St. Paul, showed that about 73 per cent of the buyers questioned wanted birds weighing between 8 and 13 pounds. Only about 5 per cent of those questioned wanted turkeys weighing 18 pounds or more. Consumers liked hens best, probably because they are smaller and more desirable than toms of the same weight. Marketing of half-turkeys was unpopular with both the consumers and the stores, for half-birds do not keep well, are hard to stuff and the consumer would rather see a whole bird, well cooked and browned, carried to his table.

An encouraging note comes from the fact that all stores admitted that turkeys were beginning to come to them dressed.

STATE IS HONORED FOR YULE SEAL PUBLICITY

Displaying clippings used in nearly every daily and weekly newspaper in Minnesota, a scrapbook of publicity for the 1936 Christmas Seal sale, entered in a nation-wide contest by the Minnesota Public Health Association, was awarded first prize. Scrapbooks were judged according to originality and ingenuity in adapting and using material during the Christmas Seal campaign. Only stories run in newspapers during October, November and December, 1936, were used. Winning books were on display at the national meeting.

CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Peder Stengelson celebrated their wedding anniversary Sunday. Three of their children attended the anniversary which were Mrs. Everett Evans of Angus, Edwin Stengelson of Wisconsin and Mrs. Anna Windmiller at home. Because of bad roads and bad weather the other children were unable to get here. Rev. E. L. Tungseth of Thief River Falls opened the program by reading scripture and leading in prayer. Talks were rendered by Edwin Stengelson, John Halvorson, Rev. Harlan Peterson of Viking and Rev. E. L. Tungseth. Blossom Decken a grand daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Peder Stengelson gave the reading "Fifty Years". Rev. E. L. Tungseth sang two vocal numbers in the Norwegian language. The audience sang the hymn in closing "Till We Meet Again." Joe Jansen of Viking acted as master of ceremonies. Hans Hanson presented the honored couple with a purse of money from the many relatives and friends that had gathered in their honor. Mrs. Stengelson was presented with a beautiful bouquet of Red Roses. Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Everett Evans and children of Angus, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Jensen and family of Reynolds, N. D. Richard Stengelson and a host of friends and relatives. A beautiful three tiered wedding cake was the center piece of the lunch table. "I'M PROUD WE GOT OUT OF THE 'ALL THREE' CLASS!"

"OUR NEW NASH IS SO MUCH BIGGER—AND IT COST ONLY A FEW DOLLARS MORE THAN THOSE SMALLER CARS"

We'd like to thank Mr. Eugene Hovel of Chicago for the following expression—read what he says!

"Lots of people take their automobiles for granted. But not me. I want to know what's under the hood. In my opinion the Nash LaFayette "400" is one of the best engineered cars you can buy. That "400" engine is a 'sweetheart.' Those LARGER hydraulic brakes will save me many a dented fender. That big roomy body is a joy! I'm proud of my new Nash . . . it's a grand automobile!"

NEEDY CRIPPLED CHILDREN TO GO TO CLINIC JUNE 19

Will Receive Free Examination and Advice in Crookston

The co-operation of all local health and welfare agencies and civic groups interested in the crippled child is being sought to increase the effectiveness of the clinic for needy crippled children to be held in the Central High School Building in Crookston Saturday June 19. The clinic will provide medical examinations and vocational guidance to needy physically handicapped persons under twenty-one years of age in Polk and surrounding counties including Pennington and Marshall.

This clinic is one of a series being conducted in the state by the Division of Services for Crippled Children of the State Board of Control in co-operation with the Minnesota Public Health Association and the State Department of Education, with the approval of the Red River Valley medical society.

Miss Elizabeth Goodrich district field nurse of the Division of Services for Crippled Children is in charge of preliminary arrangements for the clinic. Anyone interested in contacting Miss Goodrich may reach her by writing to the State Board of Control, State Office Building, St. Paul.

Alumni of Northwest School Plan Reunion on Campus June 19th

Alumni and former students of the Northwest School of Agriculture will gather on the school campus for their annual reunion on Saturday, June 19, according to Harvey Johnson, Moorhead, president of the Association. Local and class committees have been working for several weeks to make the 1937 reunion the best in the history of the School.

The Alumni of the classes of 1912, 1917, 1922, 1927 and 1932 are having special reunions and class picnic suppers.

The afternoon program opens with ball games between Alumni and students with R. J. Christgau, Athletic director of the School in general charge. Kittenball games between faculty and Alumni, movies, the annual business meeting and Alumni dance, make up a full day of activities. Registrar J. W. Milnar, is general chairman of the faculty and Alumni committee on arrangements.

10 Counties Over Top in Babcock Memorial Drive

Ten Minnesota counties have gone "over the top" in attaining their quotas of subscriptions for the Charles M. Babcock Memorial fund, Charles J. Moos, "executive director of the Babcock Memorial association, announced last week.

Strangely, Mr. Moos disclosed, the first counties to reach and pass their quotas were not the wealthy counties of Minnesota's more favored agricultural and industrial areas, but those from more sparsely settled northern regions.

Sherburne county, however, took the spotlight in the fund campaign thus far by reporting subscriptions totalling more than three times its set quota.

Other counties reporting their goals attained, Mr. Moos said, were Cook, Lake of the Woods, Aitkin, Marshall, Lyon, Brown, Nobles Watonwan and Olmsted. Wabasha and Clay county directors also informed Mr. Moos that their quotas were virtually complete.

Problems of Industry to be Studied in New University Laboratory

When the University of Minnesota opens its 1937-38 session in October one of the new features of its research program will be a laboratory where problems related to "heavy" industry will be studied.

In the process of construction by WPA and University funds, the new laboratory probably will be ready about September 1. The building which will house the research plant formerly was used by a tractor company but the University recently bought the building and began remodelling it.

Among other things University scientists will attempt to find out whether production of hydrogen from lignite coal is practical upon a large scale commercial basis. With one billion tons of lignite estimated to lie practically untouched in the Northwest the outcome of the experiment may have important results. Production has been made upon a small scale at the University but whether large scale manufacture is feasible economically remains to be seen.

CONCRETE for Safety on your holiday trip
ON your holiday trip can you keep on concrete all the way? You're lucky if you can! Concrete roads are swifter, safer, more comfortable, saving on gas, tires and your car. They get the holiday parade through with fewer jams and delays.
Your holiday is safer on concrete. Safer at night—obstacles stand out plainly in front of your headlights.
Safer in wet weather, too. Crowns are lower—always uniform. No tendency to slip off the side. Traffic doesn't crowd to the center of the road. The gritty surface provides better traction at any speed.
Every car is a better car on concrete—swifter but safer!
PAVE THE ROADS THAT CARRY THE LOADS
Minnesota needs more concrete highways, both for holiday and for everyday traffic.

NEW MINING TAX PLAN IS ISSUE IN SPECIAL SESSION

Proposed Measure to Give State $4,000,000 of Iron Ore Taxes

A proposal to reorganize the collection and apportionment of advalorem taxes paid by the mining companies so as to give the state of Minnesota some $4,000,000 additional revenue and so reduce the state taxes paid by general property owners here and elsewhere throughout the state promises to be a major issue in the special session of the legislature, according to word from St. Paul today.

Senators W. L. Dietz, Ancher Nelsen and Oscar Swenson, authors of the proposal, report that they have received assurances of support for it from many parts of the state and expressed the belief that it will be passed by the legislature. Since being introduced in the senate, the plan has been presented in the house with fifteen members of the lower branch, both farmer-labor and conservative, as authors, and it is expected to have as strong backing there as in the senate.

Adoption of the plan would effect a reduction of more than three mills in the taxes on homes and farms immediately, Senator Dietz said. When debts of the communities on the Iron Range are paid off, the state will receive $6,000,000 annually from this new source of revenue instead of $4,000,000, Senator Dietz added. This would be equivalent to a 5-mill reduction in the taxes on property here and in other communities over the state.

Feared Halley's Comet

The fear which Halley's comet inspired in 1066, as being connected with the Norman conquest, has never died. Its subsequent appearance in the Thirteenth and Fourteenth centuries struck terror into all the nations of Europe, and in 1910 it presaged disaster for the Titanic, which was then on the stocks. Or so said the superstitious after the event.—Answers Magazine.

District Secretary

MRS. O. A. SWANSON

Of Gonvick, Ninth district secretary of the Legion auxiliary, who will participate in convention activities here this week-end.

Local Equalization Boards Meet June 28

June 28th ought to be a red-letter day for taxpayers of Minnesota. It is the day on which local boards of equalization meet to consider tax assessments and to equalize property. Real estate assessments are not made this year, however, except where property becomes taxable where not taxable before, or has not been platted previously. Assessors must note every case where there has been a change in classification from homestead to non-homestead and vice-versa. There is a quickened interest in assessments because of the deep concern about tax rises, and the desire to have all taxpayers share burdens that are just and fair, based on equitable valuations, according to James P. McDonnell of Buffalo, president of the Minnesota Taxpayers Association.

A sad blunder—he asked her to marry him to see if she was engaged. She wasn't.

FIRST NINTH DIST. LEGION MEETING WAS HELD IN 1922

Thief River Falls Previously Was Convention Host in 1930

This week-end marks the second occasion on which Thief River Falls has been host to the Ninth District American Legion convention. The first time was in June 1930, when A. A. Berggren of Glyndon was named district commander and D. E. Misfeldt of Fergus Falls, adjutant.

The organization of the Legion in the Ninth district was perfected in 1921 at the department convention held in Detroit Lakes. At the first district convention in August, 1922, also held in that city, Dr. A. C. Gottenborg of Detroit Lakes served as the first district commander and J. K. McCarthy was adjutant.

In 1923 the convention was held at Moorhead in July, Dr. Thomas F. Rodwell of Mahnomen being commander and H. C. Goodrich adjutant. The 1924 meeting was conducted at Fertile in June, officers including Anton Yngve, Middle River, commander, and Ole R. Sande, Thief River Falls, adjutant.

Crookston entertained the 1925 convention in June, at which time W. T. Curran of Moorhead was commander and John R. Sten adjutant. At Detroit Lakes in 1926 L. E. Zumwinkle of Pelican Rapids was commander and E. A. Haugen of Pelican Rapids adjutant.

The Legion and auxiliary convention was held in Fergus Falls in 1927, Sydney Stadsvold, Fosston being commander and Roy Reierson, Fosston, adjutant. Ada was host to the 1928 meeting at which Roscoe Kaiser of Bagley was commander and W. C. Wiench adjutant.

In 1929 the convention met at East Grand Forks, J. W. Taylor of Roseau being commander and E. J. Peterson of Roseau, adjutant. At Breckenridge in 1931, C. J. Wittbecker of Fergus Falls was commander and Frank C. Barnes, Fergus Falls, adjutant. Warren was host to the convention in 1931 when W. C. Sumpman of Crookston was commander and R. H. McFarlin of Crookston, adjutant.

Oscar R. Smith and F. E. Tunberg of Thief River Falls were respectively commander and adjutant at the 1933 convention at Crookston. Meeting in Detroit Lakes in 1934, the convention was conducted by Dr. Harry Hrdin of East Grand Forks commander and Elmer Eid adjutant. Bagley entertained in 1935, when R. B. Berglund of Moorhead was commander and C. R. Euren adjutant.

With R. H. Thompson of Henning as commander and Dr. S. J. Halvorson as adjutant, the 1936 convention met at Fergus Falls, where O. C. Paulson of Thief River Falls was named district commander. Serving with him as adjutant during the past year has been Joe Moruska.

CAPTURE DEER ON SLEEPY EYE FARM

Sleepy Eye—Longfellow's Hiawatha was a mighty deer hunter, but he had nothing on John P. Schmitt and Louis and Robert Geiger of Sleepy Eye. Barehanded the three captured a young buck on the Geiger farm on the north shore of Lake Hanska, 13 miles southeast of Sleepy Eye, after it had been seen and chased by a score or more Brown county farmers. Lured into the Geiger farm yard by feed, the deer was cornered and chased into a small building where the three men surrounded, captured, trussed, and otherwise took possession of the animal and then carried it bodily to a box stall in the Geiger barn. There it is being viewed daily by scores of farmers and citizens from nearby towns. Since the buck was quite young, it is considered improbable that it wandered this far south from northern woods, but since there has been no report of loss from parks in this section, the animal's presence in this county remains a mystery.

Red River Valley History

By Wm. V. Working

Thief River Falls in 1902

For variety we offer here a study of a copy of The Press, published in Thief River Falls in the early part of the present century. The copy to which we refer for the information in this article is dated March 21, 1902. The principal news item concerns the move to open a part of the Red Lake reservation, but we shall pass that as we have dealt with it in detail in previous issues. We shall instead present a few news items from the so-called "personal" columns. Here is one, for instance:

"O. Ramstad who succeeds Turville & Porter as the owner of their livery stable on LaBree avenue came up from Ada Tuesday for a short stay. Mr. Ramstad expects to remove here with his family for a short stay about April 1st, after which time another location will be secured for the business and a new barn built."

From the perspective of 1937 that seems to have been an unfortunate venture on the part of the Ada man, for it was only a relatively few years later that automobiles crowded out horse-drawn vehicles as livery barn rigs. But, of course, Mr. Ramstad could not foresee that. Anyway, as we recall, the old time livery men did quite a business for a few years operating cars as livery rigs in connection with the evanescent livery horses.

But here we have a different phase of the life of 35 years ago here represented:

"The celebration of St. Patrick's day consisted of an excellent entertainment gotten up under the direction of Mrs. Chas. Knox. The Odd Fellows hall was crowded to its utmost capacity with a very appreciative audience. The neat program elicited genuine applause and many numbers were heartily encored. A newly organized mandolin club made its first appearance and won new laurels for the musical talent of our city.

"The vocal duet of Mr. and Mrs. Wright was charmingly sweet and fascinating. Mr. Berkholl executed a few violin selections in which he showed himself a genuine artist. All the vocal and instrumental numbers added new splendor to Erin's national anthem.

"The oratorical genius of the Emerald Isle was ably represented by the city attorney, James McIntyre. He chose for his subject, Justice for Ireland and he certainly did justice to his subject. Everyone was highly pleased with his choice language and happy delivery."

The article seems a bit "sugary", but we cannot be sure from the name that the editor, S. W. Bagley, was Irish. However, we do not mean to infer that only an Irishman would be so complimentary on such a subject.

Eighteen pounds of the best granulated sugar could be purchased for $1.00 back in those good old days, while nine bars of laundry soap could be had for 25 cents. But the best bargain of all seems to have been boys' two-piece suits at $1.00. Men's suits were offered at $2.50 but they must have been very ordinary for "the best" men's $4.00 pants were marked down to $2.25. These prices appear in a news column but the name of the store is not given. We'll bet the paper did not get paid for that advertisement.

Firms who are represented by advertisements in the edition are the Central Mercantile Co., O. K. Mill, advertising "Pride of the North" flour; Prichard-Stone Co., City Drug and Jewelry Store, New Drug store, Hitchcock, Kenting & Murphy, C. O. Jackson & Co., closing out a stock of farm implements; Lars Backe, real estate; First National bank, C. H. Stone, pres.; Rasmus Oen, vice pres.; W. W. Prichard, cashier, and J. H. Graslie, assistant cashier, offering "farm loans at lowest prices."

M. Bothun, "cheap cash store", offering foods for ladies only; C. J. Knox, town lots, Himble's store, Northern Real Estate & Mortgage Co., C. L. Dobner, pres.; Daniel Shaw, vice-pres. and manager; D. N. Winston, secretary; C. O. D. Clothing Co., Kenison, Connery & Robinson, proprietors; C. M. Evenson, the furniture man; K. J. Weeks, insurance and real estate; D. B. Bakke, u. s. land office business transacted and 5,000 acres of land in Marshall and Red Lake counties for sale; Edwards, Wood & Co., grain, stock and provisions, Emil Sweass, local manager; Alex A. Sweass, collections and insurance and steamship tickets; Andrew A. Wassen, flour; Knut N. Jorstad, tailor and Johnson's bowling alley. Also on the front page were the ads of R. Langseth & Co., First State Bank, Sherman Staples, real estate, and Bank of Red Lake Falls.

It is probable that readers will recall many of these places, that is, older readers. A great many present business men of the city were not born in 1902. Those older ones, however, may remember when John Cyr, the barber, had a bath tub installed in his shop. The issue we have before tells about it. Frank Hunt of Red Lake Falls installed the tub and it was to be "in working order by the middle of next week" —before Saturday night, anyway.

T. W. Thompson sold his hardware store just before the issue went to press to S. V. Bally of this city and Henry Delbald of Hallock.

Reemployment Officers Were Active in May

The 26 offices of the National Reemployment Service, with which the Thief River Falls office is affiliated, placed persons in 6,5[illegible] jobs during May, according to information made available this week by Dreng Bjornaraa of St. Paul, state director.

"The gratifying thing about the report," says Manager E. R. Stanghelle of the local office, "is that 3,260, or nearly 60 per cent, of the placements for the state were in private employment." These figures, he says, show a considerable increase over April, when total placements amounted to 4,6[illegible], of which 3,224 were in private employment. The increase, however, was in accordance with the usual seasonal employment trend."

POSTMAN HAS TRAVELED 300,000 MILES ON JOB

Luverne— Resigning after 30 years of service, A. J. Pemberton, veteran Magnolia mail carrier, estimates that during those 30 years he has traveled more than 300,000 miles while covering his route. If he had gone in a straight line, he would have encircled the globe about twelve and a half times. When he first began carrying mail out of Magnolia the route was 31 miles long. Since then, however it has been increased to 37 miles. Mr. Pemberton has used every known vehicle except a kiddie car to carry the mail. When his mules were out he turned to a bicycle and when that had outworn its usefulness, he used a motorcycle. Since 1914 he drove a car except when roads were bad and then horses had their chance. Mr. Pemberton's only regret in resigning is that he hasn't had a chance to cover the route in an airplane for if he could do that, his happiness would be complete.

ISHAM JONES AND NOTED ORCHESTRA AT ARENA JUNE 18

Is Most Famed Dance Orchestra Ever to Appear in This City

Lovers of the dance in Northwestern Minnesota are due for a musical treat Friday evening, June 18, when Isham Jones, nationally known orchestra leader and composer of popular song hits, will bring his musicians to the Thief River Falls arena to play for what promises to be one of the most successful dances of the season.

Isham Jones and his orchestra have performed in cities from coast to coast, and their music has become familiar to millions thru their Victor recordings. Jones himself is the master of eight different instruments.

Among the songs composed by Isham Jones are "I'll see you in my dreams", "Indiana Moon", "You're in the army now", and many others. He popularizes his songs thru his own publishing company.

Five loud speakers will be placed in various parts of the arena so that the dance music and songs can be heard plainly in all parts of the huge structure.

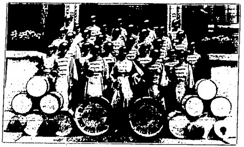
Former Resident Calls Minnesota Best State

"It is hard to get along without your fine paper in order to know what is happening in a country one loves", writes Otto R. Rux, former Pennington county resident now of Everett, Washington, in renewing his subscription. He adds, "The climate is fine out here along the coast, but otherwise it is not to my liking at all. With all this unionism and strikes, it is the bunk. Farming is not what one would think it should be, too much expense. People should be satisfied in Minnesota, and be thankful to live in a land of plenty."

PENNIES BUY BICYCLE FOR ALEXANDRIA GIRL

Alexandria—Delores Bailey, a thirteen-year old local girl, believes in thrift. Her savings habit was responsible for her buying a new bicycle recently, when she walked into "Fuzzy" Fougren's Cycle shop and dished 1500 pennies from her pockets as payment for the shiny new bicycle she had admired for a long time. The one cent pieces were all carefully wrapped in packages of 25 each to make the matter of checking up on her count easy. Delores did not make known the length of time she had spent in putting away the 1500 coppers.

T. R. Falls Auxiliary Drum Corps to Perform This Week-end



The Thief River Falls Legion auxiliary drum and bugle corps needs no introduction to residents of the Ninth district or, for that matter, of the entire state, for the organization has on several occasions won top honors in state competition. The corps, under the leadership of Mrs. Jeanette Wright, drum major, can be depended on to perform in its usual excellent manner when it participates this week-end in the Legion convention parade and other activities of the Ninth district meeting.

T. A. Hanson, Red River Pioneer, Dies

Word was received Tuesday by Miss Alma Gilbertson from Miss Eleanora Hanson of Crookston that the latter's father, Tobias A. Hanson of Crookston, died Friday June 4. The T. A. Hanson family were former residents of this city.

Mr. Hanson, a Red River pioneer for the past fifty-five years, was seventy-six years of age at the time of his death. He is survived by his wife, his daughter Eleanora, and his son H. Walter of Oakland, Calif.

Funeral rites were held Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock at Crookston.

7,000 MINNOWS POISONED IN DISPLAY OF VANDALISM

Detroit Lakes—An outburst of vandalism here last week continues to puzzle victims, who apparently were at a loss to name the miscreants or to account for the cause of their actions. Strychnine poison, spread by unknown persons at the George Corbett bait shop, located on Highway 10 east of Detroit Lakes, resulted in the death of 600 dozen minnows. Other reports of vandalism came from the north shore of Detroit lake when a canoe owned by George W. Peoples, was hacked at its two ends with a hatchet during the same night while a rowboat also in dock nearby was damaged by someone who hashed a hole in the bottom of the craft. Corbett's minnows—tempered in special tanks at his shop—numbered approximately 7,200 and were valued at nearly $200. Windows left open in the basement where the tanks are located apparently allowed the vandals to spread poison over the water.

Infant Son of Willie Randorfs Dies Sunday

Kenneth Maynard Randorf, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Randorf of Rocksbury township, died in a local hospital Sunday noon. He was born June 5. Funeral rites were held Tuesday at the German Lutheran church in this city, Rev. V. E. Schroeder officiating, and interment was made in Greenwood cemetery. Surviving relatives are the boy's parents, four brothers LaVern, Eugene, Alvin and William, and five sisters, Marcella, Blanche, Dolores, Millicent, and Ardellis all residing at home.

DISTRICT LEGION AUXILIARY HAD ITS ORIGIN BACK IN '21

Mrs. Bishop First to Serve as Ninth District President

The Ninth District American Legion auxiliary, which last year boasted 2201 members divided among nearly 50 units in as many towns and cities thruout the district, is now nearly sixteen years old, having held its first convention at Detroit Lakes October 7, 1921, with Mrs. J. M. Bishop of Thief River Falls as presiding officer.

Officers elected at the first convention included Mrs. Bishop, president; Mrs. T. L. Stickney of Crookston, vice president; and Miss Emma Holum of Barnesville, secretary. Two Ninth district members, Mrs. Bishop and Mrs. Frank C. Barnes of Fergus Falls, have also served as Minnesota department presidents.

The work of the auxiliary is broad in scope and entails much work as well as financial outlay. While the units are chiefly concerned with the care of the disabled and hospitalized veterans and their dependents, and with the promotion of good citizenship, they engage also in a variety of other activities including child welfare, community service, poppy workroom activities, junior activities, music, education and public health.

State President

Mrs. C. F. Moore, Jr., of Minneapolis for many years a leader in Unit, District and State affairs of her organization, was elected to the state presidency of the American Legion Auxiliary at the Brainerd Convention, held August 16th to 19th, 1936.

Following her election as leader of approximately 20,000 women in the state, Mrs. Moore announced that concentration on the major objectives of the auxiliary, child welfare, rehabilitation and Americanism will be her aim. "The Auxiliary must not become too broad in its program but must develop its main objectives," she declared. "When the program of any organization becomes too heavy, the members are likely to lose track of the most important projects for which they were organized."

Mrs. Moore is known in all parts of Minnesota for her work with young people, including her efforts with Girl Scout organizations and educational groups. She has served on the citizens' committee on public school finance of Minneapolis for three years and at present is in charge of the Country Club District Girl Scout committee.

Her first acquaintance with women's organizations came some years ago when she was associated with the Episcopal church in publicity work and traveled thru the state. Later she became interested in the Auxiliary and has given much of her attention to its activities. She is a native Minnesotan, having spent her childhood in Alexandria. She attended Stanley Hall in Minneapolis and then went to the University of Minnesota.

BOVINE TRIPLET RECORD GOES TO CHOKIO FARMER

Chokio—Now that the local community's modesty is worn off, Lafayette's claim to having produced the first living triplets to survive is short lived, for Thomas Bonner here has triplet calves five months old. They were born early in January to a grade shorthorn and are now fine, healthy looking animals. These calves were sired by a grade animal, also the sire of two sets of twin calves born this spring.

MAN, 86 ENDS FAMILY RECORD

Lake Wilson—The death last week of Gust Reing, 86, ended a family's record for longevity, which has not been equaled. In 1870 four young Swedes came to Murray county and took up homesteads in Ellsborough and Skandia townships north of Lake Wilson. They were sons of Reinhold Samuelson, but following an old country custom they did not take their father's name. The oldest son took the name of August Reinhold, the second that of Axel R. Lagerwall, the third that of Andrew Reinholdson, and the youngest was known as Gust Reing. Passing through the hardships of pioneer days, they hauled logs from Bear Lake to build homes. Blizzards, grasshoppers, and prairie fires did not daunt them. The four brothers died within four years at the ages of 95, 91, 88 and 86.

Old Gold Coin Spins Yarn

Wrapped in parchment, a gold coin was picked up at Shell Bay, Scotland, by John Burns, seventeen, of East Wemyss. It proved to be a third of a guinea piece dated 1803, when George III reigned. The paper in which it was included has written on it these words: "Hermand 24th. October, 1803. This wrapper contains the piece of coin referred to in the declaration of Christian Mill before me of this date. This piece is also referred to the declaration of George Grant. G. G."

ANGELINE HAVEL IMPRESSES WITH RECITAL MONDAY

Local Young Concert Pianist Displays Flawless Interpretation

Appearing in a recital at Trinity Lutheran church Monday evening under the auspices of the music group of the Thief River Falls Woman's club, Miss Angeline Havel, concert pianist, achieved one of the finest performances ever heard by music lovers in this city, displaying unusual talent and perfect interpretation.

Miss Havel executed an exceedingly difficult program of classical selections, being especially effective in her rendition of Ravel's "The Fountain" and Chopin's "Harp Etude" and "Revolutionary Etude."

A former pupil of Mrs. Thelma Holm Erickson, Miss Havel appeared in her first recital at the age of nine. Later winning several scholarships, she continued her studies at DePaul Conservatory of Music in Chicago, and last year studied in El Paso, Texas, under the guidance of Cecilia Ray Berry of the De Paul faculty.

Oscar Gilbertson Home Scene of Silver Wedding

The Oscar Gilbertson home near this city was the scene Sunday afternoon of a silver wedding dinner held in observance of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the marriage of Mr and Mrs. Gilbertson, which occurred Tuesday. Approximately sixty guests were present at the dinner, which was a surprise planned by Mrs. C. M. Hoverstad and Mrs. O. K. Lerohl.

A short program preceded the dinner. Mrs. J. O. Jacobsen and Mrs. Oscar Anderson of this city sang several selections, and Rev. J. O. Jacobsen spoke, congratulating Mr. and Mrs. Gilbertson, and presented them with a silver tray engraved with data about the occasion, a silver coffee service set, and a purse of money, gifts from the assembled guests. Mr. and Mrs. Gilbertson responded. At one-thirty o'clock a buffet chicken dinner was served by the self-invited guests. A beautiful white three-tiered wedding cake, baked for the occasion by Miss Agnes Longren, graced the buffet, and lilacs and roses, brought by the guests, decorated the rooms.

Out-of-town guests present to honor Mr. and Mrs. Gilbertson were the latter's niece, Mrs. Gene Doheny, Mr. Doheny, and their daughter Rosemary, a brother-in-law of Mrs. Gilbertson, Gust Peterson, and Dolly and Emerson Christen, niece and nephew of Mrs. Gilbertson, all of Devils Lake, N. D.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbertson, who have lived in this vicinity the past twenty years, were married June 8, 1912 at Churches Ferry, N. D., at a double wedding ceremony at which a brother of Mrs. Gilbertson, Clarence Saugen, was also married.

St. Therese Studio Will Close Saturday

The teachers of St. Therese Music Studio are discontinuing their music classes on Saturday. They are leaving for Crookston to take up an extension course of DePaul University, given by Miss Cecelia Barry. Music teachers from Bemidji, Moorhead, Mahnomen, Red Lake Falls, Detroit Lakes, Barnesville, and East Grand Forks will attend the extension course at the Mount St. Benedict Conservatory.

Many of the seventy five pupils of the Sisters teaching music here in Thief River Falls were awarded certificates of their grades. Sister M. Timothy, B. M., member of the Minnesota Music Teachers Association for the past thirteen years, and a candidate for a Master's Degree at DePaul University, Chicago, has been coming from Crookston each week to supervise and teach the music classes.

Classes will be resumed in August when the Sisters return to Thief River Falls.

BIRTHDAY PARTY GIVEN FOR KATHRYN O'HARA

Peder Stengelsens Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Peder E. Stengelsen of New Solum Township, Marshall county, celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary at their farm home Sunday. About 200 guests from the surrounding countryside and neighboring towns gathered to do them honor.

A program was given, including talks by Rev. E. L. Tungseth, Ed Stengelsen, John Halvorson and Rev. Harlan Peterson of Viking; a reading by Blossom Docken; musical numbers, and a brief period of devotions. Joe Jansen presided as master of ceremonies. Hans Hanson, in behalf of the assembled guests, presented Mr. and Mrs. Stengelsen with a gift of money, and a bouquet of red roses was presented to Mrs. Stengelsen. A buffet supper was served, the buffet being centered with a large wedding cake.

Out-of-town relatives attending the anniversary observance included Mr. and Mrs. Everett Evans of Angus, Edwin Stengelsen of Wisconsin, and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Jensen and family of Reynolds, N. D.

Mr. and Mrs. Stengelsen were among the early pioneers of Marshall county, settling on a homestead there in 1889, where they have lived since. Mr. Stengelsen, who is 78 years of age, was born in Alten, Norway, in 1859. He came to America in 1871, spending his first years in the Copper country of Upper Michigan, where he was employed as a miner. He was married there in 1887 to Carrie Loberud. Mrs. Stengelsen, who is 72 years of age, was born in Hol Parish, Hallingdal, Norway. Nine children have been born to the couple, six of whom are now living. There are eight grandchildren and two great-grand children.

Capitol News Review

By A. I. Harris

The homestead exemption bill, by which farm and city homes would be relieved of state real estate taxes for their first $4,000 full value, passed the House last week with but one dissenting vote.

At the same time the first two tax proposals of the Administration were also approved by the lower body and sent to the Senate. The two bills increase gross earnings levies on express, freight, telephone, trust, and sleeping car companies from one to three per cent, and would aid in replacing revenues now being collected from low income and small property owner groups. Meanwhile other measures aimed at doing this as well as balancing the state budget were introduced.

The Senate, meanwhile, continued its self-imposed idleness. Meeting but three times last week for a total time of about an hour and a half, it had nothing to show for the week whatever, although it has many bills before it to be considered. The home exemption measure has not even been touched, though Senator T. H. Johnson, Fergus Falls liberal introduced it more than a week ago. The Senate has not lifted its special rule prohibiting action on any but revenue raising measures.

A labor relations bill patterned after the national Wagner Act was put into House hoppers this week by Representative Roy Wier, Minneapolis. The bill would be an improvement over the federal law, Wier said. The best provisions of the new Wisconsin and Pennsylvania laws were embodied in the measure. A three man board with powers to act in labor disputes, penalties for employers evading the law or commiting "unfair labor practices," and the right of collective bargaining are provided in the Wier bill.

An attempt to foster a "tax strike" on the part of reactionaries aided by the daily press came to naught last week, after a so-called farmers' meeting at St. Cloud failed to win support, although it was given front page publicity by the Twin Cities newspapers.

Fifty people attended the meeting, mostly politicians. Perhaps the farmers realize that Governor Benson's program, with its lifting of the state tax on homestead on the first $4,000 valuation and lowering of the real estate levy is an aid and not a detriment to them.

The War Department gave a sharp "no" in its report on a bill, introduced by Representative Dewey W. Johnson, Minneapolis, calling for government ownership and operation of munitions plants. The War Department quotes from its policy enunciated three years ago, as being opposed to government manufacture of munitions. Apparently, it is not concerned with the enormous profiteering in munitions—profits as high as 600 per cent—which was disclosed by the Nye investigation.

Progressives throughout the state greeted with applause the appointment by Governor Benson last week of Lewis E. Harris, superintendent of schools at Floodwood, to the state board of education. Mr. Harris is a well-known liberal and a school man of many years standing.

Among other appointments announced by Governor Benson were Robert Coffeen, Stillwater, to the state board of veterinary examiners; C. P. Fitch, St. Paul, reappointed to the livestock sanitation board; Sophia Hein, St. Paul, reappointed to the board of nurses examiners, and Samuel Mahan, St. Paul, and Blanche Kurtz, Minneapolis, both appointed to the soldiers home board.

Formulation of a farm program which will be based on the views of progressive farm leaders will be one of the first major undertakings of Charles Ommodt, newly appointed commissioner of agriculture. Commissioner Ommodt will expand the activities of the cooperative division of the department. He is expected to name an agricultural committee soon of men who are thoroughly familiar with the problems confronting farmers of the state.

Retail Gas Dealers of State to Cooperate in Highway Safety Drive

Plans for enrollment of 500,000 motorists as "supporting members" of the Minnesota public safety program were spurred, according to announcement by A. V. Rohwedder, chairman of the Minnesota public safety committee, by receipt this week of word that the gasoline retailers of the state would give their aid.

The fact that many organizations dispense with meetings during the summer months threatened to stand in the way of enrollment of members of these organizations, and the offer of the gasoline people can prove exceedingly helpful if filling stations will serve as membership enrollment locations, Chairman Rohwedder said.

"The automobile manufacturers realized that their industry was being jeopardized by the increase of street and highway accidents and so they are aiding safety work in a national way. The offer of the gasoline retailers may have been due to the realization that many motorists are remaining at home on holidays rather than risk the hazards of heavy travel, but whatever the reason for the good offer of the gasoline merchants," Mr. Rohwedder said, "their cooperation in the safety program will be availed of to the fullest possible extent."

Enrollment of members at filling stations will also aid in guarding against racketeers or other unauthorized persons collecting membership payments. This, Rohwedder said, was one of the reasons for the campaign being planned on enrollment through clubs, lodges, and like organizations.

Tall Tales

As told by FRANK E. HAGAN and ELMO SCOTT WATSON

Taming a Tornado

THE Old Cattleman perched himself on the top rail and squinted through the dust at the little bay pitching and squealing around in the middle of the corral.

"Reminds me of the time Pecos Bill met that tornado up on the Kansas line," he remarked. "She sure was a twister, all right. But Bill eared her down and climbed on. Off she went, down across Texas, sun fishin', back flippin', doin' everything a bad hoss ever thought of doin'.

"But Bill just set up there, thumpin' that tornado in the withers, slappin' her across the head with his sombrero or fannin' hisself with it. Up ahead he seed a forest that stretched away for miles and miles. But after him and his tornado bronc had passed it was nothin' but a barren prairie—the Staked Plains, they calls it today.

"He rode her through three states but over in California she got him. When the tornado saw she couldn't toss him, she just rained out from under him. Yep, that's how the Grand Canyon came to be washed out in that part of Arizony.

"Bill he come down ker-plunk in the southern part of the Golden state and when he lit he made a big hole three hundred feet below sea-level. I reckon you know it as Death Valley . . . what, you don't believe it? Jest go down there, then, and take a look. You'll see the print of his hip pockets in the solid rock . . . what more proof do you want, anyway?"

GIRL'S APPENDIX IS FOUND ON LEFT SIDE

Hanley Falls—With the thought in mind that prominence is gained by the unusual, Betty Ryan, the 11 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard H. Ryan of Hanley Falls, decided to be different from other folks and have her appendix on the left side instead of on the right. When she became ill she was taken to a Granite Falls hospital and although all symptoms pointed toward appendicitis, the attending physicians were puzzled because the girl insisted that all of her pain was on the left side, instead of on the right as is ordinarily the case. The doctors finally decided to operate and found the offending organ on the left side, one case in several thousand.

Strawberry Pie

Instead of strawberry shortcake, make fresh strawberry pie tonight. Fill a baked crust with large, selected uncooked berries, and pour over them a clear strawberry sauce, cook up the small berries and strain them through cheese cloth. Sweeten, then thicken the juice slightly with corn starch (not flour). Add some butter to give a brilliant, glazed look to the sauce, and a pinch of salt.

Cleaning Strawberries

There's a technique to cleaning strawberries, a special folder from the Home Economics division of the U. S. Department of Agriculture says. Don't let the water from the faucet dash on them. They are too tender to stand such treatment. Instead, put them into a bowl of water and then lift them up and down with the fingers. The sand and dirt in the berries settles to the bottom so don't pour the water off the berries. Lift them out to a colander to drain. Then remove the caps. If you wash AFTER removing the caps, you lose much of the flavor.

MARBLE CAKE

¼ teaspoon soda
2 cups sugar
4 egg whites
2¾ cups flour
½ teaspoon salt
3 teaspoons baking powder
1½ cups water or milk
3 teaspoons vanilla extract
2 squares chocolate
¾ cup butter

Cream butter, add sugar gradually, and cream well. Add unbeaten egg whites one at a time and beat into the mixture. Sift flour once, measure and sift with baking powder and salt. Add sifted dry ingredients alternately with liquid to creamed mixture. Add flavoring. Add soda to melted chocolate. Divide batter in half and add chocolate mixture to one part. Drop batter by spoonfuls into a large greased and floured cake pan alternating white batter with chocolate batter until all is used. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 50 minutes or until done. Frost with marble frosting.

MARBLE FROSTING

1½ cups sugar
5 tablespoons water
1 tablespoon white corn syrup
2 egg whites
¼ teaspoon peppermint extract
1 square chocolate

Combine all ingredients except flavorings in top of double boiler and mix well. Stir over hot water until sugar is dissolved. Beat with rotary beater over boiling water until frosting is fluffy and will hold its shape. Add flavoring and combine well. Reserve three tablespoons of frosting and spread the rest over top and sides of cake. Melt chocolate and add reserved frosting. Pipe this mixture across cake in one-fourth inch strips about one inch apart. Then draw a knife across through the strips at one-inch intervals. This gives a wavy marble effect.

LEMON JELLY CAKE

1 cup sugar
3 tablespoons corn starch
3 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ cups boiling water
2 egg yolks
Grated rind of 1 lemon
⅓ cup lemon juice
1 tablespoon gelatin
¼ cup cold water

Mix dry ingredients. Add boiling water and stir until smooth. Cook in double boiler until thick, stirring occasionally. Add beaten egg yolks and cook 2 minutes longer. Add lemon rind and juice. Add gelatin which has been soaked in cold water for five minutes. Cool.

TOP AND BOTTOM OF MOLD

⅓ cup melted butter
2 cups fine graham cracker crumbs
1 tablespoons sugar
Grated rind of 1 lemon

Mix together thoroughly. Spread one-half on the bottom of a spring mold or torte pan. Fill with lemon mixture. Sprinkle remaining half of the crumbs over the top. Place cake in refrigerator one hour or longer or until filling is firm enough to cut. Serve 8-10.

COLONIAL APPLE PIE PASTRY

⅓ cup shortening
1 cup flour
Ice water
Salt

Cut shortening into flour to which salt has been added. Add enough ice water to hold dough together. Reserve about one-third of dough. Roll out remainder on slightly floured board and line pie pan. Add filling as directed. Roll out reserved dough and cut into strips. Place in criss cross fashion over apples and bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) for 35 minutes. Serve 6.

FILLING

1 cup sugar
1 cup canned unsweetened pineapple juice
8 medium sized tart apples
1 teaspoon cornstarch
2 teaspoons cold water
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon vanilla extract
1 tablespoon butter

Bring sugar and pineapple juice to a boil and add apples which have been pared and quartered. Cook slowly, uncovered, until the fruit is tender, moving the apples enough to keep them covered with the syrup. Lift apples out carefully and cool. Dissolve the cornstarch in the water and add to syrup. Cook until thick. Add salt, flavoring and butter and pour over apples which have been placed in an unbaked shell.

SUNNY ORANGE TOAST BARS

Spread 8 slices of bread with orange marmalade and place spread slices together. Remove crusts and cut each sandwich in 3 long strips. Fasten with toothpicks. Dip in following mixture and fry in deep hot lard at 360 degrees F. until brown:

2 eggs
¼ cup sugar
1 cup milk
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated orange rind

Combine eggs, sugar, milk, salt, and orange rind. Serve with curls of crisp bacon. Serves 4.

DATE "CHEW"

3 eggs
1½ cups brown sugar
¾ cup flour
¾ teaspoon baking powder
⅓ cup shredded bran
1 cup nut meats, chopped
¾ cup dates, cut fine

Beat eggs until light, add the sugar and beat well. Add the flour sifted with the baking powder. Add bran, nuts, and dates. Spread in a layer one-half inch thick in a greased shallow pan. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 20 to 30 minutes. Remove from the oven and while warm, cut into squares or bars. Roll in confectioners' sugar or serve as a pudding with whipped cream. Serve 14.

Precooking Keeps Green Color in Vegetables

For the housewife who doesn't want to see the fresh, green appetizing color of spring vegetables fade away in the canning process, University Farm nutritionists are offering a simple method of keeping that color in the food.

Precooking any green vegetable at a low temperature, just below the simmering point, will "set" or hold the color. Previously, canning directions advised precooking at the boiling temperature, but for the sake of color and freshness, says Miss Inez M. Hobart, University Farm extension nutritionist, precooking at a temperature of only about 170 degrees Fahrenheit is better.

For spinach and other greens precooking only until the leaves wilt, and then packing immediately in jars and cans is best. As for green beans, best results come from precooking until the beans bend without breaking. Young tender garden peas require about 5 minutes of the low temperature precook.

When making use of the precook, the hot-pack method of canning is referred to, states Miss Hobart, for this method is looked upon as the safest and best for canning vegetables. In this process, the vegetables are cooked a short time in a saucepan with water and then are packed hot into hot containers. Precooking also does these three things: first, it drives the air out of the vegetables; second, it wilts or shrinks the vegetables so that they pack well; third, it gives the vegetables a high temperature at the start of the processing necessary to create a good vacuum in the container.

Meaning of "H. M. S." on Ship

"H. M. S." preceding the name of a vessel stands for His (or, Her) Majesty's ship. The letters are used in connection only with vessels in the British service. Popularly "H. M. S." is supposed to be the abbreviation of His Majesty's steamer, but the letters were used in the names of British ships long before the commercial development of the steamboat. "H. M. S." is also the abbreviation of His Majesty's Service.

News Behind the News in the Legislature

By Senator Vic Weber

Where there is no heat there can be no fire and it follows axiomatically that where only one branch of the legislature, in a state having the bicameral system of legislation, is in session there can be little or no legislation.

Because of the constitutional provision that all revenue producing measures must originate in the House of Representatives, the State Senate has been marking time this week, with brief sessions being held on Tuesday morning and Thursday morning.

Following the Memorial Day holiday the two Houses met on Tuesday, the Senate at 11 o'clock and the House at 2 o'clock. The Senate remained in session but one hour and adjourned until Thursday, that body again adjourned until Monday morning, no Tax bills having been sent to the Senate by the lower body.

By Monday, however, both bodies will be on in full swing and a concerted effort will be made to get all tax legislation out of the way in two weeks so that adjournment sine die may be made, at least by the end of the month.

Adjournment of the Legislature will not occur if the House continues its present practice of opening the gates and allowing all sorts of legislation to be acted upon. The Senate, considerate of the taxpayers pocketbook, and agreeable to the will of the Governor as set forth in his call for the special session, voted 42 to 19 to limit the special session purely to taxation and bills of a non-controversial nature. This rule was adopted in spite of the clamor for the Homestead Exemption Law, which has been introduced in both bodies, for political purposes. While the Senate will take no little "heat" for their action, time will no doubt prove their decision a wise one, for once legislative gates are opened in a special session there is no telling when it will end, since adjournment is not required by law on a day certain. Since the cost to the taxpayers is no less than $3,000 per day, it is in the best interests of economy to adjourn the session at the earliest possible time. That, at least, was the thought that motivated the Senate in limiting the session.

Not frequently does the Senate override the Rules committee. That committee naturally seeks to do the bidding of the majority. In the matter of the Homestead Exemption Act, however, I prophesy that at least in this one instance the Rules Committee of the Senate should it report indefinite postponement of the Bill which was reported to the Senate Wednesday, will be overridden. There are many of us in the Senate who feel that the Law, although it will not bring anywhere near the relief from taxation that its sponsors would like to have the voters believe, is a step in the right direction and should be passed.

Many people throughout the state have been misled as to the savings they will reap should the Homestead Exemption bill become law. The wise, or shall I say, deceitful politician, will leave the impression that such a law as is proposed would remove all the taxes on homestead under a $4,000 valuation. The truth is that it will do no such thing. It will merely remove the state tax, which is the smallest of the group that make up advalorem taxes. Tax experts are one in agreeing that the saving to the homesteader will not exceed $15.00 per year, the saving, of course, depending on the state tax rate.

But there is another side to the picture. Should the law pass there will be required some $2,600,000 additional revenue to raise, and there is a possibility that part of this burden may have to be placed on other property. Unless new revenue can be found which will balance the budget, take care of the relief needs and pay the increasing costs of state government, it will become necessary to raise the tax on commercial properties.

This may lead to an increase in rents, so the tenant farmer and the tenant dweller will not relish the law.

When is a Sales Tax not a Sales Tax? That is the question many people are asking themselves and the conclusion for the most part seems to be "when it is added to the cost of Liquor."

It will be remembered that in the last campaign Gov. Benson and his cohorts were loud in their denunciations of a Sales tax. They pledged themselves in opposition to any and all sales taxes, the Governor pledging himself to veto any sales tax.

Well, he no doubt will have a chance to prove the value of his word, for the House bills will not only raise the present tax of 60c per gallon to $1.00 per gallon but will place a 10 per cent tax on all sales.

Campaign utterances last fall were to the effect that a sales tax was a blow at the poor man, but apparently the House members feel that the poor man cares not for his "fire water." If he does, it is going to be just too bad for he will either have to dig up the ten per cent or spend the same money and get a cheaper brand. Liquor dealers brought out that very point, that such a heavy sales tax would tend to drive whiskey drinkers to green whiskey and as a result injure their health.

Be that as it may. If the emphasis that the Governor placed on the Liquor Tax in his message to the joint session on May 25th is any criterion, the Senate voting with him, there will be a sales tax on liquor and try to stop it.

Sweet Wine

Sweet wine is wine in which the alcoholic fermentation has been arrested and which contains, in 100 cubic centimeters, not less than one gram of sugar and for sweet red wine not less than thirteen hundredths gram of grape ash.

China Leads in Tea

China leads in the production of tea, its output being 50 per cent higher than that of India; but Great Britain heads the list of tea consumers.

The Word "Antimacassar"

The word "antimacassar" comes from Macassar, the capital of Celebes, and the source of macassar oil with which dandies once slicked their hair.
